Sudden Rise of Ames After Missouri Game Changes Aspect of Contest

A chalk talk and short signal drill yesterday afternoon started the Huskers on their week of preparation for the Saturday contest with Ames, who, on account of their showing against Missouri last week, suddenly present a much more difficult proposition than early season dope predicted.

The Huskers came through the Kansas affair in good shape. Wallie Marrow and Leon Sprague appeared in suit last night for the first time since their injuries received in the Washington game. Avar Lee, Clarence Raish, Jug Brown, and Blue Howell are still on the sidelines and, although their injuries are improving rapidly, it is doubtful whether they will be used against the Iowa State team.

Inaction

Now that the early season games are over and the strength of the various squads is largely a determined factor, a glance over the remainder of the Husker schedule shows a busy week of inaction while the freshmen for Nebraska next month. After men tackle the Kansas Aggie yearling squad, they will go against the Manhattan crew, which is commonly being rated as champion material for the Valley this season. In the Kaggie defeat of Oklahoma Saturday the Kansas players demonstrated that they have one of the best teams that the school has ever produced.

The continued successes of the New York University squad, which appears in action here November 20, has placed it as one of the leading teams of the Atlantic coast. After being turned back for fifteen successive years, Coach Meehan's boys not only turned the tide against Rutgers College, but they blanketed the opposition while running up a total of thirty points, which is no small job against a team the caliber of the Jersey team.

Immediately after the New York game Nebraska will leave for the Pacific coast where they will meet the Washington Huskies at Seattle on Turkey Day. Although going down to an unexpected defeat Saturday in the Washington State tussle, the Huskies can be counted on to provide plenty of opposition when they go against the Huskers.

IN THE VALLEY

By ..

OSCAR NORLING

Nebraska followers are to be complimented on their sportsmanship and spirit displayed at the Kansas game. The contest was unusually well attended for an out-of-town game and the east stand was nearly filled with Husker rooters. Nick Amos and his two assistants, Dutch Weymuller and Chick Dox, together with the University Band, the Corn Cobs, and the Tassels made the occasion quite a homelike affair.

Although the Kansas spirit may have been slack at the game the week before, it was going at top speed throughout the Saturday bout. Kansas has some fine songs and yells, and the way the students responded would gladden the heart of any cheerleader.

The time between the halves was taken up by the Nebraska Band, the Corn Cobs, and the Kansas pep organizations, the Jay-Janes and the Ku Ku Klub. This was a novel sight for the Nebraska freshmen as no stunts have been given this season in the Husker Stadium. If the Kaggie pep stunts are of the caliber of those given at Lawrence Saturday, it is hoped that the athletic board will devote time from its new ruling and allow the visitors to give their stunt when the Kansas Aggie squad plays here November 13.

The "K" club provided considerable amusement for the fans by forcing offenders of the Jayhawk law to run the gauntlet before the student body between the half. Freshmen who had not worn their caps during the week were the first to afford the paddle-swingers exercise. Then any student, whether a freshman or a senior, who had taken a date to the game was forced to run the fifty yards in the hit-or-miss fashion. For it is a Kansas tradition that no one shall be given the opportunity to explain the difference between a forward pass and a five-yard penalty to his fair lady during any game—and woe be to any man when a letter man sees him by the side of a co-ed.

Bring us a sleeve, freshman, for we have to laugh as we recall McBride's gentle bit of irony in the Kansas City Star last week when he remarked about Ed Weir's ability as an official. For it was referee McBride that unwittingly bungled the prize play of the Huskers in the Kansas game. Stephens had called for a triple pass behind the line. While the Jayhawk squad were wondering what it was all about, Presnell was speeding around the left end on what looked to be a scoring run. Just then McBride, who seemed to be having a little difficulty keeping track of the ball, chanced into the path of the speeding Husker line plunger. When McBride got up the Huskers were already in the huddle calling another play.

YEARLINGS TRAIN FOR KAGGIE GAME

Ed Weir Works With Line Which Shows Promise; Backs Get Fundamental Drill

Preparations to appropriately greet the Kansas Aggies November 6 were under way at the Stadium Monday afternoon. The yearlings reeled off their various formations in fine form, keeping in mind the big game less than two weeks away.

