

SCHOOL IS GIVEN LARGE AMOUNT IN BROADY'S HONOR

Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clark
Present Scholarships in
Name of Father

JUDGE WELL KNOWN

$2,000 Fund Is Established
To Aid Needy Students
At University

Named in honor of the late Judge Jefferson H. Broady, father of the district judge of the same name, a gift of $2,000 has been received by the University of Nebraska, according to an announcement made recently by Chancellor E. A. Burnett of the University. The gift was made by Mr. and Mrs. John D. Clark of Guilford, Maryland. Mrs. Clark is a daughter of the late Judge Broady and was a member of the class of 1907 at the University. Mr. Clark was a member of the class of 1905.

This gift comes in response to an invitation from University authorities for aid in establishing 100 scholarships of $100 each for aiding needy students. Under the present plans, the gift of Mr. and Mrs. Clark will be invested in sound securities and the income used for an annual scholarship. Under the plan of University organization, the investment will be made by the finance secretary with the approval of the finance committee of the board of regents. Definition of rules governing the awarding of the scholarship is left by Mr. and Mrs. Clark to University authorities.

BROADY FORMER PROFESSOR HERE

The late Judge Broady, for whom the annual scholarship is named, was intimately connected with much of the early development of Nebraska. He was born in Illinois in 1844 and removed to Nebraska in 1867. He was a member of the constitutional convention 1875, representing jointly Nemaha and Richardson counties.

In the following year he was elected district attorney of the entire district east and south of Lancaster county. He was elected district judge in 1881, holding that office for eight years. During this time he made his home in Beatrice.

In 1891 he moved to Lincoln, on account of the education of his children, and entered private practice, which he followed until his death in 1908. He was nominated for supreme judge in 1891 but refused to run. Judge Broady was also connected with the University of Nebraska.

SCHOLARSHIPS WILL CONTINUE THIS YEAR

Tuition Grants Begun First Semester Are Likely to Endure Now

Tuition scholarships offered by the University of Nebraska during the first semester of this year, will in most cases be continued for the second semester. T. J. Thompson, dean of student affairs, said yesterday.

Students who are still in school and whose work is up to the required standard will continue to receive the scholarships for the second semester, but should confer with the deans of their respective colleges about their continuation. In cases where the student graduates or does not fulfill the requirements, new awards will be made through the dean of the college in which the scholarship is given.

SCHEME IS NEW THIS YEAR

Tuition scholarships were awarded for the first time in September of this year. One hundred of these were awarded to students above freshman standing who had completed at least one year of residence in the University. The scholarships were distributed among the several colleges proportionate to the enrollment and were granted upon the basis of scholarship and financial need. Selections were made by the deans of the respective colleges with the approval of the dean of student affairs and the Chancellor.

Announcement will be made in the spring for the filing of applications, in order that scholarships may be awarded shortly after the end of the school year.

Student Body Shivers Its Way Back To Books On Winter's Coldest Day

And the thermometer registered negative one—or one below zero just about the time that Nebraska student body simultaneously "hit the floor" and shivered its way back to books, boredom, and brows.

At intervals along the way, poor little innocent freshmen piteously begged the "passers-by" to "help them get loose," having taken the advice of upperclassmen and put their tongues on street car tracks, mail boxes, and pump handles, "to see what would happen."

Several murders occurred when cheerful cherubs spoke of Palm Beach or Los Angeles—and yet in Tampa, Florida, the temperature

Junior Class Meet Is Booked For Thursday

A junior class meeting will be held Thursday at 5 o'clock at Social Science auditorium for the purpose of electing the minor officers of the class, according to Clair Sloan, junior class president.

HUSKER BASKET MEN PREPARE FOR TIGERS

Black Sends Squad Through Scrimmage in Spite of String of Wins

As the first Big Six conference basketball encounter next Saturday night with Missouri, is but a few days away, Coach Charles Black sent his proteges through a stiff practice session last night.

Fresh from two victories during the Christmas holidays at the expense of Colorado College, played at Colorado Springs, the varsity squad last night showed a spirit of enthusiasm and ginger in their workout which forecasts a winning team.

