

THE DAILY NEBRASIAN

BEARGMEN NOW POINT TO THEIR SCHEDULE AHEAD

Attention Is Centered on Remaining Contests of Current Season

EASTERNERS ARE NEXT Syracuse Eleven Clashes With Mighty Huskers Next Saturday

(By Jack Elliott)

The Montana State game is safely stowed away in the won column and now Coach Ernest E. Bear, Husker football mentor and his coaching staff are turning their attention to the difficult pigskin schedule ahead.

Syracuse university is the first to face the 1928 Cornhusker team after the first two weeks of games. The Syracuse-Nebraska game is the Dad's Day tilt and a large attendance of Nebraska dads are expected to attend the big inter-sectional game.

Syracuse, headed by Hal Baysinger, the football world's most sensational forward passer, will meet the Huskers on the Memorial Stadium Saturday afternoon for the second game in two years. The Orange eleven was downed last season at Lincoln but are coming to the Husker stronghold this season with a much stronger football eleven than ever before. The Orangemen not only have a fast and clever passing team but are reputed to be the fastest backfield on the eastern seaboard.

Fans Await Game

Cornhusker fans are now awaiting the first game on the Husker schedule that plunges the Nebraska football eleven into the hardest schedule in recent years. Syracuse with one of the best combinations in the east. This inter-sectional game is closely followed by the most outstanding football game in the Big Six conference—Nebraska-Missouri. A glance at the performance of the Husker opponents in the past two weeks indicates that the Nebraska team will have a tough job to down the team on the 1928 schedule.

Taking a look in at Syracuse, we find that the Orange eleven during the past two weeks has been cutting down their gridiron opponents like weeds. Johns Hopkins was the victim in last Saturday's game and the Syracuse eleven put across nine touchdowns for a total of 58 points to smother out the Hopkins eleven.

And turning our attention to the Missouri Tigers, we find the same story. The Henry coached aggregation ran rough shod over Centre during the time of 60 to 0 in the greatest score piled up this year. The Tiger eleven has one of the strongest football elevens in the history of the school this season and although it is made up of many sophomores and juniors, it had little trouble in putting the pigskin across the Kentucky goal line times.

Short critics and followers of the gridiron sport proclaim that

Practices For Klub Show Are Daily Affairs

(By Bill McCleery)

"There must be some mistake," exclaimed our hero amid the steady downpour of rain. He stood erect, gazing at the two ladies before him. The air was filled with smoke—vaguely reminiscent of a recent shooting.

"Don't get excited. This isn't a Chicago gunman's day off, but merely a Kosmet Klub practice. The hero is Joyce Ayres and he is addressing Irene Lavelly and Grace Rowe. They just told him that they were very, very pleased to make his acquaintance. You will agree—there must be some mistake. Liggs Miller is coaching "The Match-Makers," having persistence and a fairly loud voice. Each member of the cast knows his cues, because when they hear Liggs yell they say "goodbye" to friends and rush up to practice. This shows that hard work and efficient directing will do for a select group of university students.

Kemmer Has Lead

You plutocrats who own lighters needn't be supercilious about "The Match-Makers" because, from what we gathered in watching a practice, the play hasn't anything at all to do with matches. The idea is that Joyce Ayres is going somewhere tonight. And that, dear reader, is not a French auto, or a season. He gets a crush on Marjorie, who is none other than Harriet Cruise Kemmer. If you haven't heard of Harriet you probably don't know where the stadium is or who wrote

The Chancellor's Invitation

The University of Nebraska extends to the fathers of its students a hearty invitation to visit the University Saturday, October 20, the annual Dad's Day. We feel that a closer relationship between the University, its students, and their parents may be brought about through such gatherings. Arrangements have been made for a noon luncheon and a football game in the afternoon, as well as an opportunity for the parents to visit the University itself, and visit their sons and daughters in their college environment. We hope that each father of every student will be able to be with his son or daughter next Saturday.

Very truly yours,
E. A. BURNETT, Chancellor.

Daughter Is Anxious to See Her Dad

Lincoln, Nebraska, October 16, 1928.

