

COLISEUM FLOOR MADE READY FOR VARSITY PARTY

Washing and Smoothing To Be Completed for Big Social Event

TWO ORCHESTRAS PLAY Student Identification Cards Not Needed to Obtain Tickets

The dance floor of the Coliseum will be completely renovated today in preparation for the Fall Frolic Varsity Party, scheduled for Saturday evening, John K. Selbeck, secretary of student activities, announced that the work of washing and smoothing will be done this week. The floor is expected to be in the best condition for the Fall Frolic Saturday evening.

Only one of the six basketball courts will be cut off by curtains for the varsity dance. Last year only half of the floor was used, but with two orchestras a much larger crowd may be accommodated. Ticket sales will not start in advance, and student identification cards will not be necessary to purchase tickets. These two questions have been asked by a number of curious freshmen and upperclassmen.

Decorations will be the most elaborate of any Varsity Party given in Nebraska. Jack Elliott, general chairman of Varsity Party Committee, attended the Freshman-Sophomore Hop at Iowa State, and received some good ideas for decorations. The committee shall try to use all of them, regardless of the cost. "The party at Ames did not compare to Nebraska Varsity Parties for pep," stated Elliott. The dance took place in the gymnasium at Ames and was considered one of the most brilliantly decorated parties on the campus, according to persons from Nebraska who attended.

Student opinion, represented by statements heard in the Nebraska office, favors the idea of having two orchestras and no intermissions. The two orchestras will be placed on opposite sides of the Coliseum, under elaborate canopies. They will alternate their numbers according to a schedule arranged beforehand. Beck's and the Nebraskans will furnish music continuously for the "non-stop hop."

BIZAD COLLEGE TO HOLD CONVOCATION

Scholarship Awards Will Be Made at 11 O'clock Thursday

Recognition convocation for the College of Business Administration will be held Thursday morning, October 11, at 11 o'clock in Social Sciences auditorium. Excuses for classes at that hour will be granted to all Bizad students attending the convocation.

The purpose of this meeting is suggested in its name; that of recognition of scholarship in the College of Business Administration. William Gold scholarship prizes will be awarded to the ten freshmen of 1927-28, who stood highest in scholarship.

Announcement of the graduate scholarships of the college will be made at this time. Memberships in honorary societies of the College of Business Administration will be also announced.

The prize key of Delta Sigma Pi will be awarded to the senior of last year who received the highest average of his class.

Giant Elephants Who Once Ran Across Campus Can Be Seen in Morrill Hall

In those dim distant ages before Varsity parties were started, before the original law-engineering scrap, so far back that even U hall had not yet been built, giant elephants strutted disdainfully across the soil of our present day campus. That, to be more exact, was some two or three million years ago.

Today the skeletons of some of those prehistoric mammoths occupy the position of honor in the recently completed Hall of Elephants, one of the dominant features of Morrill hall, which in August of this year celebrated its first anniversary as the new home of the Nebraska state museum.

Largest of Collection

The collections in Morrill hall are counted the largest in any institution in the United States, and new specimens are being added constantly. If they are not already the largest assemblage of proboscideans known they soon will be. Doctor Able of Vienna, Europe's foremost paleontologist, examined the exhibits two years ago and pronounced them the most varied, and the most ample in any country.

Most of the specimens in the museum were found in Nebraska.

Husker Cheer Section To Be Open to Co-Eds

All girl students desiring to secure a seat in the cheering section may exchange their tickets they now hold for places in the section, beginning Tuesday morning at 8:00. It will be necessary for them to buy a cheering section cap. Sororities holding block sections may turn their tickets in for seats in the special block. It had been the plan of the Innocents society to restrict the cheering section to men only but beginning today, it will be open to girls also.

The first cheering section practice will be held Thursday evening at 5:00 p. m.

FIRST RALLY OF YEAR IS FRIDAY

Pep Session on the Eve of Montana Game Opens Home Season

NEW SONG PRESENTED

What?—Rally.
When?—Friday, 7 o'clock.
Why?—Beat Montana State.
How?—Large.

That's the way the first rally for a home game is to be given for the season of 1928. Freshmen, sophomores, juniors, seniors—everyone out next Friday night to give the boys a hand!

The Tassels will be there. The Corncocks will be there. The band will be there. The two captains will each give a talk, and one other speaker will be on hand. All the team will be out in full view so they can get the benefit of the excess energy that will be loosened up that night.

