

LAST TOUCHES ARE GIVEN TO FARMERS' FAIR

Committees Working Today To Set Wheels of Annual Event in Motion

ALL DAY ENTERTAINMENT Twenty Thousand Admission Tickets Are Ordered; Crowds Are Expected From All Over State

The entire student body of Ag College will be busy today putting on the finishing touches to Farmers' Fair. Enthusiasm was aroused at a pep meeting last night on the Ag campus.

Saturday Farmers' Fair will be held for the eighth time. From points as far distant as one hundred miles reports are coming that delegations of people are planning to attend the fair. Omaha will send a large delegation.

The fair was advertised over the entire state this year, and reports indicate that a large crowd of outstate visitors will come to Lincoln.

The program calls for a full day for the visitors. Beginning at 1:30, an amusement will open every half hour. The Educational Exposition starts at 4 o'clock. All other amusements will be in full swing by that time.

Thirty ticket salesmen have been appointed. Twenty thousand admission tickets were ordered; there will be no charge for any educational exhibit or for the pageant.

Visitors will find no trouble in finding the exhibits and all will be welcome to enter the buildings where the big exhibits are on display. The numerous small exhibits that will be scattered over the campus may be easily seen. Dairy Maids and Hick Farmers will be on hand to entertain people with their clown acts, as well as to direct them to the various exhibits.

NBT TEAM MBETS DRAKE SATURDAY

Straka and Hattori To Play This Afternoon To Decide Fourth Member of the Team

The Cornhusker tennis team is all ready for the dual meet with Drake here Saturday. The members of the squad had a good workout under the hot sun yesterday and are in good shape.

The fourth member of the team will be determined this afternoon when Straka and Hattori are scheduled to meet. Hattori defeated Sunderland in straight sets yesterday to win the right to compete against Straka.

The university courts were rolled with the tractor roller yesterday and are in the best condition that they have been so far this season.

The prowess of the Drake racket-wielders is not known in Cornhusker circles. Captain Clarence Conklin and his team-mate, Charles Everett, who is well remembered by followers of Cornhusker basketball as the leading player on Drake's basket squad this season, were to leave the Des Moines school last night for Lawrence, Kansas, where they will meet the Jayhawkers in a dual meet. They will come to Lincoln from Lawrence.

The Nebraska squad will consist of Shildneck, Newton, Tom Elliott, and either Hattori or Straka, depending on the outcome of their match today.

CLASS TO MAKE FIELD TRIP

Geology Students Hope To Bring Back Deposit of Alunogen

The advanced class in geology which leaves early in June on a six-weeks field trip, under the direction of Professor Schramm, will make one of its longest stops at Newcastle, Wyoming, to study alunogen, the world's finest deposit of which is found in the Cambria mines at Newcastle.

The expedition hopes to bring back a block of coal containing a deposit of this beautiful, white, hairlike alunogen to place on exhibition in the museum.

PRE-MEDS TO GO TO OMAHA TODAY

Students Will Be Entertained On Annual Trip by Medical College

150 TO MAKE THE TRIP

One hundred and fifty pre-medical students will make the annual trip to the University of Nebraska College of Medicine at Omaha today, and will spend the day inspecting the college at which some are planning to study in the future. The majority of the students will go by auto and about forty will make the trip by train Friday morning.

All pre-medical students are excused from classes on Friday. A special program has been planned for Friday and many students will remain over the week-end for the functions which have been planned.

Entertainment On Friday

The program for Friday includes: 9:00 to 10:00, an inspection of the university in groups with guides; 9:55, all those coming by train will be met at the station and taken from there by auto to the University Hospital; 10:00, Dr. J. Jay Keegan, Dean of the College of Medicine, will deliver the welcome address to the assembly in the auditorium of the north building; from 10:15 to 12:00 there will be an inspection of the surgical clinics in the hospital amphitheater; 12:00, dinner for pre-medical students only will be served in the University hospital cafeteria.

The events of the afternoon will be a series of baseball games between the S. O. L. and the A. O. O. and also between the freshmen and the sophomores at Elmwood park. There will also be a continued inspection of the university from three until five o'clock.

Girls To Be Honored

The entertainment for pre-medical girls is in charge of a committee of girl students of the College of Medicine. Visiting pre-medical girls are invited to make Conkling Hall on the campus their headquarters for the day. The Faculty Woman's club of the College of Medicine will be hostesses to the visiting girls at a buffet supper at 6 o'clock at Conkling Hall.

A general informal smoker and students stunts will be held at eight o'clock to which the faculty, and medical and pre-medical students are invited.

All visiting pre-medical students are requested to register at the general office.

Wrestling Meet Date Is Changed to May 5

The date for the handicap wrestling matches has been changed from Tuesday to Wednesday, May 5. All men in the university are eligible for the matches and may weigh in any time after 11 o'clock Wednesday morning.

