DAWES AND PERSHING ARE WELCOMED HOME BY CITY

Gathering of 10,000 Hears Distinguished Guests Tell of Early Days in Lincoln; University Coliseum Packed To Capacity Thursday Morning

GENERAL INSISTS HE SHOULD BE COUNTED A HOST Gives Advice to Younger Generation; Vice-President Praises The West, Telling of His Early Law Practice Here; Renews Old Friendships

A gathering of 10,000 people heard Vice-President Charles G. Dawes and General John J. Pershing at the University Coliseum yesterday. The number of people who turned out and the gigantic parade which preceded the convocation showed that Lincoln was anxious to show herself a good host to the famous men.

A large and enthusiastic reception party awaited the arrival of the Dawes party at 10:20 o'clock. The parade was formed, composed of citizens of Lincoln, the University Band and R. O. T. C. men, and school students, which should be deemed worthy of the distinguished guests. It moved through the streets of the city and toward the campus. All traffic was stopped to allow the huge line to pass. As the campus was neared, a salute of nineteen guns acknowledged the arrival of the guests.

3,000 Seats Reserved
The party entered the Coliseum through the front doors, which previously had been locked. Three thousand seats were reserved for the members of the parade. They filed into the new building. Vice-President Dawes and General Pershing abreast, leading the party. Chancellor Avery led the two men and conducted them to the stage, where four hundred well-known inhabitants of Nebraska were seated. After the party was seated, the building was filled almost to its capacity.

Chancellor Avery took charge of the exercises. Two verses of America gave the necessary patriotic opening. Nick Amos led the audience in the singing of "There Is No Place Like Nebraska." The Chancellor then introduced Governor Adam McMullen, who welcomed the two generals as Approximately 300 University women attended the tea at Ellen Smith Hall on Thursday from 4 to 6 o'clock with the members of the Associated Womens Student Board as hostesses.

The information desk conducted for the benefit of freshmen women and all women new to the University was under the direction of Wilhelmina Schellak and Cyren Smith. Dean Amanda Heppner presided at the tea table during the first hour and Miss Elsie Ford Piper presided during the second hour. The University colors of scarlet and cream were carried out both in the decorations of the room and the refreshments.

In the receiving line during the first hour were the president of the board, Margaret Dunlap, and Helen Van Gilder, secretary of the board, together with five of the board members. During the second hour were the vice-president, Viola Forsell, and Kathryn Douglass, treasurer, with the other five members of the board.

Grid Caps to Aid in Blocking Letter "N" in Stadium at Football Games

A new idea for blocking out a letter "N" in the student section of the east stadium has been perfected by the Innocents, Senior Men's Honorary society.

The plan calls for every student in the section which is to form the letter "N" to buy a grid cap. The grid caps are in the form of a football helmet and are made of felt. There are two colors, those which are to be worn to make up the "N" are cream, while those that form the background for the numeral are scarlet. Scarlet and cream streamers are attached to either side of the helmet and the caps are suitable for either men or women.

The idea of a grid cap, as they have been named, is entirely a new one. A Lincoln woman thought of this scheme and has applied for a patent on it. Nothing of this kind has ever been tried by any university in the country and we can feel happy that Nebraska is to introduce this

DECKER APPOINTED HEAD OF GLEE CLUB

Will Replace Parvin T. Wittee, Who Will Be Dean of Music Department at Wesleyan

Herman G. Decker, of the School of Fine Arts, has been appointed new director of the University of Nebraska Men's Glee Club, to succeed Parvin T. Wittee, who has accepted the position of dean of the music department of Nebraska Wesleyan University. Mr. Wittee had been director of the club since its reorganization five years ago.

In going over the plans for the coming year Mr. Decker expressed the intention of again having a good grade of music in the programs for this season. Fifteen members of the club last year have returned and prospects for a Glee Club that will rank with the best are very bright. Director Decker intends to give more of a professional appearance to the organization than it has had in past years.

Tryouts Soon
Tryouts for new men will be held next week, according to Kenneth W. Cook, business manager. A definite date has not been set but it will probably be next Wednesday. All the men possible are urged to come out at the tryouts. Further announcements concerning the tryouts will be made this week.

The fifteen old members of the club which have returned this year will make the nucleus about which Mr. Decker hopes to build one of the finest Glee Clubs in the history of the school. Irving Changstrom, '27 Omaha, has been elected president of the organization.

Under Fine Arts
According to Mr. Decker the Club will be more under the auspices of the University School of Fine Arts than formerly. It is probable that registration will be necessary for membership in the organization. However, registration, or the lack of it, does not keep aspirants from trying out, and all candidates, accompanists included, are urged to be present at the tryouts next week.

