

Sleepy Freshmen Finally Rest

formals their being plenty of service from sleepy-eyed freshmen.
The test has been hard and trying but to date few have given in. Orders have been fulfilled exactly and those that have found it difficult to carry out desires and wishes of harsh upperclassmen have died valiantly in the attempt. Historic traditions have been impressed firmly upon the neophyte minds, strengthening their qualifications for initiation.

Sleep Is Welcome

The excitement has slowly passed away. Upperclassmen appear tired and worn, and all are of the same opinion that the last three days have been long and tiresome, as well as entertaining. Today is a welcomed day, for all concerned, and sleep and rest are the predominating issues. The past fifty-four hours have seemed ages but it has all ended as sudden as it started.

Freshmen that have scowled at unheard of duties have found a new lease on life and mutterings and grumbings have turned to feeble smiles and now and then loud, responsive laughter as they begin to turn over in their minds the experiences of the past few days.

Fun After All

To the upperclassmen it has been entertaining. To the pledges it has been a drudgery, but a drudgery that none would have missed. For months to come they will gather to talk over their probation days and all will agree that they wouldn't have missed it for the world.

Art Exhibits Are Displayed

Side Walks of New York" will represent Grabach and his love of the everyday life.

Lincoln art lovers have long admired the pictures of Eugene Higgins who is sending "Fisherwomen of Galway". Emma Fordyce Mac Rae is remembered for a decorative piece last year entitled "Iris". This year her contribution is "Stelka".

William S. Schwartz, who had a one man exhibit in Morrill Hall during November and December, will exhibit some of his work also. Schwartz is remembered for the luminous quality of his paintings. Paul Trebilcock had a picture in the exhibit several years ago in the gallery in the Library building entitled "A Lady from New England". This year a portrait, "Amelia Chiarina Castaldo" promises to be of a very different type than his former picture.

Desire to see prize winning pictures can be satisfied at the exhibit this year. A number of prize winning pictures come direct to Lincoln from Chicago. Among these will be included the works of Marceca Barton, Ross Moffett, and J. Jeffrey Grant, which were awarded prizes and honorable mention at the annual show in Chicago.

"Nude", a painting by Samuel Halpert will be among the prize winners. This painting won the Norman Wait Harris bronze medal and cash award at the most important of the Chicago winter exhibits.

In addition to the works by old favorites there will be many new names among the exhibitors to stimulate interest and satisfy those who look for the novel and at the same time effective expression of the artist's creative ability.

The exhibit is open to the public, and may be found in the art gallery on the second floor of Morrill Hall.

Sigma Phi Sigma Gives Charter

1921 and 1922. The organization temporarily disbanded, but in the fall of 1925 it was revived as a local social fraternity, and since that time has made good headway on the campus.

A petition was sent to Sigma Phi Sigma in the fall of 1927, and favorable action was taken on it by the governing body of that organization.

Omicron chapter is the fifteenth chapter of Sigma Phi Sigma to be installed. The mother chapter of the organization is at the University of Pennsylvania where the fraternity was founded in 1908 by Brice H. Long, Percy H. Wood, and Guy P. Needham. The Nebraska chapter is the second chapter of Sigma Phi Sigma to be installed in schools comprising the Big Six athletic conference. The other chapter is Lambda at the University of Missouri.

The national office of Sigma Phi Sigma is at Champaign, Illinois, where the official publication, the Sigma Phi Sigma Monad, is published. The colors of the fraternity are gold and white and the flowers the jonquil and lily of the valley. The pin is composed of a gold jeweled Phi superimposed upon two gold Sigmas.

List of Members

The following active members of Kappa Rho Sigma were initiated at the ceremony Friday night: Paul R. Jenkins, Gothanburg; Victor H. Sylvan, Gothanburg; Royal C. Kiser, Tipton, Kas.; Lyee J. Klotz, Exeter; Raymond E. McCormick, Lincoln; Frank C. Summers, Beatrice; Everett N. Hanson, Kennard; Geoffrey R. King, Arapahoe; Corda L. Wiemers, Diller; Mark Q. Swan, Melbeta; Robert M. Evans, Atkinson; Bernard E. Halstead, Lincoln; and O. E. Gauger, Eustis.

The following alumni returned for the initiation and installation: Arthur N. Huddleston, Crowell, Texas; Murry. E. Dilley, Friend; Elmer Pond, Plainview; Herbert C. Matzen, Yutan; Hubert G. Stamp, Yutan; Verle McBride, Belgrade; Wendell Dodd, Randolph, Iowa; Harold A. Morrison, Stapleton; Joe M. Kadlack, Hay Springs; and Edwin Streetz, Tipton, Kas.

