 Pharmaceutical Chemistry Laboratory: food and drug analysis—chairman, Ewald Witt.
 Pharmaceutical Assay: which employs two methods of analysis—chairman, George Medaker.
 Compounding and Dispensing Laboratory: it is in this laboratory that the student receives experience in filling prescriptions—chairman, Ivan Wood.
 Druggists Submit Samples
 Park Davis & Co., E. R. Squibb & Sons, H. K. Mulford Co., Armstrong Cork Co., Bauer & Black, and Eli

Lily & Co., drug firms of Lincoln, have submitted samples of their products to be displayed with the exhibits of the students.

Friday, the last day of Pharmacy Week, will be marked by a picnic starting at 10 o'clock and will close with the banquet Friday evening at the Cornhusker Hotel.

Stanley M. Long of Cowles, Nebraska, member of the Board of Regents of the University of Nebraska, will be the principal speaker. Other speakers of the banquet will be: Judge Lincoln Frost, head of State Department of Public Welfare and Judge E. B. Chappell, of the Municipal Court.

 tance of giving the professional side of pharmacy first place.

Pharmacists Have Responsibility
 "We have a mission we ought to be proud of," he concluded, and we ought to let people know we are responsible. Work for work's sake and the rest will take care of itself. Each must make a stumbling block or a stepping stone."

Mr. Butler, the second speaker, stressed the importance of the students fully qualifying themselves for the profession they were taking up. "You must realize that when you receive your diploma from the College of Pharmacy that your education has not ceased," he explained, "for this is a profession that requires constant study."

"Substitution will murder the prescription business," Mr. Butler declared. "A pharmacist is never justified in substituting a drug in a prescription. He advocated the pharmacist keeping a large selection of drugs on hand and to gain the confidence of the doctors by never substituting unless the doctor gives his permission.

His closing thought was for each one to have confidence in himself. "If we think we are going to fail we are lost—it is all in the state of mind."

Working Students Make Grades
 An interesting fact has been disclosed at the University of Iowa. At the final check-up of the semester grades it was found that out of the 3,500 students in the College of Liberal Arts, there were only two who received "A" grades in all their courses and these two were working their way through college.

 order of their respective scholarship rating. The awarding was made on the percentage basis, Zeta Beta Tau ranking first. The others in order are: Farm House, Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma Delta, Alpha Chi Sigma, Alpha Gamma Rho, Kappa Psi, Phi Alpha Delta, Phi Kappa Psi, Alpha Theta Chi, Phi Kappa, Acacia, Tau Kappa Epsilon, Alpha Sigma Phi, and Omega Beta Pi.

Dr. Condra, director of the Conservation and Survey Division of the University introduced Mr. Weaver. "You are the men who will guide the destinies of the state in the future," Mr. Weaver declared in his message to the Nebraska fraternity men. The men who have gone before you from this great university have made it what it is today and it is for you to make the University of Nebraska what it will be in the future. Prepare the way for those who are coming after you and above all uphold Nebraska traditions and make them bigger and better for the coming of students of Nebraska."

The banquet was served under the auspices of the Interfraternity Council. Edward Morrow and Wendell Cameron were chairmen of the committee in charge.

Co-Ed Track Team Holds Five Meets
 Co-eds on the track team at Atlanta University have adopted the wide-legs, scanty track shorts favored by male teams. The co-ed team has scheduled five meets and their stadium is sold out for every meet. The stadium holds 10,000 spectators.

Chinese Revolt Endangers Nebraska Graduate Visiting Ginling College

A letter has been received by Miss Erma Appleby of the University Y. W. C. A., from Miss Vera Barger, a graduate of the University of Nebraska and national chairman of physical education work on the Y. W. C. A. staff in China. The Grace Coppock Fund raised annually by the University Y. W. C. A. supports in part the work of Miss Barger in China.

Miss Barger was visiting Ginling College, where she was formerly director of the Physical Education Department, at the time of the recent trouble at Nanking and writes the following to the University Y. W. C. A. "After learning on Wednesday afternoon, March 23, that the Southern army had entered Nanking and the Northerners were retreating, we took in neighbors as refugees and kept watch all night for looters.

Looters Do Little Damage
 "The first group of looters was from the Southern army and went into one or two of the academic buildings. They stayed only a short time and did little damage. Then an officer in the Southern army, a brother of one of our students, came over and talked with some of them and promised protection. But he was soon called away by a group of students from the University of Nanking bringing word that Dr. Bowen had been taken and his life was in danger. While our protector was gone another group of looters came. They took a few more things from one of the academic buildings and were about to demand the opening of the safe when they evidently became fearful that the officer was returning and they vanished. He did return, having been summoned by our servant who went after him on a bicycle, risking his own life as the soldiers were firing. The officer led a small guard he had brought with him.

"The next arrivals were not so easily managed—a small group of soldiers tired and hungry and demanding to be taken to the foreigners. Food and discussion restrained them temporarily but soon they insisted on going through the buildings. The faculty and students took them to other buildings first which they were able to do because our residence is exactly like the student dormitories and does not stand out from the group, but finally felt they could hold them no longer and some of them rushed over to tell us to hide. We went to the attic and waited there on the slight chance that two floors or loot might satisfy them.

