PLAN WELCOME OF GRID SQUAD

Nebraska Alumni on West Coast Engage Special Section. Will Meet Train.

University of Nebraska alumni on the west coast are planning to give the Nebraska Cornhuskers who make the trip to Seattle for the Thanksgiving Day tilt with the Washington Huskies a rousing welcome. This fact was disclosed in a letter received today by Harold F. Holtz, secretary of the Nebraska Alumni Association, from Charles E. Allen, president of the Seattle University of Nebraska club.

A special section has been reserved for Nebraska alumni for the Husker-Husky game, and the Seattle Club already is making plans to have a delegation worthy of their alma mater in the stands when the opening whistle blows.

Circular Letter Distributed

In a circular letter sent to all alumni in Seattle and vicinity, Mr. Allen said, in part:

"The University of Washington ticket office has arranged that we old grads may sit together, and a block of excellent seats near the center of the field has been reserved for us.

"We are proud of the past performances of the University of Nebraska football team. We believe they can beat the University of Washington this time. There are many old grads in the northwest who have expressed their desire to again see our team in action, and particularly against such a worthy opponent as the University of Washington.

"It is believed that no greater stimulus can be given our team than by having a large and noisy delegation of the alumni at the train upon its arrival. It is too early as yet to have definite information upon this subject, and of course our plans are subject to the approval of the Nebraska coach. If such plans prove feasible, further information concerning them will be given.

"Yours for another Cornhusker victory.

CHAS. E. ALLEN."

AG STUDENTS WILL EXHIBIT LIVESTOCK

Baby International Show to be Held Oct. 23; To Raise Funds to Send Team on Trip

The annual Baby International Livestock exhibition will be held at the College of Agriculture on October 23. This is an entirely student affair and is put on to raise funds for sending the Live stock judging team to the International Livestock Exposition at Chicago and to the Royal American Livestock Show held at Kansas City.

Fifty freshmen men have signed to show livestock at the show. The show stock consists of animals that will be shown at the International Livestock Exposition and will no doubt be shown at the Royal American Livestock Show. These are the two largest shows in the United States. Some of these cattle were prize winners at the Nebraska State Fair this fall, and are in excellent condition.

A class of Holstein heifers will also be exhibited at the show.

Judge Not Yet Named

A competent livestock judge has been secured for the judging of the animals. The judge's name has not been made known yet, but the rumors are to the effect that he is from the Kansas State Agricultural College of Manhattan.

Mr. Russell Kendall, a competent livestock man, has been appointed as manager of the show. Mr. Clay Westcott has charge of the cattle entries and reports three classes in cattle so far. Lowell (Boots) Waldo has been appointed manager of the hog section and has one class ready so far and expects to have two classes more. Watson Foster, from Imperial, Nebraska, has charge of the showing of the horses. Ross Miller has charge of the sheep. The last two classes each have one class to date but will have two or more by the time that the show is held. Thome Johnson and Frank Reece have charge of the entertainment and publicity of the show.

The judging will be based on the way that the stock is fitted and shown, and not on the animal itself. The show will help the students to learn how to exhibit stock.

This is the only interference with the regular schedule. Hereafter, Wednesday noons are reserved for the World Forum.

CHOOSE OFFICERS FOR AG ENGINEERS

Clyde Davis Selected as President At Meeting Held Last Week; Plan Several Trips

Clyde Davis was elected president of the Nebraska chapter of the American Society of Agricultural Engineers at its regular monthly meeting last week at the College of Agriculture. Other officers elected were Mort Fredrickson, secretary, and Russell Nettleton, reporter. The Society made plans for several group trips to various manufacturing companies and other places of interest to the members.

Mr. Bancroft, who has charge of the Government Solar Station in the Experiment Station building, gave the young Engineers some valuable information concerning his work in a short talk after the meeting. While giving a thorough explanation of some of the apparatus with which he works he showed them an instrument he uses to ascertain the heat of the sun's rays at each hour of the day. This instrument is very rare, there being but one other such instrument in the world. Mr. Bancroft has a record of the heat of the sun's rays for the past twelve years.

Football Writes the Checks for Other Sports Less Well Patronized

A pamphlet "The Why of Football," was published in the football programs for the Missouri game. It stated that "in an effort to show the public just where the receipts from football go, this bulletin is published. It is hoped that the information contained in this pamphlet will help to clear up many misunderstandings that have arisen as regards the policies of the athletic department, and also as regards the way the money received from football is spent."

In early days, football was not a popular sport at Nebraska. Athletics in which individuals could participate were enjoyed the most. However, football took hold and now outrivals all other sports. The University attempted to start wide interest in physical exercise, adopting the slogan of "every student an athlete." This plan has worked out very well and the bulletin says, "Because fans generally do not maintain nearly the interest in other college sports that they do in football, the gridiron game has been forced to pay the way of other athletics. Were it not for money derived from football, the university would not be able to offer athletic recreation to nearly so many students as it does now."

Football alone pays its own expenses and pays most of the cost of maintaining the other sports. Football in itself does not cost as much as many people think. The profits for the last football season were nearly $50,000. This was spent to pay the expenses of basketball, track, wrestling and cross-country, all of which showed quite a loss.

"For the sake of the students who wish to have some kind of athletic recreation, it is necessary that come from football be present figure, at least as basis can be placed."

"One car of football positive."

KOSMET KLUB TO PRODUCE COMEDY "DREAM PIRATE"

Three-act Musical Comedy by Herbert Yenne Wins $100 Prize

TRYOUTS ARE OCTOBER 18

Play To Be Given Here the Week Before Christmas Recess

"The Dream Pirate," a three-act musical comedy by Herbert Yenne, '24, now an instructor in the School of Fine Arts, has been selected by the Kosmet Klub as the $100 prize play and will be presented by the Klub in December. The selection was made from five plays entered. Tryouts for the parts in the show will be held next Monday evening at 7 o'clock in Faculty Hall, The Temple.

The Klub this year will take its play on the road, playing Nebraska City, Beatrice, Hastings, Grand Island, Columbus, Norfolk, Sioux City and Omaha. A cast of about fifty will be taken, all expenses being borne by the Klub.

"The Dream Pirate" presents the experiences of a young man with an inferiority complex and his romance. A football player, Big Pete, is the villain, but finally loses the girl to the hero, who throws off his timidity as the result of a dream.

Music Exceptionally Good

Members of the Klub are enthusiastic about the music, which they declare is the best that has ever been presented for a Kosmet Klub show. The dialogue is also well worked out, and, with the aid of a blackface comedian, should go over well.

The play this year will be presented with an all-male cast, similar to the plays put on by the Triangle Club of Princeton, Black Friars at Chicago, Scarlet Mask at Pennsylvania, and Harefoot at Wisconsin.

Herbert Yenne will direct the play. His services were obtained after conferences with members of the Klub. Mr. Yenne has had several years experience in this line and should prove of great value in the direction.

The Musical Numbers

Among the more important songs in the play are "I Have a Dream," the theme song, "Big Boy Pete," "Threatenin' Blues," "I Ain't Sad," "Spanish Gold" and "May the Dreams of a Dreamer Come True."

For the trip the Klub will have a special Pullman car, which will be attached to the regular trains. The play will be presented in Lincoln the (Continued on Page Three).