Dearest Dad: No, I don't want a new dress, and I have finally decided that my last winter's cousin will go me another year, but I was just thinking—oh, lots of things and so I decided to dash off a few syllables. I'm so used to monosyllables, "Yes ma'am" and "no ma'am," that I appreciate the chance to rattle off at length. Oh, I tell you, Dad, I appreciate lots of things about you now, things I used to think your views now are virtues when contrasted with the same things I have to contend with down here. For instance, I used to raise a rumpus when you told me that two o'clock was too late for me to get in, but you're an angel. Dad, compared with these upperclassmen who take away your dates for a whole week-end, if you're only ten minutes later than the limit, 12-15.

But, as to my immediate reason for writing, (and I can see you say "Now it's coming"), I want to see you and Mother in the worst way and at the most wonderful opportunity for accomplishing that and at the same time seeing some of the real university activities I'm interested in has arisen, and really, you just must take advantage of it.

Saturday is designated as University Dad's Day, and the whole gang are expecting their Dads down here for the Syracuse game which is to follow a luncheon given in honor of the Dad's. You've always said I didn't know anything about football, but if you'll only come down here, you'll find that I can argue on any technicality of the game; though I won't say how intelligently.

There is to be a reserved section in the stadium for all our fathers and so the whole bunch of you can discuss how you would have made that play back in the old days. You'll see some mighty flashy bits of playing, and I know you'll agree with me that it's part of every girl's education to go to a co-ed school after she's had a year in a girl's school.

I really must go and study. You needn't laugh, because we can't have dates on week nights, and so I really am going to study. Never mind, Father darling, you'll be proud of your daughter some day, because these upperclassmen certainly make you study.

Wire me immediately if you can come, and tell Mother to bring some cake and candy along with her. I'll be seeing you soon—you see I take it for granted—and until then and always, I am
Your loving daughter,
GRACE.

REPUBLICAN PLANK WILL BE PRESENTED

Speakers' Bureau Chairman Will Speak at World Forum Luncheon

Second luncheon of the World Forum will be held Wednesday at 12 o'clock at the Hotel Nebraska. R. M. Anderson, chairman of the republican speakers' bureau of the republican platform and candidates. This is the second of a series of four political talks to be given this year.

The Hoover-Curtis club is planning to attend the meeting as a group, and the Al Smith club is invited to attend. On the week following, the talk will concern democratic platform and candidates. Both clubs are also expected at this meeting. All university students and professors are urged to attend.

Tickets for the luncheon can be purchased for 35 cents at the Temple, for the Y. M. C. A. and at Ellen Smith hall for the Y. W. C. A. They will also be on sale in Social Sciences hall on Tuesday. As the capacity of the dining room is limited tickets must be purchased in advance to assure a place. No tickets will be sold after 5 o'clock Tuesday afternoon.

All those who buy tickets at the door Wednesday will be charged 5 cents extra.

OSTERGARD WINS IN PENTATHLON

Coach Henry F. Schulte took up the selective relay drive for its budget, which was $123,112, closed its drive successfully yesterday noon; when the entire budget was received. Out of this amount $2700 was given to the Y. M. C. A. and $1600 was given to the Y. W. C. A. The budget for student contributions to the Y. W. C. A. for 1929 is $1300. The entire budget of the Y. M. C. A. is $7085 and of this $2700 will be received from the Community Chest.

Other receipts expected are $500 from the Book Exchange, $400 from the Student Directory, $500 from the Student sales and ad receipts and $160.80 from the interest on the endowment.

The main disbursements of the Y. M. C. A. are the salaries and wages, which come up to $4870.80. Another large expense is the supplies which comes up to $650. There are many more disbursements which bring the total up to $7085.

SENATE WOULD CUT LENGTH OF SUMMER TERM

Suggestion of Nine Weeks Of Instruction Awaits Regents' Action

PLAN SINGLE SESSION Board's Official Acceptance At Its Next Meeting Is Probable

Proposal that the 1929 summer session of the University of Nebraska be one term of nine weeks instead of two terms of six weeks as heretofore was made by the University Senate and official acceptance by the Board of Regents at its next meeting is probable.

The opening date for summer school will be June 12, with registration on June 16 and 17. The nine weeks term will be completed August 8 with final examinations.