Songs, yells, pep, team support, and what have you, is scheduled for the program. There is to be a new song presented, too. With all this, the rally will be over early, so it will not interfere with other plans.

And of course every University of Nebraska student will be on hand to show the team that he is backing it for the season and especially for the Montana State game Saturday.

FAMOUS SINGER WILL APPEAR AT COLISEUM

Galli-Curci Will Sing Two Contrasting Styles on Lincoln Program

Madame Amelita Galli-Curci, credited by many as the greatest of coloratura singers, and known throughout the world for her work on the stage, in concert and on record, will sing in Lincoln next week, October 17.

Madame Galli-Curci sings in the University Coliseum as one of the beginning engagements of a tour which carries her through many of the states of the union and ends with her usual appearances at the Metropolitan opera house, in New York. The remainder of the season will be spent on a foreign tour to Japan, China and the Philippines.

Two contrasting styles of singing have been mastered by Galli-Curci and will appear on her program here. One is the brilliant opera arias with cascades of runs and trills, and the other, tender melodies with deep appeal. Her flashy career has proven that she has been successful in both, even though they are extremely opposite in technique.

The great soprano has accomplished many things in her life, singing in most countries of the world. At the age of nineteen, after preparing herself unaided for opera, she made a brilliant debut in the opera "Rigoletto," in Rome. She is credited as having the greatest soprano voice since the day of Adelina Patti.

Tickets for the performance of the great opera singer are being sold at the Rosa B. Curtis Co., at the corner of 13th and O streets.

FORUM OPENS FIRST MEETING WEDNESDAY

Aylsworth Will Talk on the History of Political Parties

WILL BEAR ON ELECTION

World Forum will hold its first meeting and luncheon Wednesday noon at the Hotel Nebraska at Eleventh and P streets. Professor L. E. Aylsworth, instructor of Political Science, will talk on the historical background of our present political parties.

This is the first of a series of four meetings that will bear on the coming election. Y. W. C. A. is open to everybody connected with the university. Students are especially urged to come.

The luncheon will start at twelve o'clock, the talk will begin at 12:25 and will close at 12:50 promptly. All persons having one o'clock classes will have plenty of time and those who do not have one o'clock classes may remain for the discussion which will follow.

The Forum, which is under the joint auspices of the university Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A., will begin its fifth year this semester. The present chairman of the Y. W. C. A. committee is Julia Rider, and the chairman of the Y. M. C. A. committee is Robert Venner.

The tickets for the luncheon can be obtained for thirty-five cents from the Y. M. C. A. at the Temple, and from the Y. W. C. A. at Ellen Smith Hall. They will also be on sale in Social Science hall on Tuesday. It is desired that as many as possible will buy their tickets before five o'clock Tuesday, so correct plans can be made for the luncheon.

GLEE CLUB PREPARES FOR K. C. CONCERTS

Thirty-Two Men Selected To Give First Program During Holidays

Mens Glee club rehearsals began yesterday in preparation for their concert, the first of which will be presented in Kansas City, Mo., during the Thanksgiving holidays at the Linwood Boulevard Christian church. Engagements have not yet been arranged according to Mr. Decker speaking for the new business manager, Emerson Smith.

Forty-five new men tried out for the glee club but only 32 were selected, eight of whom are freshmen who do not make public appearances during their first year, but accustom themselves to the routine work of the club.

The men winning places in the organization were: First tenors, Nicholas Sherman, Stanley Swenson, Harold Hollingsworth, Cy Winkler, and Johanson, Kiger and Short; second tenor, Harry Pritchard, Lloyd Mitchell, Don Krause, Emigt and Whiakker; baritone, Ben Joyce, Henry Nestor, Don Carlson, Merwin, Cramer, Roger Robinson, Stephen, Stevenson, and Rodgers; bass, Charles Calhoun, E. Smith, Larson, Groth, Lloyd Robinson, and Osterund, Donistrophe and McGaffin.

There are still a few places in the second tenor section to any man who may be able to meet the requirements demanded of him. Jean Decker, who accompanied the glee club two years ago will fill that capacity this year.

I. D. WOOD WILL HELP BUILD RUINED FARMS

Agricultural Engineer Will Aid Building in Area Swept by Tornado

I. D. Wood, Nebraska agricultural extension service engineer, will visit the tornado stricken area in northeastern Nebraska October 15 to 18 to help farmers with their plans of new buildings and farmsteads.

