

TIGERS OUTWEIGH IOWA STATE LINE

Cyclones Work on Pass Defensive For Crucial Game Against Champion Bengals

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 9.—(Special)—To be again outweighed twelve pounds to the man on the line will be the fate of the Iowa State forward wall when it lines up opposite Missouri for the Dad's Day game Friday on State field.

The Cyclones will take only light workouts for the next two days and will go through no scrimmage. Tag scrimmage, with the reserves using supposed Missouri plays, took up most of the practice session Tuesday.

Both teams will boast full strength Friday, for the first time this season. Clark, star half, and Flamank, pass heaving 198-pounder, are again back in uniform and will be in the starting lineup.

Iowa State has all of its injured players back in harness. Johnson, injured in the opening game with Nebraska, and Kern, a victim of the 12 to 12 tie with Illinois, can be used, while Burton, end, injured against the Kansas Aggies, will also be in shape.

Rudi, a former fullback, and Krow will start at end. Fred Lutjens, 215-pound tackle, looks fair. Previous to last spring he had never played football, and the championship go with Missouri will be his first full game.

Women at Northwestern university will be given three hours of university credit as well as eligibility for Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic society, if they are successful candidates for the women's varsity debating teams.

to four other first string players, the Kansas Aggie grid team has journeyed south this week for an Armistice day tussle November 11, with the University of Texas Longhorns at Austin.

Last Saturday saw the Purple varsity humbling the freshmen, 26 to 6. During the first half the yearlings held the score even with a single touchdown for each team, but in the later periods the varsity came back with numerous substitutions and battered down the freshman line.

Men who received minor injuries were Evans, quarterback; Towler, left end; Captain Douglass, fullback, and Anderson, quarterback.

Karl Enns, quarterback, who has been on the hospital list since the opening game, is expected to be in the lineup against the Longhorns. Keith Shay will start at left halfback for the first time this season. Captain Douglass and Don Springer will be on the starting eleven at fullback and right halfback respectively.

Twenty-five players left Manhattan Tuesday under the supervision of Head Coach Charles Bachman, athletic director Mike Ahearn, and assistant coaches, Mike Hanley and Frank Root.

Women at Northwestern university will be given three hours of university credit as well as eligibility for Delta Sigma Rho, honorary forensic society, if they are successful candidates for the women's varsity debating teams.

UNIVERSITY PLANS TO EXHIBIT STOCK

Agricultural College Sends Animals To International And To American Royal

The College of Agriculture is again sending a class of exhibition animals to the American Royal live stock exposition at Kansas City and the International live stock exposition at Chicago.

The College of Agriculture is sending twelve steers, fifteen barrows, and three horses to both shows. The horse class includes Kommit, grand champion stallion at the Nebraska State fair; a two year old stallion and a weanling colt that won first in its class at the Nebraska State fair.

Last year the university owned the champion Angus steer, champion grade steer, champion Duroc-Jersey barrow and the champion pen of barrows at the Royal. The stock will be shipped to Kansas City first and will be exhibited there Monday. All of the stock will be shipped direct from the American Royal to the International at Chicago.

Studio Assignments

Seniors whose names appear below are to report to Townsend's studio before November 12 to have their pictures taken for the 1928 Cornhusker. A list of juniors to have their pictures taken will appear in tomorrow's Daily Nebraskan.

Seniors who will report to Townsend's studio are: Mary I. Webster, William Waters, Walwyn Watkins, Louise Weaver, Sophie Webster, George Weekbaugh, Harvey Weeth, Fred Wilbur, Bernice Welch, Dorothy Welch, Robert Weller, John B. Welpston, Irene Welch, Inez Weltmer, Frances West, Bertha Weston, Jack C. Whalen, Harvey Whitaker, Frank Whitcomb, Robert Whitmore, Ida Whitten, James Wickman, George Wilder, Violet Wilder, Charles Will, Martin Williams.

RALLY STARTS TEAM ON WAY

(Continued from Page 1) talk. Howell, McMullen and several other members of the team gave short talks. Coaches Bear and Oakes spoke to the student body a few minutes and the train pulled out of the station.