Sick Refuge Abroad Boats
 "After a few moments of suspense news was brought in of a rescue party of Chinese students and faculty from the University of Nanking who conveyed us under the leadership of an officer up to Baile Hall at the University of Nanking. This was on Thursday afternoon. From then on until Friday afternoon we remained there under the protection of Southern soldiers and officers who allowed Chinese friends and servants to come and go and to provide us with some few necessities.

"Friday afternoon we were taken to Hsia Kwan and put aboard American and British boats. Our whole experience was much less unpleasant than that of most people and we were deeply touched by the courage and loyalty of all our Chinese friends who certainly saved us from something much worse.

"These are the events to date, but as to the future no one can say. Most of us will either go to Manila, or Japan, or Korea, or remain in Shanghai until we can see a little more clearly what it is going to mean. We are too close to it now to interpret all the conflicting elements in the situation. That we are eager to find a way for Ginling to meet the crises and continue to give the Chinese women an essentially Christian education goes without saying."

Student Tours To Russia are Being Planned

The National Student Federation of America has arranged through the courtesy of the Society for Cultural Relations with Foreign Countries of the U. S. S. R., and the All Russian Central Students bureau for four American student groups to visit the Soviet Union during the coming summer.

The International Student Hospitality association is cooperating in planning the programs for the days in Berlin and Paris. The technical organization work is being done by the Open Road, Inc., of New York City. Each tour will be headed by an American professor, graduate student or other person whose qualities and interest in Russian affairs particularly qualify him for leadership.

The groups, numbering twelve students each and a leader, will be joined upon arrival at Leningrad by a guide and interpreter, who will accompany the group throughout its stay in Russia, arranging the cultural program—contracts with professors, students, government officials, etc. So far as possible, the hosts will put the individual in touch with Russians of similar interests along the way.

The aim of the tours is to provide a cultural opportunity for a limited number of particularly qualified American students. With this in mind, there have been skeleton itineraries worked out so as to combine a program varied enough to give the student a sense of the scale and multi-sided life of the Soviet Union, and at the same time make the experience of the individual intense enough to have educational value. With the latter aim in view, time is being allowed in most places for the individual to sightsee and get acquainted with the people, and wherever possible, receptions by the Russian students will facilitate this end.

As the plans now stand all four groups will sail from New York, (tourist third cabin,) on June 25, arriving at Southampton July 2. They will sail from London by a connecting steamer direct to Leningrad, arriving there about the seventh of July. A week in Leningrad and a week in Moscow will be spent before touring the provinces. Each of the groups will travel independently after leaving Moscow. By United States government regula-

Y. M. AND Y. W. TO HOLD CONFERENCE

Annual Meeting of Religious Workers Scheduled for Last of August At Estes Park

The Student Conference of the Y. M. C. A., and Y. W. C. A., held each summer in Estes Park, Colo., is scheduled for the ten days from August 23 to September 2, this year. The Estes Park Conference is for the students of the Rocky Mountain region and some forty-five schools and colleges of this region will be represented there. It is one of a number of such conferences held in various parts of the country during the summer months.

The conferences have as their purpose the bringing together of groups of active thinking students, interested in discussion of questions of vital interest to student bodies, and in the creation of a spirit of Christian fellowship among the students of the several universities. Here one finds opportunity to secure information and facts from experts on social, political, and economic issues. Here is the opportunity to do some real thinking and to get hold of a big unifying life purpose. The problems of campus, social, and religious life are discussed sanely, by those best acquainted with them and those best able to understand and discuss them.

Many Interesting Opportunities
 Estes Conference affords a wonderful summers outing, as well as a live, worth while student conference. Riding horseback, fishing, hunting, camping, hiking among the splendors of the Rockies are a few of the many things in store for those attending this conference.

Among those who will be in charge of the program are: Kirby Page, one of the foremost authorities on social and international questions, and the editor of "World Tomorrow"; Dr. R. C. Brooks, professor in Pomona College, California, a profound thinker and an alert teacher; and Henry Pitt Van Dusen, a professor in the Union Theological Seminary.

Twenty Nebraskans To Go
 Nebraska has a quota of twenty men to send to this conference. Nine students have already signed to go, they are: Robert C. Davenport, Carl W. Olson, Clayton S. Maravac, Joe M. Hunt, Wilbur L. Mead, Paul H. Robinson, Everett M. Hunt, Gordon V. Hager, and C. D. Hayes, Y. M. C. A. secretary will also attend.

There are still several places to be filled and those interested should see Mr. Hayes in the Temple at the earliest possible date, since Nebraska delegates must be reported to the committee in charge within a short time.

MORRILL GIVES TO UNIVERSITY $6,000

 $1,000 fund is to be governed by the general rules of the college in such cases and under the supervision of Dean E. A. Burnett and his successors in office. "I regret that owing to the uncertain state of my health I am not able so far in advance to accept definitely the invitation of the regents and other officials to be present at the dedication of Morrill hall. If unable to be present in body, I shall certainly be with you in spirit. Very sincerely yours, C. H. MORRILL."

tions persons coming out of the near east of Russia must allow fourteen days to elapse before embarking for the States. Each group after leaving Russia will spend two weeks in Western Europe, probably dividing the time between Berlin and Paris.

Barbed wire entanglements have been thrown about St. Hilda's College for Women in England in an effort to keep out male serenaders.
