

GRID MEN TURN OUT FOR DRILL

Sixty-Five Candidates Show Up for First Session of Spring Practice

BEARG IS WELL PLEASED

Taking up the first day of spring football practice with a strenuous drill, Coach Bearg and his five assistants sent approximately sixty-five squad candidates through performances which resulted in nothing more serious than bruises and sore muscles.

Dividing the squad into two parts, linemen and backfield candidates, "Bunny" Oakes assumed the task of limbering up the 40-odd linemen while Bearg superintended the workout of the remaining gridmen. Assisting Oakes were Lehman, Scherer, and Lawson. Coach Bearg had Charlie Black and Glen Presnell as his aides in teaching the backfield men the art of spinning and twirling away from tacklers.

Line Looks Fast
Linemen assembled could be characterized only by the words beefy and fast. An intensive drill on charging and duck walking after the setting up exercises showed the linemen to be in fair condition and of promise for future development.

With Maasdam, former Omaha grid star, at the center position, Bearg sent the backfield aspirants through a short practice on handling the ball. Setting up a row of tacklers, he then sent them down the row in an effort to give them practice in side stepping and spinning. Besides cleat cuts and bruises, both tacklers and runners came out of the hard grind in good condition.

Potts, who came from Missouri this year and who has been active on the track squad, turned out for a while in his track suit and displayed excellent early season running. His twirling and side stepping were high points in his favor.

Backfield Picked
Picking a temporary backfield composed of Farley, Sloan, Peaker, and Howell, Coach Bearg sent the quartet through a short ball-running drill.

near the end of the practice session. Pleased with the turn-out for the initial drill, Coach Bearg nevertheless wishes more men to turn out and says there are still uniforms on hand. Explaining the strenuous session, he pointed out that spring football drill is limited to fifteen days which allows no time for loitering. Practices will be held the rest of this week, next week, and half of the following week so it is not too early for any one desiring to come out for practice to do so.

GRIDIRON SKILL WILL DECIDE BELL KEEPER

Winner Gets Bell

According to the rules agreed and disagreed upon, the winner of the athletic onslaught shall have the bell to repose on their sacred citadel for another 360 odd days. There is a provision in the constitution allowing more fist fights, hotel brawls, and formal fisticuffs in case the Phi Deltis win thirty-nine consecutive football games. At any rate, both the fraternities want the publicity, and are willing to do "honorable" battle for it. Both claim rightful parentage to the bell, as the bell was captured, stolen, or coaxed away, when knighthood was in flower, and the Phi Deltis and the Deltis were keeping house together in a duplex apartment, steam heat n'everything.

Until the royal fracas, the bell shall repose, covered with dust and Phi Delt finger-prints, on a pedestal in the far northeast corner of the third floor, between the stairway and the sink, where none but friendly eyes shall glance upon it until next Thanksgiving day.

CINDER MEN HAVE OUTDOOR WORKOUT

Track Aspirants Take Advantage of First Real Warm Weather For Practice

Cornhusker track men took advantage of the fine spring track weather that the weather man served out Wednesday and took their first real outdoor workout on stadium field under Coach Henry F. Schulte.

While the football men were having their first taste of this spring's grid practice on the field south of the stadium, the cinder aspirants were circling the stadium track, practicing starts, and performing in the field events.

Becker, freshman sprinter, stepped the 220-yard dash in the fastest time during the afternoon with a mark of 22.4 seconds to his credit. Coach Schulte had most of the men run the furlong as a conditioner for future competition.

Dead Heat Is Run

Campbell and Davenport, members of the Cornhusker mile relay team, ran a dead heat in the 220-yard sprint covering the distance in 23.1 seconds. Campbell later ran another heat alone and broke the tape in 22.9 seconds.

Coach Schulte spent some time with the sprinters and hurdlers on starting. The trouble with most of the Husker runners is that they do not get out of their holes fast enough. Since this is such an important phase of running Coach Schulte has been spending some time with this work.

Co-Eds Will Pay Bills At South Dakota Leap Year Dance Given Men

Vermillion, S. D., March 21.—Men are to be seen and not heard at the University of South Dakota March 20 when the women students on the campus will hold a leap year dance under the auspices of the Theta Delta Pi, local professional journalism sorority.

The girls boast that for once in their lives the men students will be put and kept in the background. The girls are to make the date for the dance, pay all bills for the evening's entertainment, trade all dances, and go after their dates and take them home. The rules strictly state that no man will be admitted without proper escort.

Although similar dances have been held in other schools the university girls insist that the men will have a special opportunity to find out what it is like to be seen and not heard.

SOCK'S 'EM GETS $100.00!

Bill and Jack were typical college boys,—always broke! To make their expenses, they had that of running everything from a hamburger stand to a near-beer factory,—some of these plans never worked.

"Bill, we've got to sell something that is good and at bargain prices."

"Jack, I've beat you to it."

"The same wonderful idea struck me the other day when I was looking at a hole in my sock, so I wrote the Superior Hosiery Company of 703 First Avenue North, Minneapolis, Minn., who cater to college men's furnishings, and who are the largest advertisers in the country selling men's hosiery exclusively, direct and just received their complete selling outfit FREE, and Jack, it's a knockout! Every color, fabric, and fancy style a fellow could want! 39 different styles,—and say—they've also got a line of the snappiest men's silk rayon under-garments—one and two piece suits."

"Jack, I'll have every fellow on the campus outfitted with a supply of spring and summer socks and underwear."

"Jack, send for it yourself, there's room for several fellows on this campus with 5,000 men buyers. Write them today for their complete free selling outfit."
