CINDER ARTISTS TRAIN FOR MEET

Schulte Grooms Nebraskans To Compete with Best Valley Offers

Intensive training is on Coach Henry F. Schulte's program for the Cornhusker cindermen who will meet the cream of the other Valley schools' tracksters in the Missouri Valley indoor championship meet at Des Moines, Friday and Saturday, March 9 and 10. The Nebraska team is not a favorite among track prophets to win the Valley indoor track title, but Coach Schulte is working hard to develop the material at hand, and should cause the other Valley mentors a great deal of worry before the title is awarded.

Promising Material

In Krause and Thompson, Coach Schulte has two promising hurdlers who should give their opponents at Des Moines some fast competition. Easter and Snyder, sprint men, have been setting up some good marks in the dashes. This is the first year of varsity competition for these men but they have had the experience of the Kansas City Athletic club meet (Continued on Page 2.)

SEVERAL TEAMS ARRIVE FOR TILT

More Than 2,000 Athletes Are Expected for Annual High Tourney

PREPARATIONS ARE MADE

(By Jack Lowe)

With the opening round of the state high school basketball tournament but two days distant, the basketball fever has gripped Lincoln, and athletic officials are working overtime, preparing to accommodate the vast host of athletes expected. Several teams from the western and northern parts of the state arrived in Lincoln yesterday, and by tomorrow noon, over two thousand high school athletes will probably be in the city.

130 Games Thursday

This year's meet, although not the largest in the history of the state, is by far the largest high school event that will be sponsored this year. Two hundred and sixty two teams will play 130 games on Thursday, and when the smoke of the first day's activities clears, half of the contestants will have been eliminated from further participation.

The growth of the Nebraska high school basketball tournaments is considered marvelous. From the 1911 tourney, when 21 teams were entered, the event enjoyed a steady growth until 1925 when the district championship form of tournament was held. (Continued on Page 3.)

Spring Causes R. O. T. C. Men To Resume Drill

(By William Westfall)

Military commands mingled with the familiar "tramp" of marching feet, are again being heard across the campus with the resumption this week of outside drill by the Reserve Officers Training corps of the University. Lectures have supplemented the usual outside drill for the members of the corps since Armistice Day, when cold weather drove the men inside.

If figures don't lie, however, the large number of student cars appearing on the streets recently must be an indication that spring cannot "be far behind." With this in mind, the commanding officers are again drilling their companies outside, in an effort to remove some of the unavoidable "rustiness" of movements which accumulate during the period of inside work.

"We're in the Army Now"

According to the freshman cadets, they get more than their share of the work, for they must drill three hours a week, while the sophomores get only an hour a week of "It"—not the Elinor Glyn kind. The sophomores, too, will soon be thinking "You're in the army now," for they will drill three hours a week, starting shortly after the first of April.

But there is a reason for more things than "postum," and the military department is not without its reasons. In two months the annual military inspection will be held, in which Nebraska will compete with other schools in the United States to retain its rating as a "Distinguished College," and wear the blue star of distinction in military work. The "blue star" rating was won in 1924 and also in 1925, but in the inspection of 1926 Nebraska lost the right (Continued on Page 2.)

Home Ec Department Displays Collection Of Rare Embroideries

The Home Economics department is exhibiting in room 501 at the Home Economics building, for the first week of March a collection of old embroideries from many European countries including Italy, France, Spain, Russia and Turkey, as well as some from India and Persia. This exhibit contains original examples of embroidery done from the sixteenth century A. B. to the nineteenth century. Some of the pieces are very beautiful in color and design and their technique will be of interest to the people who are interested in work of this kind. The exhibit has been sent to the department by the American Federation of Arts, at Washington, D. C.

LEWIS OUTLINES PROGRAMS FOR SPORT TOURNEY

Director Wishes to Dispose of Contests Before High Tourney Starts

FOUR CLASSES TO PLAY

Handball, Horseshoe Contests Free Throw and Play Off In Class B Called

James Lewis, director of intramural athletics, yesterday outlined the programs for the continuation of the sport tourney. His announcements had to do with the handball and horseshoe tourneys, the free throw contests and the play off in Class B of the basketball tournament. Lewis is desirous of having fraternities affected by the schedules act at once, so as to clear the sports stage before the state high school basketball tournament starts.

Play at Coliseum Tonight

Four teams must yet play in the Class B basketball games before the championships can be decided. Alpha Gamma Rho and Phi Sigma Kappa are scheduled to meet on the Coliseum floor tonight at 7:30 o'clock and Sigma Alpha Epsilon and the Pi Kappa Alpha will tangle at the same time.

