SOONER MATMEN TRIUMPH OVER HUSKERS 14-11

Berry's Victory Over Koehnke In Last Match Gives Win To Oklahoma

TEAMS TIED NEAR END
Captain Luff of Nebraska Throws Huddle Before Final Whistle

By Harold Keith, Sports Editor of The Daily Oklahoman

Norman, Okla., Feb. 11.—(Special to Daily Nebraskan.)—In a dual match that was not decided until the last bout, the Sooner grapplers won a close triumph over Nebraska Saturday afternoon in the field house, 14 to 11, Berry's victory over Koehnke, Cornhusker, heavyweight, giving the match to Oklahoma. The two teams were tied at 11-11 when the last match started.

Captain Luff of Nebraska barely averted a defeat in the 135 pound division when he threw Huddle of Oklahoma just four seconds before (Continued on Page 2)

BOXERS GO INTO FINAL BATTLES

Theta Chi Fighter Scores Clean Knock-Out; Five Other Clever Battles

ENTER FINALS THURSDAY

Semi-final bouts of the inter-fraternity boxing tournament were held yesterday afternoon in the Coliseum. A crowd was on hand to view the struggles for the right to appear in the finals which are scheduled for Thursday evening.

The feature bout was between Brainerd, Delta Chi, and Asmus, Theta Chi. They had fought only 35 seconds when Asmus planted a terrific blow to the head which ended the bout both suddenly and spectacularly. The deciding swing was delivered cleanly and with tremendous force.

Clark, Delta Sigma Phi, won the right to box in the finals of the 125-pound class by gaining a decision over Erion, Lambda Chi Alpha. The bout went three rounds with honors even, and in the extra round Clark managed to outpoint his rival.

VALENTINE ISSUE OF AWGWAN IS OUT

First Magazine Put Out by New Staff Members Now on Sale at Book Stores

Awgwan's February issue came out Friday and is now on sale at news stands and stores, and contains twenty-eight pages of cartoons, feature articles, short articles, jokes and poetry. The whole issue is worked out around the central theme of Valentine's Day, with a distinctive red and black cover drawing by Alan Klein, and is the first magazine put out under the new staff.

Margaret Ketting's girl head and poem makes a frontpiece; James Pickering and Alza Klein have numerous small cartoons published, together with Tom McCoy, William Beacham, Robert Bundy, and George Koehnke. The illustrations are unusually numerous, as are the articles and jokes. "Man in the Black Coat," "How Girls Rate Formals," and "Monday Night in Greekland" are the big features, together with a lot of short poems, skits and jokes.

Contributors in the Valentine issue are: Kate Goldstein, Esther Dahms, Lynn Cox, George Hooper, Jack Lowe, Boyd Von Seggren, Douglass Timmerman, Raymond Murray, Alene Miner, Warren Chiles and William McCleery.

Memorial Mall Planned By Lincoln City Council

In order to make possible the development of a Memorial Mall on the campus, the Lincoln city council at its regular meeting next Tuesday will consider an ordinance proposing the vacation of U street, from Twelfth to Fourteenth and of certain alleys within that territory.

'Il Trovatore' Dancers

Vechslav Swoboda, brilliant Russian danseur and his famous partner, Marie Purieva, who were both forced to leave their native home during the Revolution. They have danced in all the greater dramatic centers of Europe. They will lead the ballet of the Chicago Opera Company, appearing in Lincoln March 29.

Former Russian Dancer Performs In Famous Ballet of 'Il Trovatore'

Vechslav Swoboda, Who Danced at Court of Nicholas, Is Member Of Opera After Thrilling History In War-Time Europe.

Nicholas of Russia and the glitter of his court has passed. Some of the arts that flourished under his patronage still live, but the people who kept them glowing have been scattered to the four winds. Some are in Europe—a few of the best are in America—and Vechslav Swoboda is one of them.

To America finally came this idol of all Russia. Millions thought him the greatest of all living men dancers. After months of thrilling experiences he joined the Chicago Civic Opera Company and will dance for

Students Make Live Business At Book Store

More than $15,000 worth of books have been sold to University of Nebraska students since the beginning of the second semester February 1, by the Regents' book store maintained on the campus by the University. Because new books are sold at a ten percent discount, this represents a saving of approximately $1,000.

The problem of supplying books to the six thousand students of the University prompted the inauguration last year of the Y. M. C. A. book exchange, where second-hand books are bought and sold. Students wishing to sell text books set their own price and if sold pay the book exchange a commission of fifteen percent, which just covers expenses of its operation.

This semester more than 900 books have been placed at the exchange, the average per student being about three books. One student brought in thirty-four volumes to be sold. More than half of the 3,000 books listed in the exchange have been sold.

In the Regents' book store, where only new books are sold, the total sales for 1927 amounted to $70,000, representing a saving of $8,750 to students.

"After February 18 students desiring to purchase tickets may secure them at the regular announced rates for the general public." John K. Selleck, Business Manager

SIGMA PHI SIGMA GIVES CHARTER

Kappa Rho Sigma, Campus Local, Goes National; Officials Preside

TWENTY-FOUR INITIATED

Kappa Rho Sigma, for two years a local fraternity at the University of Nebraska, was formally installed as Omicron chapter of Sigma Phi Sigma fraternity Saturday morning at the chapter house at 1546 South Twenty-Second street.