Must Attend Meeting
All old members should attend the meeting which will be held Friday October 1, in Room 202, Temple building. Following is a list of the old members and some of those who have registered for the organization: Carl Olson, Paul James, Howard Vesilinus, Harold Hyde, Herbert Morrison Robert Byllesby, Reuben Maaske Robert Collins, Paul Copley, Lloyd Mitchell, Eugene Jacobson, Torgny Knudson, Clarence Schulz, Herbert Eaton, Harold Pickett, Kenneth Pruiett, Harry Cantline, Kenneth W. Cook.

TASSELS ELECT TWO OFFICERS TO STAFF

Tassels, women's pep organization, has elected Jessie Means treasurer and Blanche Ferris reporter to fill vacancies in the executive staff. The election was held Tuesday morning.

A new idea to add pep and color to the football atmosphere.

It will not be possible to have these caps for the Drake game, but it is hoped that by the Missouri game that all students in the section which is to form the letter will have gotten one of these caps. All having seats in this section will receive a circular letter giving a fuller description of the cap and particulars as to their cost. The cream-colored caps are to be sold by Mayer Bros. Co., while the caps of scarlet are to be sold by both Ben Simon's and Mayer Bros.

In the past various ideas for blocking out an "N" have been tried but none have proved entirely successful. It is thought that at last a workable idea has been devised and that by the cooperation of the students the plan can be put into successful operation. The Corn Cobs and the Tassels, the two pep organizations for men and women respectively, will wear (Continued on Page Two.)

10,000 Tons of Coal Used by University

Ten thousand tons of coal will be used this winter in heating the buildings of the University. This includes the Agricultural College as well as those of the main campus. The coal is bought in carload lots and costs on an average of five dollars a ton here, which means that it will cost $50,000 to heat all the buildings of the campus this winter. Many of the buildings were weather stripped this summer and will not require as much heat as they have in previous years.

STUDENT MATINEE ADDED BY PLAYERS

Season Tickets Go on Sale from October 4 to 6; Seven Plays Given During Year

University Players season tickets will go on sale October 4, 5, and 6. A student matinee, a new feature, has been added to the Players' schedule and is announced today. A reduction of $1.25 is made in the special matinee price. The extra performance will be given Friday afternoon at 3 o'clock. Faculty members, housewives, and University assistants are excluded from the offer.

Seven plays will be presented this year with five performances of each. Season tickets may be purchased for Thursday, Friday or Saturday evenings for $5. The Saturday matinee, which is open to the general public, is priced at $4. The exclusive matinee for students only is offered for $2.75. A season ticket entitles the holder to the same seat on corresponding dates for each presentation. holder to the same seat on corresponding dates for each presentation.

Will Give Best
Due to the intense interest shown by the students in the past few years in the work of the dramatic department, the business management felt that they should cooperate with the student body and give them their best. The students have come to the realization that the productions of the Players carry a professional air—a feeling that has come to long-time residents of the community through years of contact with the Temple Stock Company.

Dates have been so arranged that there is no conflict between the show and athletic or other University events. Freshmen are allowed Thursday evenings out to attend the Players' offerings, according to last year's ruling of the Executive Dean.

STATE MEETING OF Y.M.C.A. IS FRIDAY

Prof. C. M. Duff, of the applied mechanics department, will leave shortly for a ten-day tour of western Nebraska. He will go with representatives of the State Department of Public Works for an examination of the condition of the roads, the possibilities of building some good highways through the Sand Hill country will be looked into.

DAD'S DAY PROGRAM SET FOR OCTOBER 9

Luncheon at Chamber of Commerce Followed by Missouri Game; Governor Will Speak

The fifth annual Dad's Day celebration of the University will be held Saturday, October 9, the day of the Nebraska-Missouri football game. Plans are being made to entertain more Dads than ever before.

The feature of the day will be a luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce at noon. The large dining room will be used to accommodate the fathers and their sons, and the regular hot luncheon for business men will be served, instead of a cold cafeteria lunch which has been the custom until last year.

Hedge Will Speak
Governor McMullen, Verne Hedge, president of the Chamber of Commerce, and others will speak. However, the program will last only during the noon hour so that sons and fathers can get to the football game in plenty of time. Music will also feature the affair.

A special Dad's Day issue of the Daily Nebraskan will be sent to Dads of students that day. It will contain a letter from John to Father inviting him to the game Saturday. Booths will be located on the campus and students can leave the names of those to whom they want the paper sent. Student tickets in the east stands may be traded for west stand seats without extra charge so that Dads and Sons may sit together at the football game.

BLOCK AND BRIDLE CLUB HAS MEETING

Again Decides to Sponsor Baby International, Which Will Be Held October 23

The Block and Bridle club, departmental club of the annual husbandry department of the College of Agriculture, held a meeting September 29 in the Research Library in the Judging Pavilion, deciding to again sponsor the Baby International the evening of October 23.

The Baby International is one of the biggest events of the year, surpassed only in size by the Farmers' Fair.

Every animal in the prize winning show herd of the University will be fitted and shown by students who have had a great deal of experience in this line of work. Many of the showmen will have shown animals at the state fair and county fairs.

