HUSKER CAGERS WREST VICTORY FROM MISSOURI

Nebraska Five Wins by Score of 35-23; Anderson Stars with 11 Points

BLACK'S MEN RATED HIGH

Cornhuskers Smother Bears 37-26 Friday; Page Is High-point Man

Coach Charles Black's Nebraska Cornhuskers took the count 35 to 23 from Coach Edward's Missouri Tigers Saturday night at Columbia. The Missouri five got away to a good start but before the first chapter of the game ended the Husker five were in the lead and held the lead throughout the rest of the game.

Page, lanky Nebraska center got the tip-off on every play and the Nebraska machine was functioning perfectly. Anderson was the outstanding player of the evening performance, counting five times from the field and once from the free throw line.

The Nebraska invasion of Missouri was a most successful trip from every standpoint of the game and with two wins hanging on their belt, the Nebraska Huskers are now rated as one of the strongest contenders for Valley honors. Although neither game is counted in the official Valley standing both tussles indicate the strength of the Husker five in Missouri Valley basketball circles.

Nebraska's superior height over the Tigers was one of the main factors of the Husker victory. The Missouri guards were unable to recover the ball off the backstop while the tall Nebraskans would carry on their work above the heads of the Tiger quintet. The first half ended with Nebraska in the lead 15 to 12. "Old Man Dope" took a big fall Saturday night, for, as the Huskers were winning from Missouri, Coach "Phog" Allen's five-time Missouri Valley champion Jayhawk team went down to defeat at the hands of Iowa State to the tune of 15 to 12. Elliott and Peterson scored six points each for their teams.

The summary of the Nebraska-Missouri game:

Nebraska—35	Fg	Pt	Reb
Smaha, (Capt.)	4	10	2
Ohmer	3	10	0

Displaying a flashy brand of basketball Friday evening, the Huskers took an easy game from the Washington Bears at St. Louis by a 37 to 20 score. Nebraska gained an early lead and held a 26-to-8 advantage at the half.

Ted Page, lengthy pivotman, was highpoint man with six field goals and a free toss, a total of thirteen points. Captain Smaha added four baskets to the score. The two were the main factors in the Husker offense.

The line-up:

Washington—20	Fg	Pt	Reb

University Debaters to Initiate Split System in Clash with South Dakota

An entirely new plan in University debating will be initiated Thursday evening when Nebraska and South Dakota will argue the question, "Resolved, that the governments of the United States should be changed to admit the principles of parliamentary responsibility." Instead of each school upholding a particular side of the question two Nebraska students and one from South Dakota will uphold the affirmative while two from South Dakota and one from Nebraska argue on the negative. There will be no decision.

The speakers for the affirmative from Nebraska will be George Johnson and Evert M. Hunt. On the negative will be Lincoln Frost, jr., with two South Dakota men as colleagues. The same evening three Nebraska students, John McKnight on the affirmative and Carl Hansen and Archibald Storms on the negative, will debate at South Dakota. Joseph Ginsburg is the affirmative alternate and Dennis Dean is the alternate for the negative.

Open Forum Discussion to Follow

Following the custom inaugurated here by the late Prof. M. M. Fogg, who had charge of Nebraska debate work for more than a quarter of a century, there will be an open-forum discussion following the formal debate. Large delegations of students studying political science and students from nearby high schools are expected to attend the debate and take part in the discussion. To determine whether there is any change in the sentiment of the audience on the question, ballots will be passed out before and after the debate.

The debate will be held in Memorial hall, beginning at 7:45 o'clock.

White Is Coaching Debaters

Prof. H. A. White, new member of the faculty of the department of English, is the debate coach. Following are short sketches of the Nebraska debaters:

George Johnson, speaker on the affirmative at Lincoln, is a freshman in the College of Law. He graduated from Superior high school in 1924, but his home is in Lincoln. He debated for the University in 1925 against Iowa and is a member of Phi Gamma Delta.

Evert M. Hunt, also on the affirmative at home, is a junior and later intends to take law. His home is in Lincoln and he is a graduate of Lincoln high school, where he was a member of the debate team. Hunt belongs to Sigma Nu fraternity.

John P. McKnight of Auburn is a sophomore. He will speak on the affirmative at South Dakota. He is also a sophomore basketball manager. McKnight is also a member of Sigma Nu fraternity.