According to Coach Black, the boys are progressing well in consideration of the fact that the season is just opening, and although several rough spots in the Cornhusker play has been noticed by him, he hopes to have a smoother working aggregation to face the Tigers Saturday night, than fans were treated to in the South Dakota State game.

In Coach Black's estimation, Mealy and Munn are scheduled to fight it out for first string center position with odds fairly even at the present time. He expressed the opinion that the guards were on a par. From the scrimmage last night, Olson, Krall, Holm and Lewandowski appeared to be the leading contenders.

MISSOURI THREATENS

Fisher, Top Scorers

Fisher, the former Lincoln high ace, is leading the Nebraska scorers, his strength lying in tip-in shots. Witte and Grace, veteran basket tossers along with Fisher, will assume the scoring responsibilities for Nebraska if past performances are any indication.

For reserve material to bolster the first stringers, Black has been relying on Davey and Jensen, members of the varsity squad. Of the three games played by the Cornhusker warriors, all three wins have been by decisive margins, although the offense has not been working according to mid-season form.

When Missouri takes the floor Saturday night against Nebraska, fans will witness one of the veteran quintets in the Big Six title race. Welch, Baker and Roach, experienced Tiger basket tossers will probably lead the attack against the Scarlet and Cream aggregation. Recently bolstered by a 38 to 31 win over "Phog" Allen's Kansas

ROYAL, LEFLER WILL SPEAK ON HYGIENE

Discussion of Childrens
Problems Is Scheduled
For Tonight

Dr. Paul Royal and Superintendent M. C. Lefler will speak at the fourth of a series of meetings which are being held during the winter on the general subject of mental hygiene, this evening. The meeting will take place in Social Science auditorium at 7:30 o'clock.

The topics which will be discussed at the meeting are "The Psychiatric Clinic," and "Child Guidance." The discussion will be very interesting not only because of its medical value but also because of the practical educational aspect.

According to those in charge of the meetings on mental hygiene, the attempt is being made to set out the facts regarding mental health in a practical, sane, and non-sensational manner with a view primarily towards the prevention of the development of undesirable traits in the child, although the matter of caring for unhealthy conditions is not neglected.

The discussions are in non-technical language and the public in general is invited to attend.

DEBATE TRYOUTS ARE SET FOR JANUARY 15

Team Members for Coming
Forensic Tilts Must
Discuss Juries

Tryouts for the next debates will be held on Tuesday afternoon January 15, at 3:30 o'clock in room 105 of University hall. The subject for debate is: A substitute for the present jury should be adopted in the United States.

All those who expect to tryout must notify Prof. H. A. White before Friday afternoon of this week. Drawings for sides will be made and posted on Saturday afternoon.

The time allowed for each speaker will be eight minutes, for both constructive and rebuttal speeches. The affirmative man in each group will speak for five minutes, then the negative opponent for eight minutes. The affirmative will then be given three minutes for refutation.

W. H. MORTON IS SPEAKER AT FAIRBURY ROTARY CLUB

DANA XENOPHON BIBLE

Former Texas A. & M. football coach, who has been named as head mentor for the gridiron sport at Nebraska. Coach Bible will arrive in Lincoln this week and be received by many social events in his honor. He will be introduced to the student body Saturday night during the Nebraska-Missouri basketball game.

Press reports and personal letters to Chancellor Burnett indicate that the loss of Bible was a keen blow to the southern institution.

World Forum Lunch Is Postponed for a Time

There will be no World Forum luncheon Wednesday, January 9, is the announcement from the University Y. M. C. A. office. The meetings will probably begin in another week.

CONTEST BY BURNETT WILL CLOSE TONIGHT

Essays on 'The Obligations,
Rewards of Student'
Due At Five

REGISTRATION WILL BEGIN NEXT MONDAY

Students Must Sign Up
Week of January 14
To January 19

ROUTINE SAME AS EVER

Regular routine of registration will get under way next Monday, January 14 and continue until Friday, January 19 at noon. Students failing to register within the prescribed limit will be charged a late registration fee. The new students will have an opportunity to register February 1.

The routine for this year will be practically the same as has been the custom in the past. New semester programs, credit books and schedules will be available at the office of the registrar the latter part of this week and may be obtained there.

Schedules must be submitted to the deans of the various colleges for their approval, along with credit books. All undergraduate women will submit their schedules to the dean of women for her approval.

