Many Athletes Will Compete At K. U. Relays

Lawrence, Kans., April 14.—(Special)—It will be a real battle of state and college conferences when the more than a thousand athletes entered for the Sixth Annual Kansas Relays meet at the University of Kansas Memorial Stadium here the afternoon of April 21.

The Western Conference, Southwestern Conference, Rocky Mountain Conference and Missouri Valley Conference all will have athletes competing in the Kansas games.

Illinois Enters Relay

The University of Illinois, with its great collection of miles, will be the favorite in the four-mile university relay, having won that event at the Illinois Relays this spring in 17 minutes 56.5 seconds, which is considerably faster than the Kansas Relay record for the event set at 18 minutes 7.8 seconds by Oregon State College in 1925.

Iowa, of the Western Conference, also is sending a big squad to Kansas which will include Nelson in the weight events, winner of second in the shot up the Big Ten indoor meet this winter.

Beattie From Colorado

From the Rocky Mountain Conference will come Beattie of the Colorado Aggies, who will be remembered as a one-man track team in himself in the national inter-scholastic several years ago, and Texas University of the Southwestern Conference is sending a large squad including Shepherd, high jumper, who won at the Kansas Relays at 6 feet 4 inches in 1926.

Iowa State College, Missouri Valley Conference member, will have its usual strong medley and two-mile relay teams and several individual performers, one of whom is Soules, pole vaulter and high jumper.

The Kansas Relays will draw athletes from more than a dozen states and advance entries indicate that the lists will be larger even than last year when 112 schools sent teams.

PICTURES WILL BE SHOWN

Speaker Is 'Selling America To Americans'; Lecture Is Open to Public

Cora Johnstone Best, adventurer, author and lecturer, will be the guest of the University of Nebraska this week and will speak at a special convocation, not limited to students, at 11 o'clock Friday in the Temple theater.

"Thundering Rapids" will be the title of Dr. Best's talk, and it will be illustrated by moving pictures and slides. Her lecture is one of the outstanding features of the year's convocation program, according to Prof. Paul H. Grumann, director of the School of Fine Arts at the university.

Pictures Are New

Dr. Best is "selling America to the Americans" under the auspices of the bureau of commercial economics, a part of the department of public instruction at Washington. The moving pictures and slides she will show are new and vivid, have never been commercialized, and are of scenes never before photographed.

She is an adventurer in the true sense of the word. She has hunted, climbed, and explored from the Arctic circle to the tropics. For seven summers she has spent from four to seven months in the wilds of Canada, looking for unusual sights and bringing them back in pictures.

Dr. Best will make a special appeal for conservation, believing that education must create in Americans a consciousness of the necessity for conservation of forests, animals, birds, and flowers.

Klub Cast Has Had Enough of Pullman Cars

(By Fritz Daly)

"Lives there a human who does not remember the thrill of his first night aboard a train in a pullman car?" But living in one for three days is quite a different thing. Members of the cast of "The Love Hater", who traveled in aforesaid means of conveyance have had "their fling" as far as pullman cars are concerned and are all of the same mind, there's nothing like the old bed at home.

A three day's journey that started Sunday evening and ended with the return of the show from Omaha Thursday morning has sufficed the desire to be "traveling men" in several instances, especially as far as co-ed sport and prospects are bright nipped in the bud, as it were.

Not Enough Berths

Putting it in round numbers, and remembering that figures don't lie, (that includes the gony chorus) there are sixteen sections in the car making a total of thirty-two beds, if they may be called such, or berths. There were fifty-four in the cast of the show. You are right, several had to double up. And there being fifty-four in one car, things were crowded, to say the least.

Things went well the first night out as no one could be bothered with sleep but the journey to Fremont and then into Omaha was not so well received. Had everyone been (Continued on Page 3.)

KNOW YOUR KAMPUS

Do you know that—
Seventy-five girls were pledged to sororities on the campus during rush week in September, 1927. Kappa Alpha Theta led the list by putting the ribbon on thirteen co-eds; Delta Gamma and Delta Delta pledged ten each; Pi Beta Phi and Alpha Chi Omega, nine each; Alpha Omicron Pi, six; Alpha Phi and Chi Omega, five each; and Kappa Kappa Gamma, eight.

Thirty-eight doctors were given diplomas at the first annual commencement of the University college of medicine held at the Boyd theatre in Omaha on May 14, 1927.

Ellen Smith hall was named as a memorial to Miss Ellen Smith, former registrar of the University. She came to the University in 1877 and taught mathematics and Latin for several years. She then served as assistant librarian. When the office of registrar was created in 1882, she was given the office and served in that capacity until she resigned because of poor health in 1902. Miss Smith died February 20, 1903.

DEBATES WERE WELL ATTENDED

White Says Past Season Was Successful; Team Held Twelve Contests

720 HEARD FIRST DEBATE

"With more debates and a better average attendance at them, I consider the past year a successful debate season," stated H. A. White, professor of English in the University and director of forensic activities. Nebraska engaged in twelve debates during the 1928 season, five of them being held in the Social Sciences auditorium at Lincoln.

Nebraska debaters talked before their largest audience in the first debate of the season against Cambridge, England. 720 persons attended this debate held in the old Armory on the evening of October 31.

Attendance Was Good

"Attendance at our debates this season was much better than in other years," remarked Professor White, "but it leaves something to be desired." The debate coach went on to say that he attributed the size of the audience at their first contest to the uniqueness of seeing foreigners in debate.

BASEBALL TOURNEY STARTS APRIL 23

Co-Eds Must Enter Teams by 5 O'clock Tuesday; Phi Mu Won Title Last Season

Co-ed baseball fans will soon have an opportunity to watch the progress of their favorite teams in the intramural tournament which starts April 23. Any group on the campus may enter the tournament and those wishing to do so are asked to sign up on the intra-mural bulletin board before 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon, April 17.

Last year the majority of sororities and dormitories entered one or more teams each and Phi Mu won the title. More interest has always been evidenced in baseball than in any other co-ed sport and prospects are bright for a successful season this spring.

Week of Practice

Baseballs and bats may be secured from the office of the departments of physical education for women. There will be a whole week of practice during which the competing teams can get into shape before the tourney starts. Groups are urged to bring the matter up for discussion in their Monday night meetings.

Prizes for the groups winning the most points in intra-mural sports are now being chosen. A large silver shield will be awarded the group with the most points and either a smaller shield or a loving cup will be given to the runner up.
