

BEARG DRIVES MEN INTO SHAPE FOR FIRST GAME

Strenuous Practice Is Bringing Squad into Good Condition; Work on Aerial Attack

With but ten days remaining before the Nebraska Cornhusker's opening Missouri Valley game with the Ames Cyclones, Coach Ernest Bearg, head football mentor is working his pigskin luggers at full speed. Practice Tuesday and Wednesday consisted of hard scrimmage, perfecting fake plays, line smashes and drilling on the air line formation. Bearg intends to have a passing team at Nebraska this year that will be foremost in the Valley conference. Nebraska, the team that is noted from coast to coast as one of the formidable line attacking elevens will continue to uphold that reputation this year after Coach Bearg perfects the large number of line plays that he has up his sleeve.

Three backfield candidates, Howell, Presnell and Oehlrich, are developing into the fastest aggregation of backs in the conference, and they do not only possess speed but have an abundance of football brains combined with weight and experience.

All three men featured in every game last season and look better this season in practice than ever before.

Three Veterans Show Well
Howell played his first varsity football last year and was the sensation of the Missouri Valley with his terrific drives through the line. He plays the position of half and full-back. Glenn Presnell and Arnold Oehlrich, two backs of last year's team are clamping down on their bids for regular backfield positions on Bearg's eleven.

Both Presnell and Oehlrich carried the brunt of the battle last year in wide end runs and drives through the line. Sloan, Elkins, Bronson, and Voris are valuable backs that can be put into the Husker machine without weakening the least detail.

Practice last night consisted of the usual evening punting exercises followed by a series of place kicks and goal kicking. Elkins, Bronson, Howell and Sloan are getting into fine shape and are booting out punts for an average of 50 yards regularly. After this workout, Line Coach Oakes took over the linemen and Bearg and Black took charge of the backfield for a 30 minutes drill on fundamentals.

Second and Third Teams Scrimmage
The rest of the practice session was spent in scrimmage. Coach Bearg took his picked eleven down on the soft turf of Memorial Stadium field for some secret signal practice and the second and third team staged a fast scrimmage on the practice field. The white team was made up of Bronson, Voris, Witte and Farley in the backfield. Munn, Raisch, Grow, Lucas, Toms, Shaner and Simic in the line. The red team had Pesker, Beck, McBride, Sloan, Ray, Craig, Zaver, Sprague, Lewandowski, Drath and Schulz.

The team that will start against the Cyclones on Memorial Stadium field October 1 is not definitely decided upon as yet but from the outlook it will be Lawson and Lee at the wing positions; Howell, Oehlrich, Captain "Jug" Brown, and Presnell in the backfield; Richards and Randall at tackle; McMullen and Holm at guard, and Ted James at center.

IN THE VALLEY By JACK ELLIOTT

Coach Noel Workman, the Iowa State football mentor is preparing his pigskin luggers for the opening game with Nebraska at Lincoln on October 1. Cool weather has favored the Cyclone coach and he is putting his team through stiffer workouts every day, the one Monday being the most grueling of the year. For the remainder of the week the Cardinal and Gold coaches will concentrate on an offense for the opening game with Nebraska. Saturday two picked teams will go through the first game of the year on State field. Next week's sessions will be taken up with defensive plays.

Along with the report from Iowa comes a similar report from the camp of the Jayhawkers that Coach Cappon is putting his Kansas footballers through some intensive training, preparing for the opening game with the Grinnell Pioneers. Three new back field men have reported to Cappon and things in Lawrence look rosy for the Grinnell-Kansas game. The candidates who reported are Harold Schmidt, Anthony Propernick, and Art Lawrence. All three men are out for backfield positions.

The age-old riddle is fluttering around the Cornhusker camp and that is, "Will everyone be eligible for the opening Missouri Valley game." Dame rumor has it that Dan McMullen, Bill Bronson, Lloyd Grow, and Arnold Oehlrich are ineligible on the registrar's barometer. Oehlrich, the Husker back seems to be plenty hard hit and Bronson, Nebraska quarter is only credited with eleven hours work for last semester.

The first real battle which will be open to the eager eyes of the Cornhusker fans will be staged Saturday, according to head football Coach Bearg. It will be a full time game and be an opportunity for the Nebraska coaching staff to find out the weak points in the Husker machine. Bearg is allowing for ineligible men and intends to work with plenty of reserve material.
