

OKLAHOMA WINS CROSS-COUNTRY

Kansas Gets Second Without Any Trouble; Frazier, Kansas, Individual Star

NEBRASKA TAKES THIRD

Manhattan, Kans., Nov. 19.—Oklahoma walked away with the annual Missouri Valley cross-country run here today with Kansas university finishing second and the University of Nebraska third. Frazier of Kansas was the first man across the line, covering the five mile course in 24 minutes, 44 seconds.

Oklahoma men finished second, third, fourth, fifth, and sixth to win the meet handily. Glenn Johnson, Nebraska captain, led the Husker runners across the tape to finish seventh. Giffen, little sophomore runner, with a beautiful finish, placed fourteenth. Kibble and Sprague finished eighteenth and nineteenth respectively. Chadderton had a bad day winding up in twenty-seventh with Etherton finishing twenty-ninth.

Frazier Runs Pretty Race
Frazier ran a beautiful race to finish first for the Jayhawks. Keith of Oklahoma, and Niblick, his teammate finished yards behind Frazier and well strung out. Dudley and Heald, both of Oklahoma, tied for fourth and fifth with Carson, another Sooner, taking sixth. Christensen of Iowa State was eighth, Sarvis of Kansas, ninth, and Miller of Kansas Aggies, tenth.

The point score of the leading teams in their order of standing was: Oklahoma, 20; Kansas university, 50; Nebraska, 85; Kansas Aggies, 100; Iowa State, 100; Oklahoma Aggies and Missouri finished behind these.

HUSKERS DEFEAT KAGGIES 33-0

relieved some of his regulars, but the assault on the Purple eleven continued. The Cornhuskers fourth touchdown was scored late in the quarter by Captain "Jug" Brown. His dropkick for the extra point was good, making the count 26 to 0.

Brown Goes Over
The Cornhusker captain scored again with a final drive over the Aggie line. A long pass, Sloan to Brown was good for 45 yards putting the ball on the two yard line. With but thirty seconds to play, Brown went over the chalk line for the final Husker counter. His drop kick for the extra point was good, making the final score 33 to 0.

Nebraska collected a total of 24 first downs in the game, holding the Aggies to two, both of them coming on penalties. Most of the Husker first downs were made through the line, but the Scarlet passing game was functioning and long gains were chalked up by the aerial route.

Backfield Pair Flashy
Presnell and Howell displayed their usual brilliant work in the Nebraska backfield and Captain Brown played his best game of the season. Scoring two touchdowns in the final stanza and ripping through the Aggie line for large gains was the role played by the Nebraska captain in the half-back position. The Kansas State game was the first game this year that Brown played that position.

Dayhoff and Captain Douglas were the outstanding men for the vanquished Aggie team.

Richards Kicks Off
Nebraska won the toss and elected to kick off. Richards kicked to the 25-yard line and the oval was returned ten yards. The initial play of the game was an attempted pass by Enns. Before the Aggie quarter could throw the ball he was downed by the Nebraska line, 12 yards behind the line of scrimmage. On the next play he tried the Husker line, but for only three yards. Lyons then punted to Presnell who returned 10 yards.

The first Nebraska play like the initial Kansas play resulted in a loss. Losing two yards on an end run, Brown called for another end run with Presnell lugging the pigskin. Six yards was the result. Howell added a yard through the line and Presnell punted.

Ashburn Makes Tackle
Douglas tried an end run but Cliff Ashburn broke through and threw the Aggie captain for a loss of four yards. Failing to find any way to make headway against the Huskers, Lyons punted 35 yards out of bounds. Nebraska, in possession of the ball again tried the Manhattan line and wings for gain, but could make little headway. Presnell punted, but the kick was blocked by Householder, putting the ball in Aggie territory.

With things looking dark for the Bearmen, time was called out and the Scarlet eleven went back into the game forcing the Aggies to punt again, after a futile attempt to pierce the Husker forward wall. The first quarter ended with both elevens fighting in the middle of the field.

Howell Advances
In the second quarter, Nebraska made its initial first down after Howell made a long drive through tackle. This put the ball down within scoring distance. Lee lost five yards on a fake end run and Presnell's pass was incomplete. Presnell again tried a forward pass, but finding all the men covered, ran with the ball losing the ball to Kansas Aggies on downs.