Early Registration Asked

It is hoped that all students will make an attempt to register as early in the week as possible as it will avoid congestion and rushing the latter part. The past two years have shown a decided increase in the number of students registering early in the week, nearly fifty percent of the total number registering early. However, between ten and twelve percent of the people generally wait until the end of the week and this causes a great deal of extra work.

First semester examinations will be from January 23 until February 1, second semester classes starting February 4.

Wesley Group Gives Four Day Series of Shows During Holidays

Wesley Players, Methodist dramatic organization, successfully completed during the Christmas holidays a four day series of dramatics in western Nebraska. Members of the cast report that the group was royally entertained at every town they visited and that they found everywhere an alert interest in the activities and program of the University of Nebraska.

Those who made the trip were: Harold Woods, Milo Price, Dudley Dobbs, Reuben Hecht, Earl Anderson, Irene Fee, Jenny Lind, Lucille Bowles, Mallinda Keller, Walter Vogt, Kenneth Jensen and Rev. W. C. Fawell.

On Thursday night, December 27, "The Other Wise Man," Dr. Van Dyke's famous play, was presented before about three hundred people in the Methodist church at Lexington. Harold Woods, president of Wesley Players, took the part of Artaban, the Other Wise Man, in this drama.

Group Visits Curtis

On Friday, the group was entertained at Curtis and in the evening they produced the three act Biblical drama, "The Rock," in the activities building of the Curtis Agricultural school, which has one of the best stages and lighting systems in southwestern Nebraska. Milo Price, graduate of the Curtis school, plays the part of Simon Peter, the leading character in "The Rock." At noon the cast was entertained at Mr. Price's home, and in the evening the group were guests at a banquet given by University of Nebraska alumni in the Methodist church parlors.

Superintendent C. K. Morse of the Curtis Agricultural school, which is a part of the University of Nebraska, kindly put the activities building at the disposal of Wesley Players without any expense. Saturday morning he personally conducted the group to Curtis.

ROYAL WELCOME IS PLANNED FOR NEW GRID COACH

Dinner at N Club Quarters
Thursday Opens Round
Social Activities

MEETS GROUP SATURDAY

Bible Will Be Introduced
To Students During the Missouri Game

Dana X. Bible, Nebraska's newly elected football coach, will arrive in Lincoln Thursday afternoon and remain about two weeks. During his visit he will meet Cornhusker athletes, faculty and fans.

Thursday evening he will attend a dinner at the N club quarters for freshmen and varsity football men, and coaching staff. At the University club Friday evening Coach Bible will be presented to the faculty and will talk on "My Football Education."

Introduced Saturday

Saturday night he will attend the Missouri-Nebraska basketball game at which he will be introduced to the students. During the latter part of his visit Mr. Bible will be received at numerous club luncheons and dinners.

He will return to College Station, Texas until time for spring football practice, when he will come to Nebraska. After again going home he will return for the summer school athletic program. He will remove his family to Lincoln in the fall.

'EXCHANGE' AWGAWAN APPEARS JANUARY 10

Over Fifty College Comics
Are Scanned for Best Wit
Of Collegians

PRESENT STAFF RETIRES

"Exchange" number of the Awgawan will be distributed to subscribers and put on sale at leading newsstands of Lincoln January 10, according to Charles W. Wahlgvist, business manager. William Irons, circulation manager, will have charge of the distribution of the January issue of the magazine.

The cream of college comic material from all of the many universities and college humorous magazines of the country will appear in the "Exchange" number, Kenneth G. Anderson, editor, announced Monday. Several cuts of cartoons appearing in current issues of their comic publication have been received from universities, including Yale, Colgate and Pittsburgh.

Selection is Wide

The January issue promises to be the most entertaining and clever magazine that Awgawan staffs have produced since the editor has had the opportunity of selecting the best work of thousands of college writers and artists from fifty or more college humor magazines.

Magazines from which material will be used include Alabama Rammer-Jammer, Notre Dame Juggler, Yale Record, Carnegie Tech Puppet, Stanford Chaparral, Minnesota Ski-U-Mah, Bucknell Belle Hop, Virginia Reel, Lehigh Burr, Dartmouth Jack O'Lantern, Kansas Sour Owl, Annapolis Log, Oklahoma Whirlwind, and the West Point Pointer.

