

PEP RALLY WILL SEND TEAM OFF TO TIGER GAME

Record Crowd Expected to See The Huskers Depart For Contest with Missourians

EXTENSIVE PLANS MADE

Rallies to Be Held Tuesday and Wednesday at 11 O'clock and 4:30 Thursday

Plans for the greatest send-off rally in Cornhusker history are nearing completion. A record crowd is expected to be at the Burlington station Thursday to see the Nebraska eleven off for Columbia, where it will clash with Missouri in one of the most important games of the season.

Enthusiasm and "pep" are being stirred up throughout the entire school. A large sign will appear in front of Social Sciences building, and smaller cards are to be tacked on bulletin boards bearing the inscription "Beat Mizsou—Break the Jinx"—the jinx being the fact that Missouri has defeated Nebraska in football for the last two years.

Rallies Scheduled

Rallies will be held Tuesday and Wednesday mornings in front of Social Sciences at 11 o'clock. The big send-off rally will start at 4:30 in front of the Social Sciences building, and a parade will be formed which will march through town, and down to the depot. Every student of the University of Nebraska is expected to be on hand at this rally.

Since Missouri has defeated the Kansas Aggies, the game next Saturday, October 8, will determine the valley championship.

Members of the Innocents society will call at all sorority and fraternity houses Wednesday at dinner to urge them to be present at the send-off, and to explain the importance of the Missouri game.

COLLINS TELLS OF EARLY CATHEDRALS

Assistant Curator of Museum Speaks On Historic English Buildings And Architecture

A lecture "An old English Cathedral" was given in Morrill hall, Sunday afternoon, by F. G. Collins, assistant curator of the museum. Mr. Collins lived for several years in Exeter, England, in which is the historic old Exeter cathedral.

The Exeter cathedral took several centuries for its completion. Additions were made from time to time, and several types of architecture were used. Examples of the Norman, Early English, Decorated, and Perpendicular types of architecture are to be found in this fine old edifice.

Old documents, which contain the grant to build the cathedral, are preserved to this day. These are signed by Edward the Confessor, Earl Harold, and others whose names are found in early English history. The fabric rolls or expense accounts of the church are still preserved. The expenditures of the church for hundreds of years are recorded on these rolls.

Mr. Collins stated that the cathedral has always played an important role in the lives of the people who lived near it. The curfew bell, some seven hundred years old, is still in use and is obeyed by the people of the town.

Another lecture, the topic of which will be announced, will be given in Morrill hall next Sunday afternoon.

CONFERENCE LIMIT SET AT SIX SCHOOLS

Decision Rendered When Officials Meet in St. Louis to Work On Valley Plans

The Missouri Valley conference will be continued with a limited number of six schools. This was the decision rendered yesterday when the athletic officials of the Missouri Valley met in St. Louis to take action on the conference since the secession of Nebraska, Kansas, Missouri, Oklahoma, Kansas State and Iowa State.

The officials of the Valley met at Washington University after a conference with Drake, Oklahoma Aggies and Grinnell and drew up a new constitution for the Missouri Valley next year. The membership in the Valley will be limited to six, which means that two more schools will be taken in according to the vote of the surviving four. St. Louis University at St. Louis at the present looks like a probable fifth member in the conference although no word has been sent out regarding the two new members.

Former Director

MRS. CARRIE B. RAYMOND. Leading musician in Lincoln for forty-one years who passed away Monday noon.

CARRIE B. RAYMOND CALLED BY DEATH

Musical Director for Many Years Succumbs to Heart Disease After Month's Illness

Mrs. Carrie B. Raymond, for many years a member of the University of Nebraska faculty and a leader in the musical life of Lincoln, died shortly before noon Monday after an illness of more than a month. Heart disease caused her death.

Since 1894 Mrs. Raymond had been director of the University chorus, with the title of director of vocal ensemble. During the thirty-three years she had done much to promote the cause of good music, both in the university and in musical circles of the city. She had been organist of the First Plymouth Congregational church since the merging of the First and Plymouth Congregational organizations, after having served with the former since shortly after her coming to Lincoln in 1886.

