

Lobbying By "Al"

Some kind friend rises to ask: "Dear Al: Just what did you mean in your review of 'Sadie Thompson' by saying that this picture demonstrated how to slip a fast one over on the censors. M. F.?"

Well M. F., here is the story. When Gloria Swanson declared that she intended doing the screen version of 'Rain,' Will Hays and his co-workers, whose business it is to keep off the silver sheet all that is objectionable, simply said, "Nothing doing." And that was that. So Miss Swanson winked at the directors, and a meeting of United Artist officials was held—in secret. "We'll go right ahead and make the picture but we'll give it another name," "Sadie Thompson" for instance,—"and so the picture came out under its new name, though the story had not been changed a bit and Mr. Hays is probably feeling a bit foolish.

Bebe Daniels has recovered from the injuries she received while at work on "Hold Everything," being swept from the platform of an imitation pullman car by the overhanging branch of a tree. She is back on the job with as much pep as ever.

Phyllis Haver will be starred in "Tenth Avenue," a film version of the play.

The American rights to "Dawn" have been purchased. This is the film story of the nurse Cavell case, certain scenes of which were so hotly condemned in European countries.

Bessie Love is appearing on the speaking stage in the west coast production of the Broadway hit "Burl-lesque."

Since the Colman-Banky team has been broken up, Hollywood is looking for a blonde leading lady to play opposite Mr. Colman. All ambitious blondes may apply to Mr. Samuel Goldwyn.

John Barrymore is tired of the films and intends to return to the speaking stage in New York.

After having spent two million dollars and two years time on the film version of "Uncle Tom's Cabin," the producers are more than a little worried about its failure to 'Crash' the box office.

Mr. Harold Turner, the organist at the Orpheum, is one of the youngest musicians employed by the "Public Theater Corporation." Harold has been playing before Lincoln audiences for three years although he just recently celebrated his twentieth birthday.

ASSOCIATION DROPS VIRGINIA UNIVERSITY

North Central Expells Dixie School For Paying Football Men During Season

Morgantown, W. Va.—The University of West Virginia has been expelled from membership in the North Central Association of Colleges and Secondary Schools, for paying athletes and failing to audit its athletic funds. Specifically, it has been charged with paying members of the football squad.

The organization, which met last week in Chicago, comprises 251 colleges. Its action against West Virginia was the most drastic it ever has taken. The southern institution, which was granted membership two years ago, was censured last year for its athletic methods. It was ordered to clean up or get out. Representatives tried to stave off action at the latest conference by offering to make a change in policy, but its promise of reform came too late.

Inadequate supervision of athletic funds and proselyting by alumni were charged in the indictment. The executive committee insisted that the academic, health and character interests of student bodies should rank first. It recommended firm opposition to payment of money to athletes, and the abolition of free training tables.

Solicitation of prospective athletes by coaches through promises of money compensation was denounced also. Alumni of the University of West Virginia are charged with having established a fund with which to induce athletes to attend the University.

The conference also recommended that each school's athletic policy should be controlled by the faculty. It proposed that coaches be put on the same basis as other members of the faculty, both in relation to tenure of office, and salary. Coordination of athletic and general educational problems was given as the aim of the association by its president, Dr. H. M. Gage, president of Coe College.

Ten Drug Plants Are Successfully Raised at University of Oklahoma

Norman, April 2.—(Special)—The possibility of having a drug store in one's back yard may become a reality if experiments being carried on at the present time by Dr. Lloyd E. Harris, professor of pharmacy at the University of Oklahoma, are successful.

Last year Doctor Harris planted fifteen drug plants on the campus of the university. Ten of them were raised successfully. This year it is planned to plant a larger number of the drugs. Thirty-six varieties of mint foxglove, anise, castor beans, and atropa belladonna will be used in the experiment this spring, Doctor Harris said.

B. F. Wolfe, instructor in botany at the university, who is working out a project in landscape gardening, has agreed to arrange the plants in connection with his work, thus combining the two experiments.

Seeds for the drug planting experiment have been obtained from the bureau of plant industry at Washington, D. C., and the pharmaceutical experimental station at the University of Wisconsin, which is the largest pharmaceutical garden in the United States.

Part of the seeds have been planted in the university greenhouse and will later be replanted in a garden plot on the campus. Doctor Harris said. Should the experiment prove successful, a new field of industry may be opened in the state, it is believed.

STEP LIVELY!

Hayfoot, Strawfoot, Wingfoot, men! Strut her out and back again. You can't beat the way it feels. Stepping out on WINGFOOT HEELS.

LIFE travels at a nifty clip these days, in college as well as out, and to be among those who finish strong, you must be properly heeled. You may start out briskly enough on hard heels, for instance, but the constant jolt and jar of uncushioned steps will wear you down. Better get onto rubber—for rubber gives, and lifts, and helps.

Best of all, get onto Goodyear Wing-foot Heels. They are all fresh, live rubber; full of better cushioning, longer wear, and latest style. More people walk on Goodyear Wing-foot Heels than on any other kind. Your shoe repairman puts them on in 2:01 1/2. Just say, "new Goodyear Wingfoot Heels today!"
