

CINDER ARTISTS TO HARD TASK AT DES MOINES

Twenty Track and Field Men To Make Up Team at Indoor Meet Saturday

WANT INDOOR TITLE

Schulte Resting Hope on Squad For A Third Valley Indoor Title

Twenty track and field men will make up the Nebraska team at the annual Missouri Valley indoor track and field meet at Des Moines Saturday. On this squad Coach Henry F. Schulte is resting his hopes for a third successive valley indoor title. The team will be accompanied by Coach Schulte, "Doc" McLean, and one student manager.

Hard Proposition

With only 7 1-2 of the 36 3-4 points made at last year's valley indoor left this year, the Cornhuskers are faced with a tough proposition in their attempt to repeat. Johnson made three points last year in the mile, Wyatt, two in the 440, and Wirsig, two and a half in the pole vault. All the other point winners either graduated or failed to return to school. New men have been developed to fill some of the holes made by graduation. On the performance of these new men rests much of Nebraska's chance to return with another championship in hand.

Reports from Oklahoma indicate that they will add a strong contingent to help split the points at the meet. Taylor, crack low hurdler from last year's team, has been stepping them in nice fashion in practice. They also hope to have Ray Dunson, crack Indian hurdler, eligible in time for the meet Saturday. Potts, Sooner captain, is likely to be one of the strongest contenders against Wirsig in the pole vault. Potts tied for second at Kansas City, although Wirsig.

Health Carnival Will Be Given March 17-18

A unique entertainment for Nebraska's campus will be a one cent health carnival to be given in the women's gymnasium, Thursday and Friday, March 17 and 18 by the department of Physical Education for Women.

A novel feature is the price of admission which will be one cent. Dancing will be another feature of each afternoon's program and every one may dance on—paying a cent. Included in the programs will be clogging and tumbling skits.

There will be a style show from which students may for the price of a cent see an artist's conception of the future or desire to recover your lost jewels consult the fortune teller who will end your worries and enlighten you concerning the future, all for one cent.

A poster contest will be held in connection with the Carnival. Five dollars will be awarded to the person having the best poster by March 15, the best poster dealing with health. The winner will be announced on one of the days of the carnival. The posters may be given to any of the members of the committee in charge, which is composed of Kathro Kidwell, Chairman, Marjorie Easterbrook, Marie Hermanek, Helen Moorehead, Marie Snavely and Helen West.

Miss D. Simpson and Miss J. Huesman are the faculty members of the committee.

NEW POINT SYSTEM PRINTED

Copies Ready for Distribution to All University Women

The A. W. S. point system is now printed and ready for distribution to all University women, particularly those engaged in activities. Copies will be given to proctors of rooming houses and sorority presidents at the next council meeting, which will be held soon. Presidents of all organizations should secure copies from the A. W. S. room in Ellen Smith Hall, or from Helen Anderson before spring elections to determine the eligibility of proposed members.

Since every girl's activities will be limited according to this system, organizations having earliest elections will have the greatest advantage.

RICE TELLS BIBLE THEME

Tulsa Pastor Outlines Bible Subject in Talk at World Forum

POINTS OUT MANY TERMS

Declaring that morals and religion were the theme of the Bible, not physical evolution, Dr. John A. Rice, addressed World Forum yesterday noon at the Grand Hotel on the subject, "Jesus and Evolution." Dr. Rice is the father of Professor J. A. Rice of the Classics Department. He is pastor of the Boston Avenue M. E. church of Tulsa, Oklahoma.

Dr. Rice opened his address by reading a resolution passed by a school board in Lancaster County, Pa. in 1828. It opened the school house to discussion of all reasonable subjects but it forbids debates concerning railroads. It said that if God had intended railroads to exist he would have foretold it in the lives of the prophets. Dr. Rice cited the resolution as typical of the reactionary mind which sees nothing good in anything new.

Cites Many Examples

Citing numerous examples of the conflict of the literal story of the Bible (which he stated numerous organizations were trying to make the only story permissible to teach in the schools of the country) with common scientific knowledge, Dr. Rice exclaimed, "These suggestions raise a terribly blinding question. What are we going to do about it? Shall we throw away Genesis? Shall we curse science? Shall we become agnostics?"