Because of the inactivity of the Varsity, Ed Weir lent his assistance to the freshman line. The forwards hit the dummy with zeal and the backs showed great form in drilling on fundamentals.

"Les" Reed, a southpaw, worked out at center for a while, placing the pigskin in the hands of the backs with regularity.

Meager Reports
Reports from the Kaggie camp are meager. Their coach is W. G. Spear, who formerly coached at Midland. Meanwhile, the Cornhusker juniors refuse to let the grass grow under their feet, and are hard at work with the Kaggie game as their goal.

"A" team lineup Monday:
Rodman and Lewandowski ends. Ray and Hurd, tackles. Boardstone and Munn, guards. Case, center.
Miller, quarter; Farley, full.
Witte and McBride, at half positions.

CROSS-COUNTRY MEN PREPARE FOR DRAKE

Dual Meet Will Be Run Between Halves of Ames Game; No Tryouts This Week

Nebraska's cross-country team swung into work Monday in preparation for the dual meet with Drake which will be held this Saturday between halves of the Iowa State-Nebraska football game. The hills at Kansas proved quite a handicap to the Husker runners Saturday.

Captain Hayes almost overtook the trio of Kansans who finished in a tie for second. The crowds were cheering so loudly that the Jayhawkers failed to hear him approaching and he was practically up with them before they realized how close he came.

The Husker harriers ran two miles on the Stadium track last night. No tryout will be held this week, as the team was given a stiff tussle at Lawrence. A tryout will be held, however, next week to select the team for the Kansas Aggie dual meet to be held here November 13.

Ames Yearling Gridmen Need Backfield Men

Ames, Iowa, Oct. 25.—Special: As yet no backfield men of the caliber of Holman, Lindbloom, Klug, Lamson, Miller or Rudi, varsity regulars recruited from last year's yearling team, have appeared at Iowa State this fall with the present quota of former high school stars. Although this year's yearling team seems lacking in backfield material it has a line heavier than any forward wall of recent years.

The big event in freshman football is the coming game with the Drake Bulldogs at Des Moines, November 6, the proceeds going to the Walter Camp memorial fund. Eighty freshman hopefuls are battling for a green jersey and a chance to show their varsity possibilities in intercollegiate competition.

How to Start the Year Write ✓

"Lou" (or "Lucy"), said the venerable Dean to the very young person beside his desk, "the very best start you can make in college is to get yourself a fine new fountain pen. Nothing like it for lecture notes, required readings, memoranda. Provided it's dependable. Now this one, I myself have used for a college generation!"

The dear old Dean might just as well have said, "Go get yourself a Wahl Pen." For there is no fountain pen that's more of a help in any course—it writes like a charm, it holds more ink, it fills up in a jiffy and refills clean—and it's the most dependable of all.

Romp over to the Wahl Pen and Eversharp counter now, and get yourself the Wahl you like. All styles there—slim, thick, long, short: every one of 'em holding far more ink than other pens that look much bigger. Nice looking, too: solid gold or sterling silver, gold or silver-filled, red, black, or mottled rubber. Exactly the point that suits your hand: stiff or flexible, fine, medium, stub, oblique or Wahl Standard Signature—all in iridium-tipped solid gold.

From cap to nib, a Wahl Pen's practically indestructible. One bought now will last you all through college and the first six jobs beyond.

$3 to $7 for the silver or rubber $6 and Northward for the gold

The 25-Year Parker Duofold Point

Lifelong Wear Combined with Writing Excellence

In a Non-Breakable Barrel Dropped 3000 Feet

PUT the Parker Duofold point under a magnifying glass and you'll see this. The two nibs are extra strong because made of extra thick gold, so skillfully tempered that they do not have to bind together for support, each is self-supporting. Thus a thin film of ink instantly forms in the channel between these nibs—ready to flow the instant the point touches paper.

To write, you do not have to shake a Parker Duofold or spring the nibs apart. The Parker writes immediately by its own weight alone—without pressure, without effort.

A point tipped with an extra large pellet of pure native iridium that defies a generation of wear. And we can guarantee it for 25 years not only for mechanical perfection but for wear!

Step in to the nearest pen counter today and try your favorite point in a Parker Duofold—Extra Fine, Fine, Medium, Stub, Broad or Oblique.
