

1926 PULITZER PRIZE PLAY TO BE GIVEN HERE

"Craig's Wife" Will Be Presented by University Players This Week

CRITICS LAUD AUTHOR

George Kelly One of Great Playwrights; Mrs. Whitham And Cone in Leads

"Craig's Wife", the February number of the regular series of dramatic presentations offered by the University Players will be given at the Temple Theater Thursday evening continuing to Saturday with the regular student matinees on Friday and Saturday. The evening performance starts at 8:20 and the matinees at 2:15 o'clock except on Saturday at 3 p. m.

This play was written by the famous playwright, George Kelly and is considered by critics to be one of the greatest comedy-dramas ever staged. Such great dramas as "The Show-Off" and "The Torch Bearers" were written by Kelly but none have enjoyed the popularity of "Craig's Wife".

Won Pulitzer Prize

The Pulitzer Prize of last season was awarded to George Kelly for this play. This annual award is $1,000 and is given each year to the author of the best play of the season, the judgment being given by some of the greatest authors and writers of the time.

It is the custom of the University Players to present the Pulitzer Prize play in their regular course just as soon as it can be secured for stock production. In doing this the Players feel that they are not only presenting the best in contemporary drama but they are keeping up to the minute in current productions.

The royalty rates for the prize plays are much higher than for the other productions and the royalties paid for "Craig's Wife" will exceed those paid for several productions combined that were offered this season by the Players.

Story of House Wife

"Craig's Wife" tells the story of a wife who is house-crazy. She worships her house as coldly as pagans do their idols; she frets so much about dust that a frank domestic reminds her that she will be dust herself some day. She insists that the entire household use the back stairs so that the front stairs will not be marred by shoe-marks. She refuses to have flowers in the house because the petals fall on the floor. Such a woman as this is the central figure of this intensely human drama of the home.

The leading feminine role will be carried by Mrs. Eleanor Fogg Whitham, who is in Lincoln this winter after several years in Boston. Thad Cone as Walter Craig will play opposite Mrs. Whitham. The rest of the cast is as follows: Cleo Slagel, Esther Zinnecker, Robert Reade, Howard Cottle, Louise Jenkins, Alice Connell, Jack Rank and Arvela Hanson.

INDUSTRY CANNOT OUST CAPITALISM

Dean LeRossignol Declares Marxian System is Failing To World Forum Group Wednesday

Capitalism may change but it will probably continue as the opinion advanced by Dean J. E. LeRossignol of the College of Business Administration in his address "Is Capitalism Passing Away?" delivered before World Forum Wednesday noon at the Grand Hotel.

Explaining the essentials of Marxian socialism, the speaker pointed out that the prophecies of Marx were not coming true. His theory was that with the concentration of wealth in the hands of a few, the middle class would be eliminated which would result in a social revolution as the two extremes of poverty and wealth grew farther apart. The other belief of Marx was the possibility that in some crisis capitalism would collapse of its own weight.

"Wealth has been concentrated in the hands of a few," declared Dean LeRossignol. "It is a very serious problem. Capital is being concentrated but not as rapidly as formerly. It is doubtful, however, if the middle class is being eliminated. The theory of increasing misery isn't proving out. As for revolution, it occurred in Russia where conditions were exactly the opposite from those predicted by Marx."

Present tendencies in capitalism were then pointed out by Dean LeRossignol. He gave the most important as production being more important than distribution, the idea of

Blood Will Speak Before Retailers

Prof. F. C. Blood will speak on "Planning Your Advertising" Thursday morning before the Federation of Nebraska Retailers who are holding their twenty-first annual convention at the Lincoln Hotel February 8, 9, 10. During the afternoon of the same day the Nebraska Retail Grocers and Meat Dealers Association will elect a President and a Vice President at a joint meeting.

A feature of the program will be a tea arranged for the women guests at the art galleries of the college of Fine Arts of the University of Nebraska. The pictures and other works of art have been recently moved to their new quarters.

