Pi Kappa Psi vs. Delta Upsilon, 3 o'clock.

Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Kappa Sigma, 4 o'clock.

Five games in the interfraternity baseball tournament were played yesterday, resulting in three one-sided contests and two close ones. Eleven tilts are scheduled for today, the extra number being due to the bad weather of yesterday, and previously postponed games.

Delta Sigma Delta won an easy game from Xi Psi Phi, 19 to 8. Brauer starred with the bat for Delta Sigma Delta with four hits out of five times up, one of which was a home run. Carlson also poked a four base hit. The Xi Psi Phi team used two pitchers and two catchers, the hurlers being Hamilton and Arnold and the receivers Coppie and Downing. The winning battery was Beckman, Brauer and Tomes.

Game Lopsided

Phi Kappa took a slugging bee, shutting out the Alpha Chi Sigma nine, 29 to 0. Jamrog held the losers to five hits, while the Phi Kappa knocked out twenty-two safeties. In the ninth inning they went on a rampage, pushing over fifteen tallies. Caroski took Jamrog's offerings. Leroy and Wehmer were the players that Alpha Chi Sigma relied on to hold their opponents.

Delta Sigma Phi won a seven inning tussle from Mu Sigma. In the sixth frame Delta Sigma Phi scored the winning runs. The batteries were: for Mu Sigma, Maca and Rensch, for Delta Sigma Phi, Dickey and Shane.

Almost Tie Game

Pi Kappa Alpha and Pi Kappa Phi played a tied game until the fifth inning, when the latter nine got started and scored, putting the game on ice with a score of 8 to 6. Whalen, Pi Kap, and Maaske for the winners, were the opposing hurlers, and yielded only four hits a piece. Isaacson caught for Pi Kappa Alpha and Schmidt for Pi Kappa Phi.

The Farm House athletes took an easy victory from Lambda Chi Alpha, 19 to 3. They used two batteries, Siebold and Weber starting and Danielson and Goddard relieving them. Green and Cariberg worked for Lambda Chi Alpha.

Ed Weir and Delbert Leffler Placed First and Second In Tryouts

THIRD IS NOT SELECTED

In the only trial race run last night Ed Weir and Delbert Leffler won the right to compete in the 220 low hurdles against the University of Missouri Saturday by placing first and second. The third runner has not been selected for this event. Coach Shulte also had his discus and javelin candidates working last night but has not announced his selections for these events. Most of the varsity men took part in no time trials last night saving their energy for the first home meet this week end.

Coach Shulte announces that a Red, White and Blue numeral competition meet will be held today. Competition for the meet, which are awarded the four high point men in each event, is close and the coach expects good time to be made in many of the events, which will be run according to the usual schedule.

Announce Officials

The list of officials for the dual meet was announced by Acting Athletic Director Gish Wednesday. Mr. Gish also asked for A. A. U. accredited officials in order that Locke's time may be officially taken in case he again breaks the world 100-yard dash record.

The following is the list of officials: A. A. Schabinger, Earl Johnson, Dr. B. C. Wildman, George Dayton, Byron McMahon, Earl Campbell, A. H. Ashley, Herman Jobst, Will French, O. B. of it. "The crowd has always behaved pretty well. We have plenty of amusements and entertainments out here to keep them out of mischief," he declared this morning.

The fair board reviewed the Cornhusker Capers and the Cow Girl Chorus last night, and they were united in the opinion that a better pair of Farmers' Fair shows have never been produced. The casts of the two shows have worked consistently for long hours during the last two weeks to perfect their acts, and the way they performed before the fair board demonstrated that they were ready to appear before the footlights Saturday. Helen Aach, who is directing both shows, also originated the skits and selected the music to go with them.

Two Educational Shows

The Engineering department is putting on two educational shows, and in addition will open up its engineering building, which is one of the finest in the world. In all there will be eight displays by this department alone. Making electricity with the wind, doing stunts with tractors, and running some novel electrical experiments are a few of the things which will be shown Saturday. There will be almost thirty cars entered in the auto show. Lincoln dealers were more than willing to take part, Nathaniel Foote, chairman of the show said. The tractor show is also drawing the interest of implement dealers in Lincoln. Over seven tractors have already been brought out to the college, and many more are expected to be on hand by Saturday morning.

Among the entertainments which will be on the grounds Saturday will be Monte Carlo with its numerous fun games, the "Nose Gay" tea room, the horse shoe contest, riding devices, farmer clowns, and many concessions.

Activities is Topic Of Forum Discussion

its present ascendancy, is incompatible with the aims of the university." Mr. Orr admitted the value, from a professional basis, of work on student publications and also praised the present system of women's athletics. "Dramatics are of value," he said, "but they are too much professionalized."

In meeting the argument that activities are of value in teaching people how "to do things," to handle commitments, etc., he pointed out that most of those participating in activities spent most of their four years in high school in the same manner and consequently didn't need any more training.

No Social Aspect

"Likewise the social aspect of activities is a needless repetition because most of the students in activities are in fraternities or sororities." Meeting the argument that the various inter-class societies promote democratic relations, Mr. Orr said: "Democracy does not consist in saying 'Hello' proscusiously to persons you have no interest in, or in allowing from two to six 'barb' representatives in supposed honorary organizations in which each fraternity is represented by one or two."

Turning to student publications he said, "student publications may be beneficial, they may be harmless, or they may be harmful. They are time consuming, and when not actually beneficial are a waste of time. In the past they have been training schools for crooked business tactics—faculty control has eliminated most of that."

No Honor To Seniors

"For the senior class honoraries—I cannot see why so much importance and honor should be accorded, on the one hand, to thirteen men who have spent three years in useless activities and who are picked for their supposed ability to conduct rallies, promote spirit before football games, and give the annual Cornhusker banquet; or, on the other hand, to from five to fifteen girls who have held major offices in the Y. W. C. A., the W. A. A., or the A. W. S., and who, it is supposed, will be a good influence on the campus. Although, in the case of the suppressed Co-Ed Follies scandal sheet this influence may be considered doubtful at times."

"The importance formerly accorded senior societies has been responsible for students spending their last three years running around trying to get into things in order to be tapped or masked."

Forced Into Activities

Mr. Orr severely scored the tendency to push students into activities. "The fraternities," he said, "push their pledges into activities. The sororities force theirs."

He then proceeded to a criticism of the fraternity system, declaring that it suppressed individualism. "Fraternities," he quoted a British observer as saying, "take men into their ranks with it understood that the new men will become like the old. The resulting intellectual stagnation is called a fraternity."

In closing Mr. Orr declared that extra-curricular activities are in a disproportionate position in the life of the school and said that the only remedy was to appeal to the students to evaluate their activities.

V. Royce West, in opening his defense of student activities, stated that we must deal with the University of Nebraska as the University of Nebraska.

"Hobbies," he said, "are according to psychologists, necessary for man's continued existence. The hobbies open here are limited. A man can't have a machine shop or carpenter shop handy for his hobby. Activities offer good avocations for the students.

"There are no more activities on the campus than in any business organization of similar size. We will run into them out of school. We might as well get used to them and take our part in them while in school."

In regard to their value to the University, Mr. West pointed out the value of Engineer's Week and the Farmers' Fair in acquainting the taxpayers of the state with what is being done.

"There may be too many activities and too much enthusiasm about them," said Mr. West, "but I believe it is better for a man to have enthusiasm about something than enthusiasm about nothing."
