

HUSKERS AWAIT TIGERS FOR BIG SIX CAGE OPENER

Black Sends Protesges Into Hard Scrimmage Before Saturday Night

MIZZOU PROMISES FIGHT Big Crowd Is Expected to See Game and Greet Dana X. Bible

Three varsity quintets with pent-up energy clashed with freshmen aggregations last night in the final heavy scrimmage before the opening Big Six conference tilt with Missouri Saturday night.

Coach Charles Black last night sent his proteges through their last heavy session in preparation for the big test tomorrow night with a long drill on passing and shooting combinations. No outstanding stars were shown in the scrimmage although several men showed up in good form and are scheduled to start against the Tiger title contenders.

Of the three combinations run against Coach "Bunny" Oake's freshmen for short scrimmages, the first to start was composed of Fisher and Grace forwards, Munn center, and Holm and Olson, guards. Of this quintet, Fisher is the only sophomore member, the others having lettered last year in Varsity competition.

May Be Season's Best Game

Coach Black, who has been giving Munn a great fight for the tip-off berth, played in the scrimmage session with Witte, and Krall alternating at forward and guard positions respectively. Stipeki, Jensen and Davey, reserves, have been displaying a good brand of basketball since the opening practice and should receive some minutes in the conflict Saturday night.

Missouri comes to Lincoln with the reputation of having a veteran eleven and are expected to cop the Big Six title by their Missourian backers. However the revised Oklahoma aggregation may have something to say about that, as they are expected to give the Oklahoma Aggies.

Will Meet New Coach

Welsh, Roach and Baker, the Tiger basket aces will be seen in action here tomorrow night, in what Coach Black terms as one of the hardest games of the season.

During the half-time intermission Nebraska students were formally introduced to Dana X. Bible, the new Nebraska head coach, who will take over the reins of pigskin management left by Coach Ernest Berg.

As the Missouri game will draw such a large turnout of Nebraska students and fans, it was deemed advisable to introduce Coach Bible at this time.

KOSMET PREPARES TO PICK WINNING COMEDY

Prizes Will Be Awarded To One of the Three Competitors

ANTICIPATE GOOD SHOW

With three complete productions submitted in the one hundred dollar prize contest conducted by the Kosmet Klub, the 1929 spring Kosmet Klub musical comedy will be announced early next week following the final decision and choice of the winner by members of the organization.

Of the plays entered in the annual contest held by Kosmet Klub to pick an original production for their spring show, two have been read by the Klub. One of the entries is primarily a college production, with collegiate settings and music. Its plot revolves about the life of a university and, according to those who have read it, has a great deal of comedy in addition to the entertaining features found in the plot.

Mystery mingled with comedy marks the other production submitted, and although not complete with musical score presents practical possibilities for masculine production. Kosmet Klub annual production are enacted entirely by University men students, the feminine parts being carried by the men also.

Work Starts Immediately

The play accepted for production will probably have a company of 35 with about ten principals. Try-outs for the show will follow the announcement of the winner in a short time. According to members of the Kosmet Klub, the try-out will be held early in order to assure plenty of time for rehearsal before the opening performance. Chorus work for the show chosen, will begin in a few weeks following the choice of a director.

Several lectures will be given by the Klub in regard to out of town appearances during the spring vacation but it is not known as yet, whether the Klub will take the cast on a tour of the state. The 1928 production, "The Love Hater" written and directed by Herbert Venable, was presented in Omaha, Hastings and Fremont, besides the first night in Lincoln which terminated in the Playhouse fire that destroyed several thousand dollars worth of property.

The announcement of the winning production will be made next week and from all indications will be one of the best attempted by the Kosmet Klub. Linn K. Twinein, president of the Klub stated yesterday.

The first series was on the topic of politics and political parties. The second, which ended just before Christmas, dealt with international problems. Student life problems will be discussed in the following series which will last for several weeks.

World Forum meetings have been well attended this year and some excellent talks have been given. Another feature of the meetings is the discussion group that is usually held by those who can remain after the lecture.

FACULTY OPINION LENDS IMPETUS TO POSTING PLAN

New Endorsements of Daily Nebraskan System Are Received

WOULD HELP STUDENTS

Other Interesting Methods of Giving Grades Are Quoted

General approval of The Daily Nebraskan plan for posting final grades was expressed by five prominent instructors on the University faculty Thursday afternoon. The Daily Nebraskan in its Wednesday paper advocated a plan whereby instructors would be required to post students' grades according to numbers. Each student would know his own number and no others, so there would be absolute secrecy.

J. O. Hertler of the department of Sociology declared himself to be in favor of the plan. He said that it had always been his practice to put the final semester on the final examination paper when it was returned. Several other departments give out their grades that way.

Dr. Hertler, however, prefers the way grades are given out at the University of Wisconsin. The student clips to his final examination.

UNIQUE SCENES WILL BE USED BY PLAYERS

Kirsch Plans Bulgarian Sets For 'Arms and the Man,' Opening Soon

CAST IS KEPT SECRET

Scenery designed by Prof. Dwight Kirsch for the fourth seasonal University Players production "Arms and the Man," promises to be some of the most outstanding and unique yet used in University play, according to Zolney Lerner, business manager of the Players.

"Arms and the Man," the satirical comedy of love and war by George Bernard Shaw, will open at the Temple theater January 21 for a week's run, and the announcement from Mr. Lerner concerning the scenic arrangement has been the first definite announcement concerning the production other than facts about the author, as the cast chosen for the play has been kept secret and will not be announced until Sunday.

The play has its setting in Bulgaria during the war and the costumes planned by the University Players will tend to create and exemplify the spirit carried on out throughout the play. Mr. Lerner last night declared "that Prof. Dwight Kirsch, the Players' scenic artist, promises a setting which, though simple in style, will be very elaborate in effect."

Light Effects Good

"Again Mr. Kirsch has done away with the complexities of scene shifting by insinuating many of the ideas into a simplified stage setting. By a few small changes in parts, with added lighting effects, the first act which is an interior setting will become an exterior setting for the second and third acts."

Mr. Kirsch will carry out the Bulgaria atmosphere in his setting by elaborate lighting effects and decorative draperies. The plans of the effects are to harmonize with the north of Shaw's satire. He is being assisted in his stage design by the classes in stage designing in the University.
