

WEATHER SLOWS GRID PRACTICE

First-year Men Continue Hard Scrimmage in Preparation For Varsity Eleven

Sweating weather slowed down the yearling football artists in their practice on the drill field Tuesday afternoon. Duck-walking and blocking, however, for linemen and various shifts for the backfield were assigned by Line Coach Hutchison and Head Coach Rhodes.

Because the freshmen stack up against the Varsity Thursday and Saturday, there will be no deviation from hard scrimmage.

Coach Hutchison paused long enough to say he was pleased with the line prospects, most of his men being husky and fast on their feet. Late in the afternoon the entire squad was divided into teams, the various elevens running off signals and polishing up on line tactics.

Coach "Choppy" Rhodes volunteered the information that "most of the positions are tossups. We have plenty of good men. I could find use for a husky center though," he added. He evidently found his man. Munn, a 215-pounder, was soon injected, working that position a greater share of the time.

Line plunging and short lateral passing gave the backs some real work. Linemen were changed at frequent intervals. Ray, scarlet thatched Grand Island boy, showed up fine on the defensive. "Chief" Elkins, Indian quarter, is showing up strong, especially in ball-lugging.

The probable lineup that will go against the Varsity Thursday afternoon follows:

Toms and Mushee, ends.
Richards and Craig, tackles.
Jeffreys and Broadstone, guards.
Munn, center.
Miller, quarter, Witte and McBride halves, Farley, fullback.

IOWA STATE GRID PROSPECTS BETTER

Veterans Back at Posts Strengthen Team; New Men Are Showing Up Well

Ames, Iowa, Sept. 20.—(Special).—With Al Holman, Toom and Brockmeyer back in the fold, football prospects at Iowa State seem to be taking on a little brighter hue. Holman, last year's crack yearling backfield man has been working with a paving company at Fairfield and seems to be in excellent condition. The addition of Holman to the backfield, either at quarter or half will add considerable weight to a quartet that is heavier than any the Cyclones have had for sometime. Brockmeyer, a big tackle from Earlville, and Toom of Knoxville, a stellar guard from the freshman team of last year, are expected to prove valuable to the Cardinal and Gold squad.

One of the toughest assignments of Coaches Workman and Schmidt seems to be finding a man for the pivot berth. Ayres of Sioux Falls, S. D., Jerry Girdwood of Cleveland, O., and Ewalt of Boone are being used in an attempt to find a man to fill the shoes of Fat Thornburg, last year's crack performer.

With Captain Bud Coe showing up well in early season workouts one wing position is filled, and several other candidates are fighting it out for the other end assignment. Harold Meyers, a husky individual from Ashton, Ill., Ernie Anderson of Northwood, last year's Basketball captain, Krekow of Cherokee, and Johnson of Dubuque, one of last year's freshman ends, seem to be the best bets so far. Anderson, a member of the Cyclone squad last year, is making an impressive bid for the berth this season.

CAMPUS CHIMES FUND PASSES $20,000 TOTAL

A decade after it was originated by the University of Wisconsin class of 1916, the project of a set of chimes for the university made possible by gifts of graduating classes is in sight of realization.

With the gift of $1,000 by the class of 1926 and with the accrued interest of past years the chimes fund has passed the $20,000 mark. The total of principal and interest on July 1 was $20,987.91. M. E. McCaffrey, secretary of the Board of Regents, reported.

Cost of the chimes is estimated at between $20,000 and $30,000. The plan is to place them in the dome on the central part of Bascom hall, when it is rebuilt.

of all the other branches of learning. Surrounding this book is a Latin phrase meaning: "Dedicated to literature and all the arts." In the outer circle are seven other symbols representing all branches of learning. There is the American flag signifying political science, economics, and sociology. There also are the scales of justice representing law, and a mixing bowl denoting pharmacy and medicine. A palette and painters brushes suggest the fine arts, while the Roman columns, which separate each symbol, denote architecture.

Originally the University, as designed by the act of Congress of 1869, was known as the "College of Agriculture and Mechanic Arts." Consequently the remaining figures represent these branches of learning. One figure is an old style level which indicates the theoretical side of engineering while a locomotive indicates the practical side. A sheaf of wheat suggests agriculture.

Our seal has a full meaning and is the result of much careful planning. In it is read the foresight of extensive plans for the University of today for when this seal was adopted only two colleges existed.
