Campus Pulse

down, if they'd meet the fraternity man half-way, if they demanded the respect and recognition of the campus, they'd get it.

One more thing. I don't mind being a barb, in fact I am rather proud of it, but I do object very emphatically to being called a "Barbarian." A Barb—but not a Barbarian.

All Wet
All wet! Well not entirely. But so near it that the expression may readily be used. That's my sentiments on this wicker vigorous campaign D. N. has started to reform the campus.

There is a grain of truth to fraternity self-asserted superiority. It is regrettable. But I hardly feel that it is exactly attributable to the fraternity system. More largely, it is due to a certain type of personality which would exhibit the same undesirable traits under any circumstance, or conditions.

That a barb cannot achieve recognition is anything but true. It is true that certain political positions cannot be attained by barbs. Thus, no barb, however worthy has been chosen innocent in recent years. But barbs have, even in recent years, held high positions in practically every field on the campus. A non-fraternity man a few years ago was editor of the Cornhusker, colonel of the cadet regiment, and a member of the Kosmet Klub. True, he headed a barb political organization which functioned.

Last year another non-fraternity man, was editor of the Daily Nebraskan and the year before he was a member of the intercollegiate debating team. We could go on and cite a number of other cases but this shows two outstanding examples of non-fraternity men who achieved recognition.

That more do not achieve recognition is largely due to the fact that a man who shows a great deal of promise is ordinarily quickly snapped up by some fraternity on the campus. I can think of any number of non-fraternity men who, with the exception of irrelevant political positions get everything they attempt within the range of their merit. All of these men command the respect of practically all fraternity members. And many of them are firm friends of fraternity men.

I do not wish to check any attempt to organize the barbs. There is no reason why they should not organize to attain their ends as fraternities do. But it should not be assumed that individual merit, worth and personality, will not be recognized and accorded an equal place because it is not fronted with a fraternity pin.

Editor:
Campus pulse is always harping about the existing inequalities of social relationship on the campus brought about by fraternities and sororities. Fraternities and sororities have been driven from many college campuses.

What are the results and effects to those schools?
The state law that killed fraternities and sororities at Mississippi University and South Carolina University has driven the student body of those two schools to out of state institutions. Before the state law prohibiting fraternities and sororities went into effect the University of Mississippi was one of the largest schools in the south. Following the year that the fraternity law went into effect the enrollment was decreased decisively. Consequently athletic teams that were well known became unknown.

The year that the fraternity bill went into effect in South Carolina, the state university suffered a greater loss in enrollment than that of Mississippi University.

According to the registration at Alabama University and North Carolina University it is evident, that the large number of students from Miss. and S. C. have enrolled at Alabama University and North Carolina University in order that they may evade the fraternity law of their native state.

The state law banning fraternities at Mississippi University was removed at the early part of this year. As a result the frats that were dormant immediately came to life. Gordon Burr, an outstanding son of the south and prominent attorney of Birmingham, Ala., says "Old Miss." has revived and will be one leading university of the south.

Mississippi University has tried fraternities, banished fraternities, and now has fraternities. They know the effect without them. So the Nebraska student who is constantly harping about the evil of the fraternities and sororities is only trying to take Nebraska University from one of the leading schools of the Missouri Valley and place her in class even lower than the bottom pits—of where.

PROFESSORS NAMED IN 1927 WHO'S WHO

Walker farms in Canada. Then he went to the South Dakota State College where he was professor of animal husbandry from 1896-99. The University of Nebraska next claimed him and he taught animal husbandry here until 1907. Then he became associate dean in charge of agricultural instruction and served in this capacity for two years. Since July, 1909, he has been dean of the Agricultural College and director of the Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station since 1901.

Dean Burnett was a member of the American Educational Corps in charge of agricultural lectures in First Army, A. E. F. University of Beau France. He was the president of the Association of Land-Grant Colleges from 1925-26. He is the author of various bulletins of Nebraska Agricultural Experiment Station on feeding experiments with sheep, cattle and swine.

Students Take to Skooters
Although the skating movement is, at present, the craze at the Minnesota university, skooters are also being introduced and it seems that it is only a matter of time until Minnesota students will be "skootering" from class to class thus increasing immensely the already congested traffic problems.

Leaves the Face GLOVE-SMOOTH

Williams Shaving Cream
THE super-moist, saturated lather of Williams Shaving Cream does more than soak the beard bristles soft for easy shaving. It does more than lubricate the razor's path—preventing little cuts and scratches. For Williams actually conditions the skin—leaves it glove-smooth—gives you that barber's massage feeling. Two sizes—35c and 50c.

ENJOY BEING SENSIBLE

YOU'RE probably fed-up with food advice. It's a bothersome barrage. But you actually can enjoy sensible eating by just making one meal, any meal, every day, of Shredded Wheat.

Through thirty-five years of "Eat this and that," this pioneer whole wheat biscuit has captured ever-growing favor. Made of the most carefully selected wheat grains, shredded for utmost digestibility and cooked crisp clear through for appetite enchantment that's the Shredded Wheat Story.

New appetite appreciation, freedom from drugs and laxatives, better health every day; Shredded Wheat can give all this—and make you like it.

SHREDDED WHEAT

To the man who isn't satisfied with first place

THE man who wins a race can't afford to get complacent over it. His next step is to improve on his own running time. The electrical communication industry in America ranks first in the world, with exceptional facilities for research and constructive work. But the men in this industry are never satisfied to let it go at that. No process, no matter how satisfactory, by whom devised or how well bulwarked by age, is here immune from challenge. This dynamic state of mind must appeal mightily to men who are pioneers at heart.
