

AMES TOSSERS BEGIN PRACTICE

Iowa State Has Four Letter Men Back for Basketball; Outlook is Bright

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 6.—Special: Basketball at Iowa State this year seems brighter. Coach Bill Chandler is sending a squad of 16 men through preliminary workouts for the coming conference race. Four letter men from last year, Captain Aaron Miller, guard; Elliott, forward; Kling, forward and Staver, forward are working out daily.

Captain Miller relinquished his football duties last week in favor of basketball and seems to be in great condition. Herman Fennema, last year's center, is not in school this quarter but will be back in two weeks to work with the team for the coming season.

Hay, a center, and Klingaman, a forward, both minor letter men from last year have also reported.

Sophomores Make Strong Bid
Several likely candidates from last year's freshman team are making a strong bid for varsity berths, particularly at the center and guard positions. Joe Wagner, tall sophomore from Ottumwa, looks like a likely center prospect, and may solve the center problem which has been giving Coach Chandler trouble for several years. Wagner stands six feet three inches, is fast, a good shot and is one of the outstanding new men. Gregg, a member of last year's squad, is back this fall and also is trying for center.

Ed Nieman of Avoca, forward from last year's prep team, will be in school during the winter quarter and is eligible for varsity competition. Ludwig of Lawton, Taylor of Sioux City and Brown of Ames, other outstanding ex-yearlings are also on the varsity roster.

Football Men Will Report
At the close of the football season the basketball camp will be flooded with material, principally in the form of guards.

Captain Bud Coe of the football team and a letter man from the 1925 basketball team, Chink Hall, guard and minor letterman, Al Holman, Coomer, Lamson, Johnnie Miller, "Red" Hill, Wilson and Rudi, who were on the freshman squad last winter, and "Tiny" Grimes, a guard who won a minor letter last year, are expected to be out when the football team returns from the California game in December.

The Iowa State material this year is better than it has been for some years in the opinion of Head Coach Bill Chandler, and although it is not of championship caliber prospects are unusually good for a strong first division team.

IN THE VALLEY

By OSCAR NORLING

The 10 to 7 victory of Oklahoma over Missouri yesterday raises Nebraska's stock in the Valley running. This leaves Nebraska with about the best record of any school that has played any number of Valley games to speak of, except the Aggies.

The crucial game of the season for the Huskers as far as any championship hopes are concerned, will come next Saturday when the Kansas Aggies invade Lincoln. The Aggies defeated Oklahoma early in the season and are the one outstanding undefeated team in the conference.

The Marquette 14-0 victory over the Aggies yesterday will hardly have much bearing on the Nebraska game. The Golden Avalanche from Milwaukee always rates as a first class football aggregation. The defeat if anything means that the Aggies will fight that much harder against Nebraska.

The Kansas Aggies freshmen performed in great style against the Nebraska first-year team. Their gambling spectacular passing attack may be taken as somewhat of an indication of the tactics and strategy to be employed by their big buddies next Saturday.

Special Will Carry 1000 To Tiger Game

St. Louis, Mo., Nov. 6.—Plans are being formulated for the transportation of a thousand Washington University students and alumni to Columbia, Mo., when the Bears clash with the Missouri Tigers on November 13. A special Wabash train has been chartered by the Wrecking Crew, Washington's pep organization, and this, with several busses and scores of private machines, will be used to mobilize the Bear cohorts in Columbia for the struggle on Missouri's new Memorial Stadium field.

The Bears are not having an outstanding season on the gridiron, but Coach Bob Higgins is pointing his men for a powerful attack on the Tigers position as leaders in the Valley conference. Barring further casualties, the full strength of the Red and Green attack will be available for the Missouri game. George McDonough, sensational sophomore half-back, has not been on duty since he was injured in scrimmage immediately after the Rolla game which the Bears easily won, 25-2, and his return is expected to aid the Bears' offense considerably.

Meehan Adopts Silk And Rubber Uniforms For Football Squad

The New York University football team took the field against Carnegie Tech in the Yankee Stadium next Saturday afternoon clad in silk pants and rubber hip pads. The purpose of the new model uniform is to reduce weight and insure more speed. Head Coach "Chick" Meehan, of the unconquered Violet eleven, decided on the change.

N. Y. U. is the second college to outfit its football players in the light regalia. Knute Rockne first conceived the idea a few weeks ago and has his Notre Dame warriors using the silk pants. Upon investigation, Meehan found the new outfit practical and immediately ordered the suits for the entire Violet squad.

Meehan is a great admirer of Rockne and of his methods, while the Notre Dame coach considers "Chick" one of the best of the younger school of coaches. The new pants are made of a light yet tough fibre, with only a pad of rubber placed at the hips. The difference in weight between the old and the new uniforms is about four pounds per man.

Miss Pound Will Go To Sesquicentennial

Miss Louise Pound of the department of English is a member of the national committee in charge of the English Language Congress to be held during the last week of November in connection with the Sesquicentennial Exposition at Philadelphia.

Well-known scholars from all parts of the United States have been asked to serve on the committee. On Saturday afternoon, November 27, the National Council of English Teachers, of which Miss Pound was formerly national treasurer, will hold a joint meeting with the English Language Congress.

Professor Werner Goes To Kansas Potato Show

Prof. H. O. Werner of the department of horticulture, judged Irish potatoes last week at the Kansas State Potato Show at Lawrence where the choice product of the famous Kaw river valley was displayed. He also spoke on the work of the Nebraska experiment station in connection with the Spindle-tuber disease in potatoes.

Next week Professor Werner will go to Spokane, Wash., to judge at the Pacific Northwest Potato Show.

Girls' Cornhusker Luncheon Started In 1911; Has Become Annual Affair

On October 28, 1911, the University Girls' Club held the largest meeting of its history when a luncheon was given at the Temple banquet hall. Its purpose was to foster pep and school spirit for the Missouri football game.

This luncheon set a precedent which has endured to the present day in the Girls' Cornhusker Luncheon. Toasts filled with Cornhusker spirit, and wishes for the success of the team are given at this annual get-together.

About seven years after it was organized, the Girls' University Club became the W. S. G. A., or the Women's Self Governing Association. This in turn became the A. W. S., or Associated Women Students.

The attendance has varied from about 300 at the first luncheon to about 1,000 in recent years. Preparations are being made for approximately 1,000 girls for this year's Cornhusker Luncheon on November 13.

This year the Girls' Cornhusker Luncheon will be held at the Coliseum. It was formerly held at the Temple, Armory, St. Paul's Church, Lincoln Hotel, and the Scottish Rite Temple. The Coliseum will probably serve as the permanent home of this annual event.

The 1926 Girls' Cornhusker Luncheon is under the auspices of the Associated Women Students. Helen Aach is general chairman for the luncheon, assisted by Helen Anderson.

Nick Amos, head yell leader, will lead the yells. Ruth Ann Coddington, chairman of the entertainment committee, reports that an orchestra has been secured for the luncheon hour. The following program will be given: dance, Virginia Richardson; jazz skit, Alice Duffy and Katherine Arensky, and a stunt by the Tassels. A number of new Nebraska songs will be a feature of the program.

The placing of the tables in the form of a U and an N has been planned by the decoration committee, of which Lucile Refshauge is chairman. The Mystic Fish, Xi Deltas, Silver Serpents, and Tassels will serve.

Produce from Washington, Oregon, Idaho, Montana, and British Columbia will be exhibited. "Some Phases of Seed Potato Production" will be the title of an address which he will deliver at the show.
