

HARE-HOUND COURSE IS TO BE REROUTED

Runners Will Match Wits With Coach Schulte This Afternoon

The third hare and hound race will be run this afternoon at the usual time, with runners leaving the stadium for the course at 4:30. Coach Schulte is evidently unsatisfied with the results his hares have been bringing. At the last race only three fourths of the hounds were lost, so the "Indian" has decided to try his hand at laying a real course.

Schulte will select the path the runners are to follow, and initiate the hares, Maya and O'Neil, into the mysteries of his windings. The hares will then scatter about over this course, and while the hounds will not be actually chasing Coach Schulte, they will be matching wits with him.

As usual, all contestants must furnish their own transportation to the course.

GROUP ENTRIES FOR BALL MEET ARE DUE

Thirty Groups Are Expected To Compete In Nebraska Ball Tourney

To keep the ball in the air is the idea according to the feminine aggregation on the campus. "Hit it with the palm, fist or elbow," is the watchword, and will be for three or four weeks, when the women's campus groups will compete in the first sport of the year.

The Nebraska ball tournament, conducted under the auspices of the Intra-Mural sports league, will have approximately thirty group entries. All entries for Nebraska ball must be in the Physical Education office in the women's gymnasium, room 302, not later than Wednesday. Sports representatives are requested to file at this office a list of their first, second and third choice challenges.

According to Mary Olesen, who is sponsoring the sports program, groups entering the tourney should have at least one practice before their first game. It is necessary that the names of individual players be submitted in the office at least one day before the time the game is scheduled.

"Nebraska ball is a game for everybody, and I expect that this tourney will open the Intra-Mural season with a great display of enthusiasm," declared Mary Olesen. "Every girl should watch the bulletin board in the Women's Gymnasium for further announcements."

But on the other side of the line will be a big red team, heavy and heady, relying on football for its path to victory. With a line averaging close to 195 pounds from tackle to tackle and a fast heavy backfield, Nebraska will match all its football powers against Baysinger and his Orange team from Syracuse.
