SPEAKER TELLS OF EUROPEAN PEOPLE

World Forum Luncheon Group Hears Mrs. A. E. Sheldon Talk Wednesday Noon

"My Impressions of the People of Europe," was discussed by Mrs. A. E. Sheldon, past president of the Nebraska Federation of Women's clubs, in an address given at the World Forum luncheon Wednesday noon. Exhibiting a pleasing personality, she told of her visit to Europe and her contact with the people of European countries.

"I have been very much interested in World Forum. My interest and faith in young people will go on, all my life," stated Mrs. Sheldon in opening her talk. She began to speak more rapidly, concerning her experiences and adventures in Europe, her voice reaching the far corners of the partly filled room.

Speaker Changed Plans

"When I planned my trip I expected to center my interest in the history and art of the country, but instead I become more interested in the people. In the ten countries I visited, I found that the people are very much like ourselves. They seem to be working hard and are much in earnest about all the work they undertake.

People are wrong and prejudiced who bring back from abroad stories about ugly feelings between the United States and the European countries. The people of Europe have the most profound praise for Colonel Lindbergh and they do not hold his greatness as an exception to American youth. They were particularly interested in his flight.

Intramural Carnival Set for February 3rd Features Relay Races

Official announcement of the Husker intramural carnival to be held Friday, February 3 in the coliseum was made by "Jimmy" Lewis in a letter sent to all fraternities this week.

This event is something new in the way of entertainment in university circles. It will be held annually henceforth. Relays will occupy a large place on the program, but there will be numerous other athletic events in which both fraternities and sororities will take part. After a regular three ring circus of athletic events, the evening will be completed with a dance. Officials promise to make this an event that will not be forgotten, and have expressed the hope that fraternities and sororities will cooperate with them in leaving this night open on their party schedules.

MILITARY BALL DATE ADJUSTED

Conflict With Junior League For Use of Coliseum Is Finally Adjusted

ORCHESTRA NOT SECURED

Contrary to prevailing rumors, the Military Ball will be held in the university Coliseum December 2. This announcement was made definitely, yesterday from the student activities office. The Junior League carnival which has been advertised for that evening at the same place, has been postponed until December 3. A conflict in the schedule caused both of these events to be advertised for the same evening and at the same place, but plans for both parties have been straightened out now.

No announcement has been made yet by the Military Ball committee as to the orchestra which will be used for the ball. Jorgenson, general chairman, said yesterday that every effort is being made to get the best orchestra the state affords. "Since it is impossible to go out of the state for orchestras," he said, "we are trying to do all we can to get a band built up that will be as new and different, and yet, as good, as it is possible to get."

Position on Changing of Name Of Program Reversed by Student Group

The Student Council passed favorably on the petition presented them from the Y. M. C. A. for the reinstatement of University Night at their meeting held yesterday afternoon in Temple 204. ## Sports Writer Says Huskers Big But Dumb

One Pittsburgh sports writer took some digs at the Cornhusker football team after last week's game. In his article, "Big But Dumb," Harry Keck, sports editor of the Pittsburgh Sun-Telegraph writes: "Big But Dumb"—That's a harsh criticism to make of college football players who are playing their best for the glory of their alma mater, but it tells the story of Nebraska's defeat by Pitt 21-13, in one of the most thrilling battles ever staged in Pittsburgh, before an estimated crowd of 30,000 wildly excited fans in the stadium Saturday afternoon.

"Pitt won the intersectional struggle because it was 'on' and played heads-up, daring football all the way. The big Nebraska team lost because it was caught napping no less than three times and then was found wanting in the tackling line when the Pitt runners got out in the open for long runs to the goal line.

Huskers Fought Way Across

"Pitt made all its touchdowns on spectacular dashes from deep in its own territory. Nebraska bucked and fought its way over the goal line twice and had to work like Trojans to tally at all. Never was there a prettier conflict of brain versus brawn on a football field with brain nosing out the verdict."

Another Pittsburgh paper adds: "The Nebraska line deserves credit for holding Pitt to no more than three touchdowns as after Pitt got past the line they were gone for a touchdown.....McMillen was an ace at right guard for the visitors and Howell was a "howl" in the backfield."

GAMMA LAMBDA ELECTS

Calhoun Made President of Band Fraternity Wednesday

Charles Calhoun was elected president, Charles Fiske, vice-president, and John Wylie, secretary-treasurer of Alpha chapter of Gamma Lambda, men's national honorary band fraternity, at a meeting following a dinner at the Grand hotel Wednesday night.

