

TEAMS SET FOR OPENING THIRD PERIOD GAMES

Nine Teams Remain Undelected in Inter-Fraternity Cage Tournament

DELTS WIN FROM BETAS
Pi Kappa Alpha's Upset Dope By Defeating Phi Sigma in League Two

Nine teams remain undefeated in the inter-fraternity basketball tournament which is entering the third week of play. The biggest upset in the tournament was Pi Kappa Alpha's defeat of Phi Sigma Kappa, tournament winners for the past two years. Beta Theta Pi was forced from the lead in league six by Delta Tau Delta, while Sigma Phi Epsilon gained supremacy in league one early in the tournament.

Sigma Phi Epsilon ranks far in the lead of all rivals in league one and is virtually assured of the league championship, having beaten the team that holds second place.

Phi Deltas Lead League Two
Phi Delta Theta holds first place in league two with five victories to its credit, but is by no means assured of the league championship. Phi Delta Theta will have its hands full when it tackles the Phi Sigs, tournament winners for the past two years, in Tuesday night's round of play. It is possible that the Pi Kappa Alpha victory over Phi Sigma Kappa will cause a tie between the three teams for the supremacy of league two.

Phi Kappa and Sigma Alpha Epsilon are far above all other teams in league three. The outcome of the game will determine the championship of league three, both teams at least two games ahead of the nearest rivals.

A royal battle is expected Tuesday evening when the Delta Upsilon and Alpha Sigma Phi quintets go on the floor to decide the championship of league four. Both teams have won most of their games with a relatively high margin over the opponents and are conceded to be fairly evenly matched.

League Five Teams Are Tied
Kappa Sigma and Xi Psi Phi are still tied for first place in league five, with Theta Chi a close second. The Kappa Sigma-Xi Psi Phi match will not be played until Wednesday but both teams have been displaying some fine qualities in former games and a hard fight is assured.

Delta Tau Delta holds the undisputed lead in the final league. The Deltas overcame Beta Theta Pi last Monday for the lead, and probably for the championship of the league.

The schedule for Tuesday is:
League 1—Delta Sigma Lambda vs. Delta Sigma Phi at 7:00, floor 1.
Phi Kappa Psi vs. Tau Kappa Epsilon at 7:25 o'clock, floor 1.

League 2—Phi Sigma Kappa vs. Phi Delta Theta, 9:00 o'clock, floor 2.
Sigma Chi vs. Sigma Nu, 8:35 o'clock, floor 2.
Theta Xi vs. Pi Kappa Alpha, 7:25 o'clock, floor 2.

League 3—Sigma Alpha Epsilon vs. Phi Kappa, 7:00 o'clock, floor 3.

League 4—Alpha Sigma Phi vs. Delta Upsilon, 7:25 o'clock, floor 3.

Alpha Gamma Rho vs. Delta Chi, 8:35 o'clock, floor 3.
Lambda Chi Alpha vs. Kappa Rho Sigma, 7:25 o'clock, floor 2.

League 5—Xi Psi Phi vs. Theta Chi, 9:00 o'clock, floor 1.
Kappa Sigma vs. Acacia, 7:00, floor 2.

League 6—Phi Alpha Delta vs. Delta Tau Delta, 8:35 o'clock, floor 1.

IN THE VALLEY

By JACK ELLIOTT

The captain or rather the captains for next year's gridiron eleven have been revealed and the excitement that has reigned on the campus for the week preceding the election has abated. In selecting Blue Howell and Elmer Holm to lead the Cornhuskers next year the twenty-six lettermen did not go wrong.

With two men like Howell and Holm as pilots of the 1928 gridiron eleven, prospects for an all-victorious season were boosted a great deal. Both these warriors of the gridiron are able leaders and because there were two such capable men to lead the Scarlet next year instead of one, two were elected.

Henry Lindbloom, Des Moines and Johnny Miller, Waterloo, star half-backs of the Iowa State College football team will jointly captain the 1928 Cyclone eleven, it was announced at the annual gridiron banquet Friday night. Householder of Kansas Aggies was elected to lead the Kansas Aggie eleven next year.

Nebraska's Scarlet and Cream basketball quintet ventures forth on the 1927-28 court season this week when Coach Charley Black takes his basketballers down to St. Louis to open the Nebraska Missouri Valley season with the Washington University team. Last year the Scarlet quintet was victorious over the Washington team and Black hopes to start off the season with a win.

Coach Beary made some remarks about Black's court squad that sound mighty nice at the banquet Friday night. Beary stated that he wouldn't be surprised to see the Scarlet quintet go through a victorious season. But the old by-word is "remember the Jayhawkers."