Bengston Sees Many Cities of Caribbean Sea

Professor N. A. Bengston of the geology and geography department of the university, who is at present on a leave of absence, has written of his experiences aboard the S. S. Felipa. Part of the letter appeared in the Daily Nebraskan last Sunday, the remainder follows:

"We spent only about half a day at San Juan, Porto Rico, but we made the best use possible of the time by hiring an automobile by the hour so we covered the city quite thoroughly and our English-speaking chauffeur seemed to be well posted as to places of interest. The bay has a beautiful country surrounding it, and the entrance is similar to that of Havana. A narrow entrance faces the north; ships pass through it between Mario Castle and Lepic Island, then turn eastward and finally reach their docks with prow pointed.

PLAYERS GIVE COMEDY FARCE

"Alias the Deacon" to Be Staged in Temple October 6, 7 and 8

COMMENTS FAVORABLE

"Alias the Deacon," successful comedy farce which ran for 250 nights in New York, will be presented by the University Players October 6, 7, and 8, inclusive, in the Temple Theatre. Eastern press comment has characterized this farce as a gold mine of entertainment, and full of rich humor.

The action starts off immediately, and grips interest at the outset with the unusual prologue which takes place in a box car travelling across the country. There are three hoboes, one a girl in disguise, and a smooth card-shark, addressed by his associates as the "Deacon," who is the major laugh producer throughout the whole play. It is this supposedly innocent "Deacon" that assumes ignorance at poker and bridge, and consequently cunningly fleeces his victims out of their bank rolls, even while he makes all sorts of ludicrous mistakes, but holds miraculous hands.

The love affair of the mysterious girl of the box car, with one of the other members of the "Deacon's" crowd, furnishes the theme for exciting action, involving a prize fight, a missing wallet, and the capture of a notorious murderer, when the action switches to a town in Act I. It is at the point where complications are at the seething point, that the bland "Deacon" arrives, and with his customary and admirable smoothness, manages to straighten out the tangles he finds in the town, by fleeing everyone he gets involved in a game of cards.

Interesting Plot

It is this lovable, though unscrupulous card-shark, the "Deacon," that smooths out matters for Phillis, the girl, and her lover, captures a murderer. (Continued on Page 3)

Applications Open For Editor of 1928 Yearbook

Applications for the position of editor of the 1928 Cornhusker will be received by the Student Publication board until Monday noon, October 10. Applicants must have completed their third year in the university; and must submit evidence of their ability to execute the duties of the position.

J. K. Selleck, Secretary Student Publication Board.

FEW FILE FOR ELECTION ON OCTOBER 11

Lone Candidate Filed Thus Far For Position; Six Vacancies To Be Filled

FRIDAY IS DEADLINE

No Applications Acceptable After Five O'clock October 7; Rules in Force

But one filing has been made for any of the several positions to be filled at the general election October 11.

The election of the honorary colonel, the presidents of the four classes, and a junior representative from the Teachers College are to be made. Filings must be made before 5 o'clock Friday afternoon.

Candidates for class offices are subject to the new rulings made by the Dean of Student Affairs regarding general scholarship. This rule states that an individual must have passed 12 hours the previous semester, and 27 hours the previous year. For membership on the student council the candidate must also have an average of 75 or more, scholastically.

Council in Charge

The council advisor and the Dean of Student Affairs will be on duty in the lobby on election day. The election will be handled by the Student Council.

So that the results may be kept secret, it is probable that the ballots for honorary colonel will be counted by Colonel Jewett. The results will not be known until announced by the military department.

AWGWAN CAMPAIGN STILL PROGRESSES

Subscriptions for Eight Issues Selling For $1.25; Quality Of Book Stressed

Awgwan's subscription campaign moved into the last half Monday afternoon. It will be continued today and Wednesday. Subscriptions for the eight issues are being sold for $1.25. Single copies may be purchased at the book-stands later for 25 cents each.

Critics who have examined copy for the first Awgwan, "The Eye-Opener," have expressed enthusiasm over the quality of material presented. The variety of the art work is greater than usual. The cover is contributed by Alan Klein, who also furnished several other drawings. Other contributing artists were Tom McCoy, Merritt Lewis, George Koenke, Maurice Spatz, William Beacham, and Margaret Emery.

Subscriptions may be secured from members of Tassels, women's pep organization or in the Awgwan office.

Geologist to Hold Smoker on Thursday

All university students interested in geology are urged to attend.

