

MISS HEPPNER MEETS CO-EDS AT ANNUAL TEA

Mortarboards, Big Sisters and Y. W. C. A. Assist at Reception

PRESENT LONG PROGRAM

Red and Orange Decorations Carry Out Autumn Idea in All Rooms

Ellen Smith Hall was the scene of the annual tea for university women Thursday afternoon given by Dean Amanda Heppner, when the students were given an opportunity to meet members of the faculty, Mortarboard and members of other organizations.

The reception line was made up of Miss Amanda Heppner, Miss Pieper, assistant dean of women, Miss Marlow, new assistant in the dean of women's office, Miss Appleby, secretary of the University Y. W. C. A., Miss Katherine Douglas, Mrs. Gunn, Mrs. E. A. Burnett, and Miss Lee.

The rooms were decorated with red and orange tints which carried out the autumn idea, and in the dining rooms, where the tea tables were set, red and orange was used again in the red candles, red and orange flowers and the orange sherbet which was served.

The east room was in charge of the Y. W. C. A. for the first hour, and the Big Sister Board the second hour. The west room was in charge of the A. W. S. and W. A. A. Members of these associations served the refreshments and assisted in directing the girls through the rooms. Those in charge of the tables were: Mrs. Morton, housemother of Kappa Alpha Theta, Mrs. Major of 410 No. 13, Mrs. Van de Car of Phi Kappa Psi, Mrs. Shickley of Zeta Tau Alpha, Mrs. Beede of Gamma Phi Beta, and Mrs. Bryan of 423 No. 13.

The program for the first hour of the reception was furnished by Miss Alice Duffy, who sang a vocal solo, "Lone Cowboy," solo accompanied by Patrice Nichols and Mary Reeder, piano solo. During the second hour, the guests were entertained by Dorothy Holcombe, Gertrude Giermann, violins, and Patrice Nichols, piano.

Historic Music Box Is Donated By Mrs. Brown

To those who have never had the time or inclination to visit the State Historical Society, there remains an interesting experience. To gaze at the buckskin dress worn by Chief Sitting Bull, the Indian Chief, Sitting Bull, in the dress of the most unromantic soul, a feeling that verges on reverence.

It brings to your heart the thrill of romance and to your mind visions of what must have been the most glorious age in America. Visions of an Indian maid, free under the open skies of the Nebraska plains, breathing of the pure air, taking exercise of a variety that produced symmetry that a Goddess would covet. A free life in a free land that convention has perhaps made us unable to fully appreciate.

And while we are yet dreaming, the distant tangle of sweet music catches our ear—as of a harp played in another room. In the days when the song of the birds and the brooks were the only source of spiritual food for the artistic souls that craved music, Mr. D. E. Thompson, prompted by brotherly love, expended what then must have seemed a small fortune and brought to their isolated home on the plains a Swiss music box. That was in 1854 and the cost was approximately $1,000.00.

The mysteries of a music box will forever fascinate man. In its echoes, Miss Thompson was wooed by the won by the famous woman, whom her grandfather had undoubtedly tell an interesting story.

Married now, Mrs. Brown lives in Denver, Colorado. But the music box is a Nebraska pioneer and it is destined to spend the remainder of its life here, having been donated to the State Historical society, housed in the basement of the library building.

Football Team Keeps Husky on Egg Malted Milks Given After Practice

It is a well known fact that underfed children are given milk. But it is not so well known that great big huskies on a football squad are given milk with other nourishing properties added. That is just what is being done in the University of Nebraska.

That, according to Herbert D. Gish, director of athletics, is one of the purposes of giving the team egg malted milks. In addition to the fact that the player does not lose his appetite the drink is valuable in replacing the large amount of food energy lost during practices.

The plan if giving this food to the squad is now in its third successful year. It is practically the only method of keeping the football man's stomach in the best condition, and that is important, says Mr. Gish. "For just as an army fights on its stomach," so a football team "plays on its stomach."