Herb Gish, director of athletics, John K. Selleck and two student managers besides a large delegation of faculty members accompanied the Nebraska team to the east. Nebraska Has String of Injuries Nebraska left for the camp of the Panthers with a string of injuries.

Pitt is considered the hardest game on the Husker schedule this season. Trampling all its opponents the Golden tornado at Pittsburgh has yet to be defeated.

Coach Bear and his squad of Nebraska football players will stop over at Chicago this morning for a light workout in Dyke stadium at Northwestern university. The Husker party will arrive in Pittsburgh early Friday morning and take a second workout on the Pitt stadium field and then attend a rally and smoker by Nebraska alumni at Pittsburgh.

Short Signal Drill Held A short signal drill was held before departing for the east and Coach Bear has added another man to the squad for the trip. Harold Peaker, reserve quarterback has been included in the lineup for the East-West clash Saturday. Defense work against the Pitt aerial attack was given the stress in the workout on the home field last night.

Glenn Presnell will have his big chance to show the eastern football critics that Nebraska produces good football men. Presnell is unanimously booked for an All-American berth in the Missouri Valley and throughout the Middle West but the eastern critics have never seen this scarlet clad youth.

Presnell's opportunity to cinch a halfback position on the mythical All-American eleven presents itself in the Pitt-Husker game Saturday. The Pitt bowl holds a crowd of 60,000 and athletic authorities from the Pittsburgh school say that the Nebraska game is the largest game on their schedule. They expect the bowl to be filled.

One dark spot in the Husker team is the injury of Ray Randels, veteran Husker tackle who has been one of the mainstays for Nebraska all season. Seldom this season has an opposing back gone through Randels' side of the Scarlet forward wall. In the Kansas game the Husker line captain received an injured foot and has not been in the moleskins since then. It is hoped that Randels will be able to start the Pitt game but in case he will not Coach Oakes will have Glenn Munn, sophomore tackle for the position.

The officials of the game have been changed and Walter Eckersall will not handle the Pitt-Nebraska game but will transfer his services to the Notre Dame-Army game at New York City. Ed Thorpe of New York will handle the game at Pittsburgh. Other officials are Earl Birch, Mike Thompson and Frank Birch.

OLYMPICS ARE SATURDAY FETE

Freshmen and Sophomores Will Meet in Annual Class Struggle

TRYOUTS HAVE BEEN HELD

Freshmen and sophomores will meet in their annual contest next Saturday. Outdoor events will be held Saturday morning on the football practice field, and indoor events such as boxing and wrestling will be held in the coliseum Saturday afternoon.

The Olympics have been won by the freshmen every year since the origination of this organized class battle, but as usual reports are out that the sophomores are planning to surprise the first-year men. If the freshmen are victorious in the meet they will be able to discard their green caps Thanksgiving. If they are defeated they must wear them until Christmas.

Students of the competing classes are urged to attend the Olympics for many of the events depend very largely upon numbers. Plans for the Olympics will be completed at the Freshman barbecue this evening. A freshman class meeting was held last evening in the Social Science auditorium, and the yearlings' forces were organized. Tryouts for relay team, and for boxing and wrestling have been held, and both classes are ready for the tussle Saturday.

According to investigations made by the department of physical education at the University of California, college women are becoming smaller and college men larger.

Church Membership of Students at Kansas School Reported Large

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 9.—Only seven per cent of the students of the University of Kansas reported no church membership or church affiliation when registering, according to figures compiled by Registrar George O. Foster.

Seventy-four per cent of the men and 81 per cent of the women reported they were members of some church, and 90 and 96 per cent respectively reported membership or church preference.

Of the 4091 students registered November 1, 3801 reported membership or preference in more than 80 denominations. The Methodists have the largest membership and preference with 790 men and 626 women, and the Presbyterians are second with 435 men and 262 women. The Christian church has 294 men and 173 women.

The information is sought at registration time for the benefit of the Lawrence churches, which make it a point to welcome University students of their denominations. Special "student pastors" are maintained by the Presbyterians, Methodists, and Christians.