Presentation of the charter by official delegates from Sigma Phi Sigma was made after the initiation of twenty-four members of Kappa Rho Sigma into Sigma Phi Sigma Friday night.

The initiation and presentation of charter was under the auspices of C. R. Anderson and E. A. Norton, both of the University of Illinois; E. R. Summers, of the University of Minnesota; and E. H. Weatherly, of the University of Missouri. Anderson and Norton are Grand Editor and Recorder-Custodian respectively of the national fraternity.

Thirtieth National On Campus Sigma Phi Sigma is the thirtieth national social fraternity to install a chapter on the Nebraska campus.

Kappa Rho Sigma, the local from which the new chapter was formed was organized first as a discussion group of Engineering students in (Continued on Page 3)

FRIENDS OF AVERY WILL PAY TRIBUTE

Chancellor Emeritus of University Will Be Honored at Program Now Being Designed

As a mark of respect to Dr. Samuel Avery, Chancellor Emeritus of the University of Nebraska, a program for a suitable recognition of his services to the university is being planned. The date of the program and the full program itself cannot be ascertained at present. One of the special features planned for the recognition event is the presentation to Dr. Avery of a collection of personal letters or notes of appreciation for his many years of devoted service to the university. BAND HAS NEW MEMBERS

R. O. T. C. Organization Admits 12 New Men for Semester Work

Twelve new men have been taken into the University of Nebraska R. O. T. C. band this semester, bringing the total membership to seventy-four. Due to a better selective process now used in admitting men, it is difficult for any but good musicians to play in the band.

Many of the new men played for a semester in the Fine Arts band before entering the R. O. T. C. band. The new members are:

- Clarinets: Frederick Paronik, Wahoo; Gerald Larson, Harlan, Ia.; Fred Burchard, Falls City; Lawrence Collins, Wakefield; Herman Ball, David City; Robert Verner, Havelock.
- Trombones: Lowell Henney, Beatrice; Albe Dahl, Neleigh; Fred Brandhorst, Milford.
- Trumpets: Fay Smith, Bellwood; Ozro Dean, Broken Bow; Ben Gadd, Lincoln.

Zelen Will Compete In National Tourney

The privilege of competing in the national A. Z. A. oratorical contest is the good fortune of Max Zelen, university law student. Zelen was the delegate from the Lincoln chapter to the district contest in Sioux City, where he annexed first honors. The contest is to be held in Milwaukee late in March, and representatives from numerous A. Z. A. districts will try for honors. Zelen accompanied the Lincoln basketball team to Sioux City which lost in the final round to the Des Moines A. Z. A. team.

A. W. S. BOARD SELECTS SKITS FOR CO-ED SHOW

Co-Ed Follies Will Be Given Saturday Night in Temple Theatre at Seven

PRIZES WILL BE AWARDED

Six Skits Feature Versatile Entertainment of Songs, Humor and Dancing

Six skits, submitted by women's organizations on the Nebraska campus, have been selected by the Associated Womens' Student Board for presentation in the Co-Ed Follies to be held in the Temple theatre this coming Saturday evening at 7 o'clock. Rehearsal of the acts will begin at 9 o'clock Saturday morning. Acts of Delta Omicron, Gamma Phi Beta, Kappa Delta, Phi Mu, W. A. A., and a skit written by Hazel Johnson and LeNette Knox, which includes about ten girls in its cast, were selected by the judges as the ones to be presented.

"Souvenirs", submitted by Delta Omicron, musical sorority, is an original and novel act centering around a certain man and the treasure chest which contains his dreams, his hopes, and his "souvenirs". The presentation is primarily musical with a wide variety of musical talent introduced. It will include a dancing chorus of about ten girls. Popular musical numbers will be featured throughout Delta Omicron's skit.

"Shooting of Dan McGrew" Kappa Delta has arranged an interpretation of Service's, "The Shooting of Dan McGrew". Humor will be introduced into the act by unique costumes and clever acting to (Continued on Page 3)

ART EXHIBITS ARE DISPLAYED

Pictures of American School Of Painting Shown Here This Week

NEW PICTURES ARRIVE

Pictures belonging to the contemporary American school of painting will be exhibited at Morrill Hall from February 15 to 18. The artists exhibiting are all Americans or those who have identified themselves with our traditions and technique.

This is the thirty-eighth annual exhibition held by the Nebraska Art Association, and the second of their exhibitions to be held in Morrill Hall. Nebraska Art Association has held annual art exhibits for almost as many years as has the Chicago Art Institute, the Chicago Art Institute have just closed its fortieth annual exhibition.