The affirmative alternate is Joseph Ginsburg of Ponca who is a

POINT SYSTEM FOR WOMEN IS ON NEW BASIS

Code at University of Michigan Is Used as Model; Activities Classified Differently

IN EFFECT SECOND TERM

Organizations Will Report to Committee; Students' Card Records to be Checked

After being more or less a dead letter for several years, the point system for women students, has been resurrected in the form of brand new code which was approved Thursday by members of the Associated Women's Students board, and by Dean Amanda Heppner. The new system embodies an entirely different basis of classification of activities, and is modelled after the code which has been in successful operation for some time at the University of Michigan.

The new code will go into effect immediately with the new semester, according to Helen Anderson, '28, Lincoln, chairman of the committee in charge of the revision of the system. In about a week the committee will receive reports from all organizations and activities. Card records of students will be checked, and any women found engaged in more activities than the point system permits will be asked to drop something.

Purpose Is Defined

The following statement was issued Saturday by the committee which has been drafting the new regulations:

"The distribution of the honors and duties of college life in order to promote efficiency in the activity and group consciousness in a larger number of university women is the purpose of this new system. To these ends each recognized activity is given a certain value in points, and no student will be allowed to assume more than the number of points designated. Junior and senior women will not be allowed to assume more than fourteen points at any one time and sophomore women cannot assume more than ten points at any one time."

Three Groups of Activities

Group A—A student may elect only one.

Group B—A student may elect two activities from B, or one from A and one from B.

Group C—A student who has one activity in A, two in B, or one in A and one in B may accept membership but not an office in Group C organizations.

In case one has an office or some active role in an organization, membership in that organization will count separately. An exception exists in the case of offices listed under Group A, membership in the organization will not count separately when the girl holds a position listed in Group A.

A girl who is a member of the Silver Serpent or Xi Delta, cannot be a member of Tassels.

Double Checking Possible

By this revised point system there are two ways of checking the number of activities a girl may have. These two ways are:

1. By the groups A, B, C, as stated above.

2. By the limited number of points a girl may have.

Elected Acting Chancellor

Dean E. A. Burnett of the College of Agriculture, who was chosen acting chancellor by the Board of Regents at the meeting Saturday. He will serve during the absence of Chancellor Avery, whose ill health forced him to take a long rest. Dean Burnett joined the University faculty in 1899, coming from the South Dakota State College. He is a graduate of the Michigan State Agricultural College.

REGENTS ELECT BURNETT TO ACT AS CHANCELLOR

Head of College of Agriculture To Serve During Absence of Chancellor Avery

DEAN SEVENTEEN YEARS

Is Director State Experiment Station; Faculty Member Twenty-seven Years

Edgar Albert Burnett, dean of the College of Agriculture and director of the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment station, was elected acting chancellor of the University, to serve during the absence of Chancellor Avery, at a meeting of the Board of Regents Saturday afternoon.

Dean Burnett has been dean of the agricultural college since July 1909, when the industrial college was divided to form the colleges of engineering and agriculture. Previous to the breaking up of the industrial college, Dean Burnett was associate dean of the industrial college under Dr. Charles Edwin Bessey. He has been director of the state experiment station since 1901.

Dean Burnett came to the University in 1899 from the South Dakota State College. He came here as professor of animal husbandry, which position he held until 1907. He became director of the experiment station and associate dean of the industrial college two years after undertaking his duties with the University of Nebraska. In 1925-1926, Dean Burnett was president of the American Association of Land-Grant Colleges.

Instrumental in Developing College

In his quarter of a century of work with the University of Nebraska, Dean Burnett has been instrumental in the development of the agricultural college, first, while it was part of the industrial college, and later as a separate college. The efficiency and success of the work of the experiment station has also been attributed largely to the guidance of Dean Burnett. He is the author of various bulletins published by the experiment station on feeding experiments with sheep, cattle, and hogs.

Dean Burnett received his college training at the Michigan State Agricultural college from which he received the degree of Bachelor of Science in 1887. The same institution gave him an honorary doctor of science degree in 1917. He served as an instructor at Michigan State from 1889 to 1893. He then managed the Hiram Walker farms in Canada for a year. From 1896 to 1899, he was professor animal husbandry at South Dakota State College. He left South Dakota to come to Nebraska where he has served continuously since.

Member of Educational Corps

Dean Burnett was a member of the American Educational Corps in charge of agricultural lectures in the first army of the American Expeditionary Forces at the University of Beauce, France. He is now a director of the United States Federal Land Bank of Omaha. He is a charter member of the Nebraska chapter of Alpha Zeta, honorary agricultural fraternity. He is a member of Gamma Sigma Delta and an honorary member of Farm House fraternity.

