

VARSITY CAGE MEN WORK FOR SATURDAY TILT

Oklahoma Aggies Is Third in Valley With Good Chance For Championship

PRACTICE IS FAVORABLE

Freshmen Are Unable to Make Showing Against First String Wednesday

Flashing a highly improved brand of offensive play, the Varsity basketball quintet turned in a convincing victory over the yearling basketeers Wednesday afternoon. As the game with the Oklahoma Aggies draws near, the Huskers are getting down to hard work in preparation for the third place Valley team.

With such men as "Ab" Wright and Wilkie Collins in their lineup, the Aggie team is a potential candidate for Valley honors. Having most of their hard games played and riding in third place, the Stillwater farmers are figured to have an excellent chance for the lead in Missouri Valley basketball affairs.

Forward Wright on the Sooner Aggie team is well known not only in basket circles but in Missouri Valley football. Wright played in the backfield of the Western team which defeated the Eastern football stars in California a month ago. His flashing play there brought special mention to the Aggie sophomore, and his playing in the cage game has given him second place in the Valley scoring table. Holt, Sooner pivot man, leads the scoring pack with 102 markers to his credit. Wright has 96 points.

By winning the Saturday contest with the Oak Aggies, the Nebraskans can pull up to the top of the second division. If the Varsity maintains the peak of form which it has been displaying during recent practice drills, a victorious outcome is quite a possibility.

Game Will Be Hard

According to Harvey Grace, forward on the basket team, the Blackmen know that the coming tilt is likely to be the hardest yet, but are prepared to win or die in the attempt.

The combination of Brown and Witte, forwards; "Shorty" Munn, center; and Holm and Lewandowski, guards was much in evidence during the Wednesday play. This team, with the addition of Grace at one of the forward berths, reeled off a big lead over the young basket tossers, who were making every chance they had at the basket. The lineup named will probably get the call for the week-end tussle with the Aggies as they have been showing proficiency in all departments of the indoor sport and play well together.

Home Ec Film Prepared for High Schools

Ugliness, drudgery, malnutrition, misunderstanding and discontent are evils which the home economics department of the University of Nebraska is trying to banish in the motion picture "The Quest," which has been prepared by the faculty and students of the College of Agriculture.

Filming of the picture was started during rehearsals for "The Quest," a pageant which was presented during the Farmers Fair last spring, on the College of Agriculture campus. The pageant was written by Miss Edna Benson, then a member of the home economics faculty, coached by her, and presented by the students in the home economics department. The film has been sent to fifty-three different towns in the state where superintendents and home economics instructors will present it to the high school students in the hope that the true value of a home economics education will be noticed.

OKLAHOMA AGGIES RESUME PRACTICE

Southern Team Drills Intensively For Games with Huskers and Kansas Aggies

Stillwater, Okla., February 1.—After a two weeks layoff, the Oklahoma A. and M. college basketball team will get back into the Missouri Valley conference this week-end. Two games are on tap, the first with the Kansas Aggies at Manhattan on Friday night and the other with the University of Nebraska at Lincoln Saturday.

Practice was not quite so intensive last week because of final examinations and registration for the second semester, but hard workouts are scheduled for this week, according to Coach J. F. Maulbetsch.

Most of the coach's effort this week will be devoted to speeding up the Aggies' offense and improving the defensive work of the forwards. Coach Maulbetsch is not at all satisfied with the way in which his team breaks. He declares this is the slowest breaking team he has had since he came to Stillwater.

Defensively, the Aggies are not as strong as they might be, Maulbetsch says, and he hopes to improve this department of the game.

A luncheon and reception for Roosevelt will be held at the Chamber of Commerce at noon today. This will be Lincoln's reception to the well known visitor. Civic clubs will attend the luncheon in a body, and representatives will be seated at the speaker's table.

At 3:30 o'clock this afternoon Col. Roosevelt will speak at an American Legion district meeting. He will next be taken on a visit to the new state capitol building.

While in Lincoln Roosevelt will be the guest of Mr. and Mrs. Maher. He will leave for Des Moines at 12 o'clock tonight.

CIVIC OPERA BEGINS TOUR FROM CHICAGO

Company Will Be in Lincoln March 29 For Presentation of 'Il Trovatore'

The Chicago Civic Opera Company has finished their three month's run in the Chicago Auditorium, and has started on the extended tour over the entire country, which will bring them to Lincoln, March 29.

Half of the six month's season of grand opera is spent entertaining Chicago audiences. The other half is spent this year in twenty-two of the larger cities in America. The company has moved their equipment to Boston and will stay there for two weeks. They then travel through the southern and western states and on the return trip will play in Lincoln.

For every artist heard and admired on the stage, there are many more unseen artists contributing to the performance. Activity of the producing staff never ceases. Artists, composers, costumers, and master electricians are all present with the company caravan which requires two special trains to transport. The stage and lighting equipment and the mammoth curtain which are carried by the company demand a good share of the room.

Notables Unable to Officiate at Derby

Considerable disappointment was experienced at Intramural headquarters late this week when all three of the notables invited to officiate at the Cornhusker Derby wired their regrets. Henry Ford, the Prince of Wales, and One-eyed Conley were the trio who were expected to be on hand for the first Indoor Derby in the history of this institution. Until the last minute, it was hoped that they would still be able to be present but substitutions have been procured as a precaution.

Through reliable sources, it has been learned that Henry Ford was forced to cancel this engagement because he must get new models on the market while the Prince of Wales failed to fall for our proposition. One-eyed Conley wired that he could not see his way clear to make the trip.