Several factors enter in. The change has been talked of for some time due to several factors. Nebraska will be following the lead of some other schools as in the summer of 1927 the universities of Illinois, Michigan, Missouri, Northwestern, Oklahoma, Indiana and Wisconsin had one-term sessions of longer than six weeks.

Undergraduates will be able to complete the regular four-year course in four summers and three regular terms. Formerly it was three summers and three regular terms, but the total time spent in summer sessions remains the same.

Longer Term More Suitable

The nine weeks term is more suitable to university facilities, Director Moritz explained. In the case of the College of Law and the department of mechanical engineering it was necessary to extend their summer work to eight weeks in spite of the fact that the rest of the university offered courses in six weeks.

Department heads prefer that all graduate work be done while they are present. This will be helped to some extent by the single term. Technically, the nine weeks term is preferable because the number of class meetings during the summer will be equal to that of the regular term, whereas the six weeks term lacked three instructional hours for each credit hour. It was pointed out that the nine weeks term lends itself better to three and five hour courses.

Last year a huge celebration on Dad's Day was held October 29. The main dining room of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce was the scene of the sixth annual Dad's day luncheon. Lunch was served to 335 Dads and sons and quite a number were turned away because of lack of preparation for so large a crowd. Merle Jones, president of the Innocents acted as toastmaster and introduced the following speakers: Governor McMullen, Mayor Hedge, W. C. Ramsay, president of the Nebraska Alumni Association, who was the main speaker, Acting Chancellor Burnett, and Doctor Condra.

COMMUNITY CHEST DRIVE IS SUCCESS

Y.M.C.A. Receives Increased Budget for 1929; Total Expense Large

Lincoln Community Chest which has been staging a drive for its budget, which was $123,112, closed its drive successfully yesterday noon; when the entire budget was received. Out of this amount $2700 was given to the Y. M. C. A. and $1600 was given to the Y. W. C. A. The budget for student contributions to the Y. W. C. A. for 1929 is $1300. The entire budget of the Y. HARRIERS WILL RUN THURSDAY

Due to the condition of the weather Friday, the cross-country preliminary was not run. The next chance the harriers will have to see action will be Thursday, when regular tryouts will be run over a four-mile course.

The first race will be run against Missouri on the day of the Nebraska-Missouri football game, finishing between halves.

Syracuse Captain

Harold Baysinger, captain of the Syracuse Orangemen, will lead the easterner's attack against the Cornhuskers, Saturday, in the Memorial Stadium, at the annual Dad's Day grid game. The Syracuse captain has the reputation of being one of the most feared forward passers of the grid. Last year, when he left the game close to the final whistle, Baysinger received the greatest ovation ever given any rival player on the Nebraska field.

Seventh Annual Dad's Day Will Be Gala Affair for Parents and Students

First Celebration Held on November 18, 1922; Last Year, the Largest Crowd Attended Function

When several hundred students of the University of Nebraska take their Dads to the Syracuse-Nebraska game next Saturday, it will be well for one to remember that this is the seventh annual Dad's Day, held at the University of Nebraska.

On the first Dad's Day on November 18, 1922, the students took their Dads to the football game between Nebraska and the Kansas Aggies. A special section of the stands was reserved for parents and sons, and a huge banquet was held at noon.

There were short talks by Governor Samuel R. McKelvie, Chancellor Avery, Mayor Frank Zehrung, Coach Fred Dawson, Captain "Chick" Hartley, and by Chauncey Nelson, president of the Innocents. In the evening there was a Military Carnival in the Armory. Letters were sent out to all of the Dads by most of the fraternities, and a gala day was held at the university.

Second Day Held—1923

The second Dad's Day was held November 10, 1923, and all of the students and Dads attended the Notre Dame-Nebraska football game. Most of the fraternities on the campus entertained for the Dads, and a huge banquet was held in the Armory at 11:30 Saturday morning. After the banquet, they all went to the new stadium, a special section reserved for the students and their Dads. Dr. George P. Shidder of York, a graduate of the University of Nebraska, was the principal speaker at the banquet.