The request for assistance came in to the agricultural college from county agent Everett T. Winter of Thurston county and Clarence P. Bayles of Dakota county. Mr. Winter says that at least 70 farmsteads of his county will have to be completely rebuilt. Damage was probably heavier than that in Dakota county.

Mr. Wood has spent several years working with farmers of Nebraska and their building and engineering problems. He will not only offer his services but will make available to the farmers all the information and suggestions that will help them in time of need. He will return to the county a second and possibly a third time to make certain details of reconstruction are worked out properly.

It may be possible to work out one or more standard farmstead plans and to follow several general directions on all the projects, Mr. Wood believes now. Standard farm buildings will be built wherever possible. Modern conveniences will be included whenever farmers wish them.

"About how much will that cost?" will probably be the most common question that Mr. Wood will have to answer. While insurance may have covered part of the loss, the tornado was a terrible financial blow to the district and everyone will be as conservative as possible in rebuilding and reestablishing a home, he thinks.

MOCK ELECTION WILL BE HELD AT TEMPLE

Students Will Cast Straw Votes for Hoover or Smith Today

MUCH INTEREST SHOWN

The fall campus election will be held today from 9 a. m. to 5 p. m. Herbert Hoover and Alfred E. Smith, republican and democratic presidential possibilities, respectively are the two men who will go on the mock ballot. This election has been arranged and approved by the Student Council and with the co-operation of the Daily Nebraskan.

Many prominent political speakers, who have been heard regarding the issues of the campaign, have given the students of the university a good conception of each candidate. This straw vote election has been conducted by the larger universities of the country and have all proved an interesting experience.

Whether the school is politically, republican or democratic will be shown after the ballots have been counted by the Daily Nebraskan at the close of the polls.

The students of the senior, junior, sophomore, and freshmen years, are all eligible to cast ballots.

PRIZES OFFERED FOR BEST STUDENT ESSAY

Hart Schaffner And Marx to Offer Large Amount of Money for Themes

Announcement has been made recently of the prizes offered by a committee of college and university professors for the best studies in the economic field. The donors of the prizes are Hart, Schaffner and Marx, of Chicago, Illinois.

Two sets of prizes are being offered. One set of prizes will be offered for work done by any individual in the United States or Canada. A degree is not a necessary equipment, nor has there been any age limit set by the committee. A first prize of one thousand dollars will be awarded to the winner of the Class A contest, for the best essay or study offered. Second prize will be five hundred dollars.

Class B prizes will be given to undergraduates in American colleges, and only those may compete for these prizes. First prize in this division will be three hundred dollars and second prize will be two hundred dollars. No prizes will be awarded if, in the judgment of the committee, essays of sufficient merit are not submitted. The committee reserves to itself the right to award the two prizes of one thousand dollars and five hundred dollars of Class A to undergraduates in Class B if the merits of the papers demand it. The winner of a prize shall not receive the amount designated until he has prepared his manuscript for the printer to the satisfaction of the committee.

List of Topics

A list of topics is submitted by the committee to suggest something for the contestant to investigate for his paper. The contestants are not required to take these topics, but they may use them. The list is as follows:

1. The Influence of the South on Protectionism.
2. The Effect on Commercial Banking of the Growth of Corporation Securities.
3. The Methods of Maintaining Profits by Lowering Costs in the Face of Rising Wage Rates.
4. Present and Future Status of the Lumber Industry.
5. The Mineral Resources of South America.
6. Under Modern Railway Efficiency Can Any Waterway Hold Its Own in Competition?

The ownership of the copyright studies to which the right to print has been awarded will vest in the donors, and it is expected that, without excluding the use of these papers as theses for higher degrees, they will cause them to be issued in some permanent form. Competitors are advised that, hereafter, the committee will give pre-

DADS WILL BE HERE FOR SYRACUSE GAME

Noon Luncheon at Chamber of Commerce Is Feature Of Entertainment

M'MULLEN WILL SPEAK

Saturday, October 20, has been designated as Dad's Day, according to an announcement issued Monday by the Innocents society which sponsors the affair. Every father of a Cornhusker student is invited to spend this day with his son or daughter and to attend the annual Dad's Day football game between Syracuse university and the Cornhuskers.

