

LEWIS ASKS TEAMS TO FINISH TOURNIES

Announcement is Made That Results May Not Be Counted for Jack Best Trophy

Possibility that some of the uncompleted tournaments would not be counted in the final intramural standings was voiced yesterday by James C. Lewis, inter-fraternity athletic director, who declared that fraternities have been careless in finishing up the final events.

Championships in the unfinished meets must be determined before school is out, he declared, as the department will not sanction the carrying over of tourneys.

Schedules Are Posted

Baseball, tennis, golf, horseshoe doubles, and handball singles championships are yet to be decided. Schedules for the championship round in these have been announced before and are now posted on the athletic bulletin board in the Coliseum.

Farm House, an early threat in the intramural race, was practically eliminated from consideration when its baseball team was eliminated from further participation. The chance for a dark horse to come through was materially strengthened by this fact.

Kappa Sigma annexed the bowling and horseshoe singles honors during the past week and thus advanced another step towards the acquisition of the Jack Best trophy. If honors in the uncompleted tournaments are split, the cup is almost certain to go to Kappa Sigma again this year.

Call Is Sent Out for Ag Extension Workers

Applications Must Be Filed in Civil Service Commission, Washington, Before June 27

Open competitive examinations for the United States civil service are announced by the commission in a recent bulletin. The examination is to fill vacancies in the field service of the cooperative agricultural extension work of the department of agriculture, and the department wishes only men to fill the present vacancies.

Applications for extension specialist in home management must be on file with the civil service commission at Washington, D. C., not later than June 27.

Serve Probation Period

The entrance salary is $3,800 a year. A probationary period of six months is required. Advancement after that depends upon individual efficiency, increased usefulness, and the occurrence of vacancies in higher positions.

The duties are to aid state extension agents in methods of organizing and developing extension work in home management and to act as liaison officer between the state extension forces in matters relating to extension work in home management.

Competitors will not be required to report for examination at any place, but will be rated on their education, training, and experience; and writings to be filed with the application.

Full information may be obtained from the United States civil service commission at Washington, D. C., or the secretary of the United States civil service board of examiners at the post office or custom house in any city.

'Dad' Elliott Praises Local Y.M.C.A. Work

Central Field Official Declares Visit Here Last February Was Gratifying

A letter from A. J. "Dad" Elliott, executive secretary of the central field of the Y. M. C. A., to C. D. Hayes, general secretary of the University "Y", states that his experience at Nebraska last February was gratifying.

Mr. Elliott enclosed in his letter several copies of letters from universities and colleges in Kansas and Oklahoma which indicated that the work he had done there was creditable.

In closing his letter the secretary says, "No one knows better than you that as encouraging a report as any of these letters might have been written about your work at Nebraska; in fact, I had no more satisfying experience anywhere than I had with you."

Anson Marston Says Panama Canal Has Isolated Northwestern Part of Country

Vermillion, S. D., May 21.—Cheap transportation for the east and west coasts of the country made possible by the Panama canal has made an isolated island of the northwestern states, in the opinion of Dean Anson Marston, of Iowa State college, speaker at the annual "Engineer's Day" at the University of South Dakota.

Dean Marston, who has recently been a member of the board of review for the investigation of the problems of the great lakes and of waterways to the ocean, in speaking at the engineering convention, stated that the waterways for ocean vessels through the Great Lakes and the St. Lawrence to the ocean as well as projects for making navigation possible on the Ohio and Missouri rivers offer one of the best solutions to the transportation problem which faces the northwest.

Connected With Ocean

The projects which are now under consideration would give the northwest states waterways from Duluth to the ocean navigable to ocean-going vessels. Work on the Mississippi, which has been considered, would bring boats up the Missouri into South Dakota. Waterways opened on the Ohio would give western states cheap access to the Pittsburgh coal and steel district.

The entire idea behind the recent investigations, according to Dean Marston, is to break down the isolation of the northwest brought about by the cheap transportation which the coast states enjoy and which tends to stigmatize economic activity in the isolated states.

Dams, canals, and docks considered for construction in the St. Lawrence river as part of the chain of waterways from Duluth to the ocean would cost more than three billion dollars, and the dams and canals would develop as a by-product of the cheap transportation more than 5,000,000,000 horse power of electrical energy, according to Dean Marston.

Opera Artists Appear On Program at South Dakota May Festival

Vermillion, S. D., May 21.—The twenty-second annual May festival took place here May 16, 17, and 18 at the University of South Dakota. The program for this year has included concerts by Harry Farberman, young American violinist, by Lorna Doone Jaxon and Forrest Lamont, of the Chicago Civic Opera company, and by a symphony orchestra of ninety pieces accompanied by Myra Connor, soprano, as soloist.

The May festival tradition was started over twenty years ago by E. W. Brabill, then dean of the College of Music. Some of the greatest symphony orchestras and artists have appeared in the festivals, according to the present dean of the college, W. R. Colton. Concerts have been presented by the St. Paul symphony orchestra and by the Minneapolis symphony.

Among the many soloists who have appeared have been Willy Lamping, cellist; Arthur Middleton, baritone; Lucille Tewksbury, soprano; Elsie Baker, contralto; Riccardo Martin, tenor; and Czawonkey, violinist. Operas which have been presented are "Chimes of Normandy," "Pirates of Penzance," "Olivetta," "The Mikado," "Ruddygore," and two grand operas "Pagliaccio" and "Gavalleria Rusticana."

Honor Class Plans To Hold Breakfast

residence just across the street from the home of Chancellor E. A. Burnett.

Many alumni of the honor class have wired acceptance and at least fifty are expected at the breakfast. The morning will be spent in reminiscing over old snapshots of college days which the returning members have been asked to bring. Letters have been received from many "Naught Eights" who will not be able to be present and these will be read to their old classmates. The class will go directly from the Kieselbach home to the alumni luncheon. The University club will be the scene Saturday morning of several class reunion breakfasts. At 8:30 o'clock the eight Dix classes, '90, '91,

'92, '93, '09, '10, '11, and '12, will have a combination breakfast. The class of '02 will also breakfast at the University club although this event is not scheduled in the Dix plan.

'03 Will Breakfast

Classmates of 1903 will have breakfast Saturday morning at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Prof. and Mrs. V. L. Hollister, 1734 Pepper avenue. The host and hostess are honorary members of this class of which O. J. Fee is the president. Prof. and Mrs. E. E. Brackett and Dean and Mrs. Ferguson will assist Prof. and Mrs. Hollister with the breakfast plans.

After meeting old friends and classmates at these breakfasts the alumni will all go to the alumni luncheon at which W. Ross King, '08, Omaha attorney, will speak and the results of the election of officers will be announced.