BRUCE WILL EDIT 1927 "N" BOOK

Eloise Keefe Selected Associate Editor; Other Members of Staff Named

WANT COPY BY JUNE 1

Charles C. Bruce, '29, Lincoln, and Eloise Keefe, '28, Lincoln, have been appointed to the positions of Editor and Associate Editor, respectively, of the 1927 "N" Book. Work on the book was started yesterday with a meeting of the new staff, in the Y. M. C. A. rooms.

Mr. Bruce was elected by the present Y. M. C. A. cabinet, upon the recommendation of Arthur Jorgenson, secretary of the university "Y". Miss Keefe was selected by the Y. W. C. A. Board. The staff was appointed by a committee composed of Miss Appleby, secretary of the Y. W. C. A., Mr. Jorgenson and the two student editors.

Staff is Also Selected

Those selected for positions on the staff are: Julia Rider, '29, Lincoln, who will edit the section devoted to Churches, directory, and calendar. Ruth Palmer, '29, Holdrege, women's activities. Archibald R. Eddy, '28, Lincoln, men's activities. James Higgins, '29, Schuyler, athletics.

Bruce will handle the business side of the book in connection with planning it. He will be assisted by Kate Goldstein, '28, Omaha; and Oscar Norling, '28, Litchfield. All copy for the book will be handed in before June 1, and will be sent to the printers immediately after. According to Mr. Bruce, the book will be off the press in the middle of the summer and will be distributed from the offices of the Y. M. C. A. and the Y. W. C. A. during registration week. It will be free to freshmen as in past years.

Among the new features of the book will be the dividing of different topics into distinct divisions, as in the Cornhusker. A section will be given over to the military department which has not been done in former years. It is probable that the cover will be blue with a silver "N".

Harold Felton, a law student, as Douglas Blackwell, will carry the lead in the show.

The story is that of an eccentric old man who died, leaving a will stipulating that his four heirs, two nephews and two nieces, must remain for three nights in the house occupied by him for many years and which had the reputation of being haunted.

Story is Interesting

It is stipulated in the will that if any of the heirs refuses to remain for three nights, his or her share is to go to those who stayed. If all of them are frightened away, his property is to be divided between his old secretary and a colored servant who is deaf and dumb. If either of these two die the property is inherited by the other.

Things begin to happen from the moment the heirs arrive in the haunted house, and they keep on happening until the final curtain. The old secretary dies, choked to death by what appears to be an unseen hand. The chandelier falls to the floor. A revolver is snatched from out of space from the hand of one of the heirs. A leaf, upon which is written the name of the next one of the party doomed to die, and announced by a ghostly supernatural voice, is torn from the book by an invisible force, and vanishes.

The amazing solution comes just a moment before the end of the play, and brings to a conclusion this dramatic masterpiece.

HUSKER TRACK TEAM APPEARS ON SATURDAY

Schulte's Men Primed For First Home Meet of Season; Battle Missouri

RECORDS MAY GO DOWN

Locke Looked To To Run Century Dash In Record Time; Official Timers Are Secured

After a strenuous workout Wednesday evening Coach Schulte tapered down the training of his track squad Thursday to short pace work and "playing around." This completes the preparation of his athletes for the first home meet of the season.

The outlook for a Nebraska victory is not any too bright, according to Coach Schulte. He has worked out a comparison of the two teams which gives Missouri a ten-point lead. This may or may not mean anything for after all, as he says "performance is what counts."

Nebraska track fans are pulling for Locke to break, or at least equal the world's record in the 100-yard dash, but Coach Schulte said yesterday, "that's an awful lot to ask of a man, but if anybody can do it, Locke can."

Nebraska's mile relay team seems to have the edge on Missouri, if the Kansas relays furnish a comparison. The team composed of Dailey, Beekle, Davenport and Wyatt, placed second there. Last year, however, Missouri did nothing spectacular at these meets but won the Valley meet at Norman.

Only Lost Two Meets

The Scarlet and Cream track squad has lost but two dual meets in the past seven years and neither of these defeats were by Valley teams. Saturday will be the big test of whether or not they will hold up the record.

WILD WEST SHOW FREE ATTRACTION

Cowboy Stunt Open To Everyone and Will Be Big Drawing Card at Fair, Chairman Says

"Everything is coming along fine, and we're all rarin' to buck," said Frank Reece, Chairman of the Wild West Show for Farmers' Fair.

The Wild West is one of the major free attractions at Farmers' Fair, and it always attracts a large crowd. The contest is open to everyone, and prizes will be offered for the best riders.

The committee has had some trouble in securing horses that were wild enough and they are being gathered from nearly all parts of the state. Many bucking steers have also been secured.

A Potato Race will be one of the special features. Be there and see it.

A grand prize of $5.00 is being offered for the best all around rider; $5.00 for first in both the steer and horse riding contests, and $3.00 for second in the above contests.

Immediately after the sham battle by the R. O. T. C. the Wild West show will be held north-east of the Midway grounds.