Familiar names are found among the artists exhibiting this year. Although new pictures have arrived, Carlson is represented at nearly every annual with one of his snow-scapes. Berninghaus with his "An Old Man of the Paebel" is not a newcomer from Taos. R. Sloan Bredin with a finished style has appeared in canvas many times. "The (Continued on Page 3)

Famous Marionettes of Tony Sarge To Furnish Thrilling Drama Here

"All Baba and the Forty Thieves" will be in Lincoln Tuesday evening, February 14, under the auspices of the University Players. Fifty-two of Tony Sarge's famous marionettes are scheduled to perform the wonders of the Arabian Nights story in a manner that is the most amazing display of mechanical skill and splendor on the American stage.

University students and people of all ages from six to sixty will have the rare opportunity to see the famous little wooden-headed actors do everything from performing an acrobatic dance to eating. These tiny puppets are manipulated by over 9,000 strings, and command the careful attention of eight skilled operators. (Continued on Page 2)

Anniversary of U. of N. Birth Will Be Feted

Celebration of the University of Nebraska's "birthday" Wednesday will be observed in scores of cities throughout the United States by groups of alumni meeting at banquets and dinners.

On February 15, 1869, Governor David Butler signed a bill passed by the state legislature granting a charter to the University of Nebraska. Since then, on February 15 each year the University has celebrated its "birthday." In the old days students, faculty members, and alumni joined in a day of speechmaking and other activities befitting the occasion. Today, with alumni scattered from coast to coast, the observances will be held separately.

In Nebraska many alumni groups will have faculty members as the speakers at their dinners, and moving pictures of campus scenes, which were taken last week will be shown.

UNIVERSITY NIGHT MATERIAL NEEDED

Campus Gossip and Ideas Wanted By Committee; February 15 Is Deadline for Skits

Persons wishing to contribute "scandal" suitable for use on slides in University Night, March 17 in the Playhouse, are requested; to drop the written "kampus kracks" in the gossip-box provided for them in the corner of Social Sciences.

"All material is welcome," announced Wilbur Meade, chairman of the University Night committee. The cleverest ideas will be used on slides to be shown in the program. Addition has been made to the slide feature. It consists of an interpretive cartoon, drawn by University talent, on each slide.

Prizes Offered

February 15 has been set as deadline for the submitting of skits for University Night. Many fraternities, sororities and other organizations are working on skits. Two prizes will be given in connection with these acts. An etching will be presented to the Greek-letter organization that has the best skit, and a $20 cash prize for the best act presented by an honorary society.

University Night is made up of vaudeville acts, university humor, and song and dance skits. It includes campus puns and "kracks," all of which are of interest to a collegiate audience. It is necessary for the skits, which may be submitted to Wilbur Mead, to carry out this idea.

STALLION SELLS FOR $600 TO COLORADO AG

The University of Nebraska just recently sold a two year old Percheron stallion to the Colorado Agricultural College, Fort Collins, Colorado for $600.00. This colt was first in a strong class of two year olds at the Denver Livestock Show the first part of January.

This stallion was from a mare bred by T. B. Bowman & Sons, at Boone, Nebraska.

Sleepy Staggering Freshmen Finally Rest After Three Day Entertainment

Fraternity Houses Dazzle; City Is Quiet Again, and Animals Peak Out After Being Pursued Three Nerve-racking Days.

By Fritz Daly

The din and strife of probation slowly died away last evening and Lincoln milkmen found the city deserted as far as freshmen were concerned, when they started on their routes early this morning. Here and there a straggler stumbled along, completing his last journey into unknown territory, returning with a hidden prize. Latest reports from the fraternity houses show that all neophytes were "present or accounted for" this morning and with one or two exceptions, were intact, physically and mentally.

Spring housecleaning made an early appearance throughout the campus, Saturday. Fraternity

POOL WILL TALK BEFORE SIGMA XI

National Fraternity and Public Will Be Informed About Norwegian People

LECTURE BASED ON VISIT

"The Fjords and Fields of Gamble Norge" is the subject of a lecture to be given by Dr. Raymond J. Pool, chairman of the department of botany, at an open meeting of Sigma Xi, national scientific fraternity, Monday evening at eight o'clock in the Morrill hall auditorium.

Dr. Pool will at this time speak about the hills and fields of old Norway, as indicated from the title when translated into the English language. In addition, he will present a study of the primitive natural background of the people of that country, and the development of their civilization, science and culture.

Stereopticon views of various parts of the country will accompany the lecture. These pictures were taken by Dr. and Mrs. Pool while they were in Norway several years ago.

The meeting is open to the public.

NEBRASKANS TAKE PART IN CONVENTION

Nebraska Professors and Alumni Will Talk and Superintend Electrical Show

Former Nebraskans will have an important part in the winter convention program of the American Institute of Electrical Engineers, to be held in New York city this week.

One of the sessions is held under the auspices of the committee on protective devices, whose chairman is Fred L. Hunt, a graduate of the University in 1902, now general manager of the Connecticut River Conservation company, and advisor for a number of New England utilities.

Albert M. Candy, '09, will give a paper in another session on "Arc Welded Structures and Bridges." Mr. Candy is an electrical engineer for the Westinghouse company at East Pittsburgh, Pa.

At the engineering convention radio communication will be established with the Institution of Electrical Engineers in London, and the addresses given at each place will be heard by both audiences. Dean O. J. Ferguson of the College of Engineering will attend.
