CIVIL SERVICE ASKS PATENT EXAMINERS

Applications Must Be in Before October 9; Examination Date To Be Announced

The United States Civil Service commission announces open competitive examination for junior patent examiner.

Applications must be on file at Washington, D. C., not later than October 9. The date for assembling of competitors will be stated on the admission cards sent applicants after the close of receipt of applications, and will be about ten days after that date.

The entrance salary is $1,800 a year. After the probational period required by the civil service act and rules, advancement in pay may be made to higher rates within the pay range for the grade, up to a maximum of $2,400 a year. Promotions in the Patent Office without further examination by the Civil Service commission are made successively to assistant patent examiner at salaries ranging from $2,400 to $3,000 a year; associate patent examiner at salaries ranging from $3,000 to $3,600 a year; and patent examiner at salaries ranging from $3,800 to $5,000 a year.

Examinations will be given in civil engineering, electrical engineering, mechanical engineering, chemical engineering, electrochemistry, and general chemistry. Competitors will be rated on physics, mechanical drawings, technicals, the optional subject chosen, mathematics, and language (French and German.)

Many Prizes Offered to Students By American Business Organizations

American business organizations and institutions of all kinds are finding the universities of practical help. More than $100,000 is offered this year in prizes to college students. The competitions range from suggesting solutions of business problems to writing prize sonnets.

A typical example of the contests is one in which Edward Plaut, president of one of the biggest and oldest drug manufacturing companies of America, is offering $1,000 to college professors or students alike for the best plan suggested toward a solution of the price maintenance problem, one of the most perplexing subjects before the business world today.

In the contest ideas and not style of presentation will count most. It is not rhetoric but a real idea Mr. Plaut wants. The money is offered, it is announced, in an effort to bring the best minds in the country to bear on the problem. A jury of nationally famous men and women headed by U. S. Senator Capper, of Kansas, will judge the papers and award the thousand-dollar prize.

Other thousands of dollars in prize money are offered by the same organization to members of the wholesale and retail trade.

A popular health magazine this year offered $5,000 to any healthy or beautiful contestant who would write the best article telling how he or she "got that way."

Prizes are mostly money awards, but they also include trips to Mexico, free tuition at the University of Guadalajara, and even trips to Europe. One young woman student recently toured European capitals as the winner of a contest for the best essay on why cream of tartar makes the best baking powder.

Educators say this turning business to colleges for ideas is due to changes in college curriculums which, with the advent of the technical and commercial courses, enable colleges today to render services of practical benefit to business. This is said to be particularly true of graduate schools with large endowments and vast research laboratories and special equipment for working out practical scientific problems.

AMES WILL HAVE GREEN BACKFIELD

One Letter Man Among Candidates For Ball-juggling Jobs at Iowa State College

Ames, Iowa, Sept. 22.—Special—Although Iowa State will put a practically new backfield into the Valley race this year, prospects for a bunch of ball toters equal to those of other years seems evident as Coach Workman puts his green team through its paces for the first valley game with Washington, Oct. 2. This year's Cyclone backfield will be considerably heavier than any that has been in the Cardinal and Gold camp for some years.

So far Weiss of Denison seems to be the outstanding candidate for quarterback and shows prospects of being a worthy successor of Johnnie Behm. Coach Workman has two sets of halfbacks who look good in practice sessions. Chink Hall, the only letter man in the backfield, and Lindbloom of Des Moines are used as line backers, while Al Holman of Fairfield, last year's crack yearling performer, Johnnie Miller of Waterloo, and Red Hill of Story City, also from last year's prep team, are a trio of fleet backs who are at their best in a running attack.

The great showing of Nate Baird of Dwyer, a quarterback, has been one of the highlights of recent practice sessions. Baird's work at quarter in Saturday's game was outstanding and he seems to be advancing to the front as a prospect. Bill Klug, freshman

Capella A Choir Is Preparing for Year

Melius Christianson is the conductor. The St. Olaf choir is known as the leader of choirs of its nature, and the appearance of the Lincoln director at its head is a splendid testimonial to his ability.

The personnel of the choir is nearly filled for the present season, there being room for three or four male singers only. In connection with the application of new members it is interesting to note that the best singers are frequently those who have had no previous experience. Professional experience is absolutely not a requisite for membership.

The annual trip last year took the members to Kansas City, St. Joseph, Omaha, Fremont, and other nearby towns. The trip this year will probably be to Colorado, with performances being given at points between. According to Mr. Rosborough, twenty-five hundred dollars in engagements have already been arranged. All the proceeds go to pay the expenses of the season. The conductor or any of the members receive any money for their services. This year's trip will probably take place in the early spring.

The unaccompanied singing of the choir and the type of music used go together to make the performances the highest type, and also the most difficult, in the country. The difficult nature of the work is responsible for the fact that there are only three or four such organizations in the United States. All of the music is memorized and the gowns worn by the members make the aspect of the
