

YEARLINGS GET HARD WORKOUT

RAY BACK IN LINEUP

Scrimmage, and more of it, was the portion dealt out to the illustrious yearlings Tuesday afternoon. The regulars were allowed a vacation from hard scrimmage but the others received the brunt of the Varsity sub's attack.

Farley was the main cog in the short offensive spurt staged by the freshmen. His drives through center and off tackle never failed to gain yardage against a determined resistance from the subs. Joe Hunt, playing tackle, broke through consistently to spill the other junior pigskin toters.

Yearling Line Strong
Ray was back in the lineup for a brief workout but was yanked before scrimmage with the Varsity opponents began. Broadstone and Munn on the right side of the freshman line were performing creditably and in a style convincing to the coaches.

Varsity regulars were enjoying a vacation from scrimmage and congregated on the lower field for a blocking and charging drill at the hands of Coach Oakes. Later they indulged in the easy job of pushing the "sled" over a goodly part of the upper field.

The yearling lineup:
Lewandowski and Toms, ends.
Ray and Munn, tackles.
Broadstone and Craig, guards.
Case, center.
McBride and Sloan, halves.
Elkins, quarter, and Farley, full.

GREEK TRACK MEET TODAY

All Fraternity Men Except Varsity Men Eligible To Participate

Representatives from every fraternity on the campus are expected to take part in the annual fall interfraternity track and field meet, the first of a series of intra-mural activities, to be held this afternoon at the stadium. Weather permitting, the meet will be held on the outdoor track. If too cold, the meet will be run off under the east stadium.

The number of freshman taking part makes it practically impossible to select possible winners of the meet. Varsity track letter men and members of this year's cross-country teams are not eligible to take part in the meet. All other students are eligible. The meet will also serve as the regular weekly numeral meet.

Tryouts for the cross-country team for the Kansas Aggie-Nebraska dual meet and for the Missouri Valley Meet at Oklahoma will be held Friday afternoon over the regular

"Music Reflects People's Temperaments," Says Navy Band Director

"As literature reflects the thought, music reflects the temperament of a people," says Lieut. Charles Benter, director of the United States Navy Band, which will be heard here on Saturday evening of this week at the University Coliseum under the auspices of the University of Nebraska.

"The American taste is exacting, in music as well as in literature. When our public is in a mood of frivolity, the gaiety must be complete. Crudity may be excused, but not insincerity. In its serious moods, the public demands earnestness that is deep and inspirational, independent of affectation or mechanical make-shift."

Critics agree that Lieut. Benter's success with the famous military band he heads has been due in large degree to his keen study of the public mind and his appreciation of the exacting popular taste of which he course according to an announcement made yesterday by Coach Schulte. The five men who placed first in the Drake dual meet last week will retain their places on the team without trying out. The men are: Captain Hays, Reller, Chadderton, Sprague, and McCartney. Diederichs, Johnson, Frink, and Cumings are considered the most likely candidates for the sixth place on the team.

SILVER SERPENTS WILL GIVE PARTY

Active and Alumni Members Will Meet for Luncheon and Bridge Saturday Morning

The Silver Serpent alumni are to be entertained by members of the present group at a morning bridge luncheon at Gertrude Fleming's home, 2610 Washington Saturday, November 6. Bridge playing will begin at 10 o'clock and luncheon will be served at 12. Both active and alumni Silver Serpents are asked to phone Helen Eastman, B6335, at once for reservations.

"We are trying this year to promote school spirit," stated Kate Goldstein, president of Silver Serpents. The object of the coming event is to establish an understanding and closer friendship between the alumni and active members of Silver Serpents."

Helen Eastman is chairman of the committee in charge of Saturday's luncheon; other members are: Helen Clark and Ruth French. Beth Paffenrath heads the new permanent social committee, and is assisted by Elinor Borreson, Helen Eastman, and Elva Erickson. Julia Gerber has been appointed chairman of the publicity committee.

speaks. He is keenly alive to the fact that the more exacting part of his public is not that which wants the heavy classical numbers, but is comprised of those who seek only diversion in a concert and demand the lifting airs and pulse-quickening strains of modern jazz and musical comedy, while at the same time reacting spontaneously to musical novelties.

With this in mind he has so arranged his programs for the present concert tour that they make a great popular appeal. He presents selections from several of the reigning favorites in light opera, adaptations of the most recent ballad successes, and, at each concert, one or more numbers that are altogether unusual. The latter include novelties that have not been heard since the famous Gilmore's Band played them more than thirty years ago.

CYCLONES TO SPEND A WEEK RECOVERING

Iowa State Workouts to be Light After Husker Battle Saturday; Drake Their Next Foe

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 2.—Special: With two weeks to pick themselves out of the wreckage of the disastrous Nebraska game and to prepare for Iowa State's annual grid classic with Drake, November 13, Coach Noel Workman's Cyclones will spend the remainder of the week in comparative ease and will go through no scrimmage. The Iowa State-Drake game at Ames will be the Cardinal and Gold homecoming tilt, and from the Iowa State point of view the clash with the Bulldogs is the most important game of the year.

Barring the injuries of Holman and Lindbloom, sophomore halfbacks, the Iowa State crew weathered the smashing Nebraska attack in fair physical condition. Lindbloom again injured the leg that had been giving trouble for two weeks, while Holman also injured a leg in the game with the Huskers.

Weiss and Johnnie Miller in the backfield and the veteran Kingery on the line did the best work for the Cyclones in Saturday's tilt.

With no varsity game scheduled for this week end the interest of the Cyclone camp centered around the Iowa State freshman team that will battle the Drake Bulldogs in the stadium in Des Moines Saturday for the Walter Camp Memorial Fund. The young Cyclone-Bulldog clash will serve to whet the appetites of the Ames and Des Moines football followers for the varsity clash between the two ancient rivals the following week end.

Commercial Club To Initiate on Thursday

The University Commercial club will hold an initiation tomorrow evening at 7 o'clock at the Temple. This will give the Bizads who were unable to be present at the first initiation, an opportunity to unite with the club at this time.

All men who signed up during registration week and paid their fee, but who have not been initiated are eligible for this initiation. Any other Bizad man may also be taken in at this time.
