KERR SPEAKS AT CONVOCATION

of about seventeen millions. Rhodes also had a brilliant record as a statesman, serving in the Cape colony legislature, and later as minister of the Cape colony. One of his greatest achievements was his handling of the problem of the relation of the negroes and the white immigrants, the former outnumbering the latter by about a ten to one ratio. His influence in the development of the great African hinterland was also an important contribution to the development of the Dark Continent. The territory of Rhodesia is so named in honor of Cecil Rhodes.

Goodwill Was Desired
It was Rhodes's desire for international peace and good will that prompted his action in making provisions for the scholarships which bear his name, according to Mr. Kerr. About two hundred of the most brilliant students are selected from the United States, the possessions of Great Britain, and from Germany, every three years. These students study for six months of each of the three years at Oxford, the student being allowed to study elsewhere for the balance of the time.

In regard to the United States' relation to the rest of the countries of the world, Mr. Kerr compared this country with an elephant among a group of smaller animals, representing the other countries. "The United States is the largest power of the world," he declared.

He stated that American capital is now in control of one fourth of the organized wealth of the world today. In thirty years, he further stated, it is very possible that it will have control of one half of the organized wealth of the world. He gave as one reason for this condition the prevailing low interest rate of the United States in comparison to the relatively higher rates in foreign countries.

In this respect, he pointed out, the United States is taking on the appearance of an empire, while Great Britain is swinging further away from this tendency, in view of their practice of giving more power to her possessions. Because of this gain of wealth by the United States, it is becoming more and more important that we shall use this power for the promotion of world peace and good will among the nations.

Erickson Talks on Albania
C. Telford Erickson, the second speaker on the program, gave some of the history of Albania and how it has been down-trodden throughout the history of Europe. In spite of this, Mr. Erickson said that this tiny nation has produced no less than five or six of the Roman emperors, and also a number of high officials of the Turkish empire. He explained the purpose of the school which he represents. It is being supported by American income, although when it is firmly established it is planned to make it a government institution. The school is of practical nature, there being three hours of classroom work to five of practice hours.

RALLY SPIRIT TO FEATURE PARTY

the best in the state. It has been brought to Lincoln through the efforts of the Varsity Party committee to help give University students one of the best parties of the season. Mr. Tracy and Mr. Brown will both appear with their orchestra. Musical hits and a variety of entertainment are scheduled.

The entire coliseum floor will not be used for dancing. An arched partition will divide the floor into two parts. The portion next to the stage will accommodate the dancers.

The remainder will be arranged for reception and refreshments. Admission to the "Turkey Trot" will be eighty cents for couples and forty cents for single admissions. The Varsity Party committee has definitely set this price to remain throughout the year.

UNIVERSITY GIRL KILLED IN WRECK

she is believed to have died almost instantly.

The first car to arrive at the scene of the accident was driven by William Fleming, a University of Nebraska student, from Lincoln, who was accompanied by his mother, Mrs. Fenton B., and his sister Miss Geraldine, who is also a member of the Alpha Chi Omega sorority. The Flemings rushed Miss Nichols to the hospital in Manhattan where she is being treated. First aid was administered to the two Michael brothers who were taken back to Manhattan. Both Miss Hauptman and Miss Nichols made the trip to the football game on the special train, but made arrangements to return with the two boys. Miss Patrice Nichols, sister of Miss Elaine Nichols, and Miss Lucile Randall left Lincoln early Sunday afternoon for Manhattan when they were notified of the accident.

Alumni of New York Are Not Overconfident

State beat Syracuse 9 to 7; New York tied Penn State 13 to 13 and Nebraska beat Syracuse 20 to 0. Draw your own picture. "Chick" Meehan has been to Lincoln many times and knows Nebraska. New York does not underrate Nebraska in any respect, nor the ability of its Coach Bearg.

"When the Bearg and Meehan machines meet it will be a game worth going many miles to see and at this writing might or might not be anybody's game. Win or lose, New York University, always enjoys the fine sportsmanship and feeling of good fellowship and hospitality found at the University of Nebraska and in Lincoln," added Bonner.

Blake Is Author Of Important Article

Prof. Irving H. Blake of the department of zoology is the author of an important study recently published as one of the Illinois Biological Monographs. Professor Blake made a comparison between animal communities in coniferous and deciduous forests, taking the region of Mount Kataadu in Maine as a representative of the first class, and forests in Illinois for the second.

IOWA STATE HAS SIX LETTER WRESTLERS

Early Prospects for Mat Season at Ames School are Bright, Says Coach Otopalik

Ames, Iowa, Nov. 21.—(Special)—With six letter men back and at least two candidates of varsity caliber for every weight, Iowa State's wrestling outlook for the coming mat season is good.

There is a possibility that Art Holding, National A. A. U. champion, may not be able to make the 125-pound weight limit, and will have to be used as a lightweight. Holding at the present time, after several weeks of light work, weighs 138 pounds. In the light weight division Coach Otopalik will also have Don Gerling, last year letter winner who broke a leg in the middle of the season, Hugh Linn, Shelby, sophomore aspirant who went to the semi-finals of the national championship meet, Eldene Rapp, Clinton, last year's stock reserve, Max Campbell of the wrestling Campbell twins, and possibly Chelsea Beach, letter man and veteran of two campaigns. Beach is not in school but is expected back.

Letter Man Is Back

In the 115-pound weight Higgins, Terrill, letter man and Maddison, Anthon, varsity reserve, are again back. In the 125-pound weight Iowa State will have Holding, national title holder, providing he can make the weight, Runkel, Moline, Ill., promising sophomore, Soderstrom, Newton, another sophomore, and Isdo, former reserve.

Captain Clair Grooms, Ottumwa, Iowa State's sensational 145-pounder and runner-up for the national title, will have as his opposition Hansen, Dow City, former varsity reserve. All of the other welterweights having decided that their luck would be better in other weights.

Three good men comprise the 158-pound class, Blair, Mason City, letter winner, Thurow, Charles City, and Ruggles, Ames. Ruggles, although a sophomore, will push both varsity men for the job. He is a former state champion, and looked good in the national meet.

The heavy and light heavyweight classes seem to be the unknown quantity, although four men are available. The big difficulty seems to be in getting a heavyweight, as all of the candidates scale in the 175-pound class. Hursch, Fairmont, Minn., seems to be the pick of the class. Gooddale, Marshalltown, state high school champion for several seasons and sophomore aspirant, is also given a chance to cop either the heavy or light heavy. Gooddale, weighing 195 pounds, is carrying too much beef, according to Coach Otopalik, and an effort will be made to take off enough so that he will be able to wrestle as a 175-pounder if necessary. Hursch weighs 170. Leiser, Waukon, and Hiner, Ames, are also back.

Efforts are being made for a meet in the east. Besides the usual number of home meets which will be announced soon the National Collegiate meet will be held at Ames.

At De Pauw university green tam-o-shanters will be worn by the freshman girls to correspond with the traditional green caps of the freshmen men.

Jewett Congratulates Men on Parade Showing

The following statement by Col. F. F. Jewett of the military science department has been issued to R. O. T. C. men: "The professor of military science and tactics desires to congratulate the men of the cadet regiment for their excellent showing in the Armistice day parade. Their spirit of patriotic devotion and their whole-hearted willingness to do their part has been the subject of much favorable comment by those who witnessed the parade."

Ag College Y. M. C. A. Holds Stag Tonight
