Other Entertainment

Herman Decker sang a number of songs accompanied on the piano by Mrs. Decker. Prof. H. P. Davis presided. Acting-Chancellor Burnett gave a short talk calling attention to the value of the judging teams in their contact with the public in creating favorable public sentiment in favor of the University as a whole.

CHANGES MADE IN ROUND-UP DATE

 istration building. Every fraternity participates in this event and the competition is very keen. A silver loving cup is awarded by the judges to the fraternity which they deem the best singers. The cup remains with the winning fraternity until the following Ivy Day unless it has been won by that fraternity three successive times. In that case the fraternity is allowed to keep the cup.

The crowning of the May Queen takes place in the midst of a very pretty ceremony. The identity of the May Queen is kept secret from the time that she is elected by the student body in the fall of the school year until she is presented on Ivy Day.

The planting of the Ivy will be carried out as tradition prescribes. The president of the senior class presents the ivy to the president of the junior class who plants it.

The intersorority sing will take place this year on Ivy Day and constitutes a new innovation. Previous to this year the intersorority sing took place at the annual May breakfast. A silver loving-cup is presented to the sorority winning this event in the same manner as in the intersorority sing.

Ivy Day Oration

The Ivy Day oration precedes the masquing of Mortar Boards and tapping of Innocents is the most impressive ceremony of the day. The Innocents, senior honorary organization for men, selects thirteen men from the junior class. The thirteen Innocents, robed and hooded, circulate in single file through the crowd of spectators until they have located all thirteen men who they have selected to take their places for the following year. After all of the candidates have been located the tapping commences. The officers are first tapped after which the remaining candidates are tapped in no particular order. The masquing of the Mortar Boards takes place in a very similar manner. This concludes the events for Ivy Day.

The Class and College Day brings the alumni into the scene. After the alumni and alumnae meetings in the morning, the final game of the interfraternity baseball tournament is to be played on the drill grounds. Lunch will be served at the Law Barbecue to be held at the Auto Club park. The 35th annual competitive drill at the Stadium will attract anyone who delights in military performance. In order to limber up some of the alumni who have not had time to continue their athletics after leaving school, there will be a baseball game between them and students from the various colleges. The final Frolic will take place at the Coliseum for those who have survived the preceding events. This will consist of an evening of entertainment for students, faculty, and alumni, including by invitation local alumni of all collegiate institutions. There will be special entertainment including an individual compet with the award of cups, the introduction and presentation of company captains and sponsors, and many other interesting things.

Alumni Day

Alumni Day will be devoted exclusively to the alumni. Dedication of Morrill Hall will be an unusual feature of the day. And, of course, without a pl by the University Players which will conclude the Round-Up of 1927.

The registration headquarters will be maintained at all times during the week at the Alumni office, first floor of the Temple building. At the time of registration alumni will be supplied with tickets to the various affairs they wish to attend. Nearly every fraternity, sorority, or other organized group on the campus is planning entertainment and reunion for its own members. A most extensive program promises this Round-Up to be three of the most worthwhile days of the year.

TENNIS TEAM TO MEET REAL TEST

Cornhusker Will Be Pitted Against Hardest Opposition in Valley Conference Today

All dope favors Grinnell in the tennis meet with the Husker racquet-ers, according to a statement made by Coach Beary yesterday afternoon. "Grinnell will probably beat us but our team will give its best efforts," were the words of the Nebraska coach. The matches will start promptly at 3:00 o'clock this afternoon.

Heacock, Cornhusker number one man will have a tough row to hoe when he exchanges strokes with Coggeshall who in 1925 was the second ranking junior player in the United States. Coggeshall brings with him a wonderful record and will no doubt give local tennis fans plenty to talk about.

Elliot to Meet Struble

Captain Elliot will match strokes with Struble, who is a veteran of the net game, and has established a reputation during his two years of varsity competition with Grinnell. However, Elliot's ability can not be overlooked and he will without doubt make things interesting.

Dubrey and Franco will play the other singles matches for Nebraska. The Husker tennis mentor may start a new doubles combination by playing Franco in place of Davis with Dubrey, but it is not definitely decided.

The Cornhusker tennis squad has made a good record so far this season having won their first two meets over Kansas Aggies and Ames. The team is in good condition but they are meeting the strongest team in the Valley this afternoon.

Any industrial worker who moves things by hand is doing work that Electricity can do for about 2 cents an hour

More than 60 per cent of the mechanical power used by American industry is applied through electric motors. But the electrification of the tasks performed by man power has hardly begun. Electric power not only saves dollars; it conserves human energy for better purposes and raises standards of living. College men and women may well consider how electricity can lessen the burdens of industry and of farm and home life.

You will find this monogram on all kinds of electric equipment. It is a symbol of quality and a mark of safety.
