Mid-Semester Reports Show Large Number of Students are Delinquent

1300 Reported to Be Doing Unsatisfactory Work in at Least One Subject; 55 Dropped from Rolls

The work of approximately 1300 students was reported to be unsatisfactory in one or more subjects at the end of the second quarter, according to a report from the office of the Dean of Student Affairs. Of this number, 314 students had unsatisfactory records in two-fifths or more of their hours and therefore came under the scholarship rulings of the University that such students are subject to the penalty of being dropped from University records.

From the number who were called before the scholarship board, 259 were reinstated and will continue their school work on probation. The group of students who have been allowed to continue on probation includes 205 men and 54 women. Freshmen made up over half of the number allowed to remain in school.

Only 55 of the 314 students who were doing unsatisfactory work were dropped from the university rolls. This number includes 45 men and 10 women. Thirty-four of the 55 were freshmen.

MONTANA TEAM TO PLAY HERE

Game Is Scheduled for October 13 in Lincoln; Eight Teams Form 1928 Opposition

Nebraska's 1928 gridiron schedule was completed Wednesday when Montana was added to the card, making eight games for next season. The game with Montana State will be played in Lincoln on October 13 and will be the first home game of the year.

The first game on the Cornhusker schedule is a Big Six game with the Iowa State Cyclones at Ames. The Staters opened the season at Lincoln this year and the return game will be played there on October 6. This game will be followed by an inter-sectional contest when the Scarlet eleven treks to Syracuse for a return engagement with the Orange eleven.

Montana and Nebraska did not sign a home and home contract and the Bozeman crew will probably not appear on the 1929 gridiron slate. The signing of the game with Montana gives Nebraska a schedule of eight games, five of which are Big Six games. Three of the conference tilts are away from home and the remaining two, Missouri and Kansas Aggies appear in Lincoln.

Pittsburgh Plays Here.

Pittsburgh will complete the home schedule, playing on Memorial Stadium field November 17. The schedule for next season gives fans a fine array of football classics. Missouri at Lincoln on October 27 will be one of the outstanding battles in the conference next fall. Missouri and Nebraska have worked up an increasing rivalry on the gridiron and with the 7 to 6 defeat of this season, Nebraska will be out to gain revenge. (Continued on Page 2)

JUNIOR LEAGUE HAS CARNIVAL SATURDAY

Two Orchestras Will Furnish Music For Dancing; Fashion Show Features Program

Dancing, amusement booths, and stands will be the features of the Junior League Carnival to be held Saturday night at the University Coliseum for the benefit of the Baby Clinic which is sponsored by that organization. Conway Beaver's Melody Monarchs and "Blondy" Vaughn and his Boys will play for the dancers.

A fashion show, with the latest styles displayed on members of the League as models will be another feature of the carnival. Flavia Waters will present a group of her pupils in a dancing chorus. The carnival is under the general direction of Helen Hall.

All the proceeds of the carnival will go for the upkeep and maintenance of the baby clinic. Since the League took over the baby clinic in July, nineteen hundred babies have been under the observation of the doctors and nurses at the clinic. There are now five hundred babies registered on the books. The examinations and treatments are free and are extended to those mothers who are unable to provide for the medical care of their own babies.

Fraternity and Sorority Pictures Must be Taken

Sorority and fraternities should report to the studios for picture sittings at once, according to members of the Cornhusker staff. The panels are to be made up within the near future and the staff are desirous of having all pictures at the studios as soon as possible. The necessity of immediate attention, the editor of the book points out, is ultimate as there are a large number to have pictures taken and the panels must be in the engraver's hands by Christmas vacation.

Identity of Honorary Colonel Remains Secret Regardless of Rumors to Contrary

PLANS NEAR COMPLETION

Prominent Nebraskans Invited To Attend Season's Outstanding Social Event

Rumors starting from people who "absolutely know" who the new Honorary Colonel is, were unfounded by Colonel F. F. Jewett. "Thus far," he declared, "I know for certain that her identity is secret." "And there will be no clues to her identity let out until she appears on the stage at the Coliseum Friday evening."