Last year a huge celebration on Dad's Day was held October 29. The main dining room of the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce was the scene of the sixth annual Dad's day luncheon. Lunch was served to 335 Dads and sons and quite a number were turned away because of lack of preparation for so large a crowd. Merle Jones, president of the Innocents acted as toastmaster and introduced the following speakers: Governor McMullen, Mayor Hedge, W. C. GREEKS ARE URGED TO GET BLOCK SECTIONS

Organizations Are Asked To Secure Klub Show Tickets Today

Because of the limited number of seats and as the production will play only two performances, sororities and fraternities are requested to send representatives for block sections of seats for the Kosmet Klub's fall musical comedy, "The Match Makers" when the ticket sale opens at the Liberty theater at 10 o'clock this morning. "The Match Makers" will be presented at the Liberty theater, Friday and Saturday, October 19 and 20.

Indications point to capacity audiences for both performances and all persons desiring tickets are advised to buy them as early as possible. Ticket prices as announced by the Kosmet Klub place the entire first floor and the first two rows of the balcony as one dollar seats. The next six rows of the balcony will be sold for seventy-five cents; the next three rows fifty cents; and the gallery twenty-five cents.

Y.W.C.A. PLANS AG VESPERS SERVICE

Y. W. C. A. will hold its weekly vespers Tuesday at 12:15 o'clock in the Home Economics parlors in the College of Agriculture campus. The service will be devoted to special music. The installation of new cabinet members will be witnessed in the form of candle lighting under the direction of Miss Evelyn Mansfield.

This meeting will allow enough time so those who have 1 o'clock classes may attend.

Mass Meeting of Y. W. Staff Members Called

A mass meeting of members of every Y. W. C. A. staff will be held Thursday at 5 o'clock in Ellen Smith hall. The meeting is important as plans for the finance drive will be explained at this time by Edna Schrick, chairman of the finance committee.

STUDENTS PLAN A REAL WELCOME FOR ORANGEMEN

Giant Rally Is Scheduled For Friday Evening at Field House

DADS WILL BE GUESTS

True Nebraska Spirit Will Be Exhibited Before Visiting Parents

The Nebraska student body will have an opportunity to extend a rousing welcome to the Syracuse team and to the visiting Cornhusker Dads, Friday evening, when the far famed Cornhusker spirit will continue on its way to a victorious football season, at the Coliseum preceding the Syracuse-Nebraska game, and Dad's Day.

The pep meeting will open at the field house with a short program, from which everyone will march to the Lincoln hotel where the Orange team will be quartered, there to extend the visiting football players a true Cornhusker welcome in appreciation of their twelve-hundred mile journey to meet the Scarlet and Cream in their annual battle.

Parade Through Streets

The Corn Cobs and Tassel, men's and women's pep organizations, together with the university band, will lead the parade through the downtown streets to the hotel. Members of the Syracuse team will be introduced to the student body and it is the plan of the rally committee to have a few words from the visiting coach.

It is the hope of those in charge of the "noise party" to attract a crowd and create a bedlam of sound that will be reminiscent of the true Cornhusker spirit that has carried Nebraska to victory in important inter-sectional games. The strength of the Syracuse eleven has been touted by eastern sport writers as one of the best in the east and it is up to the Nebraska student body to rally the team to victory in a great exhibition of student enthusiasm.

Hard Schedule Ahead

Dope has it that the Nebraska schedule is one of the biggest and hardest in the country and the students are expected to show their enthusiasm and fight for a victorious season.

Visiting Dads, who will be in Lincoln Friday evening, are invited to attend and witness the Nebraska pep in one of its biggest sessions of the year.

The rally will start promptly at 7 o'clock at the Coliseum where a short program has been arranged from which place they will march to the downtown hotel.

MANY TICKETS ARE AVAILABLE FOR GAME

Exchange of Tokens for Seats With Dads Still Is Possible

A report to the effect that desirable tickets for the Nebraska-Syracuse game are not obtainable is not true, according to an announcement made at the Student Activities office yesterday afternoon. Although there has been a brisk sale of the cardboard for the game, there are still many good tickets left.