The members of the club are prepared to handle a record crowd and they promise entertaining and educational features in abundance.

Committees Chosen By Commercial Club

The University Commercial club held its first business meeting Wednesday. Committee heads were elected and announced. Parker Matthews was appointed chairman of the initiation committee; Henry Lucas, chairman of the committee on banquets and dinners; Victor Z. Brink, chairman of publicity; Dr. Bois and R. Kraemer, joint chairmen of the committee on ticket sales; and Koelster, chairman of the general committee.

An extensive program has been arranged for the remainder of the semester, and will include regular meetings, monthly dinners, and a party. For the benefit of those who were unable to attend the first initiation, a second opportunity to join the club will be given in about three weeks.

Filing Deadline for Election Is Today

Applicants for positions on the Student Council, class presidents and honorary colonel must file at the Student Activities office on the first floor of the Coliseum by five o'clock today.

Five students are to be selected at the elections Tuesday, October 5 for the Council positions; one man each from the College of Business Administration, Arts and Science and Engineering, and two senior women at large. The honorary colonel and the class presidents will be elected on the same day.

80 Juniors and Seniors Assigned To Studios by Cornhusker For Sittings

The first assignment for juniors and seniors to have their pictures taken for the 1927 Cornhusker is made today, by W. F. Jones, Jr., editor of the annual. Eighty upperclassmen are listed to have their pictures taken at either Hauck's or Townsend's studios Monday, October 4.

The members of the two staffs are starting today, calling people included in the two lists to make their appointment for the picture if desired.

The price of the picture this year is the same as it has been in the past—$4. This includes the cost of the sitting, the engraving and other details. The amount can be paid at the studio when the picture is taken. Extra prints for organizations will be 50 cents each.

Each day an even number of juniors and seniors will be assigned to the studios for a certain date. They can either make their own appointments or have the annual staff do so. The following juniors and seniors should have their pictures taken Monday, October 4:

Husker Football Field in Perfect Condition; One of Country's Best

The football field is in the best condition it has been for some time. The sod covering the field is in excellent shape due to the fall rains. This sod is the finest in the country, and has more care and time spent on it than the average lawn around the city. All summer long it is constantly watered and cared for.

One of the amazing features of this field is that it has a natural drainage system. This is a big item, and has saved the University thousands of dollars. Nearly every other large excavated stadium in the country has had to spend from ten to twenty thousand dollars for their tile and drainage system, beside the expense of having the tile cleaned out whenever it becomes clogged. When the Nebraska Stadium was built, the

The first game will be a hard one, but Coach Bearg has found some good material for this year's team and will put eleven scrapping Cornhuskers on the field. The game is scheduled for 2:30. The University students will be in the usual rooting section and the new Varsity cheer leaders will bring out "the old Nebraska spirit."

The Drake squad arrives this morning, and it is probable that the captain will be introduced at the rally tonight. The leader of the Bulldogs is Gail Fry, quarterback, and Coach Ossie Solem has several veterans who have proved their mettle with the pigskin.

The rally tonight will be the first ever held in the Coliseum. The University Band will be on hand to help with the cheering and the songs. Several new songs and yells will be learned to be used in the Drake game. Head Varsity Cheer Leader Nick Amos has announcements to make for the student cheering section.

Speakers
Ed Weir, last year's captain and All-American tackle will be one of the speakers. Coaches B. F. Oakes and Charlie Black will be formally presented to the students. Coach Henry F. Schulte, nationally famous track coach, will be on hand, as usual, to exhort the rooters to greater efforts in the stands. Coach Ernest E. Bearg will give a talk on the prospects of the season and what the Huskers will do to the Bulldogs. After that he will introduce the Varsity squad of '26 to the Nebraska students.

The students who are making arrangements for the rallies this year believe that Nebraska has great prospects in football. Although several crack men have been lost to the team there are others developing that indicate great promise.

FOOTBALL DOPE

Coach Bearg sent his men through an easy workout yesterday afternoon, featuring punting, place-kickings and defensive work against the forward pass in dummy scrimmage. With the exception of Vint Lawson's shoulder bruise, which may keep him out of the Saturday game, the men are in good condition and Bearg is taking no chances of injuries in late scrimmages.

The lineup of "A" team in yesterday's practice will probably be the starting squad Saturday afternoon. It includes Joe Weir and Sprague at the ends, Captain Stiner and Ashburn at tackles, Raish and McMullen at guards, James at center, Brown at quarter, A. Mandery and Dailey at the halves, and Howell at fullback.

Other backfield men who will probably get into the tussle are Pressnell, Bronson, Holm and Beck, the backfield combination on "B" team yesterday. Roy Mandery and Shaner were playing the wing positions; and Lucas, Randells, Whitmore, Gates and Grow formed the rest of the line.

Hopes for a dry field went soaring with the rise in temperature. With the Bulldog line outweighing the Huskers by more than five pounds a man, a soggy field would put Bearg's gridsters at a decided disadvantage.