Dean Burnett was born at Hartland, Michigan, October 17, 1865, and received his early education in the public schools there. He married Nellie E. Folsom of Brookings, S. D., June 22, 1899. She was a graduate of St. Lawrence University, Canton, N. Y., with the class of 1884, having received the degree of bachelor of arts. Before her marriage she was a professor of English at South Dakota State College. Mr. and Mrs. Burnett have one son, Knox Folsom Burnett, who graduated with a bachelor of science degree from the arts college of the University of Nebraska in 1924. He is now employed by the Lincoln architectural firm of Wilson and Davis.

No announcement was made as to any change in the administration of the agricultural college after the meeting of the Regents yesterday.

Searson will Talk To Kansas Authors

Topeka, Kan. (Special to the Daily Nebraskan)—Dr. James W. Searson of the English department of the University of Nebraska will address the Kansas Authors club in its state wide meeting at the Hotel Jayhawk, Topeka on Thursday, Jan. 27.

Dr. Searson for nine years was professor at the Kansas State Agricultural College, Manhattan, in the English department, and during seven years of his sojourn at Manhattan, he was either president or vice president of the Kansas Authors club. He was the founder of the prize contests for prose and poetry of this organization.

Student Conference to Be Discussed at Forum

A discussion of the recent student conference at Milwaukee will be presented to World Forum Wednesday by Joe Hunt, '29, Scottsbluff and Eloise Keefer, '28, Lincoln.

This will be the last meeting this semester. There will be no meeting of the World Forum during final examination week beginning with the second semester, a series of discussions on capital and labor are planned. A discussion of university publications may also be presented.

BEST STORY TO WIN LOVING CUP

Sigma Delta Chi Award for Daily Nebraskan Article Will Be Made Soon

The second awarding of the Sigma Delta Chi cup for the best news story published in The Daily Nebraskan will be made next week according to an announcement made yesterday. The award will be for the best story published in The Daily Nebraskan during the second semester last year.

The award was made late last spring for the first semester's issues. William Cejnar was awarded first and the cup for his news story on the evacuation of old U Hall. The cup is retained by the winner for one semester. The cup was turned back to Sigma Delta Chi this week and the name of the winner for the second semester last year will be engraved on it as soon as it is determined.

The judges are Gayle C. Walker, acting director of the School of Journalism, Gregg C. McBride, an alumnus of Sigma Delta Chi and members of the sports staff of the Lincoln Star, and Victor T. Hackler, president of the Nebraska chapter of Sigma Delta Chi.

WEAVER ARRANGES FOR PUBLICATION OF BOOK

Dr. J. E. Weaver of the department of botany has just made arrangements with the McGraw-Hill Publishing Co. of Chicago for the publication of a book on "Root Development of Vegetable Crops" as one of their series of agricultural texts. This will be a companion volume to Dr. Weaver's "Root Development of Field Crops" which the same company brought out last spring. The new books will be off the press

Bearg Will Speak To Y. M. C. A.

Coach E. E. Bearg will give a short talk before the Sunday Morning Breakfast club of the city Y. M. C. A. at 8:45 o'clock this morning. His topic will be "Sportsmanship and Athletics."

NEW RADIO COURSE WILL BE STARTED

Dr. F. A. Staff Will Begin Series of Lectures on "The Study of The Novel" February 4

A new radio-correspondence course—"The Study of the Novel"—is to be offered by the University extension division. Dr. F. A. Staff of the department of English will give the lectures and the course will carry two hours of University credit. The first of the series of fifteen consecutive lectures will be broadcast over KFAB at 8:05 o'clock Friday evening, February 4, and the successive lectures will be given at that time each week.

Six Novels Studied

Six representative novels, three British and three American, will be taken up, in this order: "Pride and Prejudice" by Jane Austen, 1813; "Scarlet Letter" by Nathaniel Hawthorne, 1855; "The Return of the Native" by Thomas Hardy, 1895; "Annie Kolburn," by William Dean Howells, 1888; "Lord Jim" by Joseph Conrad, 1900; and "The Age of Innocence" by Edith Wharton, 1921.

Outline questions on the authors' literary art and meaning and summaries of the lectures will be sent to all who register for the course. Those who desire to earn University credit must submit written reports to the University extension division.