Friday night, Black and his court five will meet Washington and the next night they will entertain the Missouri quintet. Missouri, it is said, has a fast team on the hardwood this winter and are pointing for nothing less than a Valley championship basketball team. With these two fives to reckon with, Black will have a job on his hands to win both games in successive nights.

After the Christmas holidays the Missouri five will return the game and play the Nebraskans on the Lincoln court.

KANSAS GRIDIRON HAS HIGH AVERAGE

Statistics Show Above-Average Team Ever Since It Started Football Activities in 1890

Lawrence, Kan., Dec. 10.—Statistics of football contests in the Missouri Valley as compiled by the K. U. News Bureau show that Kansas has had an above-average team since it started football activities in 1890.

In the all-time valley standings, Kansas ranks in third place, having scored nearly one and one-half points to the opponent's one, while in the valley conference standings alone, dating from 1907, K. U. averages 1.03 points to the opponents' one. The latter result is probably due to the much stronger competition since the Missouri Valley conference was formed in 1907.

In the all-time valley standings, Nebraska ranks first with a percentage of .786; Ames is second, and Kansas is third. Other teams in the valley follow in this order: Oklahoma, Missouri, Drake, K. S. A. C., Grinnell, Oklahoma A. and M., Washington.

The compilation shows that Kansas has played 159 games with Valley opponents—more than any other school in the Valley. Missouri has played 158, and Nebraska 110. A general summary in the pamphlet shows that 401 games have been played between Valley teams and 10,973 points scored. Forty-four games ended in tie scores. Most of the tie games were scoreless or 7 to 7. The highest score in a tie game was the Kansas-Nebraska struggle in 1920 which ended 20 to 20. Kansas won from Washington in 1923 by the highest score ever run in the valley, 83 to 0.

Busy Telephones Do Not Bother This Pair

Norman, Dec. 10.—(Special)—Finding themselves unable to make telephone connections with one of the sorority houses during the rush hour so that they might talk to their feminine favorites, two University of Oklahoma students have installed a private telephone instrument in the room of one of the girls. The telephone is for the exclusive use of the two couples, who won't be thwarted from now on, they say, by the operator's exasperating "Line's busy."

PHI GAMMA DELTA DEFEAT ALPHA GAMMA RHO

Teams Tied in Former Game Fought Hard in Deciding Meet, Roth Wins Individual Honors

Phi Gamma Delta came through with a victory over Alpha Gamma Rho 22 to 19 in the only inter-fraternity basketball game Saturday. The two teams played to a tie in a game early in the tournament and the Phi Gamma Delta quintet came through with a victory in the deciding game.

The game was hard fought, and lacked very little being a tie like the former game. The winner of the game was uncertain until the last whistle blew, with the Alpha Gamma Rho team threatening seriously. Roth of the Alpha Gamma Rho team won individual scoring honors, with 9 points while Bernard of the opposing team was a close runner-up with 8 points.

Summary:

Alpha Gamma Rho Phi Gamma Delta

Roth	f	Bernard
Roddy	f	Burdick
Stone	c	Holmquist
Todd	g	Kivett
Powell	g	Shaner

Scoring: Phi Gamma Delta—Bernard 8, Holmquist 6, Burdick 4, Kivett 4. Alpha Gamma Rho; Roth 9, Roddy 8, Stone 2.

KANSAS AGGIES PUT HOPES ON NEW MEN

Three Letter Men Are Available For Kaggie Basketball Team In Early Season

Manhattan, Kans., Dec. 10.—With only three letter men around which to build his 1928 Kansas Aggie basketball team Coach Charles Corsaut is depending materially upon his crop of new candidates for the formation of a capable quintet to come through as a power in the Missouri valley conference.

Two of the letter men, Capt. A. R. Edwards, Fort Scott, and Elmer Mertel, Kansas City, Kans., guards, should be the base of a strong defensive, while Ed Skradski, Kansas City, Kans., rangy second year center, looks best for the tipoff position.

The grooming of forwards may be a difficult task, with the absence of experienced players, but from a group including R. V. Brooks, Hutchinson, Walter Jones, Kansas City, Kans.; K. Silverwood, Ellsworth, S. H. Brockway, Topeka, Bob McCollum, El Dorado, Richard Youngman, Kansas City, Kans.; George Jelinek, Ellsworth, and H. O. Frazier, Clay Center, Coach Corsaut has good chances of developing fast floor men. Most of the men named have shown more than fair ability at basket tossing.

Other than Skradski at center the Wildcat coach has A. H. Freeman, Hoxie, who ranges about six feet and one half, R. V. Brooks, and Bill Jardine, Washington, D. C. The main handicap these men are under, as are most of the candidates, is lack of experience.

The Aggie mentor has Mertel and Edwards, third year men, for regulars at guards. Other possibilities are A. H. Freeman, Walter Jones, C. D. Richardson, Hugoton, L. E. Smith, Caldwell, and R. E. Sanders, Burlington.