VARSITY PARTY TO BE SATURDAY

Valentine Mixer Planned by Committee; Entertainment Said on Program

ARMORY TO HOUSE PARTY

The "Valentine Mixer", the second of the all-university parties held under the auspices of the Varsity Dance committee this year, will take place Saturday evening in Memorial hall. The Valentine party has taken on a little more formality than in former years, but plans are to give entertainment and fun in large quantities to those attending.

Elaborate decorations are being hung in Memorial Hall. The publicity committee, through the courtesy of Red Long's Bookstore, has been allowed to advertise through one of their show windows.

Plan New Stunts

Reports from the entertainment committee show that stunts will take up part of the intermission time. There will be other forms of entertainment.

The following is the list of people and committees who are making plans for the Valentine Mixer:

Robert V. Hoagland, chairman; Ruth Palmer, secretary; entertainment committee; Helen Reagor, Gregg Watson, and Wayne Grattign public relations committee; Arch Eddy, Eloise MacAhan; assistants; Geo. M. Hooper, Dean Hokanson and Robert Reade; refreshments; Oscar Norling and Jessie Kerr; decorations; Vint Lawson and Earnestine McNeil; reception; Catherine Allan and Bob Davenport; checking; Don Samuelson.

The committees have been busy during the last week to make the party the most enjoyable one of all those gone by. It is understood that this party is for University students only. Careful means have been used to prevent the entering of the non-university element.

FEBRUARY AWGWAN HAS NEW FEATURES

Nebraska Humorous Magazine Promises More Interest to Students In the Future

Something different in the way of humor will be presented in the next Awgwan to be issued February 17. A local element in the form of take-offs on campus organizations will be the feature in this issue of the magazine. In previous issues the jokes have been such that might be included in any university humorous publication. It is the editor's belief that local take-offs will be of greater interest to the student body.

Another feature will be cartoons depicting student life which will produce many laughs on the part of the Awgwan readers. Included in this issue will be a full page take-off on the Daily Nebraskan editorial column and the controversies that have been waged in it recently.

The staff this semester is twice as large as the one of the preceding term, and is the largest staff the Awgwan has ever had. The magazine will be issued regularly the middle of each month.

Two Conventions Will Meet in May

Two national conventions of university and college administrative officials will be held on the Nebraska campus May 12, 13, and 14, when the association of university buyers, of which Mr. L. F. Seaton of this University is president, will meet. The association of business officers of universities of which Mr. L. E. Gunderson, finance secretary, is a member, will meet on May 13 and 14.

No Closed Cars
A new rule at Ohio State University prevents any woman from going to or from an evening party with a man in a closed car.

AMES MATMEN HERE FRIDAY

Nebraska Lineup Practically Unchanged For Cyclone Meet This Week

OTOPALIK CREW STRONG

The Nebraska wrestling team will meet Coach Otopalik's Cyclone mat squad at the Coliseum on Friday night at 7:30 for a Missouri Valley mat meet. The Ames wrestlers come to Lincoln with a strong team and are determined to keep their slate clean.

The mat meet Friday night will be the second occasion this year when pupil meets master. Coach Otopalik is an old pupil of Dr. Clapp, the Nebraska coach.

The lineup for the Nebraskans here Friday night will be the same that wrestled against the Tigers at Columbia last week, with the exception of Karrer in the 125-pound class. Karrer was thrown by Carpenter in the final tryout Tuesday. Lundy won a decision over McBride for the light heavy weight division and Toman went two extra periods for a decision in the 158-pound class.

Nebraska Team Strong

Nebraska has shown a great amount of strength this season and has carried off two Missouri Valley matches. The first meet was with the Kansas State College grapplers, Nebraska winning 16 to 13, and the second victory for Kellogg's mat squad came last Saturday when the Huskers won from Missouri 21 to 8.

The Cyclone lineup will be the same that wrestled Penn State grapplers with the exception of Gerling, 135-pound wrestler who has been lost to Ames for the remainder of the season. Gerling received a broken leg in a varsity workout when he caught his foot in the matting.