Students wishing to attend the game with their dad may present their student tickets at the Student Activities office and exchange them for a seat in another section so that each son or daughter may be with his or her dad. Tickets in the rotters' section, however, cannot be exchanged because of the difficulty in making up the section if there are absentees.

RADIO ADDRESS WILL FEATURE IBSEN PLAY

Professor Grumann Will Broadcast at Regular Tuesday Program

Prof. Paul H. Grumann, director of the School of Fine Arts, will give a talk on Ibsen's play, "The League of Youth," over the radio from the university studio this afternoon from 2:30 to 3:00 o'clock.

This is the third of the regular Tuesday afternoon radio addresses that Professor Grumann is giving on the works of Ibsen. The first two lectures were of an introductory nature. Each of the remaining lectures will deal with a discussion of one of the plays of Ibsen, with an interpretation of the problems contained therein.

Next Tuesday, October 23, the production "Pillars of Society," will be reviewed. Those who desire regular university credit for the series of eleven or twelve addresses that will be given may arrange to register for the course.

John Asks Dad To Be With Him Next Saturday

Lincoln, Nebraska, October 16, 1928.

Dear Dad: Don't take the shock too hard. Dad, but for once I'm not going to ask for any money. I suppose you are wondering whether it is worth the sacrifice and I sometimes wonder myself.

I've been down here at school only a month, but zosh, it seems like years since I stuck my feet in the old dinner table. It's pretty tough sleddin' right now because we are having quarterly exams. Everyone is "hitting the books," as they call it here, to get ready for these exams. I hope I can get some decent grades.

But what I wanted to write to you principally for was to tell you about an annual event they are having here Saturday. All the fellows are inviting their dads down for Dad's Day. The University has designated this day for the event.

At noon we can go to the big luncheon which is being given for the dads. There will be some real good speakers at this banquet and Mullen. In the afternoon Nebraska is playing a football game with Syracuse university. You know, Dad, you always did say you wanted to see the football team. And believe me, we've got a humdinger this year.

Syracuse has a wonderful team and it should be a great game. We will have a special reserved section in the stadium just for students and their fathers. And don't forget Mother. Bring her along too. She will enjoy the spectacle if not the game and we can have a good time all by ourselves in the evening.

I hope you can come because I don't want to be alone that day when everybody else is with his dad. I have some dandy roommates and I know you would enjoy meeting them and their fathers for they will be down too.

Now, Dad, if by hook or crook, you and Mother can get in the car and come down Saturday, please do it. Give mother my thanks for the cake that she sent.

Your son,
John.

CORN COB APPLICATION FILINGS CLOSE TODAY

Non-Fraternity Men Sign Up for Pep Organization Until 5 O'Clock

Today is the last day that non-fraternity sophomores and juniors may file for membership in the Corn Cobs, men's pep organization, according to announcement made by Eldred Larson, president of the Student Council. Filings should be placed at the Student Activities office between the hours of 8 and 5 o'clock.

Twelve non-fraternity men will be selected Wednesday from the applications filed Monday and Tuesday. Selection of the men will be made by the Student Council, according to Eldred Larson, chairman of that body.

Applicants are asked to include in their applications a statement of qualifications. They will be picked on the basis of scholarship, leadership and pep. Applicants will be asked to appear before the Student Council in person at the council meeting Wednesday in the Temple.

ANNUAL CEREMONY OF Y. W. WILL BE TODAY

Candle Lighting Service Features Vespers at Ellen Smith

Candle-lighting Vespers service will be held this afternoon at the regular Vespers hour in Ellen Smith hall. All new members of the Y. W. C. A. and any others who wish to join the association are especially urged to attend this annual service, which is the formal initiation of members into the organization. Those who attend are asked to fill out the regular membership cards if they have not already done so, this formality being especially necessary because the Y. W. C. A. has recently adopted a new purpose.

The lighting of small candles by each member at the large candle in a beautiful and impressive service symbolizing the lighting of the light of Christ's love in our lives. Ruth Davis, president of the association will have charge of the service.

Special music will be supplied by the Vespers choir under the direction of Catherine Beckman. Rev. Paul Calhoun of the First Presbyterian church will give a short address following the lighting of the candles.