Fifteen attended the meeting which was presided over by Donald Campbell, last year's president, who turned the chair over to Calhoun following the latter's election.

Plans are being made to take more college bands into the organization as part of a newly established national extension policy. Nebraska is the only Missouri Valley school having a Gamma Lambda chapter.

DRIVE STARTS SECOND STAGE

Hardly One-Fifth of Y. Goal Reached; Dinner Held At Grand Hotel

EIGHTY WORKERS ATTEND

With hardly one-fifth of its goal reached, the Y. M. C. A. started on the second stage of its drive last night. A dinner was held at the Grand hotel attended by about eighty of the workers. A few short speeches were given by Sherman Welpton, campaign chairman, Ed Jolley and Carl Olson, majors in the organization.

The men who have seen all fifteen of the men they were scheduled to see were urged to get more cards and make renewed efforts to put the drive across before Friday evening. Mr. Welpton stated that if necessary, the drive would be prolonged one day, but that this would not be necessary, if all of the 130 workers in the drive saw personally the men they are supposed to see. The team subscriptions were made, for the most part, Tuesday evening. A few scattered subscriptions from the teams are still coming in, however.

All Groups Represented

Those in charge of the organization tried to select men for the drive who represented all of the various groups on the campus. Men were selected for captains and for teams from almost every fraternity house, and several were selected from the student body at large. "With all of the men working their best, we should be able to see almost every man on the campus," declared Welpton. (Continued on Page 3)

OFFICIALS APPROVE SOCIAL FRATERNITY

University Heads Express Belief Influence for Education on Campuses Is Sound

Chicago, Ill., Nov. 16.—A complete dissection of the college social fraternity was made here yesterday by thirty-six presidents of state universities and a decision was made that, although it has many evils, the fraternity overbars this by having a great influence towards sound education.

The presidents gathered during the annual meeting of the National Association of State Universities. It was found by them that guidance towards fundamental truths is being sought by college youths even though much of his time is being monopolized by the social side.

Alumni Teacher Advised

The appointment by each fraternity chapter of a leading young alumnus to show the members how to study was advised by Arthur R. Priest, general secretary of Phi Delta Theta. This man should be recommended by the faculty and paid by the chapter, he said. (Continued on Page 4)

Home Economics Club Initiates New Members After Supper Tuesday

An initiation was staged by the Home Economics club Tuesday evening in the Student Activities building on the College of Agriculture campus. A lap-supper was served at 5:15 o'clock by the club, after which the freshmen girls were called upon to entertain with an impromptu stunt. However, they cleverly turned the trick, so that the upperclassmen really did the acting.

After the usual bi-monthly business meeting, new members were initiated. After being asked what art principles they would apply to a few home practices, such as preparing noodles, their ability as swimmers was tested, affording much entertainment before the meeting closed.

There have been a number of inquiries about the convocation, concerning attendance. Prof. Paul H. Grammann has announced that the public is cordially invited to attend all sessions, provided that accommodations are adequate.

FOLLOW-UP IS BEGUN BY Y.W.

Finance Committee Plans to Make Thorough Canvass Among Women

NEED FURTHER SUPPORT

Intensive follow-up work for the Y. W. C. A. campaign which officially ended Friday November 4, is at present being carried on by a staff, headed by Hazel Sutton, chairman of the finance committee. The work is intended as a thorough canvass of university women who were not reached during Invitation week, when letters were mailed to all women urging them to pledge their support and join the Y. W. C. A.

Many women were not notified, or failed to receive letters, inviting them to participate in Y. W. C. A. functions and activities, intensive as was the campaign. The follow-up committee met Tuesday to discuss and arrange plans to finish their work as soon as possible. Efforts have been made to reach every woman in the university.

Funds Needed for Wide Field

The purpose of the drive is to acquaint women with the work of the Y. W. C. A., the need of membership of university women who care to join the organization and to pledge their support financially and otherwise. Women may make a pledge of any sum they choose, towards maintenance and running expenses of the organization on the university campus. Funds are needed for the salary of the Y. W. C. A. secretary, which is the largest single item, Vesper service. (Continued on Page 3)

The mitten is rather long, and combines the appearance of an eskimo glove and a husking mitten.

Distribution of the November issue of The Blue Print, the official publication of the College of Engineering, began yesterday afternoon at the Co-op book store.

The cover design for this issue is an architect's drawing of the new Nebraska capitol building which is now under construction. This design is closely related to the feature article of the magazine, a general description of Nebraska's new state house, including data and structural features given from an engineer's viewpoint.