Solution of this problem was represented by Dr. Rice as lying in the fact that the Bible sought to teach only religion, not physical evolution. "In the Bible," he stated, "we have no real account of creation at all. What the author is trying to do is to tell of the things prepared for man, who is to be the master of the world. All this leads up to man as the master creation of all. The whole work is religion. The one central idea which prevails is God..... God..... God, everywhere."

Gives Terms of Bible

Pointing out the terms of the Bible came out of the authors' lives and were within their cultural limitations. He showed how the first two chapters of Genesis contradict each other.

OXFORD HONOR WON BY TEFFT

Nebraska Rhodes Scholar Awarded Vinerian Scholarship at Oxford University

Sheldon Tefft, Nebraska Rhodes scholar from Weeping Water, has won the Vinerian scholarship in law at Oxford University, according to Lincoln friends. This scholarship lasts for three years following a competitive examination. This is the most highly prized honor given at Oxford for work in legal studies. The scholar must pursue a course of legal study or training of his own selection, but subject to the approval of the law faculty at Oxford University, is the only requirement of the scholar.

Mr. Tefft graduated from the University in 1922, and from the law school in 1924. In 1923 he was elected as the Nebraska Rhodes scholar at Oxford. Hugh Cox, '26, has been elected his successor. It is understood that Mr. Tefft is the first American who has been honored by the award of this scholarship.

Rhodes scholars receive four hundred pounds a year, out of which they must pay their expenses. Eligibility of the Rhodes scholarship is to male citizens of the United States, who are not younger than nineteen nor older than twenty-five by October 1, 1928. They must have completed at least 1-4 of the s.p.e.r.s.y.s at some recognized degree university or college.

The Nebraska committee of selection announces competition for an Oxford scholarship which will be awarded next December for the year 1928. Anyone wishing to try for the scholarship must have his application in the hands of the Nebraska committee secretary, Paul F. Good, not later than October 22. The selection will be made December 10.

North Carolina Council Starts Suit To Exempt Frats From Tax Payments

The Interfraternity Council of the University of North Carolina is instituting a law suit in the interest of all the fraternities of the campus against the county in which the University is situated for an exemption of all fraternity property from taxation, according to a letter recently received by Mr. Gunderson, the Finance Secretary of the University of Nebraska.

The University of North Carolina, situated in Chapel Hill, North Carolina, is writing through the President of the Interfraternity Council to learn the status of the question at the University of Nebraska. Their case is already in the hands of their attorneys and they expect to get a hearing soon.

According to Mr. Gunderson, the question, although brought up here sporadically, has never been pushed very hard. This is largely because there has been no encouragement of such an exemption here. Oklahoma is practically the only other state which exempts the fraternities at their state university from the payment of taxes on the grounds of the property being used for educational purposes.

If this exemption could be gained, thousands of dollars could be saved for the students of this university every year. It would greatly encourage the Greek organizations on the campus and cut living expenses enormously. However there is no hope of tax exemption in sight in this state.

March Issue Of Magazine Distributed

With some minor changes in make-up, the March issue of The Cornhusker Countryman, official publication of the College of Agriculture was distributed yesterday.

One of the feature articles is "Daniel Freeman—First Homesteader," by Elvin Frolik.

Blanche Ingersoll, who is now employed by the Washburn-Crosby Milling Company, writes on "Opportunities for Home Economics Graduates." In this interesting article, she says, "The business world is not drying out for women with home economics training. It's just waking up to the fact that home economics has something to offer them." She explains the place of the woman trained in home economics in the business world.

"Merrill-Palmer School—The Fond Hope of Every Home Economist Girl" by Hazel Banning '27, tells of the work in the Merrill-Palmer School, a school that "fits girls, mentally, morally, physically, and religiously for their life work."

Nelson Jodon '29 in his article on "The Cereal Chemist—Right Hand Man of the Miller" tells of the work in the standardization of baking tests which are being carried on under the direction of Dr. M. J. Blish, agricultural chemist of the Nebraska Experiment Station.