The captain of this year's Iowa State wrestling team is Curtis "Pickles" Lawrence, veteran light heavy-weight. Lawrence has lost one match in his wrestling career, to Ruel of the Oklahoma Aggies who won from the Cyclone Captain last year by a fall in two extra overtime periods.

Clell Kurtz, Western Conference and Missouri Valley 125-pound wrestling champion of two years ago is again the mainstay on the Iowa State College team. Kurtz has a wrestling record of two defeats since he has been at Ames.

Heavyweight Classes Good
Anderson will represent the Cyclones in the heavyweight division and will meet Davis the Husker (Continued on Page Three.)

GIRLS WANTED FOR SOCIAL DUTY HERE

Ten Women Students Needed To Do Americanization Work in Foreign Homes in Lincoln

Ten girls are wanted to do Americanization work in Mexican homes, according to Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A. The work, which can be done any afternoon, consists, for the most part, of instruction in English, with some additional aid in Domestic Science and Domestic Art.

Work of this character has, besides the benefits derived by both parties from the service rendered, the additional attractions, for the girl who thus devotes her time, of experience for future work of a similar nature, and of opportunity to study, at first hand, the homes and living conditions of these foreigners who have adopted America as their home. From this personal study, she may be able, in the future, to suggest or even put into practical usage improvements which will vitally and permanently raise the standards of these people and as a consequence increase their usefulness to their adopted country.

For further information, such girls may see or call Miss Appleby at her office in Ellen Smith Hall or Florence Swihart.

Two Days Remain For Candidates to File

Only two days remain for candidates to file for the class officers and for Ivy Day orator. Filings may be made at the Student Activities office in the Coliseum until 5 p. m. Friday.

Any student qualifying as freshman, sophomore, junior or senior may file in their respective classes for the presidency; and any senior may file for Ivy Day orator. Candidates must have a 75 per cent average for the previous semester and a clear record as required by the Student Council rulings, before they are eligible.

A number of applications were filed late Wednesday and the election committee expects others before the deadline hour.

Ames Captain

Captain Curtis "Pickles" Lawrence of this year's Iowa State wrestling team who meets Albro Lundy, the Nebraska representative in the light heavyweight division at the Coliseum Friday night.

Pi Kappa Alpha had a profitable evening Wednesday and as a result the Kappa Sigma cagers are wondering whether or not they are still in the race for the interfraternity basketball championship. The Pi K. A.'s fought and fought hard and emerged from the fray the victors by a 18 to 15 score. The Sigma Phi Epsilon and Phi Sigma Kappa teams had little trouble in advancing toward the coveted goal. The Sig Eps won from Phi Gamma Delta 30 to 6 and the Phi Sigs took Acacia to a 27 to 10 trimming.

Pi Kap Game Exciting

Pi Kappa Alpha emerged from the most exciting fray of the evening with a 18 to 15 victory over the fast Kappa Sigma five. The Pi Kappa Alphas led at the half 12 to 10. With but two minutes left to play the (Continued on Page Three.)

Probation Week At Wabash College Reminds Freshmen of Coming Doom

University freshmen, who are awaiting with fear the time set by the Interfraternity Council for the annual Greek probation week, may be interested in the following account of the prescribed "Rough Week" held at Wabash College.

"Rough Week that powerful name to conjure up genii in the form of poor, grovelling, insignificant freshman who just love to work. The name works wonders in the vanishing of smiles, and the rapid disappearance of cigarettes and money. Dirty faces, budding pants and bleary eyes are prevalent among the worms of the campus.

"This year's rough week, with its preliminaries, promises to be one of the bigger and the better type. Of course the real part begins next week. The paddle manufacturing business has been on a steady increase and the lumber dealers of the city have found it necessary to order a carload of wood to fill the stringent requirements of the industrious upperclassmen.

UNI NIGHT PLANS WELL ORGANIZED

Committee Chairman Says He Welcomes Any Criticism Of Past Shows

ASKS FOR MORE SKITS

Preparations for University Night are fast rounding into shape and details for the annual show are nearly complete. To date six skits and several curtain acts have been presented and the committee has the program practically arranged.