The "Exchange" number will be the last issue to be published under the direction of the present staff. The February issue will be published by the staff as selected in the near future by the Student Publication Board.

Y.W.-Y.M.C.A. PARTY IS HELD FOR STUDENTS

'All-Nations' Group Meets
Friday, January 4, at Westminster

A musical program featured the Y. W. Y. M. C. A. "All Nation" party held Friday, January 4, at the Westminster house. Rev. and Mrs. Leland were host and hostess.

Several musical numbers were given by Carlos Cartagena and Arturo Madona, Philippines. Emilio del Rosario sang, and readings were given by Elwood Ramey and Lucille Boomer. Tadao Nishikawa, Japanese, gave a flute solo on a Japanese flute.

Several Chinese opera pieces were played on the graphophone by Mr. C. H. Yao. Games suggested by the foreign students were played.

Williams, Quinton Lead

Allan Williams and Edith Quinton were the chairmen from the Y. M. C. A. and Y. W. C. A. respectively, and were in charge of the party.

After refreshments, the students gathered around the large fireplace and toasted marshmallows while several foreign students told of their experiences, pleasant and otherwise, in this country. Those who gave these informal talks were: Jugraj Singh Dhillon, Claude Gordon, H. Nagai Benzo, Jack Sisson, Austole Moser.

Riflers Will Meet to Plan Year's Program

There will be a meeting of all men who have made scores or intend to shoot on the rifle team this year, in the office of Capt. Lyons in Nebraska Hall, Wednesday, at 5 o'clock. This is an important meeting. Letter awards for the season are given on the basis of average shooting during the season, and participation in early season matches is necessary.

BURNETT ANNOUNCES SCHOLARSHIP PRIZE

Gift Of $100 Is Offered
Non-Fraternity Man Of Junior Ranking

DONOR IS NOT KNOWN

A gift of $100 to be presented in gold to a non-fraternity man of the junior class has been announced by Chancellor E. A. Burnett of the University of Nebraska. In announcing the gift Saturday, Chancellor Burnett said that for the present it is the wish of the donor that the giver of the prize be known as a friend of the university. This gift came in response to an invitation from university authorities for aid in establishing one hundred scholarships of $100 each for aiding needy students.

In the letter telling of the prize, the donor said, "It would give me a great deal of pleasure to present to the non-fraternity man of the junior class, who shall best exhibit those qualities of initiative, self-reliance, and persistence in the obtaining of an education, the sum of $100 in gold, the award to be made at commencement time or such other time as may seem advisable."

He stipulates certain other conditions surrounding the award, stressing the fact that while scholarship and character should be taken into consideration, he desires to emphasize particularly the triumph that the student is making over heavy odds in obtaining his education.

Juniors Eligible

"I have limited the prize to men of junior standing," writes the donor. "In the belief that a man who has been wholly or largely self-supporting during the three preceding years will be rather deserving of recognition. This will also narrow the selection to a certain extent. I hope that the $100 will serve to make the senior year of this student a little more pleasant."

"I have limited the prize to non-fraternity men (men who do not belong to social fraternities)," he continues, "through no antipathy to such organizations but rather on the belief that the non-fraternity man receives too little attention. The man who can afford to belong to a fraternity is not generally in need of assistance, and if he is, he can often obtain it through his fraternity affiliations."

AG CAMPUS IS LIVELY AS FATHERS CONVENE

Burr Greet Nebraska
To Start Off Extensive
Farm Program

Dean W. W. Burr, College of Agriculture, gave the address of welcome to the Nebraska Farm Bureau Federation which convened at the College of Agriculture campus yesterday. Approximately 1,500 farmers and their wives had assembled in Lincoln late yesterday.

University of Nebraska professors will figure prominently in this 1929 meeting of organized agriculture which is being held Monday to Thursday. There are about 150 numbers of topics on the entire program at the various meetings and forty-seven of the topics will be handled by the faculty of the University.

Professor H. C. Filey of the department of rural economics will speak to the farm group on the question of the state taxing system. H. O. Werner will speak before the Horticultural Society; Harold Hedges of the rural economics department will speak to the sheep-growers. R. R. Thalman and H. J. Gramlich of the Nebraska agricultural college will also talk to this group.

