The numbers were chosen according to the following requirements: Any professor, instructor, or other member of the staff of the institution, who has shown noteworthy achievement as an original investigator in some branch of pure or applied science and has published the results of scientific research conducted by him. Master's and Doctor's theses of more than five years standing shall not be accepted for fulfilling the requirements. A registered graduate student who, as judged by his actual work of investigation has exhibited an aptitude for scientific research. Any graduate student who has shown marked excellence in one or more departments of pure or applied science, and any student who has completed the first three years of undergraduate work and who has shown marked excellence in two or more departments of pure or applied science and has completed thirty-six hours of science, is eligible to associate membership.

All alumni is eligible to membership if a graduate of the institution of not less than five years standing on the same conditions prescribed in the first paragraph. Any professor, instructor or investigator, connected with a neighboring educational, scientific, or professional institution not having a chapter, will also be eligible for membership on the same conditions prescribed above. Any associate is also eligible for membership if he has shown an aptitude for scientific research within five years after graduation.

All nominations must be accompanied by published papers, articles or books, submitted as evidence of the scientific attainments of the nominee; but alumni members may be proposed to the society for election by a unanimous vote of the committee on nominations without submission of published papers.

ENGINEERS OPEN FESTIVITIES TODAY

bronze trophy by O. J. Fee. There will be three five-inning baseball games. The Freshmen will play the Sophomores and the Juniors will play the Seniors in the first round. The winners of these games will play each other in the final contest.

Open House Thursday
This is only the beginning of the program that has been arranged for the week. Thursday evening from 7 until 11 o'clock all engineering laboratories will be thrown open to the public that it may see just what is going on in the College of Engineering. Students will perform representative experiments and demonstrations of their work in all laboratories at this time. Each department will have its own exhibit, and every student will be given an opportunity to take part in the program.

The Engineers' Banquet at the University Club Friday evening marks the close of the week's program. Dean A. A. Potter, Dean of Engineering at Purdue University, will address the engineers after the dinner at 6:30. Tommy Tompkin's Cornhuskers will provide the music for the banquet.

SYNDICATE ADOPTS COLLEGE ARTICLES

on the manuscript submitted.

Though any subject of general interest may be used, the following topics have been suggested in order to promote interest and immediate activity in the venture: "That Older Generation" (suggested as a free-for-all discussion of the critics of the younger generation.) "What Three Americans do you Consider are Having the Most Influence upon the Thought of American Youth," "Is Judge Ben Lindsay's Companionate Marriage Proposal a Remedy," "Why Go to College," "Is Christianity Destined to Endure?" "Are Students Babbitts?" "It has been stated that the revolt in China has rung the death-knell of 'White Man's Vaunted Supremacy.' What is your opinion?" "Is the U. S. becoming imperialistic? Are we on the way of Rome?" "Are the colleges molding or are they being molded by public opinion?" "When I'm Bringing Up my Children," "Have we a New Morality or Simply No Morality?" "What should be the Marks of an Educated Person?"