Survey Shows Languages Are Rarely Applied

Madison, Wis., Nov. 9.—Knowledge of foreign languages possessed by graduates of high school or college is not employed in reading books, magazines, or newspapers printed in the foreign languages, according to the findings of a recent nationwide survey directed by Prof. M. V. O'Shea of the University of Wisconsin and reported in a bulletin just published by the United States Bureau of Education.

Prof. O'Shea's report gives a wealth of statistics from answers to some 20,000 questionnaires in all sections of the country, and from thousands of interviews.

The situation among those who studied foreign language in college only is typical. "About 45 per cent of all college graduates submitting information have read nothing in French since graduation, 57 per cent have read nothing in German, 49 per cent have read nothing in Spanish," Prof. O'Shea writes.

"Graduates of high school and colleges who have studied foreign languages neglect the literature in these languages to an extent which requires that we try to find an explanation for the situation, or at least try to find the justification for the amount of time spent in the pursuit of these languages on some other basis than that they are read after graduation," the Badger educator comments. He adds that other surveys now in progress under the direction of the American Council of Education are intended to find, if possible, such justifications.

University of Kansas Has Number of Self-Supporting Students

Lawrence, Kan., Nov. 9.—More than half the students of the University of Kansas are self-supporting in whole or in part, according to figures compiled by George O. Foster, registrar of the university.

Two-thirds of the men and one-fourth the women are wholly or partly self-supporting, giving the 52 per cent average.

Of 2575 men in the university, 718 or 28 per cent are entirely self-supporting, and 983, or 33 per cent, are partly so.

Of 1522 women, 237 (15 per cent) are wholly self-supporting and 192, or 12 per cent are partly self-supporting.

Lantern Slides to Be Used in Home Ec

A set of lantern slides illustrating house planning has been prepared and will be used in the home economics department by Dr. Greta Gray who is in charge of the research work in that department. She will use part of them in connection with her talk at the Farm Structure Division meetings of the Society of Agricultural Engineering to be held in Chicago the latter part of November.

Fifty-eight hundred graduates, students, and friends of the University of Colorado have pledged $150,000 for the Memorial Student Union building there.

BROWN UNIVERSITY HAS FELLOWSHIPS

Master's Degree or Equivalent Forms Requisite for Competition

Five fellowships of $1,000 each are being offered, for the year 1927-28 by Brown university through the generosity of Henry D. Sharpe, a member of the corporation of Brown university, according to an announcement received from R. G. D. Richardson, dean of the graduate school.

Students desiring to compete for the scholarships must present the equivalent of a master's degree from an institution of recognized standing and must be able to devote themselves only to advanced study looking toward the doctorate.

Applications should be filed at the earliest possible time and should be accompanied by the following information: statement of the degrees held, the honors attained, the academic work already pursued in the department in which the work is to be done, the positions held, and the plans which the applicant has for the future.

Students accredited with a year's residence in the graduate school of Brown university and who are working only on these are not required to pay tuition. Otherwise, holders of fellowships must pay the tuition which, for a full quota of four to five subjects is three hundred dollars.

Information Sent on Request

Applications should be filed with R. G. D. Richardson, dean of the graduate school, Brown university, Providence, Rhode Island, who will also send, upon request, a catalogue, "The Aim of Courses" and other information regarding the awards.

One fellowship is available in each of the five departments; biology, English, history, mathematics, and Romance languages.

Late Fall and Ample Moisture Cause Trees To Bud Out and Bloom

Budding and blooming of trees and shrubs in the fall is nothing unusual in Nebraska, according to the horticultural department of the College of Agriculture. It happens frequently and is caused by certain weather conditions. A late fall, plenty of moisture, and high temperatures following a dry spell in late summer may bring about such apparent freaks of nature.

The fall coloring of the shrubs and trees at the College of Agriculture has been unusually brilliant this year. The pin oak trees surrounding the center drive of the campus are now at their best, owing to the absence of heavy frosts. The oak leaves often remain on the trees until December. Garden flowers are also blooming later than usual.

