

Home Ec Institution Class Takes Annual Trip to Omaha Factories

Members of the institutional management class of the department of home economics, under the direction of Miss Berniece Elwell, manager of the Agricultural College cafeteria, spent three days last week in Omaha visiting factories and other large institutions. This is an annual trip which is taken for the purpose of gaining new ideas and information to be used in class work.

The girls went to Omaha Wednesday afternoon and that evening were entertained at a chow mein dinner at Peacock Inn.

Three trips were taken Thursday forenoon. The first of these was through the Swift Packing plant and were guests of this company at lunch. The group then went through the new Exchange building, where they were especially interested in the kitchen and dining room.

The members of the institutional management class feel that they have been greatly benefited by this trip. The Omaha firms who entertained the girls so royally are to be complimented on the interest they have shown in the trips they have conducted.

Firms Play Host
Thursday noon the girls were entertained by the women's division of the Chamber of Commerce and the Ak Sar Ben Exposition company, followed by a trip through the factory of the Skinner Manufacturing company.

The trip through the Iten Biscuit factory was of great interest to the class. Following this trip the girls were entertained at an afternoon tea by the Omaha club, a very exclusive club. The model electric kitchen of the Nebraska Power company was visited, where the girls were guests of Miss Robertson.

Friday morning the girls were joined by Mr. W. J. Loeffel and the girls in the meat class. They went through the factory of the Omaha Fixture and Supply company where hotel equipment and supplies are manufactured. The girls then visited the telephone building and saw the kitchen and dining room, the local and long distance operation rooms and the recreation rooms.

No telephone operator here works more than two hours at a time, and she then has fifteen minutes recreation before starting work again. The third trip of the morning was to the South Omaha high school cafeteria. Here 1000 meals are served each noon to the school children.

Ann Arbor Votes New College System Down

Ann Arbor, Mich.—(IP)—Rejecting the proposed University college plan by a decisive majority the faculty of the Colleges of Engineering and Architecture at the University of Michigan gave a distinct setback to the plan which would have revolutionized the first two years of college instruction at the university.

Under the proposed plan all students entering one of the colleges of the University would first have had to go through two years of a junior college to be established on the campus. The faculty of the dissenting colleges declared that they believed the disadvantages of such a plan would offset the advantages.

coat, with a velvet collar and fly front has been so popular during the winter that many university students will order for spring wear a garment of the same cut, but made in a lighter shade of gray and without the velvet collar.

Rising in the field of fashion, the natural shade camel's hair polo coat, a loose double-breasted garment, has been observed in increasing numbers by Fairchild style reporters visiting the different colleges and universities in various parts of the country. In the East particularly this type of coat has made a strong impression as a between-season garment. Fashion authorities look for an even greater demand for this type of coat in the coming early fall, as it is suitable for wear at preliminary football games before the weather becomes extremely cold, and in the event of a mild autumn such as was experienced in the Eastern part of the country this year, can be worn right through to the final matches.

Other style tendencies noted in the most recent surveys include a swing on the part of Eastern students away from the pigskin glove in the direction of dark capeskin. Hitherto the pigskin had been the university man's favorite.

COLVIN DISCUSSES ESTES CONFERENCE

Regional Secretary of Y. M. C. A. Tells Members of Benefits Gained at Conclave

"Inspiration of addresses by famed speakers, and fellowship with thoughtful and earnest students from all over the country, are the two things that are of the highest value of the student conference at Estes Park this summer," declared Harold Colvin, regional secretary of the Y. M. C. A., speaking before a group of students at the Temple last week-end.

The conference, which is a joint affair of the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. will be held at Estes Park, Colo., June 6 to 16. The group meeting with Mr. Colvin last week-end consisted of students who represented these two organizations last year at this conference and those who are planning to go this year.

Will Debate Issues
Broadened outlook and new viewpoints on life which come to many students from these ten days at conference were some of the things stressed by the secretary. He also emphasized the fact that the educational value of the meeting will be furthered by having both sides of debated questions presented on such matters as economic and industrial problems.

Among the speakers who will be present at the Estes conference are Reinhold Niebuhr, associate editor of Christian Century, and author and pastor, of Detroit, Mich., Sherwood Eddy, lecturer and author, also of Detroit, and Norman Thomas, director of the league for industrial democracy, New York City.

At a luncheon Saturday noon at the Temple, Mr. Colvin met with the members of the University Y. M. C. A. advisory board, the cabinet members and several other students and faculty members interested in "Y" affairs.

Spring Hats Will Have High, Tapered Crowns

New York City, March 21.—(By Fairchild News Service)—Latest observations of university styles by experts of Men's Wear and the Daily News Record, authoritative style publications, indicate hats worn by American undergraduates this spring will have the high, tapered crown and narrow brim.

A more formal soft hat, which will replace the derby during the warm months, is the Homburg, which has a bound edge and a pronounced curl fore and aft in the brim, which is narrow. The less formal hats which have been approved by university students have much the same lines and the classic Homburg, but may be worn with the brim turned down, particularly if the brim has a raw edge.

Hat colors will be shades of light brown, with darker bands, and shades of gray ranging from a medium tint to a light pearl. Olive or grayish green will be worn by a few bold spirits and may gain considerable ground when it is introduced.

On Goodyear Wingfoot Heels

THE great difference between an easy, free-swinging stride and a slow, plodding step is very largely a matter of heels. Hard heels let you down hard—thump, bump. But rubber heels absorb the jolts and jars. Rubber gives, and lifts, and helps. Especially Goodyear Wing-foot Heels. They are all new, live cushioning rubber. They have style and they are Goodyear-guaranteed to outwear any other heels.

More people walk on Goodyear Wingfoot Heels than on any other kind. Your favorite shoe repairman specializes in Goodyear Wingfoot Heels. Why not a new pair today?
