STUDENT RALLY HELD AT BUICK

Cornhuskers Gather to Hear Broadcasting of Grid Game with Mizzou

CORN COBS LEAD CHEERS

Nebraska cheers and songs went on the air from KFAB, Nebraska Buick Radio station, Saturday afternoon, when about 200 Cornhusker supporters assembled in the display room of the Nebraska Buick Company to listen to the play-by-play reports on the valley classic at Columbia, and to broadcast cheers that were heard with every radio set in Nebraska and surrounding country.

The affair inaugurated the first radio football frolic ever held at Nebraska. It was sponsored by the Corn Cobs with the co-operation of the Nebraska Buick company.

The display rooms of the Nebraska Buick building were cleared of cars so that the crowd could assemble to hear the reports on the game and organize an impromptu cheering section at the quarters and the half. Members of the band not making the Mizzou jaunt were in the broadcasting studio and when the cheerleaders were not busy with the yelling this fragment of the band was playing Nebraska songs, which went on the air to those patrons who had the dials set for KFAB.

Foreign Youth Amazed at Our Money Views

"Young people of foreign countries are amazed at the commercialized attitude toward money shown by the United States," remarked Miss Irene Arms, national secretary of finance for the Y. W. C. A., when interviewed Friday afternoon. "People of other countries think more of using their money for cultural advancement," she explained.

Miss Arms has been a visitor on the university campus the last week, and has been examining with deep interest the activities of the Y. W. C. A. organization here. She expressed herself as well pleased with the sound educational program carried on in the University Y. W. C. A. in view of the fact that the members were thinking sanely and honestly about the problems of university life.

Holds Regular Meetings
In her work here on the campus, Miss Arms has been holding regular meetings with various cabinet members. All along, the discussions have been along the line of the correct use of funds rather than the sole planning of how to get money for the work.

"It is this program for the University Y. W. C. A. is clearly understood, both by the people of the campus (Continued on Page 3.)

Omaha Orchestra Secured for Varsity Fall Frolic in Coliseum Saturday

ONE THOUSAND EXPECTED
Special Waxing Machine Will Be Used to Put Floor in Shape for Dancing

Tracy Brown's Merry-Makers of Omaha will play at the Varsity Fall Frolic in the Coliseum next Saturday night, October 15.

According to Wayne Gratigny, general chairman, an attendance of one thousand is expected for this initial dance and plans are being made to make it an outstanding success.

Plans for decorations are progressing and will inaugurate many new ideas. All decorations will be suggestive of the fall season. Only a portion of the floor will be used for dancing and lattice work will mark the divisions. Novel lighting devices such as color wheels and arc lights are being arranged for by the decorations committee.

Selleck Furnishes Waxing Machine
By special arrangement with John K. Selleck, student activities manager, an electric waxing machine has been secured which will assure a floor in excellent condition.

Cider and doughnuts for refreshments also carry out the autumn motif. An elaborate entertainment is being planned for the intermission.

Admission for the dances this year is eighty cents for couples, or forty cents for single persons.

The general committee for Varsity dances is: General chairman, Wayne Gratigny; secretary, Geraldine Heikes; Harriet Vette, Bruce Thomas, refreshments; Irene Davies, Walter Hopps, entertainment; Evelyn Frohm, Frederick Daly, decoration; Esther Heine, Carl Olson, reception; Pauline Bilon, J. ### DIRECTORY PROOFS WILL BE OUT SOON

Wilbur Mead Plans to Put First Lists On Social Science Bulletin Board by Thursday

Work on the first proof for the student and faculty directory will start Monday, and lists will be posted in Social Sciences for correction by Thursday, according to Wilbur Mead, editor and business manager.

Proofs on the first few letters of the alphabet will be posted this week and the students should make their corrections promptly, as this will be the only chance. The corrections will be made this year before the copy is sent to the printer, and the proof reading will be done from the original copy, making it necessary to have all errors remedied as early as possible.

