

CAGE TOURNEY BEGINS EARLY

November 28 is Opening Date For Interfraternity Basketball

MANAGERS WILL MEET

Competition in the Interfraternity Class A basketball tournament will start on November 28, according to an announcement from James C. Lewis, of the athletic department, yesterday. Class B games will be started a few days later, with a possibility that they will be conducted under the same plan as the Class A games. The fee for entry into the intramurals this year is $10 for the year, or one dollar for each of the twenty contestants if the entries are made singly. The entry fee applies to all sports that count on the all-year trophy.

A meeting of all fraternity athletic managers will be held Tuesday evening, October 25, in the "N" club trophy room of the coliseum, at 7 o'clock. A discussion of the rules and schedule will be held at this time, and all questions or suggestions will be welcomed. One rule that will be particularly stressed this year is the one which holds that teams appearing on the floor more than ten minutes late, shall lose the game by forfeit. This is necessary because more games will be played this year, under the plan adopted to admit non-fraternity men into the intramural competition.

Entries by November 21

Entries for basketball should be made by Monday, November 21. Unless the fee of $10 is in by this time, it will be supposed that the organizations wish to pay the one dollar fee for each of the twenty entrants. Floors are now available for practice sessions, and will be assigned to the groups through the Athletic office. Some talk regarding a water polo tournament has also been presented, and will be left up to the popular desire of the entrants. This would not count on the all-year trophy, but could be handily inserted in the schedule if opinion demanded it.

The trophy to be awarded Kappa Sigma for the winning of the intramurals last year is also in Mr. Lewis' possession, and according to him, is a trophy well worth working for.

Fifty Points for Entry

Fifty points will be awarded the teams upon their entry into the basketball tournament and one hundred points will be awarded the winner. The number of points awarded the other teams will be determined as follows: Divide 100 by the number of games the winning team played. This determines the point value of each win. Multiply this point value by the number of games each team won to obtain the number of points each team is entitled to.

The methods of scoring, in each of the other divisions of competition, as well as the classification of minor and major sports, will be included in a circular to be distributed among the fraternities on the campus. A number of special rulings, regarding the number of players on each squad, the number of games that must be played, and other small rulings, are also included in the circular.

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

Harold Keith, sports editor of The Oklahoma Daily, is coming back at this department when we stated some time ago that it looked as if it was Missouri or Oklahoma that was booked to win the Missouri Valley football title. Oklahoma is going great in the pigskin pasture this season and the Tigers have a passing combination and an abundance of football brains. Nebraska is out of the race for the present and we forget to consider the flashy Iowa State eleven that held Illinois to a tie last week—but the Cyclones have been beaten once this season and that by the Scarlet eleven from Nebraska so they also are out of the running temporarily. The clash between the Missouri Tiger and Noel Workman's Cyclone squad at Columbia on November 11 will be a battle royal and this department will remain silent on any or all football predictions until after that date.

Pre-season basketball practice is well under way in all the Valley schools and the Missouri outlook for the coming court season looks the best that the Tigers have had for some time. Light training has begun at Bothwell gymnasium at Columbia and Coach George Edwards has some brilliant sophomore material in a man named Baker, all-American high school center from Kansas City. Baker will probably be the Ted Page of the Valley court season this winter as he is six feet, six inches tall. The only letter men lost to Coach Edwards are O'Sullivan and Bacchus. Missouri's first game on the schedule for the 1927-28 card is at Columbia when the Tiger five meets Nebraska on December 17.

Hal Baysinger, Syracuse Orange quarterback, will probably be calling signals against the Husker eleven next week on Memorial Stadium field. Baysinger is a quarter of real ability and has displayed his wares to good advantage so far this season. Captain Barbuti will be in his usual role as fullback in the Orange backfield and will do a large share of the Scarlet eleven.

Coach Bearg is giving his Varsity eleven a short vacation before the Syracuse game next Saturday. Last night was the final practice of the week and the pigskin luggers will not meet again until Monday night. Bearg will leave to scout the Syracuse-Penn State game at Syracuse Saturday and Coach Onkes will watch the Pitt Panthers in action against Carnegie Tech.

The Sooner-Kaggie game at Manhattan will be one of the football classics in the Valley this week. The Oklahoma eleven opens its 1927 Missouri Valley football season on the Wildcat gridiron and critics are booking it for the game of the week. The Sooners received a few injuries from the Creighton game last week but Coach Lindsey expects to have his regular eleven to battle the Bachman crew.

THIRTY REPORT FOR BASKETBALL

Fundamentals Are Stressed in Thursday Practice of Candidates

Thursday's basketball drill, under the direction of Captain Tom Elliott, was devoted to fundamentals and floorwork tactics. Stress was placed on foul throw tossing, in which department Olson reigned supreme.

Basket shooting and footwork also came in for a big share of attention later in the practice session. The candidates were swishing the basket with regularity from back of the foul line.

Heretofore, the name of Bob Krall, former Grand Island player, has been omitted from the list of those who are veterans from last year's quintet. Krall played on the 1927 squad and is showing some nice footwork in this season's drill.

The Coliseum floor was filled with aspiring basket enthusiasts, several basketball classes and fraternity teams utilizing the courts to good advantage.

Many new men turned out for Thursday's session. Peterson, Calvert, from last year's yearling team, Carver, Cass, Christenson, Freas, Grace, another ex-yearling, King, former Lincoln high athlete, and Roper. This number brings the total squad up to approximately thirty.

Beechner, prospective guard, is showing fine early season form and should prove a real opponent to the veteran candidates. Brown, Holm, and Lawson will put in their appearance after the pigskin season has closed. Active and full-time practice will begin the last of November.

WILDCATS WORKING HARD FOR SOONERS

Bachman Continues Stiff Scrimmage in Anticipation of Oklahoma Battle Saturday

Manhattan, Kans., Oct. 20—Satisfied with their 13 to 2 victory over the University of Kansas last Saturday, but far from over-confident, Coach Charles Bachman's Kansas State football team has not relaxed from the prolonged scrimmage and concentrated practice that was set down on the Aggie mentor's program following the Aggies' defeat at the hands of the Missourians nearly three weeks ago.

Tomorrow the purple players will line up against Coach Adrian Lindsey's team from the University of Oklahoma. The Sooners are playing their first Missouri Valley conference game which is their third of the season. In their first competition they won from the University of Chicago with brilliant play in the last quarter, while last week they tied Creighton university at Omaha with two touchdowns each. Ray LeCrone, fullback, and Bus Haskins, halfback, are the Sooners' star ball luggers.

The Wildcat backfield came through in great shape against the Jayhawkers, the touchdowns being scored by Joe Holsinger, left half, and Don Springer, right half, who skirted Coach Cappon's ends and raced more than twenty yards for their respective counters. Captain James Douglass was a consistent gainer through the wavering Kansas line.

Suits For the College Man $25, $30, $35, Extra Trousers Free.

Our advice this season is— A 3-button suit by Society Brand

The Shire Budget Plan Helps The College Man

Of course there are any number of good styles for a young man this Fall. But if you were to approach us confidentially and ask which of them all would really make the smartest outfit, we would probably have to answer—a Three-Button Society Brand. For two good reasons—

First, the three-button style is tremendously popular with young men everywhere. Second, when it comes to turning out such a suit with absolute perfection—with just the proper balance between swagger and restraint—well, nobody ever did equal Society Brand.

It's the correct cut that does it. Keep that point in mind. Whichever style you finally choose, make it a Society Brand, and you're sure to be well dressed!

In a wide choice of fabrics, especially tricot Stripes—