Y. M. C. A. FINANCE WORKERS ORGANIZE

First Meeting Will Be Held Sunday In Temple; Three More Captains Appointed

Opening meeting of the workers in the Y. M. C. A. finance drive will be held Sunday afternoon in the University Temple at 3 o'clock. The final organization of the campaign will be made at this time.

The drive, which starts Tuesday evening and lasts until Thursday, will be opened with a dinner for the teams at the Grand hotel, at 6 o'clock Tuesday. A dinner will be held on the following two nights at the same time.

Three captains for teams in the organization of the drive were announced yesterday by Sherman Welpton, general chairman. They are Verne Laing, Wayne Benedict, and Harold Pickett. This completes the selection of the twenty captains who will direct the work of soliciting.

A card is being made out for every man in the university, which will be presented to him when the worker calls. This system follows the line of that used in the recent Lincoln Community Chest drive. The entire organization of the campaign follows somewhat along this line.

Funds Raised For New Hall At Vermillion

Vermillion, S. D., Nov. 9.—Work on the construction of the $300,000 union building at the University of South Dakota will be started in 1929, according to the action taken at the meeting of the executive committee of the union campaign at Vermillion on Dakota Day.

The funds for the building were raised by private donations from students, alumni, townspeople, and faculty members. The report of the treasurer shows that sufficient subscriptions have been received to make it possible to start work at that time. The building will be one of the finest student alumni buildings in the northwest. It will contain a large hallroom, a dining room, lunch counter, barber shop, billiard room, bowling alley, and about twenty-five sleeping rooms for visiting alumni. There will also be a lounge and reading room for students and faculty, committee rooms for all student organizations, and headquarters for the Coyote, Volante, alumni association, and university cooperative store.

MORTON ADDRESSES GROUP

Cosmopolitan Club Hears Professor At Luncheon Tuesday

Prof. W. H. Morton, director of teachers' training in teachers' college, spoke on "Practice on Citizenship Training" before the Cosmopolitan club at a luncheon held at the Lincoln hotel Tuesday noon.

"Every citizenship duty has three distinct phases and no civic duty is complete unless these three are present," declared Professor Morton. "These three include the knowledge of the facts, the skill and habit of doing things, and the proper attitude or ideal toward the duty."

SHREDDED WHEAT

MAKE IT A DAILY HABIT

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

Nebraska sent its Scarlet team off to Pittsburgh last night with a big rally and sendoff. The rally demonstrated real Cornhusker pep and fight. The team left Lincoln and all the way to Pittsburgh will be thinking about that rally and the interest the students showed before they left. That rally will produce just that much more fight in the Cornhusker eleven when they trot out on the field at the Pitt Bowl Saturday for the hardest football game on the Nebraska schedule.

The team is in anything but perfect condition with Ray Randels, fighting Nebraska tackle, nursing an injured foot as the result of the Kansas game. Bill Bronson is carrying an injured side and several other minor injuries are scattered throughout the Bear team.

The sendoff was good. Now will the students at the Cornhusker school welcome back the team in the same manner? Victor or vanquished the Nebraska team should be shown that the students of Nebraska are behind them. The Pitt game is not the last game on the Husker schedule nor is it the last hard game. New York and Kansas Aggies are two strong remaining grid elevens that must be accounted for by the Husker school.

Jock Sutherland, Pitt football mentor is devising some new plays for the coming of the Cornhusker eleven. A two hour drill Tuesday revealed that the Panther coach is figuring on a real battle for the Scarlet eleven at Lincoln. Interest in the game at Pittsburgh has rapidly grown and authorities figure on one of the largest crowds of the season for the Nebraska game.

For the first time this season Missouri will have its full power to unleash against the Iowa State Cyclones on Armistice day this week. Coach Gwinn Henry will have his Tiger captain back in the lineup and Bert Clark, stellar quarterback will also be back to help the Missouri eleven down the Cyclones.

From the way Blue Howell talked last night as the team was leaving for Pittsburgh, the Nebraska eleven should come back with a victory. Blue stated very emphatically "We are coming back with the bacon and I'll give you a bite of it." The team at the station were all for taking the Panther to a trimming Saturday and the student rally made them feel more like winning.