Miss Appleby Meets Women At Ag College Thursday

Miss Erma Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A. will be at the Agriculture campus all day Thursday to meet women of that college.

Freshmen of the College of Agriculture are encouraged to attend the discussion group to be held on Thursday at 4 p. m. in the Home Economics parlors. The Agricultural College organizations are led by Ruth Davis.

Florence Millet will speak on "The Estes Park Conference," Tuesday at 12:15 o'clock in the Home Economic parlors.

HARE AND HOUND RACE IS TODAY

New Extensive Intramural Program Gets Underway with First Contest Scheduled

ALL MAY ENTER RACES

With the first hare and hound race scheduled for this afternoon, the new, extensive intramural program planned by the athletic department gets under way. The first race will be held near the Belmont school-house. Cars will take the men from the stadium, leaving at 4:30.

Coach Henry F. Schulte announced Monday afternoon that he hopes to see every fraternity in the race with a five-man team. Fraternities whose entry list for all of the hare and hound races averages five men per race will receive fifty points on the intramural schedule. Non-fraternity men have been divided into teams on a basis of their residence in Lincoln. Coach Schulte stated that he looked for a large number of these teams participating in the race this afternoon.

Men intending to take part should be at the stadium by four o'clock or shortly after. They will be taken to the scene of the race in cars, leaving the stadium at 4:30. The race is scheduled to start at 4:45 and should be over in about fifteen minutes. The distance will be about two miles.

Cross-country men who qualified for the varsity team in the trials last Thursday will not be eligible for the hare and hounds run this afternoon.

VESPERS MEETING IS THIS AFTERNOON

Reports of Estes Park Conference Will Entertain Group Today In Ellen Smith Hall

Reports of the Estes Park Conference, held the latter part of August, will be given at Vespers this afternoon at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall.

Old negro spirituals such as "Ain't Goin' to Study War No More," "Steal Away," and "Lord Make Me More Holy," will feature the musical program.

The delegates will speak on various phases of the conference program as follows: "Recreation," by Jeannette Dean; "Guest Groups," by Hazel Sutton; "Speakers," by Eloise Keefer; "Routine of Day," and "Description of Conference Grounds," by Lucille Oscar; "Te Concierto," by Evelyn Collins; and "The Sunday Program," by Marjorie Sturdevant.

NEBRASKA MAY DEBATE CAMBRIDGE UNIVERSITY

Negotiations Pending for Clash Between British College And University Debaters October 31 on Question Of Compaibility of Business and Morality

FOREIGN TEAM TOURS SCHOOLS OF WESTERN STATES

Tour Scheduled by Institute of International Education; Professor White Writes for Option on Remaining Available Date; Plans Immediate Acceptance

Negotiations are pending for a debate between Cambridge University, England, and the University of Nebraska in Lincoln, October 31, on the subject, "Resolved: That the ethics of business are incompatible with sound morality," announced Professor H. Adelbert White, varsity debate coach Monday afternoon.

Cambridge University debaters are making a tour of the United States, debating west of the Mississippi only. The tour is being scheduled by the Institute of International Education. October 31 was offered Professor White for a debate here as the only date available. Professor White has written for an option on the date, and plans to send an immediate acceptance if the date is still open.

OLDFATHER SPEAKS AT FORUM MEETING

"The Role of the Reformer" is Subject of Professor for Weekly Discussion

The second World Forum meeting of the year will be held at twelve o'clock Wednesday noon at the Grand hotel. Prof. C. H. Oldfather is to be the speaker; his subject will be "The Role of the Reformer."

Tickets are on sale for 25c each at the Temple and at Ellen Smith hall; they will also be on sale for a short time this morning at the Social Science building.

The luncheon and lecture will be over by 12:30, so that persons with one o'clock classes will be able to make them. However, for anyone that cares to remain, there will be a discussion on points brought out in Professor Oldfather's talk.

The "World Forum" is a luncheon discussion conducted every Wednesday by a joint committee of "Y. M. C. A." and "Y. W. C. A." members, and under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A.

BIZAD FRATERNITY WILL HOLD SMOKER

Delta Sigma Pi Invites All Students In College to First of Social Affairs

Delta Sigma Pi, professional Bizad fraternity, will hold its first smoker of the season at 7 o'clock Thursday evening, October 6, in the Chamber of Commerce building on 11th and P streets. All students in the college of Business Administration are invited.

