University Mathematics Professor
Says New Trisecting Method False

Dr. Robert E. Moritz, professor of mathematics at the University of Washington and former professor of mathematics of the University of Nebraska, states that the claims advanced by Bertrice C. Hastings, instructor in mathematics at Lincoln high school, Seattle, Washington, that he has discovered a means of trisecting known angles with ruler and compass, are in precisely the same category as the assertion that four and four make nine.

Mr. Moritz is a graduate of Hastings College and the Universities of Nebraska, Chicago, and Strassburg; and is author of many mathematical works and recognized as one of the world's leading mathematicians.

That he didn't like the idea of making Seattle the laughing stock of the mathematical world by having such a theory advanced from there was Professor Moritz's excuse for bothering to comment on the 'discovery.'

Dr. Moritz called attention to the fact that Paus, considered next to Newton the greatest of all mathematicians, proved definitely that while a circle can be divided mathematically into three parts, it cannot be divided into nine parts. He asserted that Hastings's claims could

ENGINEERS BEAT AG COLLEGE

Take Championship of Class One by Winning 19 to 9

The College of Engineering won the championship in class one of the intercollegiate baseball tournament, by a 19-to-9 score, over the College of Agriculture, at the College of Agriculture campus.

The game was marked by fast, hard play, long hits, and numerous errors on the part of both teams. Rodman, of the Ag college team, scored the lone home run of the game. Sturek, of the engineers, made the outstanding play of the game by knocking a two bagger with the bases full, enabling the Engineers to run in two scores.

Friday's game climaxed a series of wins for the engineers and places them in the finals of the intercollegiate tournament against the winners of class two. The final game, deciding the championship will be played some time next week.

Athletic Tickets May Be Redeemed for Meet

According to John K. Selleck, manager for student activities, student athletic tickets will be redeemable for fifty cents on any ticket to the Missouri Valley track meet to be held in the Nebraska Memorial stadium Friday and Saturday, May 20 and 21.

Friday afternoon at 2 o'clock the preliminaries will be held and an admission of fifty cents will be charged. Saturday afternoon the meet will be held beginning at 2 o'clock. For the events held Saturday general admission will be one dollar and one dollar and a half will be charged for reserved seats.

Rebate on the student tickets to the meet will be given if the tickets are presented at Mr. Selleck's office in the Coliseum between now and Friday.

Nebraskans Are Second Place
In Track Rank

Compilations of best marks made by high school athletes in Missouri, Kansas, and Nebraska this season on the track and field made by R. E. Wiley, '27, for Coach Schulte's advanced coaching class show that Kansas youngsters have turned in the best marks, Nebraskans next, with the Missourians the lowest.

Wiley's figures showed that a meet between first place winners with best marks from each state would have been won by Kansas with 51 points, Nebraska getting 39 and Missouri 28. This did not include relays in which Nebraska teams have made better marks than those from either of the other states.

Best Marks

His figures show the best high school marks made in Nebraska this season to be:

100 yard dash: Martin, Fairbury, 10.3 seconds.
220 yard dash: Corp, Fairbury, 22.3 seconds.
440 yard dash: Aller, Crete, 51.5 seconds.
880 yard run: Cashord, Tecumseh, 2:09.
1 mile run: Hull, Grand Island, 4:44.8.
120 yard high hurdles: Lamson, Neligh, 15.6 seconds.
220 yard low hurdles: Lamson, Neligh, 25.6 seconds.
Broad jump: Craig, Takamah, 21' 11 3/8".
High jump: Robbins, Grand Island, 5' 11 3/8".
Pole vault: Morris, Grand Island, 11 feet.
Shot put: Hokuf, Crete, 44 feet 1 inch.
Discus throw: Tindall, Lincoln, 111 feet.
Javelin throw: Bevard, Lincoln, 171 feet 9 inches.
880 relay: Lincoln and Omaha Tech, 1:33.

A. W. S. ABOLISHES ANNUAL LUNCHEON

Board Eliminates Traditional Girl's Cornhusker Luncheon From Yearly Calendar

The A. W. S. board has decided to abolish the traditional Cornhusker luncheon. For several years the members feel the luncheon has failed of its purpose, that of fostering interest in A. W. S. activities. Largely because they point out has been largely a matter of compulsion.

The proceedings at each A. W. S. meeting will be made public.

The Co-ed Follies will be held next year sometime in the early part of February and the Cornhusker Party will be the first Friday in December to correspond with the men's Cornhusker banquet.

The A. W. S. loan fund will be put into the cooperative house fund after this year. The co-operative house has been worked out in several large schools, Illinois for example, with much success. Women may live in these houses at minimum rates. Their objects is to help needy women through school.

Helen Andersen, president of the board, announces the following committee chairman for next year:
Cornhusker party—Orrel Rose Jack.
Co-ed Follies—Laura Margaret Raines.
Stamp Sale—Grace Elizabeth

Delta Sigs Wallop Sig Chis

Interfraternity Contest Results in Sad Tale for Sigma Chi

The Delta Sigma Phi sandlotters easily outclassed the Sigma Chi nine in the annual interfraternity baseball race, taking the 20 to 8 count. Walt Sturek, pitching for the Delta Sigs, pitched air-tight ball and held the Sig Chis to but 7 hits, scattered throughout the 7 innings.

With Sturek pitching great ball, his fellow team-mates were knocking the horseshoe all over the field. The hitting of Jim Shane and Hodges accounted for the landslide score of the game. Base stealing was another feature of the game. D. Hess, left fielder for the Delta Sigma Phi nine getting ten bases via the stolen route.

University and college enrollment is growing faster than it did before the war. Reports from over 180 institutions throughout the country show an increase of about 11 percent over last year.

Mine rescue and first aid are being offered in a course to the students of the University of Utah by the United States Bureau of Mines.