Campus comment has it that each of the candidates has been elected to the honorary position. The six candidates on the fall ballot included Laura Margaret Raines, Edith Mae Johnson, Mary Elizabeth Thornton, Janet Edminston, Ernestine McNeil and Irene Lavelly. Some have predicted that the winner has been fitted in her distinctive uniform and cape but the truth of the matter is that no one knows.

Grand March to Feature.

The Honorary Colonel with the Cadet Colonel will lead the grand march which is to be a feature of the formal opening. The march will start immediately after the presentation of the Honorary Colonel. Buglers will announce her appearance before the audience.

DECEMBER 9 IS DATE SET FOR TEAM BANQUET

Coliseum Will Be Scene of Annual Cornhusker Dinner for Football Men and Coaches

UNIVERSITY MEN INVITED

Honor Guests to be Seated on Stage and Loudspeakers Used for Speeches

Nebraska's annual Cornhusker Banquet in honor of the football team and coaches is scheduled for Friday evening, Dec. 9, in the Coliseum. All university men are invited to attend this dinner and honor their team.

This is the first year that the affair has been held in the Coliseum, the Scottish Rite Temple having been the scene of the banquet in former years. The reason for the change is that the Coliseum is a university building, devoted to athletics and more suitable in every way to an affair of this kind.

Football Captain May Be Announced

The most important part of the banquet in former years has been the announcement of the football captain for the following year. This may be a part of the program at this Cornhusker banquet, but no definite announcement of the program has been made as yet. Special entertainment has been scheduled, which will probably include two orchestras.

Short talks will be made by retiring Cornhuskers, and also by some of the coaches. The team and coaches will be placed on the stage, and loudspeakers will be used so that all of the speeches may be heard. The toastmaster will be announced later.

An approximate estimation of attendance this year has been placed at 1,000 by a member of the committee in charge. Tickets will sell for one dollar, and may be obtained at fraternity houses or at Mr. Hayes' office in the Temple, University Y. M. C. A. rooms.

GRUMANN SPEAKS AT WORLD FORUM

"Futuristic Art" is Subject of Address by Director of School of Fine Arts

"Every art has to maintain a way of keeping young and alive; without that it must die," stated Paul H. Grumann, director of the School of Fine Arts, at the World Forum luncheon yesterday noon. With "Futuristic Art" as the subject of his talk, he attempted to bring out the facts in relation to present day art and that of fifty years ago.

"There was never a time when there weren't young people with new ideas to overturn the old ones concerning art," he continued. "We are in the midst of a futuristic movement. Painters today are suspicious of art critics and professors, because they believe that they have a distorted sense of the value of art. Fifty years ago the art of photography was introduced and immediately the question rose as to whether or not photography was art. The result of this discussion was that artists began to deviate from exact reproduction, as had been the custom, to combine color with the effects that a camera cannot produce. Stage of Over-refinement Reached

The art of fifty years ago in comparison with the art of primitive life had reached the stage of over-refinement, that is, pictures were overdone and were resemblances of photography work. The costumes worn by people fifty years ago were most hideous. There was such an atmosphere of over-refinement that people dressed in all sorts of costumes which impaired their health. The mark of a true lady was the fact that (Continued on Page 2)

BRENKE ADDRESSES GROUP

Professor Reads Paper at Meeting of American Mathematical Society

Professor W. C. Brenke, of the University of Nebraska, read a paper at a regular meeting of the American Mathematical Society southwestern section, at Washington University, St. Louis, Missouri, on Saturday, Nov. 26.

Seven other professors from various universities gave papers and each portrayed the trend of thought among mathematicians today. Professor Brenke's paper concerned polynomial solutions of a class of difference equations. The papers occupied the morning session and in the afternoon a joint meeting was held with the American Mathematical Society and the Missouri Section of the Mathematical Association of America.