Cards will be available near the posted lists for corrections. Students are advised to check everything on the list, especially telephone numbers and street addresses. The telephone company must see that the telephone and street numbers coincide. If they do not, the telephone numbers will be omitted from the directory, the editor stated.

DAKOTA CHOOSES DEBATERS

Coch Names Teams After Try-Outs Extending Over Two Weeks

AWGWAN OPENS SALES MONDAY

Twenty-Eight Pages in First Number Feature Local Campus Material

COVER IS 'AN EYE-OPENER'

"The Eye-Opener," first number of the Awgwan, will go on sale at noon Monday according to an announcement made Saturday afternoon by Munro Kezer, editor of the humor magazine for this semester.

It will be put on sale at book stores and magazine stands near the campus and down-town by noon. Subscribers may get their copies at Station A in the Temple building by presenting their receipts. Block subscriptions taken by fraternities and sororities will be delivered to their houses. Organizations desiring block subscriptions who have not ordered them yet should place their orders with Hal F. Childs, business manager of the magazine. Block subscriptions are twenty-five dollars for twenty-five copies of each of the eight issues. Single subscriptions may be had for $1.25. Single copies will be sold for twenty-five cents.

Largely Local Humor

Twenty-eight pages, largely local humor, represents the first effort of this year's staff in "The Eye-Opener" number of the Awgwan. "An Eye-Opener" is depicted on the cover by Alan Klein. Tom McCoy has a clever fly-leaf drawing and a take-off on the recently passed 12:15 rule. Margaret Emery, formerly a contributor to the Purple Parrot, humor magazine at Northwestern University draws a full page near the beginning with a stunning co-ed and a poem, "The Co-Ed."

Ethelyn Ayres reappears as an Awgwan contributor with a scene in front of Social Sciences written as a parody of Milt Gross' modern diction. Humor critics who have read it, call it one of the best parodies they have seen. Parodies of American Magazine biographies carry amusing stories of two prominent seniors on the campus as announced a week ago by the Awgwan staff.

Kennedy Writes Poems

Lloyd Kennedy, round-the-world traveler, has two clever poems. Florence Seward has written a subtle take-off on the campus belles, a parody of Edgar Allan Poe's "Bells." Victor Seymour interprets news from the other world in some subtle prose under the title "Ethereal News."

Short jokes written by members of the staff fill a number of pages. The quantity of short jokes turned in this time permitted the staff to make a stronger selection of exchange humor than is usually possible, exchange jokes being limited in the opening number to the opening pages of advertising.

Sousa Says Newspapers Furnish Best Sources of Inspiration for Marches

That the inspiration for a stirring march may be found in any newspaper is the belief of Lieut. Commander John Philip Sousa, who will bring his famous band to the University of Nebraska Coliseum November 1.

Sousa declares that the actual inspiration for more than twenty of the 122 march compositions which stand to his credit have been written solely because of something he saw in the day's news. He read in a Philadelphia paper the announcement that the Liberty Bell was to be taken to Chicago for the World's Fair, and he wrote "Liberty Bell." Dewey at Manila brought forth "The Glory of the Yankee Navy," and the organization of the American Legion, as reported in the newspapers, was the inspiration for "Comrades of the Legion."

March Is Distinctively American

That the American daily paper should be the greatest inspiration of the march composer is quite understandable, Sousa says. The march is distinctively an American musical form, and expression of the irrefragable progress of America is recorded day by day in the newspapers.

The student who receives the scholarship is then decided upon by the state board. The report to the state committee must be made by October 15.