The outstanding event of the day, with the exception of the football game, will be noon luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce. Fraternities and sororities have been asked to refrain from making plans which will interfere with the noon event. Holders of student tickets may have their reservations changed to the special section so that students may sit with their parents. The mothers of students will, of course, also be admitted to this section.

A special section has been reserved for the Dads and their sons and daughters for the Nebraska-Syracuse game. Holders of student tickets may have their reservations changed to the special section so that students may sit with their parents. The mothers of students will, of course, also be admitted to this section.

VERBEEK COLLECTION IS ON EXHIBITION HERE

Prints Are in Color; Have Virility and Body of an Oil and Delicacy

An attractive and unusual collection of monotypes by Gustave Verbeek will be on exhibition in Gallery A of Morrill hall until October 25.

The prints are in color and contain the virility and body of an oil and the delicacy of a watercolor. Verbeek creates a lovely composition with the simplest subjects; he needs only a small pool with the sky blueing over, trees caught in a sudden wind, three tiny parasols like confetti lunging in, a farm group, or a sunny harbor. His pictures sing with their vivid, fresh bits of color and their gaiety of movement.

Verbeek is one of the modern artists who have chiefly developed this method from a plate which has been painted in oil colors. His work has a pronounced oriental slant due, perhaps, to the fact that he was born in Japan and has revisited it three times after he had settled in California. He now lives in New York.

Basketball Players Requested to Report

All varsity basketball players are asked by Coach Charles Black to report to him at 4 o'clock Tuesday afternoon. Preliminary workouts will start immediately on the Coliseum court.

Nebraska faces a hard schedule this year, according to Coach Black, and early practice drills have been planned to season the Cornhusker basketeers.

AWGWAN APPEARS ON CAMPUS WEDNESDAY

'Frosh' Number of Humor Magazine Has Many Feature Jokes

OCTOBER ISSUE LARGER

"Frosh" number of the Awgwan, University of Nebraska's humorous publication will make its appearance this evening and Wednesday. It will go on sale at all campus and city bookstands and will be distributed to all subscribers, Charles W. Wahlquist, business manager, announced Monday.

Block-subscriptions to the magazine will be delivered to their respective houses this evening between five and six o'clock by William Irons, circulation manager. Single subscriptions may be obtained at Station A office in the Temple building starting Wednesday morning. The magazine will also be on sale at Long's Book Store, Co-op Book Store, University Drug Store, and bookstands of other leading merchants.

The October issue of the Awgwan will be larger than its recent predecessors in that it will include thirty-two pages with a clever three-color cover by James Pickering. Features of the October issue include a feature story, "Chester the Court Jester," by Bill T. McCleery; "Filtration," a poem by Henry Brainerd; Book Reviews by Virginia Faulkner; a new and different frontpiece by Margaret Kettering; a style section; and a theatre section.

A large and capable staff of cartoonists will have their work in the magazine including Ray Crabtree, Gay Williams, and others. Among the leading contributors of short jokes and quips are Douglas Timmerman and Marguerite Danielson. Campus activities are played up quite interestingly throughout the publication. Kenneth G. Anderson is the editor of the Awgwan this semester.

FROSH PLAY THREE GAMES THIS WEEK

Freshman Football League Starts Wednesday on 'Ag' Campus

CAPTAIN LEHMAN BACK

Two games at the Agricultural College campus and one at the Stuart tract north of the Tenth street viaduct will be the football menu for the freshman intramural teams this week. The teams have not been definitely arranged yet and consequently the schedules will have to be made up later.

Coaches Willard, Collins and Beck gave their men an intensive drill yesterday although lack of numbers handicapped them greatly. Each team will be taught a different style of play. There will be one game Wednesday and two on Thursday. No games will be played on Friday as was previously announced.

The frosh varsity team went through a workout which consisted of setting up exercises and drills on fundamentals yesterday under the direction of Coaches Black and Sprague. Coach Lehman scouted the Syracuse-William and Mary game Saturday and will come back today with a notebook full of plays and formations for the freshmen to use against the varsity. The freshmen will work on the Syracuse plays today.

'Non-Stop-Hop' Features Weekend Schedule of Social Activities

House dances have always been popular at Nebraska, but the Field House dance will be the sensation of all time. That is if we can believe the line of chatter that the committee is putting out. After the Montana-Nebraska game is a very good time for any man's party, but the Fall Frolic of 1928, presented by Varsity Party committee will be a big moment. Ask Francis.