Freshmen Rush Store To Get Verdant Caps

Responding to the color appeal of Dr. Condra on the necessity of maintaining a class unity and the developing of a true Nebraska spirit, seven hundred fifty male members of the Freshman class descended on the B. & F. store shortly after eleven Thursday to purchase green caps. Bob and Bill were forced to sacrifice a screen door in the ardent enthusiasm of the Freshman rush.

Contrary to public opinion, the Freshman of this year is not handicapped by that condemning feature, the big head. The majority of the caps sold were not among the larger sizes, as is ordinarily the case, but among the smaller sizes. The B. & F. store was in condition to fit eight hundred and fifty heads in green but only a hundred remain so, Freshmen, get busy!

PARTY CHAIRMEN ARE SELECTED BY COUNCIL

One Man and One Woman Is Picked to Head Each Committee

SIXTY FILE APPLICATION

Selection of the various joint chairmen for the Varsity Party committee, was completed late Thursday afternoon, at a deferred meeting of the Student Council. The call for applications for the positions on the Varsity Party committee this fall brought forth a flood of applications, and it was necessary for the council to deliberate considerably before making the final choice.

Sixty applications had to be considered in filling the various positions. The council was very gratified at this response, both as to the number desiring to aid in promoting successful Varsity Parties and the caliber of the applicants. In view of the close competition for various chairmanships, the council further expressed a desire that those who put in applications continue with the interest they have shown in Varsity Parties and serve under the appointed chairmen.

Chairmen Appointed.

Jack Lindbeck, Delta Tau Delta, Betty Kraft, Beta Gamma, were selected as joint chairmen on the reception committee; Ray Sabata, Acacia, and Georgia Slever, Pi Beta Phi, for the entertainment committee; Paul Burgess, Beta Theta Pi, and Catherine Clapp, Kappa Alpha Theta, on the decorations committee.

On the refreshment committee, Art Bailey, Delta, Upsilon, and Katherine Williams, Alpha Omicron Pi, will serve as joint chairmen; Bill McCleery, Beta Theta Pi, and Maxine Hill, Delta Delta Delta, will supervise the publicity, and Dwight Anderson, Farm House, and Frank Mockler, Pi Kappa Alpha, will handle the checking. On the latter committee the joint chairmen, both men, were chosen because of the greater efficiency in handling the checking at the parties.

All copy for the "Frosh" number of the Awgwan, to be issued October 10, will go to the publishers Monday, October 1, the editors announced Thursday afternoon. FRESHMEN ARE INITIATED INTO STUDENT BODY

Daly Presides Over Meeting Of 2,000 First Year Men and Women

DR. CONDRRA GIVES OATH Yells Are Practiced, Advice Is Given and Motion Pictures Taken

Members of the class of 1932 were formally initiated into the student body of the University Thursday morning. The freshman convocation was held in the university Coliseum, and lasted from 10 until 12 o'clock. Frederick Daly, president of the Innocents society presided over the program which had been arranged by the Innocents and the Mortarboards, senior honoraries.

At 10 o'clock Thursday morning the University R. O. T. C. band assembled in front of Social Sciences. Freshmen led in behind the band and a procession stretching for nearly two blocks marched to the doors of the Coliseum. A mass of first year students were already congregated in front of the building and the entire body marched into the great field house. Here the band played for a short time, before speakers arrived.

Daly Presides.

Shortly after 10 o'clock Chancellor E. A. Burnett and Frederick Daly came on the great stage of the Coliseum, followed by members of the Innocents society, and speakers on the convocation program. The Mortarboards filed on from the other side, and all were seated in a semi-circle facing the assembly of new Nebraskans.

Mr. Daly spoke a few words of welcome to the new students and introduced "Chick" Dox, Nebraska's varsity cheer leader who taught the freshmen some important Cornhusker yells and songs. The master of ceremonies then presented to the audience Chancellor Burnett who has recently been elected chancellor of the University for an indefinite period.