Bronson replaced Brown at the pilot position and McBride went into the game later for Bronson. Howell made a brilliant 27-yard run through the line to put the ball again within scoring distance. This time the pigskin was on the 8-yard line. Presnell hit the line for one, Howell added three more and Presnell added another to lose the ball on downs to the Aggies on the one-yard line.

Witte Substituted
Witte was sent into the game for Presnell and the sophomore back launched a passing attack on the Bachman crew in an attempt to put over a touchdown for Nebraska in the first half. His first pass was incomplete and the line was tried again, resulting in another first down. Witte ran end for six and passed incomplete on the next play to Ashburn. His next pass was a long 30-yard hurl over the line to Lee which gave Nebraska its first touchdown. One play was completed after the kickoff and the half ended.

The second half, the Huskers came back on the Aggie field and started the oval on the other side of the chalk line. Howell added the extra point to the Husker's second touchdown.

Huskers Drive
Another drive was launched by the Bearmen and it ended with a third Nebraska touchdown, Howell scoring the counter. His try for kick was wide. The Husker coach now repaid his regulars by reserve material, but the second half victory-march continued. Richards kicked off to the five-yard line and made the tackle after the ball had been returned 15 yards.

Douglas tried the line for four yards and Enns passed and the long throw was intercepted by Howell. The third quarter ended with Nebraska driving down the Aggie field. Oehlrich missed Howell's pass, so the Husker half-back hit the Purple forward wall for 15 yards and a first down. Sloan went into the game for Howell and Brown went to the other half-position and McBride played at quarter in a new backfield arrangement for Nebraska.

Peaker Pilots Team
Harold Peaker was sent into the game late in the final quarter and piloted the Nebraskans to two touchdowns in less than half the period. "Jug" Brown was given the assignment to carry the ball through the Aggie line and the Nebraska captain chalked up two first downs in three drives to put the ball on the two-yard line. With two yards to go he

First Counter

Evard Lee, Nebraska's fighting end, scored the first tally of the tilt against the Kaggies when he caught an accurate pass from "Dutch" Witte when past the goal line.

Perfect Interference

"Blue" Howell scored the third touchdown and try for point for the Bearmen, and in addition ran interference for the other backs in an adept manner.

New fraternity houses are to be built at the University of Denver in the proposed "fraternity row" as soon as any group is financially able to begin construction. Fraternities may choose the type of architecture, but it must meet with the approval of the committee in charge. A minimum and maximum cost will be placed on the construction.

High Point Man

Captain "Jug" Brown, who scored two touchdowns and two extra points in the Nebraska-Kansas Aggies game. Brown started at quarter, but was substituted later at half, playing that position for the first time this year.

Valley Leader

Glenn Presnell added another touchdown to his total as high point man in the Valley, and showed the Kaggies why he is called the Husker flash.

'Women Are Indispensable in Industry' Says O. Y. Schnoring In Chicago

Could business get along without women?

No more than a war army without men, a fish without water, or a motor without oil. A womanless business world would result in chaos, with industrial leaders punching typewriters, department executives pushing telephone plugs, and assistants fumble-fingering work in factories now done with nimble female digits.

These statements were made by Otto Y. Schnoring, a leading industrial authority, in an address here.

"A recent survey," Mr. Schnoring said, "shows that practically eighty-three per cent of the country's 38,000,000 male population over fifteen years of age now is gainfully employed. There are 10,000,000 women stenographers, telephone operators, school teachers, store and office clerks and factory workers. Thus, there is an insufficient man supply to replace the women workers, unless millions of men would be shifted from present employment. Even if this were possible, forty per cent of these men workers would be incapable of performing duties now done by women."

More Women Employed
"Women are being employed in business in rapidly increasing numbers. As an illustration, there were 1,144,000 men and 593,000 women employed in clerical positions in 1910. The number had mounted last year to 2,150,000 men and 1,950,000 women, or increases of forty-six and seventy-one per cent, respectively. There now are more than 2,500,000 women working in manufacturing and mechanical industries. In our three plants alone we employ 3,000 women. They are indispensable in the industry, as well as in many other manufacturing lines, notwithstanding the introduction of labor-saving machinery. "Women have become a fixture in business. An Eve-less business Eden is inconceivable."