Perhaps you are finding fault with the fact that there will be no intermission. Perhaps your date can intermission better than she can dance. But your time will be your own and you don't have to show identification cards to get out of the Coliseum. "Non-stop-hops" have good qualities that only an old hand can tell you about.

Two of the very best orchestras in Lincoln or points of the compass will play for the Fall Frolic. The floor will be just slick enough to make it easy to fall down and hard to get up. The punch will be served by special negroes, orentials, or Sig Alph freshmen. The doorman will be returned to the present plain clothe-men on a day at the flying circus. Committee members will wear large badges

FOUR NAMES ARE WITHDRAWN FROM CLASS ELECTION

POLLS OPEN AT NINE

Identification Cards Are Necessary to Cast Ballot At Temple Today

Four names have been withdrawn from the list of candidates for the fall election which takes place today. Three of these men are members of fraternities affiliated with the yellow jackets, and allege that their names had been filed unknown to them. They are: Willard Witte, listed as applicant for junior president; Colburn Tomson, sophomore candidate; and Theodore Kieselbach, freshman applicant. Arthur Perry, blue shirt, has also withdrawn from the freshman race.

Notice was given by the Student Council late yesterday afternoon that Caroline Dodge and Lorna Hawkins, candidates for honorary colonel, have been declared eligible. The polls, located at the Temple, will be opened at 9 o'clock this morning and will not close until 5 o'clock this afternoon. They will also be open during the noon hour.

As announced by the Student Council, in charge of the election, persons must present their identification cards before they will be allowed to vote. There will be no voting by "proxy." Students may fill out ballots only upon presentation of their own identification cards. No electioneering will be allowed in the Temple during the election.

Politicians in Doubt

Blue shirt and yellow jacket candidates are listed in this issue of The Daily Nebraskan. Until yesterday afternoon when the yellow jackets withdrew their names, campus politicians were in doubt as to the purpose of the yellow faction putting more than one member up for the same office. This would have caused a split-ballot which would probably have favored the opposition, in the opinion of election experts.

Munro Kezer, election chairman of the Student Council, will have charge of student conduct at the polls. He will be assisted by Joyce Ayres, Earl Wyatt, Margorie Snowdevant, Payne Williams and Eldred Larson. Professor E. W. Lantz will have charge of faculty supervision at the election. He is the

PERSHING RIFLES SET DATES FOR TRYOUTS

Military Honorary Plans To Take Members Into Organization

At the meeting of the Pershing Rifles held Wednesday, it was decided to have the tryouts on October 23, 24, and 25. More information about the tryouts will appear later in the Daily Nebraskan.

Pershing Rifles is an honorary organization of basic R. O. T. C. students comparing to Scabbard and Blade of the advanced course. It was founded at the University of Nebraska in 1892 by First Lieutenant John J. Pershing. After Lieutenant Pershing left the school the name of the organization was changed from Varsity Rifles to the present name.

The Rifles are now a national honorary society with headquarters and Company "A" here. The members have one hour of additional drill each week for the working up of exhibition drills.

"Every basic student should go out for at least two of the three tryouts as he may get a case of stage fright the first time and fail, but may do better the next time," said Adjutant Ray Sabata.

'Non-Stop-Hop' Features Weekend Schedule of Social Activities

so that unsatisfied patrons may complain to the proper persons. There will be no skull-crushing on the dance floor, but a special portion of the Coliseum will be roped off for demonstrations of violence toward committee members.

Pale, sympathetic and flattering lighting effects will be achieved by the decorations committee. Long strings of colored lights will be strung across from balcony to balcony, forming a canopy of light for the great hall (apologies to Beowulf and his brother Fred). There will be colors to harmonize with brunettes, with blondes, with color that harmonizes there will be color that harmonizes there will be thirteen or fourteen that clash.

As usual, Phi Delta freshmen will not be admitted for half fare. Persons are cautioned against going to other parties on this great night (Saturday eve—after the Montana game) for there are more ways than one of frying one's fish. We have been told time and again not to emphasize the fact that the Fall Frolic is cheap, but it really is. Seventy-five cents won't make us big a hole in the penny bank as a trip to Wahoo for steak dinners.
