Physicist Denies Coal Burning in Factories Has Effect on Climate

Denying the assertion of a German scientist that modern factories are so polluting the air that the weather is changing, Prof. E. E. Hall of the physics department of the University of California reassures us that our climate is not due for a sudden change. Prof. Erich Marx of Leipzig claims that the carbon content of the air is being increased by the constant burning of coal, and that this increase is affecting the weather by making the winters warmer and the summers cooler.

Professor Hall is inclined to think this statement overdrawn. He says: "When we consider the immense quantity of carbon dioxide in the air due to natural conditions and realize the comparatively small amount that is formed as the result of the burning of coal, we see that such a minute addition could hardly affect the climatic conditions except to a very small extent. In comparison with the whole volume of the atmosphere, the amount of smoke discharged would hardly be of any significance."

The professor further states that even if a surplus of carbon dioxide were formed in the air it would not accumulate. "Plants use carbon dioxide in order to live and it is continually being absorbed by them, so that the excess gas would never remain for a long period in the air."

In general, however, Professor Hall does not think the question to be of great scientific importance.

The Rock Island and Ag College diamonds are now open to any of the teams, as all games were scheduled to be played by last Tuesday. LINDSCOG AND MALLETT WIN

Championships in Two Classes Of Handicap Wrestling Tourney Decided

REST OF FINALS TODAY

Two class championships were decided and all other classes progressed to the finals yesterday afternoon in the handicap wrestling tournament under the direction of Dr. Clapp.

Lindscog took the 125-pound division and Weber failed to throw him in the limited time of three and one-half minutes. Mallett, in the 135-pound class, also won his medal, by throwing Berokenky after a stiff tussel of five minutes and fourteen seconds. Only two men entered each of these classes.

Finals in all the other classes will start at 4 o'clock in the Armory this afternoon.

Medal in Each Class

The tournament is an open affair, the more experienced men being placed under a time handicap. This system gives each man an even chance and makes the matches more interesting. A medal is awarded to the winner in each class.

In the 115-pound class Huron used his extra weight to good advantage and got a fall over Kosowsky. Kish put Herm out of the running when he gained a substantial time advantage. Huron and Kish meet in the finals today.

Lindscog won the 125-pound medal by desperately hanging on to the slippery Weber. It was good defen-

Insist Upon Having "The Western"

Unless you are a leather expert you can't be sure when you buy a wide belt whether you are getting first class leather or not. A "Split" or a poor selection of leather can be nicely finished so that it has the appearance of a quality article. Be sure of the finest quality leather by insisting upon THE HARPHAM WESTERN WIDE BELT. Look for the oval H. B. Brand Mark.

Collins Discusses Work of Museum

University of Nebraska museum was attributed by Mr. Collins to the efforts of former regent Charles H. Morrill and to Dr. E. H. Barbour of the geology department.

In regard to the building of the new Morrill Hall, Mr. Collins raised the question, "What are we going to do with it? What is it going to do with the students and the general public?"

He called attention to the fact that the geology and fine arts students have made use of it in the past and that their opportunities for using it would be greatly enhanced with the greater amount of space. "Zoology students find it of aid for specimens outside their own laboratories. And even English students are occasionally seen wandering around in search of ideas."

Fossil Collections Famous

"The museum has much to offer students of history, anthropology, and every branch of natural science." He then pointed out that Nebraska's museum is famous for its fossil remains and predicted the establishment of a large school of paleontology here.

Other than the public exhibition side, Mr. Collins called attention to the importance of the side laboratories where the exhibits were prepared for inspection.

"The relation of the University museum to the general public may be regarded as a University extension," he said. "It offers a concrete textbook. We hope to follow the example of Eastern and European countries in establishing an industrial museum."

In closing, Mr. Collins pointed out the success of the Sunday afternoon lectures in the museum, and announced that it was planned to hold them regularly next year.

The third largest university summer session enrollment in the United States is at the University of Wisconsin.
