Ames, Iowa, Feb. 3.—Special: With more than 1,200 farm men and women actually enrolled, the twenty-fifth annual Farm and Home Week at Iowa State is running smoothly on the third day of a five-day program. Fine weather, with promise of just enough coolness the rest of the week, combined with good roads, has caused all roads to "lead to Ames." Saturday, high school boys and girls from the rural districts will gather for a state judging contest.

Three Years Ago
Dr. R. G. Clapp, head wrestling coach at Nebraska, was elected as member of the advisory committee on wrestling rules for the National Inter-collegiate Athletic Association. The American Society of Agricultural Engineers elected as officers, L. G. Samsel president, Thomas Koontz, vice-president, and Claude Wieger, secretary-treasurer.
