LINCOLN
A young girl comes home and finds her parents on the verge of separation. She believes that trouble keeps married people together and proceeds to contribute her share of the trouble. The way she does it is a caution. "Love and Learn" is a fast moving comedy drama, light but pleasing. Esther Ralston and Lane Chandler both give delightful performances.

Mr. George Getsey, a popular radio artist, whom some of you have undoubtedly heard via the ether waves, is appearing at the Lincoln this week as an added attraction. He has an excellent voice and you will enjoy the brand new song numbers he is introducing.

Jack Waldron is a clever chap, whose comedy chatter and songs will tickle your funny bone. The four Chocolate Dandies have lots of pep but their singing is just so so. Their voices aren't so bad, but could be used to better advantage it seems to me, by harmonizing a little more.

Chaney and Fox offer a revue that comes right up to par. A pianist with a good voice, a tap dancer whose steps are plenty clever, plus the graceful exhibitions of Chaney and Fox, make this little revue a treat for lovers of dance and song. Special numbers by the orchestra and organist are O. K. The orchestra is getting a bit childish, it seems.

"Whispering Wires" is a corking good mystery story that will thrill you plenty. Almost another "Gorilla." The wonders of radio and long distance flying appear as mediocre accomplishments, compared to the feat enacted in "Whispering Wires." They shoot men by telephone. I hope you can figure it out, —I can't. You should enjoy your evening at the Liberty. It's as good a play as our stock company has offered for quite some time.

ORPHEUM

At last you have a chance to see a story on the screen just exactly as it was in book form. "Sorrell and Son" faithfully follows the book chapter after chapter. Whether you have read the book or not, you will find the picture interesting. If you don't like it, it will probably be due to the fact that it follows the book too closely; so closely that it moves a bit slowly at times. If you do like it, it will be because you like good drama. It is one of the most powerful dramas that has ever been shown here.

It is a story of a father's love for his son. An ex-army officer whose record and rank avail him nothing in his post-war quest for his daily bread. He slaves through the shame of his humiliating captivity,—a porter in a fashionable hotel. He ruins his health by over working. He suffers agonies of heart and soul,—pains which can perhaps only be appreciated by our dads, all this for the one he loved—his son. A touchingly beautiful picture that shows how a thoroughbred takes punishment. Superbly played by H. B. Warner and a fine cast.

A picture that I am proud to recommend to my dad—and yours. Herold Turner offer "Meditation" from "Thais," by Massenet. He is ably assisted by Miss Valareta Callen whose violin accompaniment is beautiful.

RIALTO

"The Big City" with Lon Chaney in the feature role, is a complicated melo-drama with some good action. Mr. Chaney is the master crook, who steps into a cabaret undisguised, captures the other crook's loot, hides it in a dish of spaghetti and gets away with it. The scene of underworld proficiency,—what say? Lon wears his God given face. He is well supported by the remainder of the cast which includes Betty Compton.

Huskers Drill For Week-End Games

feat 49 to 29 from the Missouri Tigers on the Columbia court Tuesday night. As usual, Thomson scored high honors for the Kansans and is expected to give the Varsity plenty of trouble tomorrow evening.

End Home Season Today

Ending the home season Tuesday, Feb. 28, with Grinnell, the Huskers will depart on a week-end jaunt and end the 1928 season with games at the Oklahoma and Oklahoma Aggie basket camps, March 3 and 5. Having defeated the Grinnell Pioneers on their own floor, the Nebraskans are rated to come out ahead in the week-day encounter. However, the Grinnell quintet piled up a comfortable lead in winning from the Kansas Ags Monday night. The Aggies have two wins over the Cornhuskers to their credit.

With five games remaining on the slate for this year, Nebraska can finish high up in the second division by winning a majority of the five contests. Although the Huskers are rated low in the Valley standings, they are prepared to give their best in each remaining game.

Husker Marksmen Make High Scores

braska rifle team who average highest at the end of the matches will be entered in the National Inter-Collegiate shoot to be held in the spring. The last shooting on the schedule will be March 31.

This year a new target has been placed on the range. It has a smaller "10" ring, being about half the diameter of the one on the old target. Scores have been a little lower on account of this, Captain Eggers said, men shooting 3600 this year on the new target having been able to shoot 3850 on the old target last year. Scores on the whole, Captain Eggers stated, have been better than last year.

Feeders Plan Annual Show at Ag College

The sixteenth annual feeders' meeting will be held at the College of Agriculture, Friday, April 20. The program is not completely made out at the present time, but the animal husbandry department states that a worth while program is being arranged. The experimental livestock that have been on feed all winter will be on display. A large crowd is expected this year due to the high prices of beef cattle which feeders have enjoyed all winter.

Yale Plans Return to Faculty Supervision

New Haven, Conn. (IP)—Unless the faculty want to retain the honor system or a sufficient number of undergraduates express an interest in it to insure it of future support, the system is gone from the Yale campus. The action was taken by the Yale Student Council at its last meeting. The council voted to return to faculty supervision of examinations and tests.

Iowa U Invades Scarlet Camp

Earl Luff who scored Nebraska's only win over Ames, has been steadily improving his form this week, and should be in prime condition. Another incentive, edging the Nebraska bone crushers to perfect their form, is the match with Missouri, to be held at the Coliseum March 3. The men are counting on the Iowa meet to put them in excellent shape to defeat the Tiger wrestlers.

University at Seattle Expels Two Students

quarterback, and Hale Johnson, basketball guard. The suspended students declared in their confession that at least 100 students representing various campus groups, knew of the plan to haze Zioncheck in advance. They declared that they carried out the implied sentiment of at least two thousand students who resented the student president's attack on the graduate manager. The two who were expelled, it was said, were singled out because they already were on probation.

Alumni Plan Increase in Salaries of Faculty

Plans for a campaign for $2,000,000 to increase the salaries of the faculty and to provide for a pension fund, were made by six hundred Princeton alumni at their annual meeting recently. The Moses Taylor Payne prize of $500 is to be awarded, this year, to H. Chapman Rose of Columbus, O. The senior, each year, considered most active and of the most value to his class receives the prize. Rose is chairman of the Daily Princetonian, undergraduate newspaper, and president of the student council.

HANEY RADIOCASTS ON COMMERCIAL AVIATION

"Aviation as a Commercial Asset" was the subject of a radio talk last week by Prof. J. W. Haney, chairman of the department of mechanical engineering, broadcast from the University's radio studio over Station KFAB. Professor Haney discussed the possibilities of commercial aviation and the progress already made in that field.

"Snap" Courses Will Be Included at Columbia

New York City, (IP)—"Snap" courses are soon to be a regular part of the Columbia University curriculum, according to Dean Herbert E. Hawkes, who declares that there are many students who gain more from just sitting in on an interesting but easy course than they would from intensive outside work in the course.

EVEN a heel can have good manners, and carry a quiet, easy dignity wherever it goes. That's why you see rubber heels on more and more good footwear now, and hear less of the clump-thump-bump of the old hard heels. Of all rubber heels, Goodyear Wingfoot Heels are greatly preferred—we know they are because more people walk on Goodyear Wingfoot Heels than on any other kind—and preferred for these very reasons of good style and cushioning. They look fine, feel better, and last longer. Bob into the community repair shop and see how quickly and neatly the expert repairman puts on new Goodyear Wingfoot Heels—today!