Others of the University who will take part in the meetings are A. D. Weber and W. J. Loeffel who will

Infant Mountains On Drill Field Will Soon Hold New Heating Pipes

Alpine climbing has never been taught at Nebraska, but there are possibilities that it will be offered to students in the future. Tall mountains have sprung up on the drill field during vacation—all snow-capped mounds of dirt.

No, there has been no glacier period or volcanic eruption that we have heard about, but it doesn't take a geologist to tell us that this sticky yellow dirt is just surface dirt of the stickiest and most yellow kind of sticky yellow gel, and that to all appearances, it is being excavated by those same obliging steam shovels that entertained us last spring when Andrew had was a mere hole in the ground surrounded by piles of lumber and brick.

If the girls take up skiing of these frigid mornings, it is not unlikely that even the engineers and lawyers will find things to do in Andrews hall with ringside windows selling at par—the non-excellence of the alleged skiers.

Heat Is Motive

Cause for the mutilation of our scenic drill field was not to manufacture winter sport facilities. The heating plant (which is new in itself to many, who never get further into the campus than Social Sciences) is being extended to Andrews hall and the Temple, and it seems that someone picked a poor

FAMOUS RUSSIAN WILL GIVE TALK AT CONVOCATION

Son of Leo Tolstoy, Noted
Author, Speaks Today
At 11 O'Clock

RED RULE IS DISCUSSED

'Russia Before and Since
Bolshevism' Is Topic
Of Address

Count Ilya Tolstoy, son of Leo Tolstoy, Russia's most famous writer and philosopher, will deliver an address on "Russia Before and Since Bolshevism," before a University convocation in the Temple theater this morning at eleven o'clock.

Count Tolstoy is making a tour of the United States honoring the hundredth anniversary of the birth of his father. His purpose on this trip is to interpret to America the philosophy of the elder Tolstoy and to speak of the results of the Bolshevik revolution in Russia. His talk this morning will center upon the Russian problem, though he will probably speak incidentally about his father.

Closely Resembles Father

According to information released from the office of Professor Grummann, director of the School of Fine Arts, last night, Count Tolstoy, who is the second son of Leo Tolstoy, closely resembles his father in his writings, and has in addition an unusual facility in expressing himself in speech. He has a perfect command of the English language, which he has spoken since early youth.

Count Tolstoy has lived among all classes of the Russian people and is well equipped to interpret them to English speaking peoples. He is opposed politically to both Monarchism and Bolshevism and advocates for Russia a representative form of government.

Count Tolstoy is the author of many short stories of Russian life which have had a wide circulation. His last American tour, previous to the present one, was made in 1924 when he was greeted by large crowds wherever he spoke. His present series of lectures is under the management of Charles I. Reid of New York City.

GRADUATING SENIORS ARE GIVEN WARNING

List Of Candidates Who Have Failed To Apply
Is Large

All candidates for degrees in June who have not yet notified the office of the registrar must do so at once, according to a statement made Monday by Registrar Florence L. McGee. Applications for degrees should be made in the Administration building, room B9. Office hours are from ten to three on week days and from eight to twelve on Saturday.

There seems to be a general impression that candidates for degrees in June do not need to make application now. It is essential, however, that they do so, as there is a faculty ruling that all students must be recommended as within eighteen hours of graduation at the beginning of their last semester.

The following seniors apparently are planning to be graduated in June, but they have not yet made application for their degrees. Any student whose name does not appear on this list, who has not made application for his degree, should do so at once. If any of those listed do not wish their degrees in June, they also should notify the office of the registrar.

List Is Large

Ethel L. Albert, Philip G. Anderson, W. C. Enos, Leighton S. Baker, Eleanor M. Berg, Edna M. Bergstrasser, Mrs. L. M. H. Boggs, Oliver H. Brand, Clarence E. Busby, Valmeta M. Callen, Hazel L. Carper, Marvel E. Cathcart, John M. Ciema, Vernon L. Clement, Mildred E. Cole, Margaret Colman, Harvey E. Cook, Groer W. Cowley, Mildred E. Craven, Marie V. Curran, Carroll D.