The latest squad cut has left remaining seventeen aspirants, including letter men.

Museum Adds Display Of New Illustrations

Another new exhibit at the museum consists of illustrations taken from a recently published study by Prof. Otis Wade of the department of zoology. These are in the ground squirrel exhibit in the basement of Morrill hall. Professor Wade's study, "Breeding Habits and Early Life of the Thirteen-Striped Ground Squirrel" was published in the Journal of Mammalogy.

NEW TOSSERS COME INTO CYCLONE FOLD

Coach Chandler No Longer Worries About Reserve Team to Give Varsity Trouble

Ames, Iowa, Dec. 10.—(Special)—One of Iowa State's biggest basketball problems, lack of a reserve team strong enough to give the varsity real competition, seems to be about settled with several additional members of last year's squad either back or expected back. Since the beginning of active drill the Cyclone veteran combination of Kling, Lande, Staver and Brown has had everything its own way, walking through the reserves in easy fashion. Bob Lamson, fullback from the football team and a capable basketball guard, Kreckow, an end from the grid team and center candidate, and the expected return of Taylor of Monroe, minor letter man and a guard, has given the reserves new hopes.

Center still seems to be the biggest source of trouble. Woods of Irwin, sophomore cager, has so far drawn to the front and is being used with the first string. Woods is good under the basket, is able to get a majority of the tip-offs, but still lacks considerably in defensive play. Jim Ayres, Ames Falls, S. D. Treadwell of Sufferin, New York, and Stillman of Gowrie are the three other aspirants.

Although the Cyclone team this year will be light Coach Bill Chandler is not pessimistic over the situation. The four veterans who are expected to bear the brunt of the struggle this year, Freddie Kling and Brown, guards, and Captain Staver and Lande, forwards, are again playing the same clever floor game that characterized their work last year. Given the benefit of at least part of the tipoffs Iowa State should have its best basketball year of several seasons.

Collins Will Speak On Thursday

F. G. Collins, assistant curator of the museum, will be the speaker at a meeting next Thursday noon of the Knife and Fork luncheon club. He will tell of the museum's work.

Wednesday, December 14—Freshmen vs. Junior-Senior.

Friday, December 16—Sophomores vs. Junior-Senior.

Dormitory Men Provide Better Rule for Study

Ames, Iowa, Dec. 10.—(Special)—Although the freshmen living in the new men's dormitory at Iowa State College were given practically a free hand in drafting the dormitory rules under which they would live, the boys voluntarily start their evening study hour 30 minutes earlier than do Iowa State coeds whose rules are prescribed by the college.

The evening study hour in the men's dormitory starts at 7:30 whereas in the girls' dormitories it does not start till 8 p. m. All of which goes to show that if allowed to govern themselves the students will often be more strict than would the college administration, according to J. E. Foster, dean of men.

The only dormitory rules applied by the college are that there shall be no smoking, drinking or gambling, and these are college rules. Each floor in the men's dormitory elects a supervisor who holds office for one week. His duty is to answer the telephone, turn out lights and give demerits to those who violate dormitory rules. Anyone who receives five or more demerits is fined $1.

Morrill Gives Unusual Exhibit of Butterflies

A new addition to the museum's exhibit of tropical butterflies, made possible by donations from Charles H. Morrill of Stromsburg, is a small picture made entirely from wings of tropical and rare butterflies. Made in Germany, the picture was such a delicate undertaking that all the work had to be done with minute forceps. The exhibit is at the northeast corner of the first floor, Morrill hall.

SEVEN VETERANS GRADUATE

Twenty-One Men Are Recommended For Football Letters

Stillwater, Okla., Dec. 10.—(Special)—Twenty-one Oklahoma A. and M. college football players, including seven who will graduate in June, have been recommended for letters by Head Coach J. F. Maulbetsch. These recommendations must be passed on by the Athletic cabinet before they are official.

Speakers at the final banquet which officially disbanded the 1927 squad declared the season has been uniformly successful for the Aggies. They pointed out that two out of the three games with members of the Missouri Valley conference were won and that the Aggies gave Creighton University of Omaha the only defeat they sustained all season.

Where "good enough" isn't—
The basketball team that is never satisfied with its performance is headed for the top. And in this, as in the making of telephone apparatus, success follows from the determination of every man to cover his position and work in harmony with his team mates.
At Western Electric, a continually widening range of activities is being undertaken—for example, investigating raw materials, designing more efficient machinery, developing new plans for manufacture, studying operating methods and personnel relations—any one of which offers the individual an interesting field.
But whatever the work, his place in it and his contribution to its success depend upon his acceptance of this Western Electric idea: to improve the machinery of production to a point where it more closely approaches perfection.