A very interesting article to the farmer readers is an extract from the Chicago Tribune, "Future Farming in Corn Belt Calls for Big Team Hitches," by Frank Ridgway.

Under "The Best Freshman English Themes of Month" Elsie Vostrez has written on "Moonlight on 'The Hailstorm,'" and V. Irena McKay on "Evening Shadows Along the Niobrara." Honorable mention was given to Janice Abbott, M. Bell Oakley, Basil Wendt, George Kennedy, and Cleora Major.

Other departments filled with interesting materials are "from the Field," "Vocational Education," "What the Ecs are Doing," and "What Ag College is doing." The joke department appears under the new heading, "Stray Ears," editor Cyd Cobb and censored by No Boday.

Journalism Students Will Report Games For Nebraska Papers

Students in the School of Journalism of the University of Nebraska will again "cover" for the weekly newspapers of the state the annual high school basketball tournament which will be held at the University March 10, 11, and 12.

Over 250 teams are entered in this year's tournament although all teams who had not won at least 40 per cent of their games were barred. To the home-town papers of each team will be sent an account of all games in which the team plays. To accomplish this task the 150 students in the School of Journalism and classes in news writing have been organized into a gigantic correspondence bureau which will function day and night during the three days of the tournament.

Last year, when there was no 40 per cent rule, over 330 teams participated in the tournament. The School of Journalism correspondence bureau sent stories to 271 Nebraska newspapers, mostly weeklies. The copy turned out aggregated 181,000 words, enough to fill 225 columns of an ordinary weekly paper.

ANNUAL BANQUET HELD

Phi Delta Phi Members Give Thirty-Fourth Yearly Affair

The thirty-fourth annual banquet of Phi Delta Phi, national professional legal fraternity, was held at the Lincoln Hotel at 6:30 Wednesday evening. Active members, initiates members of the law faculty and local members of Phi Delta Phi were present.

Wednesday afternoon seventeen men were initiated into the society, the ceremony taking place in the Supreme Court Chamber at the State capitol. The newly initiated are: Gifford E. Bass, Don M. Becker, Norris M. Chadderdon, Donald E. Devries, Herbert C. Henderson, Ernest A. Hubka, George E. Johnson, Merle S. Jones, Robert A. Krall, Ernest A. McGrew, Willis A. Negus, Lumir F. TEAM MEMBERS WORK FOR GOAL

$250 Turned in for Coppock Memorial Fund at End Of First Day

$1700 TO BE RAISED

Two hundred and twenty-four dollars toward the seventeen hundred dollar goal was turned in by team workers in the Grace Coppock memorial drive, Wednesday at Ellen Smith Hall. The amount falls short by a hundred dollars of the amount totaled at the end of the first day of last year's campaign, but the drive is to run a week this year instead of three days in order that the drive workers may have more opportunity to interview the women assigned to them.

The team captained by Helen Anderson now leads with more than a hundred dollars to their credit, Ethel Saxton's team is in second place and that of Helen Eastman runs a close third.

The first of the teas for all university women, which are to be given by the Grace Coppock staff, will be held this afternoon in Ellen Smith Hall from 3 to 5 o'clock. Team members as well as all other women of the campus are urged to make use of these teas as a meeting place. Chinese articles will be used in decorating for the teas, and someone will be in charge to explain their meaning and to answer any question about the drive which may be asked. A second tea will be given next Monday afternoon at the close of the drive.

Drive Ends Monday

All money to count in the drive must be turned in by next Monday evening. The time of the drive has been extended this year from three days to nearly a week because team members found it impossible to cover the territory they were given in that time.

Team members are urged to make their interviews as early as possible in as much as thirteen teams must cover the campus this year and do the work which twenty teams accomplished last year. The number of team workers has been cut down this year in order to eliminate as far as possible freshmen women from the ranks of the drive workers. First-year women are being used on the teams only after the most careful consideration and selection.

Money Goes to Budget

COMMITTEE IS NAMED

Bizad Day has definitely been set for May 13 and Dean Chatburn has officially recognized this date as a holiday for students registered in the College of Business Administration. Bizad Day is an annual event held in the spring. This year the holiday is being sponsored by the Bizad Executive Council.