Wearing of Green Will Be Rigidly Enforced

Wearing of green caps will be rigidly enforced after today and no freshman should be seen in public at any time without this regular headgear. Enforcement has not been delegated to any organization as yet, but all upper classmen are urged to see that freshmen are wearing their green caps.

The Olympics, which will be held Saturday, November 10, will determine the fate of the green caps. If freshmen win the Olympics, they may dispose of their caps at once. It is the usual custom to burn the caps in a huge bonfire the night after the Olympics. Should the sophomore win the freshmen will be expected to wear their caps until the first snow flies.

SEVENTEEN MEN ARE SELECTED BY KOSMET

More Than Fifty Try Out for Male Chorus of Klub's Musical Comedy

LIST WILL BE REDUCED

Seventeen of the fifty men who tried out for the chorus of the Kosmet Klub fall musical comedy were selected by the committee of Klub members and Mrs. Merrill Cooksey, dancing instructor, for tentative places in the chorus section of the show. Some fine song and dance talent was revealed by the contestants and the judges had a difficult time in choosing the outstanding men.

Since the eligibility of all the men must be determined by the registrar, those who were chosen were selected only tentatively. After several practices this number will again be reduced since four alternates were chosen in the event someone fails to get over the scholastic barrier.

Those selected were: Park Anderson, Paul Burgess, Jim Williams, Lloyd Corp, Allen Hansen, Don McMaisters, Bernard Wilson, Willard Spencer, Mike Charters, Paul Gallup, Pat McDonald, Art Bailey, John Sanders, Chick Lawlor, Ray Murray, Cy Winkler, and Ben Myers.

In a tryout for girls held last Tuesday, Sept. 25, fourteen co-eds were chosen for the mixed chorus and six for a special tag chorus. Two alternates were chosen among the girls to replace any that might be declared ineligible or for any other reason be unable to take part. Mrs. Cooksey announced Thursday evening that the entire chorus would have its first practice together in the Temple theater at 8:30 o'clock, Sunday afternoon, Sept. 30. Tryouts for the cast will be announced the first of next week, according to Lynn Twinnem, president of Kosmet Klub.

This afternoon seven students of the sophomore class will be selected as the cheerleaders of the Scarlet and the Cream athletic activities. The selections will be made on the drill field at four p. m., when the Innocents Society will be present to choose the yell leaders. Five of these seven will be the regular sophomore cheerleaders, while the remaining two will act as assistant leaders.

In conjunction with the new tryouts, the five sophomore cheerleaders of last year will be on hand to try out for the junior positions. Announcement of the selections will be made at a later date, according to the Innocents.

GRADUATE STUDENTS GET SCHOLARSHIPS

Kenny, Stockfield and Sala Are Recipients of $500 Bizad Honor

PROVIDE FOR DEGREES

Three $500 scholarships, given by several Lincoln business men for graduate study and research in the college of business administration, have been awarded for the year 1928-1929 to Norris G. Kenny, William C. Stockfield and Paul F. Sala.

Norris G. Kenny is a graduate of Nebraska Wesleyan university of the year 1924, and the other two men are graduates of the college of business administration of the University of Nebraska. Mr. Kenny receiving his bachelor's degree in 1923 and Mr. Stockfield in 1927.

The students receiving the scholarships will spend a year in resident work, studying special problems in business research under the direction of Dr. T. Bruce Robb, and further rounding out their scholastic training by taking advanced courses in economics, business organization and other fields. In this way the students collect material which they are expected to submit at the end of the year to meet the requirements for the master's degree. The material contained in these theses will be later worked over and condensed by Dr. Robb, and published as research bulletins. The material for no less than twenty-one research bulletins has been collected in this way.

Kenny is Scholar.

