AN HONEST ELECTION

The Student Council plans to put forth every possible effort Tuesday to keep the election free from all unfairness. Previous elections have been severely criticized and election to a class office has had little significance, because of manner in which elections were conducted. The election last spring was a disgrace to the University of Nebraska. Candidates for the various offices and their supporters were crowded about the door of the room in which the election was held. A voter had no chance of getting near the polls without having promised some candidate his support.

Candidates who solicit votes at the door and in the room where the election is held are eligible to disqualification and the rules of elections will be followed strictly this year. Candidates for offices who are known to have used any unfair methods in receiving their votes will be disqualified.

The votes for honorary colonel will be counted by Lieut. Colonel F. F. Jewett, Professor E. W. Lantz and one senior member of the Student Council. The votes for the remainder of the offices will be counted by members of the Student Council, exclusively. No one except members of the Council and their faculty advisor will be allowed to stay at the polls during the election.

Class offices, Student Council membership and other offices will have a much greater significance and will demand much more respect only when fair elections are held.

GLENN A. BUCK.

The above statement, given to The Daily Nebraskan by the president of the Student Council, gives some hope at last for an honest election. The elections in the past few years have been conducted in a loose manner and there is little doubt that corrupt practices have been employed by some of the candidates.

It is time to clean up the elections at this University and this is to be done this year, if we are to believe the President of the Council. If the Council cannot do it at this election it is time to either stop elections or have them under faculty control which would be a disgrace to the student body.

The Council has the power to disqualify any of the candidates and will be at fault if it does not exercise this power. The Council will show by its actions at the election whether or not it is to be a true representative body of the students or merely another political organization which cannot perform its duties properly.

ANOTHER PROMISE

E. E. Duncan, commissioner of streets and public improvements, has promised that automatic traffic signals will be placed at the intersection of Twelfth and R streets in the near future. This is the second time that promise has been made. The first time was last May.

The reason given for the delay in installing the lights is that the city did not have the equipment. Mr. Duncan promised the Daily Nebraskan reporter, however, that the "lights" would be in operation within a few days.

We sincerely hope that the city will finally be able to provide this much-needed protection at the intersection mentioned and are waiting expectantly for the installation of the signals.

Night Classes Will Get Under Way Soon

 business conditions, including those used by the Babson, Brookmire, and similar agencies.

For those interested in radio a course in broadcast reception is offered. In advanced mechanical drawing an effort will be made to meet the needs of persons interested in any of the various phases of drawing and design work.

A course in dramatic interpretation is to be given Saturday mornings so that residents of nearby towns may be accommodated as well as those living in Lincoln.

Detailed information regarding any of the above is available on credit.