The final round of the free throw contest is also scheduled to be disposed of today when the six high fraternities, Delta Tau Delta, Phi Gamma Delta, Pi Kappa Alpha, Kappa Sigma, Delta Sigma Phi, and Sigma Phi Epsilon will throw for high total scores. The five high men from each fraternity will take twenty free throws and the team total will be considered in announcing the winner. The basketball courts will be open for this contest from 4 to 4 o'clock this afternoon and from 7 to 8 o'clock this evening.

COOPER FAVORS MORE OUTLAWRY OPINIONS

Cotner Professor Gives Impression Of Three-day Conference On 'War Outlawry'

That student groups should continue to hold outlawry of war conferences was the opinion expressed by Professor Vernon Cooper, of the history department of Cotner college, speaking before a group of students at the Temple Sunday afternoon. "What Can We Do About It?" was the subject of his lecture, which marked the close of a three-day conference on the "Outlawry of War." Summing up the impression of the conference on the group as a whole, Mr. Cooper stated that the conference had brought out in clear relief the magnitude of the obstacles that must be overcome to put into effect any practical plan for the outlawry of war.

Helps Create Public Opinion

"Although the temptation is to feel that any discussion as that carried on here is futile," he declared, "I wish to urge very strongly that such an impression is false since the ultimate solution of the problem must depend upon the creation of an enlightened public opinion." Such conferences as the one held here last week end, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., and Cosmopolitan Club, are very effective in the creation of public opinion, according to the speaker. It is for that reason he suggests the continuance of such conferences.

What About the Other Patient?

Grades Bring Grief and Joy For Scholars

(By Bill McCleery)

"It's a great old school—what?" was heard from the lips of some thousands of undergraduates students on the receipt of grade cards yesterday. A number of embryo Ivy Day orators burst forth in rare praises (etc., etc.) of their respective instructors on the memorable occasion.

Regular as Clockwork

As regularly as clockwork the grade cards come out anywhere between the first and twelfth weeks of the second semester to inform students of their various individual scholastic accomplishments. The tradition, (probably started by Doctor Condra,) has become so well established that students are not at all surprised to receive the official documents. They are sometimes mistaken for bids to the Phi Delta formal. Announcement will probably be (Continued on Page 3.)

JUDGES ARE CHOSEN FOR ORATORY BOARD

Dr. Wimberly and Dr. Merrill Are Appointed on Nebraska to Serve in Contest

Dr. Lowry C. Wimberly, assistant professor of English, and Dr. Maurice H. Merrill, assistant professor of law, have been appointed to serve on the board of judges for the territorial contest in the fifth nation and third international oratorical contest on the constitution of the United States for high schools.

The contest will be held in the Technical High school auditorium, Omaha, the night of April 27, and will be between the winners of the eight district contests in this territory. More than 250 high school students have entered the contest.

Participating contestants have the choice of one of two subjects offered. These topics are "The Development of the Constitution of the United States" and "The Present Significance of the Constitution of the United States."

Other members of the board of judges working with Dr. Wimberly and Dr. Merrill are Federal Judge J. W. Woodrough, Dean Louis J. T. Peol, Creighton university, and Charles W. Taylor, state superintendent of public instruction.

Many Coeds Take Part In Athletic Contests

Twenty-One Organizations Entered Intramural Sports During Past Season

Twenty-one co-ed organizations have participated in intramural athletics during the past season. The bowling and basketball tournaments were taken by Alpha Delta Pi teams, winning for that group 200 points, the highest total yet made. Alpha Delta Theta, runner-up in the bowling tournament, and Delta Zeta, runner-up in basketball, are tied for second place with 125 points each. An Oikema Apartment team and Zeta Tau Alpha have both won 53 points, and Gamma Phi Beta is next with 37 1-2 points, closely followed by Phi Mu with 35. Alpha Xi Delta Chi Omega, Dormitory A, and a team living at 1437 S street all have 30 points. As soon as the inter-class W. A. A. basketball tourney, starting the coming week, is played off an intramural volleyball tournament will be held.

Three Lower Classes Will Hold Meetings

Class meetings have been called for this afternoon by the three lower class presidents. All meetings will be held at 5 o'clock in Social Sciences. The juniors will meet in the auditorium, the sophomores in S. S. 107 and the freshmen in S. S. 101.

DEAN EXPLAINS ACTIVITY RULE

Eligibility for Participation In School Functions Is Definitely Given

RULES NOW IN EFFECT

Eligibility rules for student activities, as read in classes Monday, contained an error in the date on which they become effective, according to announcement from the office of T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs. The new ruling became effective in September 1927, instead of 1928, as stated in the announcement appearing yesterday.

