Nebraska won second in the National contest which was held at Peoria, Ill. Jay Hepperly of Norfolk, Nebraska, won second individual honors in the contest.

Scabbard and Blade, honorary military organization, gave a gold ring to the winning company of monthly "Comets." The award will be decided at a parade each month, the companies being judged upon their excellence at drilling and their line in the parade.

Three Years Ago

Nebraska's fighting Cornhuskers, the Coaches, and a few other guests were entertained at a Turkey dinner by the University Club. A huge table, in the form of a football, was set for the squad.

Dr. Lida B. Earhart, chairman of the department of elementary education, spoke before the teacher's convention at Broken Bow.

Dr. Charles Shepard, grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge of Nebraska, and widely known chautauqua lecturer, made a very interesting talk at the meeting of the Square and Compass Club, Masonic organization of University men, in the Temple. He told of his experiences as a sailor in his youth.

Doctor J. E. Weaver of the Botany department, entertained the Agronomy club. His lecture was a lively one on the subject of root growth.

settled by arbitration. Disputants may appeal to the labor magistrate after a decision of an arbitration board but all arbitrators are appointed and under the control of Mussolini. If Mussolini, through his labor magistrate, wishes to decree a twelve hour day there is no way around it. The labor magistrate is the last resort in labor matters.

The fourth matter in which Mr. Page drew a parallel between the Russian and Italian governments is that both countries have a policy of expansion outside of their own provinces. "Italy cannot very easily expand though," believes Mr. Page, "because Great Britain controls all the inlets for food and Italy has no coal. The standard of life in Italy and Russia is also very low."

"The fifth parallel between Italy and Russia is that both claim to be acting for the good of all of the people. "I honestly believe," stated Mr. Page, "that Mussolini is giving Italy a better government than they have ever had before. The leaders are right in believing the rank and file of the people cannot govern themselves, but the leaders are governing at the expense of liberties over which man has fought for centuries."

Nebraska Alumni Score In Singing

At the annual college night program at Tulsa University on November 10, in a contest for all college grads in which points were scored in singing, stunts, yells and appearance, Nebraska Alumni scored first in singing. Some thirty-four colleges were represented.

Biology Suffers Setback

Biology has suffered a new setback. In the land of the once famous Kultur, the faculty of the Municipal Girls' College of Regensburg, Germany have issued a memorandum decreeing that the study of it is "incompatible with maidenly modesty".

Little stories about the

Forward

The story of the rise of the Central Cafe to its present high esteem with the public reads like a romance.

It is a story of the success of an ideal. No magic, no "pull", no especial advantage of location or building contributed to this success.

But close attention to every detail, keeping the ideal ever in mind, patience and hard work on the manager's part brought such success that the public marvel at it.

Right from the start, under the present management, the Central has been popular with the students of the University of Nebraska. There are many reasons for this popularity, but they need not be recounted now.

It is fitting, however, that the story of the Central's rise shall be told in the columns of "The Daily Nebraskan"—the students own newspaper. And in the weeks to come it shall be told in short installments and by easy stages.

fraternity houses by the Tassels in another effort to urge a hundred per cent attendance at the traditional rally and parade. Sorority houses will be called upon by the Corn Cobs. Torches for the parade are being sold by the Green Gobblins and they may also be purchased at the Armory immediately preceding the formation of the parade. The torches will be sold as in the past at twenty-five cents and it is expected that the ten minute candles will appear in number during the evening fun fest.

Send-off Rally Saturday

A final announcement is also made here of the send-off rally at the Burlington depot Saturday night at 9:30 when the team departs for the western coast to meet Washington's best. A royal send-off is anticipated. Every student is urged to take a few minutes off at that hour to lend encouragement to the Scarlet and Cream performers.