Grand Secretary Wright will give a short talk. Several student members will also speak.

The new pledges are: Harold Hollaway, George Holt, Alfred Hook, Wilbur Meade, Willard McNemar, Bert Robertson, Douglas Timmerman, Carl Weckbach, Roland Williams, Bernard Wilson and John Wyle.

LUTHERANS PLAN MEETINGS

Bible League To Hold First of Series Of Affairs Wednesday

The first meeting of the Lutheran Bible League will be held at 7 o'clock Wednesday evening, October 5, in Temple 202.

This league is the only denominational organization on the campus made up entirely of university students. The subject of discussion for the year is "What is Christianity?" The Reverend H. Erck, the University Lutheran pastor, is in charge of this discussion group.

The officers of the league for this year are: President, Colean Buck; vice-president, Alfred Frahm; secretary, Alma Hahn, and treasurer, Josephine Ratzlaff.

Political Writers Are Helped By Dr. Gettys

Dr. Luella Gettys, formerly a student and instructor in the department of political science, has been engaged in assisting Prof. Charles P. Merriam of the University of Chicago in revising his book on direct primaries, and when that work is completed will assist Prof. Quincy Wright in a book on international law. Dr. Gettys took a master's degree in political science here in 1922.

Miss Burrill Teaches At Fremont

Miss Helen Burrill, who was an assistant in the geography department and who received her master's degree last year, is teaching geography in the Fremont schools.

If the debate is held it will be the first international debate in which Nebraska speakers have participated. The Cambridge team offered five subjects, choosing its own side in each case. They will maintain the affirmative of the business ethics questions chosen from their list by Dr. White.

Nebraska's speakers will be chosen in competitive tryouts about the 15th of October if the debate is officially scheduled. Each candidate for a place on the team will be allowed ten minutes in the tryouts. Any students in the University meeting the scholastic requirements are eligible for a place on the team. Freshmen are not eligible for varsity debating.

Squad Is Experienced

Nebraska has all but three of last year's squad available for debate work this year. Carl F. Hansen and Lincoln Frost, Jr., graduated. Dennis M. Dean is teaching school this year. George Johnson, Evert M. Hunt, David Fellman, Munro Keser, John P. McKnight, John A. Skiles, Archibald W. Storms, and Lloyd Speer, the remaining members of last year's debate squads are all available for this year's team.

Delta Sigma Rho, national forensic fraternity, will meet this noon at 12 o'clock at the Grand hotel to discuss plans for the Cambridge debate. Professor White expects to complete negotiations for the debate within the next 48 hours.

NIGHT COURSES ARE OPEN TO STUDENTS

Special Evening Courses in Extension Division Will Cover A Wide Range Of Subjects

The year's first night classes of the University Extension division began Monday evening with special courses in a wide range of subjects being offered for those unable to attend the university during the day.

It is not too late to register for the night courses, A. A. Reed, director of Extension, said Monday. Registration is made at the Extension division's new quarters at 202 Former Museum building. Tuition fees are in most courses three dollars a credit hour.

Another feature of the Extension division's service is a combined radio and correspondence course in business "English an dletter writing, given by Prof. Maurice H. Wesesen of the College of Business Administration. This will consist of a series of twenty lectures with written assignments accompanying to make the instruction practical. Radio lectures will be given on Tuesday evenings at 7:30 o'clock, beginning November 1, from the University of Nebraska Studio, broadcasting through KFAB. Registration for this course is also made at the Extension division office.

About Twenty Attend First Stag Held In Y.M. C. A. Club Rooms

About twenty men attended the first Y. M. C. A. Sunday stag held in the Temple. Robert Davenport, chairman of the committee, opened the meeting and the discussion was led by L. C. Oberlies.

"What Do We Get Out Of College?" was the topic for discussion, outlined by Mr. Oberlies in a series of questions on which the men commented. They included questions on the student's attitude toward school, the proper relation of work and studies, influence of Greek societies on student life, morality in the university and the relation of students and the Lincoln institutions, such as the churches.

These Sunday stags will be held every Sunday afternoon at 4 o'clock in the Y. M. C. A. club rooms in the Temple building. All university men are invited.