However any late skits that are presented to the University Night committee before its next meeting, Monday will be considered. The committee is very desirous of having as many skits presented as possible but those who have not as yet presented their acts should do so this week.

Welcomes Criticism

"Any criticism concerning University Night programs is willingly received," V. Royce West, chairman of the committee said yesterday, "and we are hoping that any ideas for making the show better will be presented to us." Constructive criticism is solicited and the committee is open to suggestions from outside parties who are interested.

The acts that have been turned in present a great array of talent and the show promises to be bigger and better than ever. Sigma Delta Chi, winner of last year's prize has presented a skit. Pi Epsilon Delta, National Collegiate Players are again offering a twenty dollar prize for the best act.

A definite date for the production has not been set but will probably come the second week of March. Rehearsals will begin next week and a complete program will be announced then.

65 MEN REPORT FOR SPRING GRID DRILL

Coach Bearg Well Satisfied With Turnout; Says He Expects More Varsity Men Later

A total of sixty-five prospective football men for next year gathered in the north training room of the stadium Wednesday afternoon. Coach Ernest Bearg expressed himself as being highly pleased with the number out, and believes many more will report as the sessions continue.

"I'm mighty anxious to get as many men as possible," he continued. "We have no time to experiment next fall, and must get our theories and strategy out of the way now. When we start practice this fall, we'll be ready to play some real football."

Wednesday's session consisted of a review of next year's schedule and next year's plays and formations. Numerous changes are to be inaugurated and tested as to practicability during the coming six weeks of training. Because of this fact, it is especially necessary for all candidates for the 1927 team to come out. Many of last year's letter men are already on hand. Holm, Brown and Lawson are preoccupied with basketball, but will be out as soon as they finish.

New Morrill Hall Art Gallery Is Open Today

The art display of the Nebraska Art Association is open to the public for the first time this morning in the art galleries of Morrill Hall. An admission is charged for the general public; all students are admitted free.

A collection of paintings on display in the corridor of the second floor may be viewed without paying the admission fee. On Sunday, February 13, the public is invited to see the entire exhibition free of charge.

SENIORS ELECT QUEEN OF MAY

Voting Ends This Afternoon; Identity of Queen Made Public Ivy Day

100 VOTES CAST SO FAR

Over one hundred senior women voted Wednesday in the election of May Queen and Maid of Honor and the suggestions for the members of Mortar Board for the year 1927-28 as against eighty votes cast during the two days of last year's election. Senior women may vote Thursday from 9 to 5 o'clock at the polls in Social Science.

The senior woman receiving the second highest number of votes in the May Queen election will be the Maid of Honor according to a ruling adopted Tuesday evening by the Mortar Boards. The results of the election will be known on Ivy Day when the May Queen and the Maid of Honor will be publicly presented, and the new members of Mortar Board will be masked.

Each senior woman votes for from five to fifteen junior women for membership in Mortar Board for the coming year. A list of the thirty women receiving the highest number of votes is considered as the official list of nominations. A name is automatically dropped if the scholarship is below standard.

Daily Nebraskan Inquiring Reporter

Every day he asks a question from different students picked at random on the campus.

Today's question: Do you favor the present discussion of going away with Ivy Day orator?

Where asked: In front of Long's Book Store.

Paul R. Miller, '27, Arts and Science.

"No! Not unless we also do away with the tradition of 'football'."

Frank Sargent, '27, Arts and Science.

"I don't think it should be done away with, because a speaker of that sort always brings the right kind of discussion and gives something that stimulates the students."

Sidney Poole, '30, Engineer.

"I think it is an awfully good thing to keep."

Margaret Clarke, '30, Arts and Science.

"I never heard of such a thing."

Berlyn McClure, '28, Agriculture.

"I don't think that it should be done away with."

Wally Marrow, '29, Teachers.

"I do."

Maurice Heavelone, Junior, Law.

