KOTTMAN FEATURE EDITOR OF ANNUAL

W. F. Jones, Jr., Editor-in-Chief, Announces New Section of Snapshots This Year.

The appointment of Harold Kottman, '29, Falls City, as snapshot and feature editor of the 1927 Cornhusker, was announced yesterday by W. F. Jones, Jr., editor-in-chief of the annual publication.

Kottman served on the 1926 staff in securing snapshots and pictures and has already taken a number of interesting events for the 1927 feature section. The picture section of this year's book will be radically different from Cornhuskers of the past. Several new ideas will be incorporated into its structure which will make it probably the most beautiful part of the book. It will be much larger, occupying from sixteen to twenty pages.

Kottman will also have charge of a special snapshot section which will introduce something new to Cornhusker readers.

ter end of the deal. Stephens punted forty yards to out-of-bounds on the yearling fifteen-yard line. "Chief," leading warrior of the freshman tribe, ran around the end for nine yards. "Dutch" Witte made the necessary yardage and the first-year men made the initial first down of the game. Witte made another yard but his squad was penalized for being offside. Burnham went in at end for Holm who substituted for Beck. Elkins sent a high spiral forty-five yards to Stephens who returned the punt five yards. Howell went through for five and three yards and Stephens kicked a thirty-yard boot to the freshman fifteen-yard line.

Conservative Playing

The freshmen were playing conservative play and Elkins kicked twenty-five yards on an out-of-bounds boot. Blue tried center for no gain. Presnell made a yard, and Stephens passed to Howell for three yards. Stephens tried a place kick but fell short. The ball was taken to the twenty-yard line and Elkins, who preferred to kick, sent a fifty-yard punt to Stephens, who made eight yards before he was forced out of bounds. Presnell hit the line for no gain and the first quarter ended.

Bronson went in for Stephens at quarter. Howell plunged through for eight yards, but the line was penalized five yards for offside. Howell went again for three yards, and Presnell made it a first down. Bronson made a yard, and gained on a pass to Holm. The freshmen were penalized fifteen yards for holding. Plunges by Howell and Presnell speeded the Varsity on its march to a touchdown. Howell went fifteen yards for a touchdown but was called back when the Varsity was caught holding. An aerial combination Bronson to Holm, netted yardage. The backfield pounded down the field in a march which ended only when Presnell went over for a touchdown. Howell made good the extra point. The teams were in midfield when the half ended.

ter; Dailey and A. Mandery, halves; and Beck, fullback; took the field for the second half, and made even a more aggressive showing against the freshmen than team A. Dailey made most of the yardage and scored a touchdown in the fourth quarter. Mielen made the extra point. The freshmen made a strong attempt to score in the closing minutes but failed to make yardage on the twenty-yard line. Marrow and Oehlrich, who substituted for Beck and Dailey, made a good showing in line plunges. The Varsity had the ball in their territory when the game ended.

DRAKE GRID CARD RANKS WITH BEST

Navy, Notre Dame, Mississippi, and Five Strong Valley Teams Form Stiff Schedule

When it comes to playing outstanding football teams in the country, the Drake varsity this fall will rank among the foremost in that line of endeavor.

Two inter-sectional foes, the United States Naval Academy and the University of Mississippi appear on the Bulldogs' card in addition to two contests billed with nationally famous teams, Notre Dame and Nebraska.

The Mississippi eleven will be the only inter-sectional game to be played in Des Moines this season, the southerners meeting Coach Oslie Solem's aggregation Oct. 23.

However, three strong Missouri Valley conference rivals, Oklahoma,

Kansas and Grinnell will furnish the Blue and White with home opposition, the Sooners being slated to appear here Oct. 14, the Jayhawks Oct. 16, and the Pioneers Thanksgiving Day.

FOR GOLDEN AUTUMN

Gotham Gold Stripe Silk Stockings

Newest hosiery colors resemble mellow tones of frost-tipped foliage.

Alesan, is a tan enriched by rose. Dorado, is a warm golden tan. Both these happy hues blend with the very fashionable wine reds and fall browns in dresses—as, of course, do many other Gold Stripe colors. We suggest either Alesan or Dorado in the New Gotham Gold Stripe Stockings. Style 808.