Honorary Members Initiated

W. M. Stebbins, state treasurer of Nebraska, and Vernon Morrison, instructor in the College of Business Administration and Dr. R. L. Stockman, Sioux City, Iowa, at the University, were initiated at honorary members Saturday evening at the chapter house.

The program for installation was completed with a formal banquet and dinner dance at the Cornhusker Hotel Saturday night. Elmer Pond acted as toastmaster at the banquet and responses were made by W. M. Stebbins, E. F. Schramm, chairman of the inter-fraternity council, and the installation team.

The dinner dance was sponsored by Dean and Mrs. J. E. LeRoussignol, Dr. J. E. Kirshman and E. F. Schram.

accompany the reading of the well-known poem. According to a description of the novelty offered by this Nebraska sorority, "the bar-room atmosphere is ever-present, aided by the bar-room queens and the arctic shieks". "The lady known as Lu" promises to be a startling surprise. The tragedy of the story promises to be very touching, with an appropriate climax.

"Pathe News"

Movie fans will be favored with an agreeable surprise in the "Pathe News" skit, to be presented by the Womens' Athletic Association. A girl dressed as a page will hold cards upon which will be printed the subtitles for news events. Each sub-title will be followed by a dancing act, interpreting the announcement. The entire skit will be a play upon words, featuring novel dancing effects.

Tumbling Act

A tumbling act including a novel variety of combinations is included in the skit submitted by Hazel Johnson and LaNette Knox. The act is planned to be a snappy ten-minute entertainment "which could last longer". Simple costumes will be worn by the ten or twelve girls who take part in the tumbling medley.

"Up Above"

"Up Above", planned by Phi Mu, will feature striking stage effects and beautiful costumes. It contains an element of the fantastical, a suggestion of dreams, but snap and tang centers around the legendary "Man-in-the-Moon" and the traditional "Lady Who Should-Be-in-the-Moon." A well-trained chorus, a collection of popular music, and a campus theme of local color will be included in the act.

Valentine Theme

The seasonable valentine theme is woven into Gamma Phi Beta's act. It will consist of the entrance into view, through a large heart-shaped door, of girls representing valentines. Each valentine will dance, and the act will end in an ensemble. The Co-Ed Follies is given for women only, and will last from 7:30 until 9 o'clock next Saturday evening. Tickets will be sold at the door for twenty-five cents. No advance sale is being carried on. The money taken in will be used for the building, sometime in the future, of a Cooperative house on the University of Nebraska campus.

Of the six skits presented the two best will be presented with fifteen and ten dollar prizes, respectively.

Students Vote on Presidents Next Tuesday

Ornan King, the other candidate for this position is a Pershing Rifle, sophomore basketball manager and a member of Kappa Sigma.

Coburn Tomson, freshman class president candidate, is a track man. He is a member of Phi Kappa Psi. His home is in Lincoln.

W. Keith Myers, the other freshman candidate, is a Daily Nebraskan reporter and is on the Cornhusker staff. He is a Theta Chi.

Reels Showing Lincoln and Campus Features Are Used

Scenes of Lincoln and the University of Nebraska are being shown throughout the United States in a National Press Association motion picture reel. The pictures were made by the Conservation and Survey Division of the University and show the journey of the Nebraska Press Association through the Black Hills last summer.

Recent showings of the film in Pennsylvania were at the Quakertown High School on January 8, at the Quakertown Rotary Club on January 10, at the Pennsylvania State Press Association on January 28 and at the Hospital for the Insane on February 2.

The reels were shown at the New York Press Association Convention on February 4, and at the Wisconsin Convention of February 9. The pictures were seen by the South Dakota Convention February 16, and the Minnesota Convention on February 17.

"The Goose Hangs High"
A play that portrays with great good humor and truth the efforts of a modern family to adjust themselves to difficult circumstances—
"THE GOOSE HANGS HIGH" was the initial production of the Dramatists' Theater, Inc. Six American Playrights, Owen Davis, James Forbes, Cosmo Hamilton, William Anthony McGuire, Arthur Richman and Edwards Childs Carpenter, all banded together to produce their own works and some idea of the merit of this play may be gained from the fact that they shelved their own manuscripts and gave Lewis Beach's play precedence.