"Because of the fact that in the past the Ivy Day orator has usually been a law student, and which gives him a chance to exhibit his wares, I'm strongly opposed to any movement for the abolishing of this part of the tradition."

David Foster, Junior Law.

"Dissenting opinion."

$50 SCHOLARSHIP WILL BE AWARDED

Junior Women Must File With Dean Of Women Before April 1 To Be Eligible for Award

Junior women have until April 1, 1927 to send in their applications for the $50 scholarship which the Faculty Women's club offers annually. This scholarship gift will be paid in two installments, $25 at the beginning of the first semester, and $25 at the beginning of the second semester.

This scholarship is open to all Junior women, (1928 Seniors) to be used in the senior year. No money will be available, however, until her resignation for the first semester of her senior year at the University of Nebraska is completed.

Application blanks may be obtained at Dean Heppner's office. When they are filled out they should be sent to the "Secretary of the Faculty Women's Club," Dean Heppner's Office, Ellen Smith Hall, Lincoln. The successful candidate will be notified of her selection at the close of this semester.

OPEN HOUSE IS BANNED BY PAN HEL COMMITTEE

Sororities Relieved of One Nebraska Custom After Deliberation

PARTIES ARE LIMITED

Co-Ed Greek Organizations Allowed One Downtown Party Under Rule

The custom of sororities having open house in the fall of the year will be discontinued, according to the decision reached by members of the Pan-Hellenic board at their meeting held Wednesday afternoon in Ellen Smith hall. The board has been considering the matter for some time and the action came only after the sorority representatives had taken the matter before the members of the various groups and it had met with their approval.

For many years sororities have held open house in the fall of the year for all fraternity men. There are now some thirty-eight Greek letter fraternities on the Nebraska campus each having an average membership of about thirty. Sororities have come to realize the uselessness of an attempt to entertain in one afternoon the members of so large a group as this would necessarily mean.

Parties Are Limited
The custom was started when the number of fraternities, as well as the number of sororities on the campus was comparatively small.

Sororities will have but one downtown representative party a year, the board decided. Most of the sororities have been holding but one such function, however the society members, themselves, felt it necessary that a ruling should be made in order to definitely regulate the matter.

The Pan-Hellenic Board is made up of one junior, one senior and one alumni member from all sororities; a faculty member acts as faculty chairman or advisor. Organizations of this kind may be found on the campuses of all of the leading co-educational universities and colleges of the country. The board has authority and power to regulate matters pertaining to greek letter sororities. Miss Clara Wilson, of the Teacher College faculty, is chairman of the local board.

HOBO PARTY WILL BE HELD TONIGHT

Entertainment For Junior Girls' Party is Complete; Good Attendance is Expected

Plans are complete and preparations running smoothly for the Junior girls' hobo party, from 6 to 8 o'clock tonight in Ellen Smith hall, according to Grace E. Evans, general chairman for the party. A good attendance is anticipated from the sale of tickets.

This party, which is being sponsored by Silver Serpents, honorary organization for junior women, should by its very informality accomplish the aim for which it is being held, namely to develop a greater spirit of friendliness and cooperation between junior women.

Those attending are to be attired in characteristic hobo fashion. A program and dancing to Cleo Single's Red Jacket Orchestra will provide the entertainment, after which a lunch will be served.

The committee in charge is Grace E. Evans, general chairman; Elinor Borreson, entertainment; Alice Leslie, Ruth Clendenin, Florence Swihart, publicity and tickets.

Industry Picture To Be Shown Today

A two-reel motion picture on the cane sugar industry of Cuba will be presented before the student chapter of the A. S. C. E. at 7:30 Thursday evening in Mechanical Engineering 206. A short business meeting will precede the showing of the picture. The chairman for engineer week will be elected and plans for future activities of the organization will be made.

Arts College Group Will Meet Saturday

The discussion group of the Arts and Sciences College will meet Saturday, February 12, at 10 o'clock, in the Temple. Everyone coming to the meeting is asked to be on time, and to come prepared to criticize, either favorably or unfavorably, some of the classes which he has attended, and to discuss the report made last year.