PASS AND PLACE-KICK GIVE TIGERS THIRD STRAIGHT WIN

Nebraska Outplays Mizzou in Every Department of Game Except Passing; Locals Outdown and Outyard Opponents But Blocked Try for Goal Loses Tilt

PRESNELL IS SENSATION OF BATTLE; HOWELL SCORES

Henry Puts Flamank and Clark in After Cornhusker Touchdown; Combination Passes Way to Goal Line Tying Score; Maschoff's Goal Gives Winning Point

By Jack Elliott

Columbia, Mo., Oct. 8.—(Special to the Daily Nebraskan)—A pass from Captain Flamank to Clark and a perfect place-kick by Maschoff beat Nebraska here today 7 to 6 in one of the hardest gridiron battles seen on Missouri's field for many years. Glenn Presnell and "Blue" Howell were the outstanding men of the afternoon's classic, Howell scoring the first touchdown of the game early in the second quarter after Presnell had advanced the ball down the field with a 30-yard run around end.

Nebraska easily outplayed the Tigers in every department of the game but the passing end. It was here that the famous Flamank to Clark combination beat Nebraska for the second time in the last two years. Glenn Presnell, the flashy Husker back, made a total of 226 yards from the scrimmage line and was the sensation of the big classic.

Twelve first downs were made by Nebraska to the six of the Tigers. Richards kicked off to the 5-yard line and from there on the Tiger eleven used their famous passing game on the Huskers. The Mizzou eleven made their first down on a pass from Diemund to Mehrle and then tried straight football but to no avail. They were forced to punt. The Huskers took the ball and started a march down the field. Presnell and Howell did the brunt of the ball lugging job and on two line drives took the pigskin for a first down. Presnell was again called on to carry the ball and skirted the end for 13 yards.

The Husker football team will arrive back from Missouri at 9:40 this morning on Rock Island train No. 13. Plans have been laid to have the band and Corn Cobs at the train to meet the team. All students are urged by the innocents to meet the train to assist in welcoming the Huskers home.

Health Officials Give Exams to 1200 Freshmen

Physical examinations for Freshmen men which were started this fall soon after the organization of the local R. O. T. C. companies, are almost complete. The Student Health department in charge of the examinations has examined about 1200 men to date. There are a few more in the different drill units who have not reported as yet.

The standard maintained by the Military department does not exclude a great number of men from drill. Heart trouble and foot ailments are the most significant factors in determining eligibility or ineligibility. The department usually allows for the speeding-up of the Freshman's heart beat resulting from the excitement of the new environment he finds here.

Wide Limits on Heights
That the University does not appeal to men of any certain height is shown by the fact that the highest carlet stretched the tape to six feet four inches, while the five foot measure was only one-fourth of an inch too short to measure the shortest recruit.

Every possible height is represented between these two extremes. The average height of fifty men selected at random from the group is 5.76 feet.

Among these fifty men who are assumed to be representative of the group, there were twenty cases of defective eyes and seven cases of defective feet. Few of these ailments are serious enough to exclude the men from drill.

Headquarters company has the youngest representative. This boy-soldier is only 13 years of age.

Basic Military Courses Have Increase of Over Two Hundred Students

An increase of more than 200 students in the basic courses of the military science department is noted in this year's enrollment in the R. O. T. C. The basic courses cover the first and second years of military instruction, which are compulsory for University students not exempt for physical or religious reasons.

In the first semester of 1926, with an enrollment of 2700 men students in the University, 927 were enrolled in the first year basic course and 455 in the second year. This year the estimated enrollment of men students is 3,455. There are 1,060 first year and 555 second year men in the military department.

Fifty Passes Will Go To Candy Saleswomen

Passes to the Grinnell-Nebraska game will be procured by the Woman's Athletic association for the first fifty women who sign up to sell candy and apples in the stadium. Marjorie Eastabrooks, concession manager, has posted an application list on the W. A. A. bulletin board at the east entrance of the Armory. No previous experience is necessary. The names of the members of the sales force are sent through the Student Activities office and on the day of the game the workers are allowed to enter the Stadium without a ticket.

The concession manager reports that the proceeds of the sales at the first game exceeded those of the first game last year by fifty dollars in spite of the bad weather.