In order that there may be no misunderstanding on the part of students regarding activities eligibility, the Senate rules on this matter effective in September 1928, and as explained by the dean of student affairs is as follows:

Requirements Listed for Eligibility

"A student, who, in any semester, is not satisfactorily carrying at least twelve hours is debarred from acting as departmental assistant or representing the University that semester on any athletic or debate team or board, on a glee, mandolin, or dramatic club, on the staff of any college publication or in any other University organization; moreover, a student who has not satisfactorily (Continued on Page 3.)

The following acts have been assigned to the indicated members of the University committee:

'Hell Week' Is Slowly Fading Out on Campus Of Sooner University

Norman, March 5—(Special)—The bungling footsteps of Old Man Civilization is threatening to put a crimp into one of the most ancient and honored traditions on the campus of the University of Oklahoma—"Hell Week."

The picturesque period in the life of every fraternity freshman, with its long midnight searches for black-rats, mustache cups, and yellow dogs; its broken barrel staves, and all its tomfoolery, has seen the beginning of the end, campus sages say.

Recently one of the men's fraternities abolished the practice entirely, and several others are threatening similar action. Most of the women's organizations have already done away with the annual affair.

The modern conservative movement which has for some time been in power at eastern universities has invaded the western schools, it is believed, and it will be only a matter of time until "Hell week" will be done away with entirely here.

The chief objection to the practice has been that it disrupts a student's school work in keeping him up at late hours and preventing efficient study during the period.

HUSKERS LOSE LAST GAME TO SOONER AGGIES

Two Minutes to Play Finds Nebraska Ahead But Rally Ties Close Contest

BROWN HIGH POINT MAN

Final Ranking of Nebraska in Valley Race Will Depend On Week-End Results

Losing the last game of the 1928 basketball season, in a nip and tuck affair, the Nebraska basketekers took the small end of a 47 to 43 score in a tilt with the Oklahoma Aggies at Stillwater Monday night. Both teams played in and out ball, the game either approaching the spectacular or resembling a high school contest.

Nebraska clearly outplayed the Aggie quintet the greater part of the game but lacked the final punch to repulse a last minute Sooner Aggie rally. With two minutes of the tussle still to be played, the Cornhuskers were two points to the good. Just before the final gun sounded, Collins slipped in a basket from the side and tied up the contest.

Brown Plays Last Game

In the extra-period playoff, "Jug" Brown, playing his last game in Nebraska togs, scored on a long shot and it looked like a win for the Cornhuskers. Collins and McCoy got busy for the Oklahomans before the period ended and ran up three baskets to put the Ag-men ahead.

The work of Brown and Munn was outstanding for the Huskers. In addition to taking high point honors, Brown's floorwork made the Monday game one of the best ever played on the Stillwater court. Grace, Husker sophomore, and Holm, guard, also contributed offensive and defensive strength to the Nebraska five. Statton and McCoy provided the best play for the Oak Aggies and aided in (Continued on Page 3.)

MATMEN PLAN FOR CONTEST

Wrestlers Prepare for Match In Missouri Valley Meet This Week-End

Nebraska's varsity wrestling team will entrain Thursday for Columbia, Mo., where the 1928 Missouri Valley wrestling meet is being held on Friday and Saturday. With two successive victories over Iowa and Missouri in the past two weeks, the Cornhuskers hold high hopes of tucking away laurels in the Valley matches.

Coach Kellogg permitted his charges to take things easy last night, merely putting them through a few drills to loosen their muscles. Tonight and tomorrow he expects to correct a few faults disclosed in the Missouri match, so as to insure the Husker grapplers, perfect form for the week-end.

"Chief" Davis, 175 lb., representative of the Nebraska team, showed real form in pinning his Missouri opponent Saturday night, and looks like a good bet for honors at the Columbia meet. Toman, wrestling at 158 pounds, also added another victory to his string. Toman has been one of Nebraska's most consistent performers this year, winning every match except in the bouts with the crack Ames contingent.

For a number of years before Miss Coppock's death the University Y. W. C. A. annually raised money to help in support of the Y. W. C. A. work in China. After her death the fund has been raised as a memorial and is sent to China as an expression of the Nebraska women's good will toward the Chinese women.

Dr. Barbour To Return From Eastern Trip Soon

Prof. E. H. Barbour announces in a letter received by the museum staff that he hopes to return to Lincoln in a few days from New Haven, Conn., where has had been called February 12 by the serious illness of his wife.

Mrs. Barbour, who has been suffering from erysipelas, has sufficiently recovered so that she will be able to accompany Professor Barbour home.