Norris G. Kenny, winner of the H. E. Sidles scholarship, is the son of Mr. and Mrs. B. G. Kenny, 5327 Huntington avenue, Lincoln. He attended high school in Bethany for two years, at the school of agriculture, University of Nebraska, for one year, and at the Nebraska Wesleyan academy for one year, from which he graduated. Public Will Have Opportunity to See Planets and Sunspots at Observatory

Increased Interest is Shown in Sun Spots Because of Theory Advanced Regarding Their Influence on the Weather, According to Professor Swezey.

The observatory will be available to the public and students at more frequent intervals this year than it has been in the past, according to Professor Swezey, chairman of the department of astronomy.

On the first and third Tuesdays of each month it will be open from 7 to 10 in the evening. There will be a brief lecture with slides on the elementary facts of astronomy, at 8 o'clock. The telescope will be available before and after the lecture. Jupiter with its moons will be the chief planet studied.

Sunspots are also very active at this time. To accommodate the people interested in viewing this phenomena, Professor Swezey will have the observatory open Monday and Tuesday afternoons, October 1 and 2, from 1 to 3 p. m., for those who desire to view this unusual activity.

The attention devoted to sunspots at present by scientists in their efforts to determine whether or not they affect the weather has undoubtedly created an interest among laymen, who through Professor Swezey can use the telescope to view this solar activity.

There is an exceptionally large enrollment in the astronomy department this year. Professor Swezey believes this due to teachers college and geological department students, who realize that a knowledge of astronomy is a valuable adjunct to the courses they are pursuing.

Choir Tryouts Set for Friday and Saturday

Try-outs for the Vespers choir will be held Friday noon at Ellen Smith Hall from 12 until 1 o'clock, and Saturday at the same place from 12 until 2 o'clock. Fifteen new members will be chosen to serve with the choir, which is under the direction of Catherine Beekman.

WEAVER ALSO APPEARS

National and State Issues Are to Be Aired at Big Campaign Meeting

University of Nebraska students will have their first opportunity to hear a speech concerning the coming election when United States Senator Borah makes his initial appearance in Nebraska, Saturday evening at 8 o'clock at the university Coliseum. His itinerary calls for only a few stops in the central west and it is thought that his appearance in Lincoln will be his only one in Nebraska. The senator is touring the central west in the support of Herbert Hoover.

Arthur J. Weaver, republican nominee for governor, has rearranged his schedule so that he will be able to appear in Lincoln at the same time. While Senator Borah's speech will deal primarily with the issues of the country as a whole, Mr. Weaver will bring forward the state issues.

Senator Borah is the chairman of the committee on Foreign Relations in the Senate and hence is a figure of international importance. It is seldom that a man who is so well known both for his work in the United States and internationally.

The senator comes to Lincoln from Mitchell, S. D., where, Friday night, he speaks at the South Dakota Corn Palace exposition. While Senator Borah will speak for the entire republican ticket word from national headquarters indicates that he will put special stress in denouncing Governor Smith's stand. Amplifiers will be installed in the coliseum.

University Uses 9,000 Tons of Coal Per Year

Seventy-five tons of coal a day are used to keep Nebraska university students warm during the coldest days of winter. However, when the weather takes a turn for the better and students can be comfortable without an overcoat, twelve tons of coal are needed.

The average student for a week is an inch over 250 tons. A year's supply amounts up to over 9,000 tons of coal. At present there is about 450 tons on hand with a big supply on the road.

R. A. LYMAN RECEIVES SPECIAL DISTINCTION

Head of Pharmacy College Serves on Syllabus Committee

Dean R. A. Lyman, of the Nebraska College of Pharmacy, has received special distinction by his appointment to the syllabus committee of the American Pharmaceutical Association of Colleges of Pharmacy. It has a special importance at this time because of the fact that it is entrusted with the duty of standardizing the curricula of accredited pharmacy colleges.

Practically all colleges are offering a four year course either compulsory or optional in taking the three year course. The Nebraska College of Pharmacy offers a four year course only. It is probable that a large proportion of the colleges throughout the country will follow this plan.
