AWGWAN DRIVE STARTS TODAY WITH 1800 GOAL

Block Subscriptions Offered to Organizations Reduce Purchase Price

MAGAZINE WELL ON WAY Individual Solicitors Take Field First; Groups Selling Start Tomorrow

Awgwan's annual subscription drive will get under way this morning announced Hal F. Childs, business manager of the Awgwan, campus humor magazine, late Tuesday. Last year's Awgwan maintained a circulation of more than 1200. Childs has set the goal for this year at 1800.

Block subscriptions are being offered to fraternities and sororities at $25 for twenty-five copies of each of the eight issues. Individual subscriptions are $1.25 for the eight numbers. Organizations purchasing block subscriptions save over six dollars by the group purchase.

Individual solicitors will take the field early this morning in the Awgwan campaign. Campus organizations participating for prizes for highest total subscription sales will start their efforts today or tomorrow and will continue throughout the week.

Seven fraternities and sororities had already requested block subscriptions at a late hour Tuesday afternoon. Hal Childs, business manager of the Awgwan, stated Tuesday that he felt that this was a good indication of the increasing interest.

Law Graduate to Open World Forum Luncheon at Noon; Program Strong Says Hayes

"The Place of Activities in the Life of Every Student," is the subject chosen by Mr. Lloyd Marti, a Nebraska alumnus, for the address he will give at the World Forum luncheon, today at noon.

Mr. Marti has chosen to discuss this subject from the viewpoint of the student. He will try to encourage students to take part in activities on the campus and receive social and intellectual good aside from study. Mr. Marti graduated from the university last June and was Ivy Day orator. He is now connected with the firm of Perry and Van Pelt, attorneys-at-law.

According to Mr. C. D. Hayes, the secretary of the University Y. M. C. A., this will be a featured program and one which every student interested should not miss. This will be the first meeting of the year. Meetings will be held every Wednesday noon and tickets will be sold for 25 cents. The program will last from 12 o'clock to 12:50 o'clock, but students may leave earlier if necessary.

Plans for Initial Rally of Season In Coliseum Friday Evening Are Made

The initial rally of the 1927 season will be held at 7:15 Friday evening in the Coliseum to start the old Nebraska spirit going strong. The rally will be over by 8 o'clock. It will not interfere with other engagements of the evening.

PLAYERS MAY CHANGE PLANS

Ramsay Announces Possibility Of Presenting "The Beggar On Horseback"

'ALIAS THE DEACON' FIRST

Determined to present the best of plays throughout the coming season, the University Players have almost fully decided to offer the well-known success, "The Beggar on Horseback," according to Ray Ramsay, manager of the organization.

The play is recognized as being one of the stage hits of the past four or five years, and adds much to the list of presentations announced previously. It is difficult to stage, as there are many scenes, and if presented will probably be the most costly production ever offered by the Players, Mr. Ramsay states.

"Alias the Deacon," first on the program of the University Players for the present season, will be offered October 6, 7, and 8, 1927. The play was written by John Hymer and LeRoy Clemens, the same team that turned out that other stage success, "Aloma of the South Seas." Mr. Hymer also enjoys the distinction of being the author of "East Is West." "Alias the Deacon" was produced by Samuel Wallach at the Hudson theater, New York, running for 250 solid nights there.

"What a wonderful experience girls entering college for the first time are to know," Miss Lee began, "and one of the greatest joys is the finding of one's big or little sister. ## OWNER OF FRATERNITY HOUSE WANTS PROTECTION

Employment For Students Found by Y.M.

Records of the Student Employment Bureau of the University Y. M. C. A. to date show a total of approximately $2,650, that students have earned as a result of the Bureau's aid. From 421 student applications for employment, 99 students have been aided in securing permanent part time positions, while 22 have been placed on odd jobs from time to time.

The problem of student employment confronts nearly every Lincoln business man and University student, either directly or indirectly. The business men of Lincoln have assisted many university students in obtaining a college education.

Although a great number of students are able to secure employment through the aid of a friend or a relative that resides or has business connections in Lincoln, there is a large number of employers who need student help, and of students who must find employment and have no personal way of fulfilling their desires. It is the purpose of the Employment Bureau, which is maintained by the University, to fulfill both the requirements of the business men and students.

The cheer-leaders and Corn Cobs will be present to explain the seating arrangement and to give general instructions. The seats assigned Friday should be kept throughout the season in order to eliminate trouble in running off the stunts.

Organized cheering is a new thing at Nebraska, instituted this year to give the team organized support and to make a display in the Stadium. All members of the cheering section will have the special red and white caps and colored cardboard to use in the stunts.

The ideas to be used are being developed in the athletic office from plans used at other schools. The plan received its start on the Washington trip last fall.

Your Memory Will Work If You Work It, Says Dr. Worcester Over Radio

"Did you ever stop to think what a fix you would be in if you really had a poor memory?" asked Dr. D. A. Worcester of Teacher's College, over the University radio yesterday afternoon in a talk on "How Is Your Memory?"

"Suppose, for example, that you woke up some morning and had really lost your memory. You couldn't remember how to put on your clothes or your way about the house or how to use the silverware at the table. You couldn't remember sounds you heard, and therefore you could not understand anything said to you; nor the meanings of things seen, so you could no longer read. Complete failure of memory would reduce one to the helplessness of a new-born child, and lack of memory would prevent one from developing beyond that point.

"But how about those of us who can remember faces but not names, who can never recall figures or dates? Can you remember no names? Why, yes, you say of course I can remember my own, my family, business associates, and intimate friends. Yes, and you can remember Coolidge and Kaiser Bill and Gene Tunney, and then Lindbergh and Mary Pickford and anybody else in whom you have taken a particular interest. If you would sit down and write out the names of all the people you knew you would be busy for a good long time.