At noon a barbecue luncheon will be served, followed by a baseball game between the faculty and undergraduates. The evening's entertainment will consist of a show and dance. Tickets will admit the student to every event of the day and will probably be priced at one dollar.

Wayne Gratigny has announced that no effort or expense will be spared to make this the most successful Bizad Day ever staged at Nebraska. Sub-committees will be announced in a few days.

University to Aid Class Play Choice

Vermillion, S. D. March 8—Senior classes of South Dakota high schools will be assisted to choose their class play by the Extension division of the University of South Dakota, according to the extension secretary. Dramatic coaches may borrow sample plays from the extension division, examine the plays, and thus find it easier to make a choice of a suitable play.

For the benefit of the state high schools, the extension division has acquired 600 three and four act plays and 400 one and two act plays. These are loaned to state high schools if the borrowers will pay the postal charges.

BASKETBALL MEET STARTS THIS MORNING

Greatest Tournament Begins With 256 High School Teams Entered

ADVANCE SALE TICKETS

Many Seats Already Reserved; Expect Capacity Crowd For Final Games

The world's greatest basketball carnival will be under way by 8:00 o'clock, this morning. Of the 256 teams entered ninety-four of them had registered at the Coliseum by six o'clock, last evening, with other teams steadily pouring in. Pilger was the first team to register.

According to the "dope" sheet, Crete, Hastings and Lincoln have the best chance at the Class A title, although University Place and St. Paul are liable to cause them plenty of worry. Havelock, Ravenna, Clay Center and Arlington seem to have a slight edge over the other teams in Class B.

3500 Seats Available

A total of 3,500 seats are available during the first round of the tourney but the seating capacity will be enlarged to accommodate 9,000 people for the Class A semi-finals and finals.

The entertainment for today as arranged, consists of a group picture of all teams in front of the Coliseum at 12:15 P. M. This will be the only official picture of the 1927 tournament. At 3:30 P. M. Coach Schulte will give a series of five minute talks on track and field athletics. The varsity track men will give demonstrations at the same time in the east stand.

An advance sale of reserved seats for the finals and semi-finals points to a record tournament crowd, the reservations being made for the Friday and Saturday games. It is planned to send several blocks of seats to any out-state teams that perform in the Saturday night championship games.

Reservations for Finals Made

Among the teams registered yesterday were two lady coaches. Mary Tompkins instructs the Riverton team, while Hubbard claims the other feminine coach, Margaret Terry.

H. D. Gish received word from Wausau High School, yesterday morning that its team would not be able to compete in the tournament. They were scheduled to meet the Ogallala aggregation in the first round of Class E, consequently Ogallala goes into the second round by default.

All classes and building will be open to the 300 high school students that will be here this week end. The teams are also invited to visit the State Capitol building, accordingly many local business men have extended invitations to the visitors to examine their plants.

RICE TELLS OF BIBLE WRITINGS

"Literary Forms and Materials in the Bible" Is Subject in Group Discussion

"Literary Forms and Materials in the Bible" was the subject Dr. John A. Rice chose for his talk to the discussion group in Temple 101, yesterday afternoon.

He declared that the writers of the Bible gathered their material from all the sources at their disposal such as the historians of today. He declared that their works are not words that were given to them verbally by God, and in support of this view, pointed out four different kinds of material found in the Bible which differ as to style and form of writing.

"Why does a thing have to be dead to be religion?" he asked, when commenting upon evolution and its relation to the Bible. He made the statement that the Bible is not contrary to the theory of evolution held by scientists.

Past Week's Weather Competes With April's But Snow is Possible

March 9 has been the warmest day since November 6, and the temperature of the past week has been as high as that recorded for the usual April weather, according to Thomas A. Blair, Meteorologist of the Nebraska Weather Bureau. The highest temperature ever taken for this month was 96 degrees, a rare occurrence in contrast with the 62 degrees of Wednesday. But on the whole it is still warm for the season throughout most of the country.

Snow may fall during the month as well as the first part of April but it will not remain long. The latter part of April will find the rains, characteristic of the season.
