Initial Contest for Track and Field Men Scheduled for This Afternoon

TWO FALL MEETS HELD
Entrants Must Make Twelve Points to Win Their Numerals

Cornhusker track and field men will get their first chance this season to show their wares when they face the starter's gun this afternoon at 4:20 o'clock in the first fall intra-mural meet on the stadium track. All varsity men, novices, and freshmen not out for football are expected to compete.

Two intra-mural meets are planned for the fall schedule. The second will be held November 7. All events will be held this afternoon, following the regular intercollegiate order. The meet will open with the 100 yard dash and 120 yard high hurdles. Coach Schulte is looking for the best marks to be turned in in recent years in the fall meets as the result of the favorable track weather this year. About fifty freshmen have been working out regularly. From fifty to one hundred upper-classmen will probably take part in the meet also.

This is the first official opportunity track and field men have been offered this fall to win their numerals. Times and distances necessary for numeral points in each event are posted in the stadium. Twelve points (Continued on Page 2)

DIRECTORY GROUP POST NEW LISTS

Students Urged to Correct Proofs On Bulletin Board in Social Sciences

The committee in charge of the 1927-28 Student Directory wish to announce that the lists of names of students beginning with the letters H, J, K, R, S, and W are now posted on the Social Sciences' bulletin board. They request that all students whose names begin with those letters see the proofs at once and correct any possible errors.

The lists including these letters will be left up for two days only, so it is advisable that students make corrections immediately. The committee urges that students do not attempt to make corrections on the typewritten sheets, but correct them on the cards provided for that purpose, or upon pieces of paper of the same size.

Wilbur Mead, editor of the directory, emphasizes that the names of all honorary organizations, with the names, addresses and telephone numbers of their presidents, must be turned in to Sherman Welpton, Temple 101, at once, as there are no available records of them.

Honor System A Failure
The honor system at University of Southern California has been pronounced a complete failure.

Letter From Former Husker Recalls Football Incidents of Early Days

Evidence that Cornhusker spirit is alive throughout the country, was brought forth by a special delivery letter received at the Daily Nebraskan yesterday from Harry R. Minor of Los Angeles, California. Mr. Minor is a former Nebraska football man, who played quarterback on the team in the seasons of '08, '09, '10. He will be remembered by many Cornhuskers of that time. He is now engaged in the insurance business in Los Angeles.

His letter, which is reproduced below, recalls the tragic defeat of Nebraska by Syracuse in 1922. That year Nebraska went back east with one of the greatest football machines it had ever developed. Due to over confidence and a wet field, for which Nebraska was unprepared, Syracuse won a touchdown and a field goal. The final score was 9 to 6 in favor of Syracuse. Mr. Minor enclosed a collection of letters that he received in regard to this game. These will be published from day to day in the Daily Nebraskan.

ABSENCE RULES GO INTO EFFECT

Dean's Office Inaugurate New Rulings for Freshmen And Upperclassmen

EFFECTIVE ON OCTOBER 17

According to the new absence rules inaugurated by T. J. Thompson, Dean of Student Affairs, whenever a freshman has a number of absences equal to the credit hours in a course (except in one hour courses which allow two, and two hour courses which allow three), he will be requested to apply to the instructor to continue the course. This ruling applies to all upperclassmen except that the upperclassmen may be absent the number of times equal to twice the credit hours of the course.

This ruling went into effect Monday, October 17, after having been approved by the deans of several colleges. The office of the Dean of Student Affairs and the office of the Dean of Women will not issue excuses except upon presentation of a Doctor's certificate or for other extraordinary reasons. Under any condition, the instructor is to report all absences to this office at the end of each week. This does not apply, however, to absences excused by the Dean of the student's college, the Dean of Student Affairs, or the Dean of Women.

COUNCIL CALLS INVESTIGATION OF HONORARIES

Presidents of Societies Will Submit Lists of Duties For Next Meeting

DECISION AWAITS REPORTS

Further Action Will Not Be Taken Until Information Can Be Obtained

First steps toward the investigation of the functions of honorary societies on the campus were taken by the Student Council in their weekly meeting in the Temple Wednesday afternoon.

All presidents of honorary societies except departmental societies, will be required to submit lists of duties performed by their organizations last year or this year up to the present to the Student Council, the Council decided. Letters notifying the societies of this request of the Council will be sent to the presidents of all groups concerned.

Whether the functions of the societies are sufficient to justify their existence, and whether they have been satisfactorily performed was stated as the object of the Council questionnaire. Power of making recommendations concerning student organizations is vested in the Student Council. Their recommendations are effective if approved by the faculty committee on student organizations.

Council Does Not Act
The Council refused to take any definite steps either towards abolishing the societies, modifying them, or permitting them to continue as they have in the past. Members of the Council said that they felt they were not well enough acquainted with the purposes and duties of the organizations to consider their future position in the school immediately.

E. W. Lantz, faculty advisor of the Council, reported that no ballots for military colonel had to be thrown out this year. The ballots were counted by Colonel Jewett and Professor Lantz, who also counted them a year ago. Professor Lantz said that a year ago they had to throw away nearly thirty ballots. "Everything indicated that the election was the best conducted in recent years," he affirmed.

The Council also went on record as complimenting the varsity party committee for their successful handling of the first varsity dance.

They will be under the direction of Major Palmer McGrew of the second battalion as announced by the Military Training department. These exercises are of the type given in the army and demand attention, mental alertness, and instant obedience. It also helps to keep the men in good physical condition.

"It all depends on the individual, whether the co-educational institution is more valuable than the men's or women's school," stated Miss Zora Schaupp, instructor in Philosophy, at the World Forum luncheon yesterday noon.

Referring to Mr. Ramsay's argument concerning the privileges of girls attending Smith's College, Miss Schaupp stated that women students of Smith College have personal rights concerning the privilege of dating without being engaged. She admitted (Continued on Page 2)

A Leaf From First Book Printed Is Prized Possession of Library

A leaf from the first book ever printed is one of the prized possessions of the University of Nebraska library.

This Bible was printed in 1455 by Johann Gutenberg, a German, who is accredited with the invention of printing.

The leaf which is on display at the library is written in Latin. It is a page from the Chapter of Romans. The page, although nearly four hundred and seventy-two years old, is in good condition as the day it came off the press. It is printed in Latin and the type is copied from the old style of hand printing as practised in the monasteries.

There are forty-five known copies of the Gutenberg Bible in existence today. The most perfect copy of this book is on the shelves of the Yale University Library. It was sold in New York City in February, 1926 for $120,000 to Mrs. Edward Harkness and presented by her to the Yale University Library.

Museum Staff Makes Animal Reproductions

The museum staff at Morrill hall are working on reproducing specimens of animals to be shown in the cases on the first floor.

Miss Lavada Zutter, a fine arts student is now modeling in clay the jaw of the third oldest specimen of elephant that ever existed. The scientific name for this animal is paleomastodon. It was an animal about the size of a small cow, and very much different from the present day elephants. It had two short tusks in the lower jaw, but did not have the long tusks of the elephants now existing.

There is but one fossil specimen of this animal anywhere, and that is in the American Museum. Miss Zutter makes models from pictures and specifications of the original. After the clay model is completed, a negative or mold of plaster paris will be made, and finally a cast of plaster paris. This will be painted in the natural colors.