EVERYTHING IS SET FOR ANNUAL DAD'S DAY FETE

Syracuse-Nebraska Game Is Feature of Gathering This Year

LUNCHEON IS PLANNED

Prominent Speakers Will Give Short Talks at Noon Meeting

Dad's Day is next Saturday, October 20, the day of the Syracuse-Nebraska football game. Arrangements have been completed, and include a Dad's day luncheon at the Lincoln Chamber of Commerce, Saturday noon, as well as the Syracuse football game.

Gov. Adam McMullen, R. E. Campbell, president of the Chamber of Commerce, Chancellor E. A. Burnett, and Coach Schulte will give short talks at the luncheon Saturday noon. The Corn Cobs will provide some top-notch entertainment, but the program will not last long, so that the football game may be attended on time.

In order to let the Dads and students sit together at the game, a special section in the stadium has been reserved. Student tickets may be exchanged at Latsch Brothers for seats in the Dad's section.

Fraternity Programs Planned

Tickets for the luncheon were put on sale Monday night by the Corn Cobs, Fraternity and Sorority Dad's Day programs will be held Saturday evening so that all the fathers may attend the luncheon at the Chamber of Commerce.

"Five thousand invitations have been sent to the Dads, and it is hoped that all will be able to come," said Gordon Hedges, who is in charge of Dad's Day this year.

Today's issue of The Daily Nebraskan is "Dad's issue." Copies are to be sent to each Dad, so that he can see what the students of the University are doing in their class and activity work. In this way the fathers can learn something more of "Dear Old Nebraska."

Dad's day has been a tradition in the University of Nebraska since 1922 when the first father's day was held. The sororities and fraternities entertain their fathers in the evening. The date for Dad's Day is always picked for a day when a good game of football will be played.

Every Cornhusker Dad is heartily welcomed and is expected to come if possible. Daughters and sons unite in entertaining their dads at the luncheon and at the football game in the afternoon.

Question Arises Over Location of Traditional Bell

What has become of the Delt-Phi Bell that received so much attention and publicity last winter? With a clamor and a battle it made its presence on the Nebraska campus felt, but who has it now?

Since the battle royal at the Lincoln hotel during the Phi Delt banquet it has not been heard of. At that time it remained in the possession of Phi Delta Theta. Has Delta Tau Delta given up the traditional and significant trophy to Phi Delt?

Rumor after rumor has invaded the campus regarding the bell. At one time it was the popular opinion that the bell had been taken from University hall. That supposition received negative comments and as a result only a few of the "old men" of each fraternity know the true facts of the bell tradition.

A remarkable history must be connected to the bell, for in the past few years numerous battles and out-wittings have won the bell back and forth from Phi Delta Theta to Delta Tau Delta.

Another Battle Predicted

Considering the notoriety of the disputed bell it is strange that so few people have actually seen it, and that lately it has not been heard of. Some persons predict the eventual one in the Lincoln hotel when tables were upturned and dishes broken generally.

Yesterday a report reached the office of The Daily Nebraskan that the bell would make its appearance on the campus soon in an unusual way. Interest is stirred up once more. Indications point to a transfer of the bell from the Phi Delta Theta house to the Delt house, if the Phi Delt still hold the trophy used iron trophy.

But no one knows what the Phi Delt has in mind. Both fraternities need to take an inventory of the "bell room" and find out if it is resting peacefully there, or in the camp of the friendly-enemy.

Innocents Welcome Dads

The Innocents Society, senior men's honorary, extends a hearty invitation to all Cornhusker Dads to be with their sons and daughters for the annual, traditional Dad's Day, Saturday, October 20, the day of the Syracuse-Nebraska football game.

This day has been set aside as time for Nebraska fathers to visit the university campus and to become acquainted with the institution and its work.

A luncheon will be held preceding the game, Saturday noon, at 11:30 o'clock and it is hoped that all visiting Dads will attend. A program has been arranged especially for the Dads.

All who can possibly be in Lincoln, Friday evening, preceding the game, are extended an invitation, to attend the student pep rally to witness the renowned Cornhusker spirit in action.

Very truly yours,
THE INNOCENTS SOCIETY
